A MONEY-SAVING OPPORTUNITY IN FALL SUITS

Through a very fortunate source we learned of a leading clothing manufacturer who wished to effect a quick clearing of certain lines of Ready-to-Wear Suits. We made him an exceptionally low cash offer for the lot, which after a great deal of hesitancy he decided to accept, though on every suit he lost money, but it was the turning of broken lots into ready cash.

There are in all ONE HUNDRED AND TEN (110) SUITS, MADE OF ENGLISH AND CANADIAN ALL WOOL SERGES AND TWEEDS, in colors Plain Brown, Navy, Fancy Brown Checks and Blue Greys, and would retail in the regular way from $7.00 to $9.00 each, but we have decided to cut this price almost in two, and will sell them at

SAWDUST NUISANCE.

Proceedings Against Mr. Booth of Ottawa Started.

THE MARINE DEPARTMENT MOVES

Could Not See Its Way to Extend Time for Dumping Sawdust into Ottawa River for Another Year, and Instructed Department of Justice to Take Action Under Clause 2, Chap. 95, R. S.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—On the instructions of the Marine Department, the Department of Justice yesterday took out a summons against Mr. J. R. Booth for infringement of clause 2 of chapter 95 of the revised statutes, which prohibits the dumping of sawdust into water stretches frequented by fish. Mr. Booth has a big lumber mill at the Chaudiere, and throws the sawdust from it into the Ottawa River. The emptying of sawdust into the river has long been a source of trouble. It was found after a careful investigation that the practice not only destroyed fish, but was gradually filling up the channel of the stream. The same trouble existed in certain districts of the Maritime Provinces. A provision was framed which prohibited the continuance of these deposits, but it was deemed only fair to give the lumbermen time to comply with it. The law has therefore, up to the present, not been acted upon. All the Ottawa lumbermen but Mr. Booth now burn their sawdust, but the latter still continues to make the river a dumping ground. About a month ago warning was given to Mr. Booth that action would be taken against him unless he conformed to the law. Mr. Booth wanted a delay of twelve months in order to adopt other means of getting rid of the troublesome sawdust. The department evidently does not see its way clear to making the concession. The section under which the prosecution is brought renders the offender liable to $20 and costs for the first offence, to a penalty not exceeding $40 for the second offence, and in addition a further penalty not exceeding $10 for every day during which the offence is continued. For the third or subsequent offence a penalty of $100 and costs is incurred, and in addition a further penalty not exceeding $20 a day. Mr. Booth's friends say that if the prosecution succeeds he will remove his mill to another city.

TO QUEL REVELLION.

Daily Telegraph's Method to Cure South African Situation.
London, Sept. 5.—The Daily Telegraph in an editorial yesterday on the South African situation, says:—
There is nothing to prevent Lord Milner from recognizing a government chosen from among the Boers who have already submitted, and from arranging with them the terms of a general surrender. After such a formal peace had been made every man taken with arms would be liable to be shot as a rebel.
Stop Transvaal Travel.

London, Sept. 5.—The going to and fro of certain persons between London and Cape Town is to be stopped by the Government. The Pall Mall Gazette says the mails of other suspected persons have been examined, and that important correspondence has been seized.
Col. Gordon Better.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—A cablegram from Cape Town, dated Sept. 3, says: "Lt.-Col. Gordon out of danger. Progressing favorably last telegram."

GERMAN CRUISER SUNK.

Collided With the Battleship Sachsen Off Arkona.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—The commander of the German fleet manoeuvring in the Baltic telegraphed yesterday from Sassnitz, Island of Rugen, that the third-class cruiser Wacht had been sunk off Arkona after having been in collision with the battleship Sachsen. It is not known whether there was any loss of life. The Wacht was a steel cruiser of 1,250 tons displacement and 4,000 indicated horsepower, launched in 1887, with speed of 19.06 knots, armed with four 3.4-inch quick-firers.
No Lives Lost.

Berlin, Sept. 5.—Late advices from Sassnitz regarding the sinking of the Wacht show that there was no loss of life.

KILLED BY A ROCK.

Assistant Superintendent Duchesney of C.P.R.

Vancouver, Sept. 5.—Assistant Superintendent Duchesney of the C. P. R. was accidentally killed yesterday by a rock falling on him at some point a few miles east of here. Mr. Duchesney was considered a remarkably clever railway man and was also something of an explorer. He recently discovered the Yoho valley near Field, B. C.

More Census Returns.

Ottawa, Sept. 5.—The Census Department yesterday received population returns for Northern Quebec and Ontario in the vicinity of the boundary line. The census there was taken by Father Beaudry, of the Oblate Mission at North Temiscamingue. The figures will add 712 to the population of Ontario (probably Algoma) and 721 to Quebec (all in Pontiac County). The returns are: Quebec—Klock's Farm, at head of Quize River, 16; Height of Land, 12; Northern Temiscamingue, 273. Total, 721.
Ontario—New Post, 28; Moose Factory, 570; Mattagama, 141.

STR. LONG BURNED.

Alarm Given by Fortunate Accident—Vessel at Dock at Meldrum Bay and All the Crew Escaped.

Gore Bay, Sept. 5.—The steamer John J. Long was burned at Meldrum Bay dock at 1 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The Long was owned by Capt. Cleland, Little Current, and carried the mail, also passengers and freight, between Cleland and Manitowaning, calling at intermediate ports. She was on her weekly trip to Cockburn Island when the catastrophe occurred. The cause of the fire is unknown. Chief Engineer Scott was ill and had only laid down about fifteen minutes when he discovered smoke and found the vessel in flames. He immediately aroused the firemen, who were sleeping below in the stern, and he, but for his prompt action would have been cut off from escape. He next aroused Capt. and Mrs. Cleland and the crew, who hurried on a few clothes and made a rush for their lives. The head waiter attempted to save his grip, which contained his month's wages and other effects, but so fierce were the flames that after two ineffectual attempts he was obliged to run for his life. Great praise is due Mrs. Cleland for her coolness and self-control in that hour of peril, for after escaping by sliding down the fender rope to the dock, she was the first to remember the money in the office. By this time the flames had made entrance to the office "trap-door," with much trouble a hole was made into the side of the vessel and the captain's hard-earned money was saved. Much sympathy is expressed for Capt. Cleland in his loss. The steamer was newly fitted up in the spring and was well equipped for the service in which she was engaged. The vessel was insured for $6,000.

ECUMENICAL CONFERENCE.

Kindly Greetings Pass Betw. on Methodist and Episcopalians.

London, Sept. 5.—The Ecumenical Methodist Conference opened in Wesley Chapel yesterday with a good attendance. The session was begun with devotional exercises, in the course of which King Edward and President McKinley were prayed for. Bishop Joseph C. Hartzell, Missionary Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Africa, made the opening prayer, and Bishop Galloway of Jackson, Miss., preached an eloquent sermon, setting forth the aims of Methodists throughout the world, and emphasizing the value of the tenets of John Wesley. Communion followed. The Archbishop of Canterbury, the Most Reverend Frederick Temple, D.D., and the Bishop of London, the Right Rev. A. F. W. Ingram, D.D., sent friendly messages. The Archbishop of Canterbury, speaking God's blessing on the deliberations. The Bishop of London sent a similar message, but adding the hope that some day the Methodists might be reunited with the Episcopalians.
The U.S. Negro Question.
Bishop Walters, colored, of Jersey City, declared there was a systematic effort on foot on the part of the white Americans to destroy the good opinion which the English had of the American negroes. He said that in 1900 out of 90 lynchings, in only 11 cases had assault on white women been proved. He appealed for the continued friendship of the English. There were loud cheers from the English side of the audience, but several of the Southern delegates went out, while others did not conceal their disagreement with the speaker.

TERRIBLE CHINESE FLOODS.

One Third of Shanghai Population Dead Say New York Cables.

New York, Sept. 5.—The following cable despatch was received by The Christian Herald of this city yesterday from Rev. Arthur H. Smith of Tien Tsin, chairman of the Famine Relief Committee:
Chiefco, Sept. 3.
Kloppsch, New York:
Terrible Yangtze floods. Dr. Richard and others approve appealing Shanghai Committee of Chinese and foreigners, to bring consuls, merchants, missionaries, distribute relief. It funds not all required in Szechuan, then transfer to Yachow, but

A second cablegram, received several hours later, showed the urgency of the situation. It was as follows:
Chiefco, Sept. 3.
Kloppsch, New York:
Dr. Duncan wires one-third population dead Shanghai. Forming Yangtze Relief Committee.

Dr. Kloppsch cabled to Chairman Smith, endorsing the decision of the committee to apply the unexpended balance of the Famine Fund in behalf of the Shanghai flood sufferers. The committee, under the terms of its appointment, has full power to extend its relief operations, and will probably begin work at once in the city of Shanghai and other portions of the Province of Kiangso, where the terrible inundation has resulted in the loss of life and property.

Hon. Edward Blake Home.

Toronto, Sept. 5.—Hon. Edward Blake, member of the British House of Commons for South Longford, Ireland, arrived here yesterday morning and is staying at the residence of his brother, Hon. S. H. Blake, 256 Jarvis street. Mr. Blake has been in Canada a couple of weeks, enjoying a rest at his summer home at Murray Bay. Mr. Blake said he had no business, but had merely come home to see his family and take a rest. He would remain in Canada till the last of October. He would not be interviewed on any public matter whatsoever. "For 40 years I have not been interviewed," he said, "and I am too old now to dance to a new tune." Mr. Blake looks hale and hearty and fit for many a hard battle yet.

Arms and the Woman.

When I went up stairs to my room, it was my belief that a week or so at the inn would not hang heavy on my hands. I had forgotten for the moment the princess or that I was hunting for Hillarys. It is strange how a face may upset one's plans. Gretchen's likeness to Phyllis, whom I loved, upset mine for many days to come.

As I gazed from my window the next morning I beheld the old innkeeper and Gretchen engaged in earnest conversation. He appeared to be pleading.

"Say, entreating, while she merely shook her head and laughed. Finally the old man lifted his hands to heaven and disappeared around the wing. When I came down, Gretchen was in the garden culling roses. She said they were for the table.

"Very well," said I. "Give me one rose."

"You may have them all at the table."

"But I shall not want them then."

She gave me an enigmatical glance, then cut a rose for me which was withered and worm eaten.

"Gretchen is unkind," I observed.

"What matters it whether the rose be fresh or withered? It dies sooner or later. Nothing lasts, not even the world itself. You wish a rose not because it is a rose, fresh and fragrant, but because I give it to you."

"You wrong me, Gretchen. I love a rose better than I love a woman. I never smile falsely, the rose, or plays with the hearts of men. I love a rose because it is sweet and because it was made for man's pleasure and not for his pain."

"That sounds like a copy book," laughed Gretchen. "The withered rose should teach you a lesson."

"What lesson?"

"That whatever a woman gives to man withers in the exchange—a rose, a woman's love."

Said I reproachfully: "You are spoiling a very pretty picture. What do you know about philosophy?"

"What does her knowledge about roses?"

"Much. One cannot pick too many fresh ones. And let me tell you a lesson which you should have learned among these roses. Nature teaches us to love all things fresh and beautiful—a rose, a face, a woman's love."

"Here," holding forth a great red rose.

"No," said I; "I'll keep this one."

She said nothing, but went on snipping a red rose here, a white one there. She wore gloves several sizes too large for her, so I judged that her hands were small and tender, perhaps white. And there was a grace in her movements, despite the ungainly dress and shoes, which suggested a more intimate knowledge of velvets and silks than of calico. In my mind's eye I placed her at the side of Phyllis. Phyllis reminded me of a Venus whom nature had whimsically left unfinished. Then she had turned from Venus to Diana, and Gretchen became evolved, a Diana slim and willowy. A sculptor would have said that Phyllis might have been a goddess and Gretchen a wood nymph had not nature suddenly changed her plans. What I admired in Phyllis was her imperfect beauty. What I admired in Gretchen was her beautiful perfection. And they were so alike and yet so different. Have you ever seen a body of fresh water ruffled by a sudden gust of wind, the cool blue green that which follows? Then you have seen the color of Gretchen's eyes. Have you ever seen ripe wheat in a sun shower? Then you have seen the color of Gretchen's hair. All in all, I was forced to admit that, from an impartial and artistic view, Gretchen the barmaid was far more beautiful than Phyllis. From the standpoint of a lover it was altogether a different matter.

"Gretchen," said I, "you are very good looking."

"It would not be difficult to tell her nationality."

"Which means?"

"That the American says in one sentence what it would take a German or a Frenchman several hundred sentences to say." Gretchen was growing more interesting every minute.

"And your mother and I are not the only ones who have told you that you are as beautiful as Hebe herself?"

"I am not Hebe," coldly. "I am a poor barmaid, and I never spill any wine."

"So you understand mythology?" I cried in wonder.

"Does her think that all barmaids are as ignorant as fiction and ill meaning novelists depict them? I have had a fair education."

"If I ever was guilty of thinking so," said I, answering her question, "I promise never to think so again."

"And now will her go to his breakfast and let me attend to my duties?"

"Not without regret," I said gallantly. I bowed to her as they bowed in the days of the Venus, while she looked on suspiciously. At the breakfast table I proceeded to bombard the innkeeper. I wanted to know more about Gretchen. "Is Gretchen your daughter?" I began.

"No; I am only her godfather," he said. "Does her wish another egg?"

"Thanks. She is very well educated for a barmaid."

"Yes. Does her wish Rhine wine?"

"Coffee is plenty. Has Gretchen seen many Americans?"

"Few. Perhaps her would like a knoblauch with salt and vinegar?"

The old fellow elevated both eyebrows and shoulders—a deprecating movement. "They say that of every inn. It has become a trade." If I had known the old man, I might have said that he was sarcastic.

"Then there is no truth in it?" disappointedly.

"Oh, I do not say there is no truth in the statement. If her will pardon me, it is something I do not like to talk about."

"Ah, then there is a mystery?" I cried, with lively interest, pushing back my chair. But the innkeeper shook his head determinedly.

"Very well," I laughed; "I shall ask Gretchen."

He smiled. The smile said, "Much good it will do you." Gretchen was in the barroom arranging some roses over the fireplace. Her hands were bare; they were small and white and surprisingly well kept.

"Gretchen," said I, "I want you to tell me the legend of the inn."

"The legend?"

"Yes; about the princess who was born here."

Gretchen laughed a merry laugh. The laugh said, "You are an amusing person."

"Ah, the American is always after legends when he has tired of collecting antiquities. Was there a princess born here? Perhaps. At any rate it is not a legend. History nor peasantry makes mention of it. Will her be so kind as to carry the ladder to the mantel so I may wind the clock?"

I do so. Even at this early stage I could see that Gretchen had the faculty of making persons forget what

"Gretchen has a secret," said I, they were seeking and by the mere sound of her voice. And it was I who wound the clock.

"Gretchen," said I, "time lags. Make a servant out of me this morning."

"Her does the barmaid too much honor," with lowered eyes.

"I am in the habit of doing anything I please."

"Ah, her is one of those millionaires I have read about!"

"Yes, I am very rich." I laughed, but Gretchen did not see the point.

"Come, then, with me, and you shall weed the knoblauch patch." She was laughing at me, but I was not to be abashed.

"To the patch be it, then!" I cried. "An onion would smell as sweet under any other name."

So Gretchen and I went into the onion patch, and I weeded and hoed and hoed and weeded till my back ached and my hands were the color of the soil. Nothing was done satisfactorily to Gretchen. It was "There, you have ruined the row back of you!" or "Pull the weeds more gently!" and sometimes, "Ach, could your friends see you now!" I suppose that I did not make a pretty picture. The perspiration would run down my face. I would forget the condition of my hands and push back my hair, which fell like a mop over my brow, whereat she would laugh. Once I took her hand and helped her to jump over a row. I was surprised at the strength of her grasp.

"What does her do for a living? He works so badly as a gardener."

"I am a journalist," I answered, leaning on my hoe and breathing heavily.

"Ach, one of those men who tell such dreadful stories about kings and princes, who cause men to go to war with each other, who rouse the ignorant to deeds of violence—one of those men who are more powerful than a king because they can undo him?" She drew away from me.

"Hold on!" I cried, dropping the hoe. "What do you know about it?"

"Enough," sadly. "I read the papers. I always look with fear upon one of those men who can do so much good and yet who would do so much evil."

I had never looked at it in that light before.

"It seems to me, Gretchen," I said quietly, "that you are about as much a barmaid as I am a weeder of knoblauches." The color of excitement faded from Gretchen's cheeks, her eyes grew troubled, and she looked away.

"Gretchen has a secret," said I. "It is nothing to me what Gretchen's secret is. I shall respect it and continue to think of her only as a barmaid with—a superior education."

I shouldered the hoe. "Come, let us go back. I'm thirsty."

"Thank you, her," was the soft reply. Then Gretchen became as dumb, and our return to the inn was made in silence. Once there, however, she recovered. "I am sorry to have put you at such a disadvantage," glancing at my clothes, which were covered with brown earth.

"Let that be the least of your troubles!" I cried gayly. Then I hummed in English:

"So, ho, dear Gretchen, winsome lass,

But amber nectar bring to me,
Whose rich bouquet will cling to me,
Whose spirit will cling to me,
From out the my divine!

So, here's your toll—a kiss—away,
You Hebe of the Rhine!
No goblet's gold means cheer to me;
Let no cut glass get near to me;
Go, Gretchen, haste the beer to me
And put it in the stein!

I thought I saw a smile on her lips, but it was gone before I was certain.

"Gott im himmel!" gasped the astonished innkeeper as I went into the barroom. I still had the hoe over my shoulder.

"Never mind, mein host. I've been weeding your knoblauch patch as a method of killing time."

"But—He looked at Gretchen in dismay."

"It was I who led him there," said Gretchen in answer to his inquiring eyes.

A significant glance passed between them. There was a question in his command in her. I pretended to be examining the faded tints in the stein I held in my hand. I was thinking, "Since when has an innkeeper waited on the wishes of his barmaid?"

There was a mystery after all.

CHAPTER IX.

I took my pipe and strolled along the river bank. What had I stumbled into? Here was an old inn with rather a feudal air, but it was only one in a thousand, a common feature throughout the continent, and yet why had the gods, when they cast out Hebe, chosen this particular inn for her mortal residence? The pipe solves many riddles, and then sometimes it creates a density.

I put my pipe into my pocket and cogitated. Gretchen had brought about a new order of things. A philosophical barmaid was certainly a novelty. That Gretchen was philosophical I had learned in the rose gardens; that she was also used to giving commands I had learned in the onion patch. Hitherto I had held the onion in contempt; already I had begun to respect it. Above all, Gretchen was a mystery, the most alluring kind of mystery—a woman who was not what she seemed. How men love mysteries which are given the outward semblance of a Diana or a Venus! By and by my journalistic instinct awoke. Who are those who fear the newspapers? Certainly it is not the gullible. Of what was Gretchen guilty? The innkeeper knew. Was she one of those many conspirators who abound in the kingdom? She was beautiful enough for anything. And whence came the remarkable likeness between her and Phyllis? Here was a mystery indeed. I had a week before me. In that time I might learn something about Gretchen even if I could solve nothing. I admit that it is true that had Gretchen been plain it would not have been worth the trouble. But she had too heavenly a face, too wonderful an eye, too delicious a mouth, not to note her with concern.

I did not see Gretchen again that day, but as I was watching the moon climb up, thinking of her and smoking a few pipes as an incense to her shrine, I heard her voice beneath my window. It was accompanied by the bass voice of the innkeeper.

"But he is a journalist. Is he safe? Is anything safe from them?" came to my ears in a worried accent, a bass. So the innkeeper, too, was a socialist!

Said an impatient contralto, "So long as I have no fear why should you?"

"Ach, you will be found out and dragged back!" was the lamentation in a throaty baritone. Anxiety raises a bass voice at least two pitches. "If you would but return to the hills where there is absolute safety!"

"No, I will not go back there, where everything is so dull and dead. I have lived too long not to read a face at a glance. His eyes are honest."

"Thanks, Gretchen," murmured I from above. I was playing the listener. But, then, she was only a barmaid.

"And it is so long," went on the contralto, "since I have seen a man—a strong one—I wish to see if my power is gone."

"Aha!" thought I. "So you have already laid plans for my capitulation, Gretchen?"

"But," said the bass voice once more, "supposing some of the military should straggle along? There might be one who has seen you before. Alas, I despair! You will not hide yourself; you will stay here till they find you!"

I fell to wondering what in the world Gretchen had done. "I have not been to the village since I was a little girl. Dressed as I am, who would recognize me? No one at the castle, for there is no one there but the steward. Would you send me away?"

"I'll return!" But this American? You say you can read faces. How about the other one?"

Silence.

"Yes, how about him?"

Said Gretchen: "We are not infallible. And perhaps I was then much to blame."

"No, we are not infallible. That is the reason why you should take no chance," was the final argument of the innkeeper.

"Hush!" said Gretchen.

"Confound the pipe!" I muttered. It had fallen over the window sill.

Five minutes passed. I heard no sound. Glancing from the side of the window I saw that Gretchen and the innkeeper were gone.

Yes, there wasn't any doubt about it; Gretchen was a conspirator. The police were hunting for her, and she was threatened with discovery. It was beyond my imagination what she could have done. Moreover, she was rather cunning. The military post was only five miles down the river. The one thing which bothered me was the "him" who had suddenly intruded upon the scene, invisible, but there, like Banquo's ghost. Perhaps her beauty had lured some fellow to follow her fortunes, and his overzeal or lack of it had brought ruin to some plot.

"Gretchen," said I as I jumped into bed, "whoever he was, he must have been a duffer."

Her serene highness the Princess Hildegarde was in Jericho, and Hillary along with her, where I had consigned

Next morning Gretchen waited upon me at breakfast. She was quiet and answered my questions in monosyllables. Presently she laid something at the side of my plate. It was my pipe. I looked at her, but the leads of my eyes could not plumb the depths in hers.

"Thanks," said I. "It dropped from my window last night while I was playing the disgraceful part of eavesdropper." I dare say she had expected anything but this candid confession. It was very cunning in me. She knew that I knew she knew. Had I lied I should have committed an irreparable blunder. As it was she lifted her chin and laughed.

"Will you forgive me?"

"Yes; for you certainly wasted your time."

"Yes, indeed; for I am just as much in the dark as ever."

"And will remain so."

"I hope so. A mystery is charming while it lasts. Really, Gretchen, I did not mean to play the listener, and I promise that from now on—"

"From now on!" cried Gretchen. "Does not her leave today?"

"No; I am going to spend a whole week here."

There was a mixture of dismay and anger in her gaze.

"But, as I was going to say, I shall make no effort to pry into your affairs. Honestly, I am a gentleman."

"I shall try to believe you," said she, the corners of her mouth broadening into a smile.

She condescended to show me through the rose gardens and tell me what she knew about them. It was an interesting lecture. And in the evening she permitted me to row her about the river. We were getting on very well under the circumstances.

The week was soon gone, and Gretchen and I became very good friends. Often when she had nothing to do we would wander along the river through the forests, always, I noticed, by a route which took us away from the village. Each day I discovered some new accomplishment. Sometimes I would read Heine or Goethe to her, and she would grow rapt and silent. In the midst of some murmurous stanza I would suddenly stop, only to see her start and look at me as though I had committed a sacrilege, in that I had spoiled some dream of hers. Then again I myself would become lost in dreams, to be aroused by a soft voice saying, "Well, why do you not go on?" Two people of the opposite sexes reading poetry in the woods is a solemn matter. This is not appreciated at the time, however. It comes back afterwards.

In all the week I had learned nothing except that Gretchen was not what she pretended to be. But I feared to ask questions. They might have spoiled all. And the life was so new to me, so quiet and peaceful, with the glamour of romance over it all, that I believe I could have staid on forever. And somehow Phyllis was fading away, slowly, but surely. The regret with which I had heretofore looked upon her portrait was lessening each day, from active to passive. And yet was it because Gretchen was Phyllis in the ideal? Was I falling in love with Gretchen because she was Gretchen, or was my love for Phyllis simply renewing itself in Gretchen? Was that the reason why the portrait of Phyllis grew less holding and interesting to me? It was a complex situation; one I frowned over when alone. It was becoming plainer to me every hour that I had a mystery all of my own to solve. And Gretchen was the only one to solve it.

I shall never forget that night under the chestnuts on the bank of the wide white river. The leaves were gossiping among themselves. They had so much to talk about, and then they knew so much! Had not they and their ancestors filtered the same moonbeams century on century? Had not their ancestors heard the tramp of the armies, the clash of the saber, the roar of the artillery? Had not the hand of autumn and the hand of death marked them with the crimson sign? Ah, the leaves! It is well to press them in books when they themselves have such fine stories to tell.

"Gretchen," said I, echoing my thoughts, "had I been born a hundred years ago I must have been a soldier. Napoleon was a great warrior."

"So was Blucher, since it was he who helped overcome the little Corsican."

The Germans will never forgive Napoleon.

"But war is a terrible thing," went on Gretchen.

"Yes, but it is a great educator. It teaches the vanquished how little they know."

"War is the offspring of pride. That is what makes it so abhorred."

"It is also the offspring of oppression. That is what makes it so great."

"Yes. When the people take up arms, it is well. War is the torch of liberty in the hands of the people. Oh, I envy the people, who are so strong, yet know it not. If I were a man, I would teach the people that a king has no divine right, save when it is conferred upon him by them."

"Gretchen, I'm afraid that you're a bit of a socialist."

"And who is not who has any love for humanity?"

"A beautiful woman who is a socialist, Gretchen, is a menace to the king. Sometimes he fears her. At large she is dangerous. He seeks her, and if he finds her he takes away her liberty."

All this was said with a definite purpose. It was to let Gretchen know that I knew her secret. "Gretchen, you are an embryo socialist, a chrysalis, as it were."

"No, her," sadly. "I am a butterfly whose wings have been clipped." I had not expected this admission.

"Never mind," said I. "Gretchen, I do not want you to call me her; call me Jack."

"Jack!" she said. It became an uncommon name now.

"Whatever your true name may be, I shall never call you anything but Gretchen."

"Ah, Jack!" she laughed, and then lurking echoes clasped the music of that laughter in their wanton arms and hurried it across the river.

"Sing to me," said I.

Then imagine my surprise—I, who had heard nothing but German fall from her lips—when in a heavenly contralto she sang a chanson from "La Fille de Madame Angot," an opera forgotten these ten years!

"The east telement innocent!"

She had risen, and she stood there before me with a halo of moonshine about her head. The hot blood rushed to my ears. Barmaid, socialist or whatever she might be, she was lovable. In a moment I was kissing her hand, the hand so small, so white and yet so firm. A thousand inarticulate words came to my lips, from my heart!

Did the hand tremble? I thought so. But swiftly she drew it from my clasp, all the joy and gladness gone from her face and eyes.

"No, no!" she cried. "This must not be! It must not be!"

"But I!"—I began eagerly.

"You must not say it; I command you! If you speak, Gretchen will be Gretchen no more. Yes, the king seeks Gretchen, but will you drive her away from her only haven?" with a choking sound.

"Gretchen, trust me. Shall I go tomorrow? Shall I leave you in peace?" Somehow I believed myself to be in danger. "Speak!"

There was an interval of stillness, broken only by the beating of hearts. Then:

"Stay. But speak no word of love. It is not for such as I. Stay and be my friend, for I need one. Cannot a woman look with favor upon a man but he must needs become her lover? I shall trust you as I have trusted other men, and, though you fall me in the end, as others have done, still I shall trust you. Her, I conspire against the king. For what? The possession of my heart. All my life I have stood alone—so alone!"

"I will be your friend, Gretchen. I will speak no word of love. Will that suffice?"

"It is all I ask, dear friend. And now will you leave me?"

"Leave you!" I cried. "I thought you bade me stay."

"Ah," putting out her hand, "you men do not understand! Sometimes a woman wishes to be alone when—when she feels that she—she cannot hold back her tears!"

Gravely I bent over her hand and kissed it. It seemed to me, as I let the hand fall, that I had never kissed a woman on the lips. I turned and went slowly down the path. Once I looked back. I saw something white lying at the foot of the tree. Heaven knows what a struggle it was, but I went on. I wanted to take her in my arms and tell her that I loved her. When I reached the inn, I turned again, but I saw nothing. I sat in my room a long time that night, smoking my pipe till the candle gasped feebly and died in the stick and the room was swallowed in darkness.

I did not know, I was not sure, but I thought that, so long as I might not love Phyllis, it would not be a very hard task to love her image, which was Gretchen. You see, Phyllis was so very far away, and Gretchen was so near!

TWO TRAINMEN KILLED.

Engineer Mirra and Brakeman Stone Die in a Collision.

Gananogue, Aug. 28.—At 3 a. m. yesterday an eastbound and westbound freight collided at Thousand Island Junction on the G. T. R. Two of the trainmen were instantly killed.

An eastbound freight on down track was crossing to up track to give a clear track to No. 8 train, the Eastern Flyer. When about half way on the cross-over a freight was seen coming on the up track. The morning was very foggy. The conductor of the eastbound freight signalled the approaching train, which was coming at a great rate of speed. The brakeman was also signalling the westbound train. Neither of these signals were answered until the westbound was about 100 feet away, when Engineer Mirra applied the emergency brakes, but it was too late. He crashed into the eastbound train, demolishing ten cars, containing flour and merchandise.

The body of Brakeman Stone was found near the tender of the engine. Engineer Mirra was also killed. His body is now, at 2 p. m., pinned under the engine, with from the waist up exposed. The fireman jumped and is uninjured.

WILLIAM DOXTATER SHOT.

Chief Henry of the Muncieys Arrested and Held.

London, Aug. 30.—William Doxtater, a well-known young Muncie Indian, was shot, possibly fatally, by John Henry, the chief of the Muncie tribe, Tuesday evening. Henry was arrested and lodged in the County Jail, where he will be held pending the result of Doxtater's injuries.

The shooting was the outcome of a too intimate relationship between Doxtater and Henry's young daughter. For some time past the young Indian had been living with the girl, although they were unmarried. Henry made repeated efforts to induce his daughter to leave Doxtater, but she turned a deaf ear to the paternal advice. However, on Monday night, matters reached a climax when the girl went home.

The following night Doxtater appeared at Henry's house and demanded his property. An altercation followed, and, seizing a revolver, Henry fired at the younger man. The bullet struck him in the forehead, just above the nose, but glanced off, fracturing the skull and making a gaping wound.

Chief Henry was arrested in the city yesterday. In the meantime the condition of Doxtater is critical, and, should he die, Henry may have to stand trial on the charge of murder.

Inevitable Poultry Losses.

Beginners in poultry-rearing are often discouraged by the losses which they sustain. They find themselves unable to rear all of the chickens hatched and they discover that some fowls die. But they should not be discouraged, because such is the common experience.

It is difficult to understand why, out of a brood of chickens all apparently of the same vigor, some will live and thrive and some will die. But such is a fact. There is probably a difference of constitutional vigor, though no difference is apparent. The student of nature knows that there is going on an endless conflict, by means of which the weaker specimens are eliminated and only the stronger survive. Through this conflict, with the enormous losses entailed, nature keeps up a standard of constitutional vigor and prevents the deterioration that otherwise would ensue. Even when the fostering care of man intervenes, this conflict does not wholly cease. Man may reduce the severity of the struggle, but he cannot wholly prevent it. If he could, the average vigor of the plants and animals under his care would deteriorate. A friend of the writer, at one time an extensive breeder of Indian Games, used to say that his practice was to turn his hens and chickens into a large enclosure and let nature weed out the weaklings. If a chicken was not strong enough to survive, he was glad to have it die. His stock had a reputation for strength of constitution and hardiness that made it much sought after.

Even the chickens which arrive at maturity will differ in strength of constitution. At moulting-time, when the growth of new feathers makes a great draft upon the strength of the fowl, natural selection weeds out some of the weakest fowls. It is not strange that some should die at this time. A large breeder of Light Brahmas used to offer at reduced prices many fowls for sale just before they moulted. He was led to do this because he found that it paid. Some of the fowls would not be so finely marked after they had moulted, and some of them would die during the process. But after the moult had taken place, he put up his price again.

Of course much can be done to prevent the loss of chickens and fowls by special care, and by the use of food adapted to their special needs. But after all has been done which human skill can do, it is well to remember that some losses will occur. Fortunately the percentage of losses need not be large. If the percentage of losses is large, it is evidence that something is radically wrong. The breeding stock may be lacking in vigor, or the care and food may be deficient. When large losses occur, the breeder should seek to ascertain the cause and to prevent the future occurrence of such losses. But when the percentage of losses in chickens is not above 10 or 15 per cent., and in fowls is not above 5 per cent., there is no cause for special anxiety.

The practice of killing off old fowls just before they moult, in view of the fact of the possibility of the loss of some of them during the process, and the fact that moulting they cease to be profitable, is financially commendable. By so doing, food and labor are saved, and the number of marketable fowls is larger than it would be after moulting. Room, too, is secured for the more perfect growth and development of the young stock. Except in the case of a very few especially valuable breeding or exhibition fowls, which of course the breeder will desire to retain, it ordinarily pays to kill the old stock before moulting. There may be cases where, by keeping the fowls, enough more can be obtained for them to pay to do this, but as a general rule, the one advised is the most profitable course.

It would be something like a moral, that it is not wise to keep the fowls for a long time, if they are not wholly bad, as they serve to preserve the constitutional vigor of the flock by eliminating the weaker specimens; good management will keep the percentage of losses down to a small figure; some of them can be anticipated by the sale of the old stock before moulting.

The Dress Improver.

The return of the dress "improver" is no longer prophesied, but its advent is announced among both French and English fashions. The most fashionable modistes are putting small narrow pads of cushions at the back of the dress skirts, these doing away with the look of flatness so conspicuous in many figures. In accepting the innovation, it is to be hoped that it will remain the distinctive mark of the new style, and not become the hideous excrescence that its former days gave such a scope for the exercise of humor, sarcasm, or satirical vein. "It is better than crinolene," say those who were aware of a change of style was imminent. Fashions are quite likely to appear in the train of the small tourneur and they will be well received by the large class of tall, slim women of to-day.

FOR THE HOME CIRCLE

MATTERS FOR DISCUSSION AT THE TEA TABLE.

He that findeth a Wife Findeth a Good Thing.

The following contribution from the pen of Miss Colla Dyer, of this town, recently appeared in the Ladies' Journal, of Toronto, and we reproduce it for the benefit of the readers of Lindsay, who may thereby be made to see the errors of their ways:

"It is not good for man to be alone," said the great Creator, who made all things well, and so woman was made as man's best companion. The ideal wife must be neat, tidy and clean, her housekeeping and cooking in all its various details above the criticism of her capable and charitable, willing to sacrifice her wishes for those of her lord and master. Truthful, loving, kind, thoughtful for her family, as also for her friends, a gossip not a scandal-monger she must not be, a gossip, so like a great worm in the bud which destroys the beauty of the rose, must be far from her. Selfishness, which mars the beautiful in life, she shuns, but cultivates a cheerful, happy disposition, which wins for her love and esteem. A sensible wife is a great help to a worried husband, and some of the greatest men's successes were due to their sensible wives, so the ideal wife must possess this good ability. Such a wife will be a treasure, and will be appreciated for her true value, because the husband sees in the same light as Solomon of old, "he that findeth a wife findeth a good thing," and he notices that "His home she enters, there to be a light. Shining within, when all without is night. A guardian angel o'er his life presiding. Doubling his joys and his cares dividing. Winning him back, when mingling in the throng. From a vain world, we love, alas, too long. To fireless happiness and hours of ease. Blest with that charm, the certain to please. How oft her eyes read his! her gentle mind. To his wishes, all his thoughts inclined. Still subject—ever on the watch to borrow. Mirth of his mirth and sorrow of his sorrow."

When a woman recognizes the absolute necessity of forethought in the housekeeper, her lesson is more than half learned. She will try to put so much of it into actual use, and the rest will come to her through experience. Besides forethought, the housekeeper must have executive ability.

Mrs. A— has a regular hour for her meals. They are ready on time, and every member of her family is expected to be punctual. If they are not, the meal is eaten and the dishes cleared away, just the same, and only a very good excuse for tardiness prevents the delinquent from going hungry until the next meal. Mrs. A— is considered very strict unyielding and disliking by those who do not like to be punctual, but the person with good executive ability realizes that one cannot accommodate everyone and have one's work done on time. If Mrs. A— waited for all the tardy ones, she would seldom have her work out of the way, and then she would not only have to suffer the subsequent annoyance, but would be criticized as one having no management.

Mrs. B— has her meals ready quite punctually, but her family seldom sit down to the table together. They come straggling in, one or two at a time, and often the dishes are not cleared away until it is time to set the table again. Mrs. B— is often heard complaining about it, for her work is dreadfully hindered by the thoughtlessness of her family. She does not see that her family is thoughtless, because she allows them to be so. Mrs. B— has forethought, but no executive ability. She knows what ought to be done, and does her share of the work as well and as promptly as she can, when hampered by the dilatory ways of her household, but she cannot work to the best advantage, and she is always hurried, worried and nervous.

Of the household where there is neither forethought nor executive ability let us say nothing. There are many such, and they form more barriers to the progress of civilization than can be counted. The housekeepers who have forethought and executive ability are respected, and a home imposed upon. They usually enjoy their work, for they drive it instead of being driven by it, and so they do not grow old prematurely, or dwindle into mere loquacious machines—Home Journal.

Salt Rheum

You may call it eczema, better or milk crust. But no matter what you call it, this skin disease which comes in patches that burn, itch, discharge a watery matter, dry and scab over, is the result of the presence of humors in the system. It will continue to exist, annoy, and perhaps agonize, as long as these humors remain. It is always radically and permanently cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla which expels all humors, and is positively unequalled for all cutaneous eruptions.

He hopes to receive the hearty co-operation of fruit growers, and believes they will work harmoniously with the department to improve and build up the great industry whose success means so much for Canada.

Guelph, Aug. 31.—Guelph and vicinity were visited by another destructive electric storm Thursday night and yesterday morning. The houses of Jas. Cormack and George Koogh, on Waterloo avenue, were struck, but no damage was done either case. During the heaviest part of the storm lightning struck the dairy building at the O. A. C., and the building took fire, but some of the employees were near at hand, and quickly extinguished the flames. Mr. Stratton, the cheese maker, received a severe shock.

A mile farther east, the residence of Mr. Murdoch McIver, the brick work having just been completed, was also badly wrecked, the east wall being blown in. The storm only lasted for a few minutes. Winds of this nature have rarely experienced in this neighborhood.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Aug. 28.—A very sad drowning accident occurred here yesterday afternoon, when Lloyd Currie, the 17-year-old son of R. Currie, an employe of the Frost & Wood Co. of this place, lost his life. He was last seen going toward his boathouse about 8.45. At 4.30 he was discovered by two young men on their way up the river. He was lying on his back in about a foot and a half of water. He was partly dressed, his wet trousers, boots and stockings being found lying on the bank as if he had fallen in and placed them there to dry. How he fell in again is a mystery. When found life was extinct, although the doctor worked with him for over an hour.

This makes the tenth body recovered, of which eight have been identified. Two bodies, those of a woman and a small girl, are unidentified. Nineteen are missing, and it is almost certain that all of these are dead. Of the eight persons remaining in the hospital two are almost certain to die. Thus far the net result of the awful explosion will be in the neighborhood of thirty deaths.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Synopsis of a Lecture Delivered at Bobcaygeon Last Week.

A public address was delivered by the Rev. Geo. W. Conners, Baptist minister, in the town hall, Bobcaygeon, on Friday evening, 80th before a crowded house, Rev. Innes, Presbyterian minister, occupying the chair. Rev. W. Conners on being introduced said he hadn't rushed into the matter without deep meditation. It wasn't done with a spirit of hatred but because he was an ambassador of the Lord Jesus Christ to maintain the writings of His Holy Faith, that we may have a proper understanding of it. Taking for his text 1st Timothy, 6-20, he said we are all living in an age of multiplicity of doctrines, among which had arisen in the last generation, Christian Science. This Christian Science was closely akin to Hindoo Pantheism, and he quoted from Fundita Ramabai, a highly educated native of India, to show its Pagan origin, and to its being the same doctrine taught by the Hindoo people for 4000 years before referring to the history of its rise in 1836, and progress, and wishing the Golden Rule to apply he said: If the doctrines taught were Christian and sound then we should conform to them; but if on the contrary they are erroneous, it was his plain duty to point out those fallacies.

Comparing Mrs. Eddy's writings in "Science and Health" with the Bible, she (Mrs. Eddy) says that: God is the Principle of Christian Science, God is love; God is mind; that man was in God's ideal co-existent and co-eternal with that mind. That a sinner is not reformed merely by assuring him that he cannot be a sinner, because there is no sin. Also she says of sin: That it is the image of the lines flow as an error of physical belief. That Christ healed the sick and practised Christian healing, but left no rule for demonstrating his principle of healing and preventing diseases.

She affirms that Christ was a Christian Scientist, but was not as far advanced as he might have been else he would not have prophesied his death and hastened it. She says that Christian salvation is simply a repentance from the Nothingness of mortal beliefs to the Somethingness of divine ideas. That when Christ died it was His annihilation, and when in the tomb was practically studying Christian Science, for the lonely precepts of the tomb gave Jesus a refuge from His foes and a place in which to solve the problem of being. That salvation is not effected by supplicatory prayer, as prayer cannot change the Science of Being; goodness alone reaches the demon-stration of truth; that Christ's shed blood was of no efficacy, for the material blood of Jesus Christ was no more efficacious to cleanse from sin when shed from the accursed tree than when it was flowing in His veins as He went daily about His Father's business. Death is but a sleep of the mortal mind. No future reward for the faithful, no punishment for the sinner. She says in the beginning of her book that the Bible was her only text book; no human tongue or pen ever taught her the science. And yet, she says, she saw the light of the Holy Spirit on any of these most damnable utterances and they flee as the mist before the sun. She with one broad sweep of her hand sweeps away all the doctrines of the Bible—God, man, sin, Jesus Christ, prayer, repentance, redemption, salvation, heaven, hell, death, heaven, hell and all.

In dealing with the subject Mr. Conners dwelt particularly on the spiritual phase of the question, and quoted to prove his assertions in every case, and had articles prepared on other phases of the question.

In the final part of the lecture, but time would not permit and he closed an address of an hour and a quarter during which he held the attention of everyone in the hall. At the close a hearty vote of thanks was given.—Com.

WEDDING BELLS.

Leslie-Devitt.

The following, taken from a Grand Forks, Dakota, exchange, will interest friends in Lindsay, Bobcaygeon and district: Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of Dr. T. G. Devitt, brother of the bride, occurred the wedding of Miss Eva T. Devitt and Mr. Ronald Leslie, in the presence of a few friends and relatives only. The ceremony being performed by the Rev. Burleson, of St. Paul's Episcopal church of this city. The bride was formerly of Bobcaygeon, Ont., but for the past year she has resided at Stonewall, Manitoba. She is a young lady of many accomplishments who is very highly esteemed by all who have the honor of her acquaintance. The groom is a prominent banker of Stonewall, and is one of the most successful and successful business men of that place. After the ceremony the wedding party was served with a very tasty wedding supper, and in the evening left over the N. P. for the Pan-American exposition, going by way of the great lakes. ## Sabbath Breaking.

(To the Editor of The Post.)
Dear Sir,—Last Sunday some violators and others evidently forgot to pay due respect to the Sabbath observance law. The fishing is unexcelled and every sport returns to the village in the evening literally struggling under his load of black bass and muskellunge, yet six days of this success does not satisfy some of these people and Sunday is passed in the same way. Now, I wish to say to all Sabbath breakers in this vicinity that I am determined to prosecute any person found guilty of this violation of the law.
Thanking you, Mr. Editor for kindness in publishing the foregoing, I am, yours, truly, JOSEPH WAKELIN.
County Constable.

A RUNAWAY YACHT.

The "Jessie" Took a Spin Around Stony Lake—How it Occurred.
(Lakefield News.)

The "Jessie," a demure looking yacht belonging to Judge Hudspeth of New York, ran away on Stony Lake on Friday last, creating quite a hue and cry round the neighborhood of Boschink. The facts of the case appear to be as follows: The yacht which is run by also-vapour power, was in charge of the engineer, who was at that time the only one on board. This individual in jumping from the boat to the shore happened to touch the cable of the engine and set it in motion. The yacht, which was in motion again, went careering madly over the lake, missing rocks by a hair's breadth and indulging in a series of eccentric manoeuvres more suggestive of a witch's frolic than of a damsel comporting herself with modesty and refinement. The rocks re-echoed with the cries of the passengers. After a long and of the power. After a long and of the power. After a long and of the power.

rendered finally successful only by the lowering of the power in the engine, the craft was captured, with no damage to herself but a considerable lack of breathing power in the lungs of the passengers. The incident reminds one irresistibly of the pursuit of the House Boat by the aristocratic shades in Hades save that in this case there were no ladies on board the vessel to lend a time of romance to the incident.

VICTORIA CO. APPLE CROP.
A Visiting Buyer Says Farmers Lose Thousands Because It is Not Handled Properly.

Taken in the aggregate the orchards of this county produce a lot of fruit yearly, and the yield would be treble what it is but for the fact that most farmers owning small orchards place very little value on the crop; indeed many of them feed the bulk of the fruit to the hogs, reserving a few barrels of the best varieties for home use and for sale to special customers. Our farmers pay very little attention to the care of the trees owing to the limited market. Mr. J. Burgess, of Hamilton, one of the best-known buyers in the province, is now operating in this district, and is purchasing large quantities. In conversation with a Daily Post representative Mr. Burgess said he had been told on coming to Lindsay that the apple crop was poor and that it would not pay him to bother with it, but he decided to investigate for himself, and learned that the facts did not agree with what had been told him. In driving about the country he ran across several farmers who had fed between $150 and $200 worth of first-class apples to their hogs, and their disappointment was keen when told the price they would have received for their entire crop.

Mr. Burgess has contracts to supply ten or twelve jam and canning factories with bulk fruit, and this enables him to buy by the orchard, instead of selecting the best and leaving the poor fruit and windfalls on the farmer's hands. He expects a big surprise that some of our enterprising business men did not engage systematically in the apple business, as the profits are large. As an instance, he produced from his estate two fine specimens of the Duchess apple—largely grown in this section—and said the variety was highly prized in the United States for table use. He had selected eleven barrels of Duchess apples from an orchard he had saved from the ravine and shipped them to the Pan-American grounds at Buffalo, where he displayed the fruit in baskets at a temporary stand. The rosy, juicy apples sold "like hot cakes," and the buyer netted him $10.50 per barrel. A New York merchant was giving him $1 for the last dozen apples.

In closing the interview Mr. Burgess said it was not good business for him to complain of conditions which put an added profit into the pockets of visiting buyers, but he had no hesitation in saying that the farmers of Victoria County were losing a very large sum yearly because of the lack of a keen, experienced buyer to purchase and handle their apple crop.

Ducks were Flying High.

Monday morning ushered in the open season for the shooting of wild ducks, and the hunters were out in great force. Truth to tell, during the week previous the owner of a shot-gun or a canoe received as many callers as does a candidate at a municipal election who is "trimming" to catch votes. It is estimated that fully 100 hunters were abroad yesterday morning and the fusillade was tremendous, but the ducks were flying high and few were knocked over. The hunters who sought points of vantage up the river came back empty-handed; those who were located down the lake, at Blythe and at Emily Creek, killed about 30 in all, Messrs. Burton, Knowlson brothers and Simpson getting the bulk of them. It was a poor opening shoot, and tame ducks will still rule on the bill-of-fare.

LABOR DAY WELL OBSERVED

CITIZENS' BAND EXCURSION TO STURGEON POINT

Attended by Hundreds—Stores and all Places of Business Closed—Many went to Toronto.

The weather man smiled upon Labor's holiday Monday, thus proving that he is a friend of the workman. Business was almost at a standstill in town; the stores were all closed, and saw-millmen, builders and carpenters were about the only ones who felt compelled to labor owing to the pressing nature of the contracts in hand.

Being Exhibition time, a great many citizens left for Toronto Saturday evening, and another rush took place Monday morning. Those who desired a quiet ride fine took advantage of the Citizens' band excursion to Sturgeon Point, and the Crandella made two trips—one at 9:30 and the second immediately after dinner, handling in all over 500 passengers. The excursion also carried a couple of hundred pleasure-seekers to Bobcaygeon, while every available small boat and yacht was abroad with a freight of happy holiday-makers.

At the Point the attractions were a baseball match and a number of races for the little ones. The band rendered a choice program of music during the afternoon in front of Mrs. Walkey's store, where a thriving business was done in ice cream, cooling drinks and light refreshments.

It was a perfect day for an outing, and the hours passed all too swiftly. The Crandella left on her first return trip about 4:30, and at 7:30 the last pleased but tired passenger went aboard, Lindsay being reached shortly before 9 o'clock. It was satisfactory to know that the band realized sufficient money to purchase a couple of badly-needed instruments. The large attendance proves that our citizens are now in sympathy with Bandmaster Gray's painstaking efforts to give Lindsay a first-class band, and there should be no difficulty in securing by a series of entertainments or other means sufficient money to provide all the new instruments required.

STURGEON POINT JOTTINGS.

Interesting Notes from Lindsay's Popular Summer Resort.

—Miss Darroch, a bright and entertaining Toronto lady who spent some weeks here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. Miller, made herself very popular with a large circle, and she is much missed at evening gatherings.

—The re-opening of the schools will lead to a partial depopulation of the Point in the course of the next few days, and Mr. Stewart lamented the exodus Monday. The cottagers who have arranged to remain here during September are looking forward to the next few weeks as likely to be the most pleasant of the season.

—Mr. Staunton, the clever Fenelon Falls photographer, was at the Point Monday, and Mr. Stewart lamented the exodus Monday. The cottagers who have arranged to remain here during September are looking forward to the next few weeks as likely to be the most pleasant of the season.

—Monday morning witnessed a goodly turn-out of golfers not afraid of hard work. They held a bee to clear the links of stones and boulders, and accomplished a vast amount of work with the aid of two teams of horses. It was an inspiring sight to see Messrs. J. D. Flavell, J. A. Dadd, R. Miller, J. Edwards and other husky golfers at their unusual tasks, and suggested the thought that if friend Chalmers could manage to inculcate his Lindsay laborers with the same enthusiasm it would be a grand thing for the town.

—This popular resort entertained the second largest gathering of the season Monday, the Citizens' band excursion taking in numbers with the annual outing of the Flavell Co. employees. The visitors spent a delightful day if we may believe the expressions heard. Many enjoyed the siesta on the green sward under the wide-spreading oaks, while others, more halcyon, were in for boating, bathing and strolling through the winding and shady paths which constitute one of the Point's chief charms.

—A Fenelon Falls youth, who is enamored of a maid employed at one of the cottages here, had an unpleasant experience Saturday. While driving in to spend an hour or two with his horse he stumbled on the ravine hill and came down to back down. The young man jumped to catch the animal by the head, and alighting upon a stone he slipped and sprained his ankle badly. The horse continued his retrograde movement and ended by bucking the rider and throwing him overboard. If the young chap ever needed the soothing influence of his lady love it was at that moment, but alas! She wasn't there when most wanted. Such is life.

What We May Expect.
In view of the near approach of the day when Lindsay will possess a fine hospital, with the most modern equipment the following report of Nichol's Hospital, Peterboro, may be of interest: Patients in Hospital, 24; number treated, 48; pay patients, 50; free patients, 18; from Peterboro, 34; other places, 24; cured 18; improved, 3; died, 3. It should not be forgotten that Peterboro has another hospital—St. Joseph's—where numerous patients receive treatment, but the statistics are not available. It may be taken for granted that Lindsay's new hospital will not be too large for the needs of the town and district.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Canada is making a bid for the better trade of Britain. We have in May and August sent to the British market 40,000 more packages than in the same months last year. It is a trade worth striving for.

Canadians who have visited the Glasgow Exposition speak in glowing terms of the prominence of Canada and things Canadian there. Never before was so much attention centered on Canada and its products, and great good is expected to result.

The C.P.R. strike is over, the terms announced being satisfactory to both sides. Now, why could not such an arrangement have been made weeks ago? The men are now just where they would have been had the Conciliation Committee's terms been accepted. Conciliation is the proper course in such cases.

Mayor Morris, of Ottawa, who is said to be a Tory, has this to say of Hon. Mr. Tarte: "If you wish to become acquainted with a genuine live hustler, you should meet the Hon. Mr. Tarte, Minister of Public Works. It is simply wonderful how he deals so promptly with all matters relating to the important department of which he is head. Owing to the manner in which Mr. Tarte deals with business of a public character I have grown to like and respect him very much."

It is commonly believed that most of the good farm lands of the United States available for homesteading have been taken up. According to a Philadelphia paper, of the original public domain of 1,900,000,000 acres there now remains nearly 500,000,000 belonging to the government. This is roughly estimated to amount to 200,000,000 acres of pasture land; 50,000,000 acres of forest; 75,000,000 acres of woodland other than forest; 65,000,000 of desert and 70,000,000 acres of the land that can be reclaimed by irrigation. It adds that these lands are being most wastefully dealt with, and are rapidly passing into private hands with little or no compensation to the government.

A Saginaw despatch of Thursday, says: The last pine log to come from Canada to the United States reached the Saginaw river last night, when a raft containing three and a half million feet arrived from Little Current, Ontario, consigned to the Saginaw Lumber and Salt company. This company has brought over this season between 22 and 25 million feet and one raft of three million feet went to Detroit. Since the rafting of logs to Michigan mills was inaugurated, one billion, six hundred and forty-one million feet have been brought over. Mr. (Charles), the well-known lumberman, in the course of an interview in Toronto yesterday, said the law prohibiting the export of logs may in the end result to the injury of Canadian lumbermen, as American operators are now establishing huge mills at Sarnia and elsewhere, and will sell freely in Canada.

The fact that the trouble between France and Turkey should arise through French initiative just on the eve of Czar's visit to France raises the question whether France is acting in collusion with Russia. The Turk gave himself away when he yielded to the importunities of the United States and conceded to President McKinley what all the powers of Europe failed to wring from him—payment of a debt. By thus yielding he tempted France to a like course of pressure and, being enormously indebted to other nations, it is possible that each of them in turn will put on the screws. A recurrence of Armenian massacres also comes at a good time for Russia, if she wants an excuse for interference beyond the Caucasus. Continental jingoes have long been remarking that this is a favorable time to arrange matters in the Levant to suit the schemes of the Franco-Russian alliance.

ance, while Great Britain has her hands full in South Africa. The Triple Alliance is not trammelled in any way, and its interests are as much concerned in the fate of Turkey as are those of Great Britain. The Turk is, undoubtedly, an anachronism in Europe, but no more so in some respects than Russia. At any rate there is a great deal more religious liberty in Turkey than in Russia.

A commission is to be sent to Syria by the Perth Conference of the Methodist church to find out just what sort of a time those two ministers had there. It should also travel incognito, and leave its valuables in the hotel safe.

Toronto retail merchants are anatomizing the assessment just now for putting up values to the top notch. Last year they organized to run up Eaton's assessment, and the standard of values thus set is now being used in their own cases—much to their disgust.

The New York Herald figures out that there are still nearly 1,100,000 square miles of wooded area in the United States, and that last year's cut was 23,500,000,000 feet of sawed lumber and about $80,000,000 worth of timber, ties, posts, laths, etc. The work of denuding the land of timber goes on rapidly.

Few Canadians have any adequate idea of how our trade with Great Britain increases, or what a hold Canada is taking on the people of the mother land. The London Canadian Gazette points out that whereas five years ago only 7 per cent. of Britain's imported food came from Canada, last year the proportion was 16 per cent, and it expects that to be doubled in another five years. It says: "In cheese alone we now derive 70 per cent. of our imports from Canada, and we know that the butter trade has increased fifteen-fold and the bacon trade twenty-fold in ten years. In 1890 Canada exported 162 shiploads of produce to Great Britain and last year 483 shiploads. And perhaps the most important fact of all is that the exports of Canadian wheat were last year 30 times greater than they were ten years ago. "It must not be forgotten," says the Glasgow Herald, commenting upon these significant figures, "that the ports of Canada are nearer to us by sea than those of the United States."

Mall and Empire: Judge Sutherland, of Rochester, N.Y., who made a rumpus at Port Hope because the Canadian Customs officer asked him what was in his lunch-basket, was clearly in the wrong. On both sides of the line lunch-baskets pass the Customs without difficulty. The traveler has but to say "lunch," and to open his basket, and there is no trouble. The judge, however, when the Customs officer appeared, indulged in violent language, and refused to name the contents of his package, or to submit them to the customary inspection. Under the circumstances the package was stopped, and the judge became even more savage. There is no international question in this case. The judge should have been the first to set an example for the law.

The City Clerk of Montreal, Mr. L. O. David, ex-legislator, author political philosopher, is a gentleman whose opinions on social questions merit attention and respect. He has just addressed a letter to La Presse on the census question, and a paragraph in it should be printed as extensively as possible in the Ontario papers. Though he refers especially to Quebec what he says is equally applicable to Ontario, especially in view of the falling birth rate and the decrease in the number of souls in families. He says: "The census proclaims highly that the future belongs to the race that has the most children and clears the greatest number of acres of land." Domestic colonization, and a higher sense of social duties, and less shirking the sacred duties of maternity, must be

I WEIGH 175 LBS. Former Weight 135 " Gain 40 lbs.

There are people who say that the benefit derived from the use of put-up medicines is imaginary. It is not the case with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which makes weak women strong and sick women well. A woman may imagine she is weak, or may fancy she is sick, but her imagination can't add forty pounds to her weight. The positive proof of the curative power of "The Favorite Prescription" is found in the restoration of health which is recorded in face and form, of strength which can be tested, and weight which can be registered in pounds and ounces.

The general health of women is so intimately connected with the local health of the womanly organs that when these are diseased the whole body suffers loss. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, stops weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"I am very glad to let other poor sufferers know what Dr. Pierce's medicine has done for me," writes Mrs. Edwin A. Gardner, of Beechwood, Norfolk Co., Mass. (Box 70). "You know I wrote to you last summer. I read what your medicine had done for other people, so I thought I would try it, and I found it was a blessing to me and my family. I began in June and took six bottles of your medicine and three vials of 'Pelle's'. I took your medicine a year when I had a ten-pound girl. I had the easiest time I ever had with any of my three children. I have been very well since I took your medicine. I took three bottles of 'Favorite Prescription', three of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and three vials of 'Pelle's'. I had no appetite and could not eat much without it distressing me before I took your 'Favorite Prescription' and I only weighed 135 pounds. Now I weigh 175."

Leslie's Weekly sounds an alarm about the growing use of so-called food preservatives and propounds the very reasonable doctrine that "no food product containing a preservative should ever be offered for sale without a plain statement on the label of the package showing the character of the preservative and the amount employed." That much surely a consumer has the right to demand. If he wishes to eat regular doses of borax, boric acid, saltpetre, formalin, formaldehyde, or any other of the substances used, let him do so; but it is unfair to dose the general public without notice. It should be borne in mind that while some of the drugs named are useful in certain diseases when properly prescribed, they are all deleterious to health when used as a steady diet. Let us have our food fresh; food that has to be embalmed is not fit for mankind.

Children Cry for CASTORIA.

A New Use for Old Straw Hats.

Chicago Record-Herald: Often we find that old straw hats are subjects of grave consideration. Many of them we hear it said, are too good to be thrown away, too fanciful to be given to the poor, and yet not quite molish enough to tempt their owners into trimming them up for another season. This, then, is the time when it is best to transform them into lamp shades. Most charming, especially for summer houses and verandahs. To carry out the scheme is a simple matter. First should the top of the crown be cut out, when already, as can be imagined, the hat will assume somewhat the shape of a lamp shade. Underside it should then be wired up and down as well as about the top and bottom, that it may be held in shape and bent gracefully, for above all else these shades must have a free, floppy appearance. They do not look well if at all stiff. The trimming consists mostly of artificial flowers and grasses which many women have on hand from hats of preceding summers. Long, deep, green grasses are usually hung about the lower edge as a fringe. If, however, the edges are not in good condition, it looks very well to put about them a ruff of pinked out taffeta ribbon, either to match or contrast with the color of the straw. A leghorn, for instance, would be most effective with a grass green ruff about the edges and a few large red poppies scattered over the surface. Sometimes flowers that one has in the house are faded, but even then their colors can be intensified by painting them afresh with either tapestry dyes or water-colors. Many old straws can also be helped by touching them up judiciously. On the other hand, so pretty are these straw lamp shades that it is quite worth while to buy the hats, should they not be forthcoming in any other way. Late in the season many decorative ones are sold at remarkably low prices. To be effective they should always be large. Deep yellow ones of rough straw trimmed with buttercups and grasses are unusually pretty and cast a golden glow when the lamp under them is lighted. The wholly green ones are restful and attractive. When a particular style or color of straw is desired, it were best to buy it by the yard, and then sew it together over a wire frame. It is also in this way that the smaller and very small shades for candlesticks are made, and which are quite enchanting, as they decorate the four corners of a table or cast a glimmer from some dim corner of the verandah.

ARRESTED IN LONDON

Dr. Krause Taken Into Custody on Charge of High Treason.

BOER SHOT HIM POINT BLANK.

Particulars of the Death of Col. Vandeleur—Women on the Train Shove Up—Were Wounded—Moving the Concentration Camps—Boers Will Be Placed in Garibonned Frontier Towns.

London, Sept. 3.—Dr. Krause, former Governor of Johannesburg, a prominent official of the late Transvaal government, was arrested in London last night on a charge of high treason. He will be arraigned to-day at Bow-street Police Court.

For the past four months Dr. Krause has been living in Great Britain. It is alleged that after signifying his allegiance to the British crown he secretly forwarded information to the Boers. It was Dr. Krause who handed to Lord Roberts the keys of Johannesburg on the occasion of the surrender.

Sept. 15, the Limit.—Washington, Sept. 3.—Ambassador Choate has cabled the State Department from London, under date of Aug. 31, as follows: South African commission will receive no further claims after Sept. 15. This commission is dealing with claims of Boers on account of damages in the Boer war.

With Boer Prisoners.—St. Vincent, G.V.I., Sept. 3.—The steamship Montrose, which sailed from Cape Town for Bermuda, Aug. 16, carrying 201 English troops and 937 Boer prisoners, has arrived here and will proceed for her destination to-day.

Reopening the Mines.—Cape Town, Sept. 2.—The military administration has determined, it is said, to deport all the Boers in the reconcentration camps, numbering upward of one hundred thousand, to garibonned towns on the coast, where food is more readily available. The railways, thus relieved, will suffice to supply food for the population of Johannesburg, which is as large as before the war, and permit the reopening of all the mines.

Compensation Commission.—London, Sept. 3.—Major-General Sir John A. Smith, the representative of the British Foreign Office before the Transvaal compensation commission, presented to the commission yesterday as part of the British case against the American and other claimants, the report of Capt. Carl Reichmann, who was United States military attaché with the Boers. From this it appeared that the Irish-American ambulance originally consisted of 53 men. On their arrival at Pretoria 45 of them threw away their Red Cross badges, and took up mauve ones. Capt. Reichmann was quoted as saying that the works of the Netherlands Railroad and the dynamite factory at Johannesburg were turned into Boer arsenals. Consequently the claimants who had worked therein could not be entitled to damages for exportation.

Boers Blow Up a Train.—London, Sept. 3.—A despatch from Lord Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Sept. 1, says: "A train was blown up yesterday between Waterval and Haman's Kraal by 250 Boers, who at once fired on the train, setting it on fire. Lieut.-Col. Vandeleur of the Irish Guards—a most promising officer—was killed. Nine persons were killed and 17 others wounded in the blowing up and derailing of the train."

AT THE SIGN OF THE HAND.—Negro Raised His, and Discharged Two Mines Under a Train.—London, Sept. 3.—The Pretoria correspondent of The Daily Telegraph, in a despatch describing the blowing up of a train between Waterval and Haman's Kraal Saturday by Boers, when Lieut.-Col. Vandeleur of the Irish Guards was killed, says: "The train carried several passengers, among them two ladies with babies and a nurse. As it toiled through a cutting a negro was seen to raise his hand. Instantly a Boer discharged two mines, derailing the train, while a body of Boers poured in a heavy rifle fire."

"Lieut.-Col. Vandeleur shouted to the women to lie down under the seats and ordered his men to return the fire. As he was proceeding along the corridor a Boer burst into the carriage and fired, killing him, after, it is supposed, his refusal to surrender. Another Boer deliberately fired upon and wounded the nurse, and bullets were flying in all directions, altho the Boers were aware that women and children were there."

Not to Meet Kruger.—London, Sept. 3.—The Czar, having made engagements with the French President and with Edward VII., is importuned by Dr. Leyds for an interview with ex-President Kruger. It is not probable that he will grant this request. Mr. Kruger has been in Europe a year without meeting any European sovereign except Queen Wilhelmina, and she was powerless to support his plea for intervention against Great Britain.

Piet Delarey Captured.—London, Sept. 1.—Lord Kitchener, telegraphing from Pretoria yesterday, says: "Garratt has captured Piet Delarey, brother of the Assistant Commanding General."

Trooper Busby Dead.—Ottawa, Sept. 3.—The Militia Department has received a cablegram stating that Trooper Charles Tupper Busby of Moncton, N.B., died of his wounds at Bloemendaal, Aug. 29.

Belgium Steamer Founders.—Constantinople, Sept. 2.—The Belgian steamer Nergene, whose loss while en route from London, was reported yesterday, foundered in the Black Sea during the night of Aug. 23, in a severe storm. The solitary survivor of a crew of 20 was picked up four days later in an open boat and was landed at Rhaia, east of Trebizend. Nothing is known as to how the others met their fate.

Duffy and Ole Olson Arrive.—Toronto, Sept. 3.—Martin Duffy and Ole Olson, the boxers, arrived to-day from Chicago for their bouts Thursday night with Tim Kearns and Pat Kilty at the Crescent Athletic Club.

THE LINDSAY CENTRAL FAIR

This Year's Exhibition will be the Best Ever.

HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS ADD ED TO THE PRIZE LIST.

Premiums for Live Stock Larger Than Ever Before, and the Spacious New Poultry House will swell the Exhibition to that Department--Directors Confident that this Year's Fair will be the Most Successful Ever Held.

President Johnston Ellis, Secretary-Treasurer Keith, and the other officers and directors of the Lindsay Central Exhibition are busy, yet happy men these days, because the prospects for a successful fair were never brighter. The successes scored in the past have encouraged the officers to increase the premiums offered to exhibitors of live stock, and as a result this year's prize-list deals with a sum little short of $5,000. Three substantial cash premiums are offered for all classes of stock, and it is confidently expected that the entries in this department of the fair will show a very substantial increase. The erection of a new Poultry house of ample size
and approved design will be hailed with delight by the breeders of feathered stock, and if the entries are counted those of last year it will cause
no surprise.

When the officers and directors met some time ago to discuss the question of attractions it was decided that a special effort should be made to secure some of the best talent available, it being felt that an increased attendance would repay
the outlay. President Ellis was deputed to visit Toronto with that end
in view, and the result will be a program of a most interesting nature,
the following talent having been secured:

Lady Bisco, lady cornetist.
Arno, marvellous contortionist.
Harry Rich, comedian.
Gourlay & LaMothe, comedy acrobats, with their donkey act combined.
Varin & Turenne, famous Mexican axe jugglers.
Friedrich (Nellie) & Hnat, English transformation singing and comedy artists.

The speeding in the ring for the liberal purses offered will be more exciting than usual, as a number of new horses will compete.

The nineteenth annual Central Fair may be looked forward to with eager expectancy, as it is going to be a record-breaker.

WHY BABIES CRY.

Some Useful Hints to Mothers on the Care of Little Ones.

Babies cry because they are sick
or in pain, and in almost every case
the sickness or pain is caused by some disorder of the stomach or bowels. Fermentation and decomposition of the food produce a host of infantile troubles, such as griping,
colic, constipation, diarrhoea, simple fever, indigestion, etc. Proper digestion of the food is necessary to the maintenance of life, and evacuation of used up products and refuse
of digestion is necessary to health.
The lesson to mothers is, therefore,
that the stomach and bowels should be carefully watched, and if baby cries, or is fretful, or cross, some simple vegetable remedy should be given. Mothers should never resort to the so-called "soothing" preparations to quiet baby, as they invariably contain stupefying opiates.
Baby's Own Tablets will be found an ideal medicine. They gently move the bowels, aid digestion, and promote sound, healthy sleep, thus bringing happiness to both mother and child. They are guaranteed to contain no poisonous "soothing"
stuff, and may be given with absolute safety (dissolved in water if necessary) to children of all ages from earliest infancy, with an assurance that they will promptly cure
all their minor ailments.

For the benefit of other mothers,
Mrs. Alex. Lafave, Copper Cliff,
Ont., says: "I would advise all mothers to keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house at all times. When I began giving them to my baby he was badly constipated, and always crawled. He is now four months old,
has not been troubled with constipation since I gave him the Tablets,
and he is now always happy and good natured. Mothers with cross children will easily appreciate such a change. I enclose 50 cents for two more boxes of the Tablets, and will never be without them in the house while I have children."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by druggists or will be sent by mail, post paid at 25 cents a box, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Dept. D., Brockville, Ont.

STONY LAKE BOAT SUNK

STE. ALERT OUT IN TWO IN A COLLISION.

The Passengers Saved--Boat Went Down 150 Yards from Shore.
(Special to The Post.)

Peterboro, Aug. 31st, 10 a.m. --
Last night, as the Steamer Sunbeam
was running north from Young's Point through Clear Lake on the way to Stony Lake, she collided with the Steamer Alert, 370 tons, and in two minutes the Sunbeam had sunk in getting within 150 yards of shore before she sank in ten feet of water.

The fault of the collision lay with the Alert, an inexperienced man, who was replacing the Captain at the wheel for a few minutes, mistook the signals and endeavored to run across the Sunbeam's bow. Both steamers are owned by White & Grills, of Lakeside.

The applications for land grants by the veterans of the South African war, the North-West rebellion, and the Fenian raids now number 3,000 and to satisfy these claimants will take over 1,250,000 acres, and constitute a serious drain on the surveyed lands of New Ontario. An impressive impression has been abroad
that the Government will have received for service against the Fendians are entitled to the grants, and this has brought in a number of applications, which will of necessity have to be refused. The Act limits the veterans of 1866 and 1870 to a maximum of 100 acres, and they must be residents of Ontario, and they must have been both enlisted for service and served in Ontario at the time of the raids.

The decision will not be reached for some time.

OBITUARY

The Late Asa Choate, Port Hope.

Mr. Asa Choate was the son of the late Nathan Choate, esq., and was born in the house where he died on the 27th of August 1845.
In addition to his sorrowing wife he leaves one brother, N. B. Choate, of Waterloo, Iowa; three sisters, Mrs.
Elizabeth Choate, Port Hope; Mrs.
W. L. Herriman, Lindsay; Mrs. Wm.
Manning, Hope; two daughters and two sons, Mrs. E. W. Wilson of The Guide, Mrs. L. O. Leelan, of Reginald,
Cal.; Norman S., of the Midland Loan & Savings Co., Port Hope, and Arthur E., at home.

Mr. Choate was a very energetic and progressive farmer, and was a most successful breeder of horses and other farm stock. For many years he has acted as judge at all leading local and provincial exhibitions, and had been selected to act in that capacity at the present International at Toronto. His sudden and untimely death will be much regretted by the stockmen and breeders of Canada.

The deceased took an active interest in matters political, being an ardent liberal, and in addition a Methodist. Mr. Choate was a man
very highly respected by the citizens of town and country, and the sorrowing family and relatives have the sincere sympathy of all in the terrible calamity, that has deprived them
of their loved one.

Will Reside in Town.

Mr. J. J. Teevin has decided to come to town to reside, and has leased his farm, lot 1, con 7, Fenelon,

Hickey, agent for the Deering Co.
We understand one of Mr. Hickey's sons has decided to branch out in the farming business for himself, and will work this beautiful farm.

Valuable Information About Catarrh.

Ointments and powders won't cure
it, and you never heard of medicine in tablet or liquid form that could cure it either. What's the reason?
Simply that germs cause catarrh,
and these germs take up snug quarters far back in the nasal passages,
or deep down in the bronchial tubes
where ordinary remedies can't go.
What will reach them? Catarrhoxone will, for it is inhaled in the lungs and bronchial tubes, goes
where the air you breathe goes, kills the germs and cures the disease. It never gets failed. Try Catarrhoxone, 25c. and $1.00.

New Use for Telephone.

The Flesherton correspondent of the Dundalk Herald says: "Your correspondent, who, as many of your readers know has been able only occasionally to be taken to church,
has through the kindness of friends
and the church brought to his home
by telephone connection, which was made to the Methodist church, one block distant, on Saturday last. On Sabbath it was a privilege to enjoy
our church at home the morning and evening services of the church, which were with ease distinctly heard from beginning to end. The transmitter, which is an ornament
to the pulpit, will receive the speaking voice anywhere on the platform 6 to 8 feet distant and even at a distance of ten feet was heard distinctly."

THE ONLY ONE.

The man who says that all patient medicines are worthless is a fool. For Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure has no equal. W. C. Switzer, Hasbrough, N. J., suffered with sciatic rheumatism for ten years. He tried every known remedy recommended for the cure of rheumatism without obtaining relief. Six bottles of Dr.
Hall's completely cured him. This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine

A Run Down System

SHOWS THAT THE BLOOD AND NERVES NEED TONING UP.

This Condition Causes More Genuine Suffering Than One Can Imagine.
How a Well Known Exeter Lady Obtained a Cure After She Had Begun to Regard Her Condition as Hopeless.

From the Advocate, Exeter, Ont.

"A run down system!" What a world of misery those few words imply, and yet there are thousands throughout this country who are suffering from this condition. Their blood is poor and watery; they suffer almost continuously from headaches, are unable to obtain restful sleep and the least exertion greatly fatigues them. What is needed to put the system right is a tonic, and experience has proved Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to be the only never-failing tonic and health restorer.

Mrs. Henry Parsons, a respected resident of Exeter, Ont., is one of the many who have testified and proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For many months she was a great sufferer from what is commonly termed "a run down system." To a reporter of the Advocate she gave the following story in the hope that other sufferers might benefit from her experience. "I was in a bad state of health in a bad state of mind. My constitution being greatly run down, I was troubled with continual headaches, my appetite was poor and the least exertion greatly fatigued me. I consulted physicians, but they did not appear to benefit me. I gradually became worse, so that I could hardly attend to my household duties. I then tried several advertised remedies but without result, and I began to regard my condition as hopeless.
A neighbor called to see me one day and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Having tried so many medicines without receiving benefit,
I was not easily persuaded, but finally I consented to give the pills a trial. To my surprise and great joy I noticed an improvement in my condition before I had finished the first box, and by the time I had taken four boxes of the pills I was fully restored to health. I no longer suffer from those severe headaches, my appetite is good, I can again do my household duties without the least trouble; in fact I feel like a new woman. All this I owe to that best of all medicines, Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills, and I would strongly urge other sufferers to give them a trial."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recognized the world over as the best blood nerve tonic, and it is this power of acting directly on the blood and nerves which enable these pills to cure such diseases as locomotor ataxia, paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart,
that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases resulting from vitiated humors in the blood, such as scurvy, chronic erysipelas, etc. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or can be had by mail, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for
$2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

COMMERCIAL MAN INJURED

Was Thrown from his Bicycle and Dislocated his Hip.

Mr. E. J. Smith, of Toronto, who travels for a firm handling tanners'
supplies, met with a very painful mishap on Friday afternoon. Having some business to transact at Oakwood, he left the Simpson house about two o'clock on a bicycle, his large valise being strapped on in the front. When a few miles out of town the valise struck a hole in the ground, and he was thrown from his balance. He fell heavily and must have been insensible for a short time, for when some parties came along in a vehicle his head was bleeding and he was unable to tell his name or give any explanation of his fall. The good Samaritans took him into their vehicle, and on the way into town he recovered sufficiently to name his stopping place. While being taken to his room
he complained of great pain in his left leg, and when a doctor examined him it was discovered that his hip was dislocated.

Saturday's Markets.

The market on Saturday was well attended, and there was a good demand for produce. Following were the quotations: Butter, 19c to 20c per lb.; eggs, 12c per doz.;
chickens, 40c to 60c per pair; blue
plums per bush, 50c; green plums, 65c per bush; apples, per bush, 50c.

A D. Olded Success.

The Canadian Order Woodmen of the World held their inaugural meeting in Lindsay last Friday, which proved to the sovereigns present
that woodcraft is bound to flourish in Lindsay. The forepart of the evening was spent in putting on the impressive degree work, which was done to the satisfaction of all present
by Deputy Council Commander
J. A. Ramplin. Next came the election of officers, who for the coming term, will be as follows: Council Commander, J. T. Petty; Adjutant Lieutenant, D. Chinnock; Banker,
F. A. McDermid; Past Council Commander, Frank Armstrong; Clerk,
Mr. W. J. Carlisle; Camp Physician,
Dr. W. H. Clarke; Escort, Charles
O'Neill; Watchman, Henry Corbier;
Sentry, Jas. Hodson; Managers, A.
Watson, G. W. Harvey, Chas. Jones.
Deputy W. M. Moore, to whom the success of the Camp is due, deserves
credit for his perseverance and untiring energy in getting together one of the best ever held in the Province. The next meeting will be held in Blackwell's hall, Sept. 10th.

COMMUNICATIONS

Ops Council Report.

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,--Please correct two little errors
in Ops Council report, which appeared in your issue of yesterday.
First, with regard to the County
Ferry matter, Ward n Graham stated that the 3 1-2 per cent. disbentures would be paid off in twenty years, not thirty, as stated.
Again, the lowest public school rate that of No. 3, Ops--is 8 mills per dollar, not 0.8 as appears.
Since the same errors appear in the Watchman-Wardier, I hasten to correct them, for they are doubtless attributed to inadvertence and my part was in hastily sketching my report.--Yours, etc.,
W. F. O'BOYLE, Clerk.

The Ross Hospital of Victoria County.

(To the Editor of The Post.)

Sir,--If a valuable franchise is to be given a railway company, or a share in the town lighting or water supply
is being manipulated, public meetings are convened and the importance of the subject is fully dilated
upon. We have often--yes
very often--given away something for nothing and have entreated over the act, but now that the tables
are turned, and we get something for nothing, we fail to realize the fact in its true significance; we do not evince the same live interest.
Why is this? Is it stupidity, stulti-city, or what?

A gentleman of means is erecting in this town an institution for the relief of suffering; he purposes to fully complete, equip, and hand it over as a free gift, to the work of relieving suffering, the brick work almost completed ready for roofing and the carpentering work, yet how many of our people have visited or know anything about it?
Surely the outlay of some $70,000
should excite some little interest in the town, and we should have more of a humane object. Almost every day
we hear of our sick and afflicted, maimed and injured, being sent to hospitals in Toronto, Peterboro and elsewhere. We have long wished for an institution of this character, we have long felt that we have more for our money, and we recognize its inestimable value, yet now that it is really in sight we hardly give it a passing thought. A hospital in this town means more than its mere name when spoken of with others.
Open water with free pure air and open fields, are advantages not to be underrated. Then the immense amount of good in prospect, the convenient treatment of our sick, their careful attention, value as a training school for nurses, practical education of our physicians, the education of our people generally, when properly considered, should, I think,
awaken our liveliest interest.

Cannot we realize all this, awake
from our lethargy, and in our new zeal prove to the donor that we accept his gift at its true value? If we are not to have a corner-stone laying, let us at least prepare for a right royal opening, and let the
"Ross Hospital of Victoria County" equal in interest the Collegiate, of which we are all so proud.--Yours truly,
P. PALMER BURROWS.
Lindsay, Sept. 1st, 1901.

DR. COULTER GETS A DECREE.

Interlocutory Judgment in Celebrated
Case over Oronhyatckha's $5,000.

New York Sun, Aug. 29th: Dr. C.
L. Coulter has obtained an interlocutory judgment compelling Oronhyatckha, head of the Independent Order of Foresters, to restore $5,000
to the treasury of that organization.

While the suit was brought in the name of Dr. Coulter, it was not in his own interest, except as a member of the great body of foresters
and despite the fact that the extrajur-
isdiction was in the interest of the organization,
the official representatives
were joined with Oronhyatckha as defendants.

Dr. Coulter's action was based on the payment of $5,000 to Oronhyatckha for special services in connection with the planning and building of the Foresters' Temple in Toronto, which cost nearly $100,000.
Dr. Coulter showed that under the constitution of the Order Oronhyatckha, as Supreme Chief Ranger, received a salary of $10,000 a year,
and despite the fact that the extrajurisdiction of $5,000 was a mere gift, for which there was no authority.

The action was brought in the Supreme Court of New York County.
The defendants fought it on the grounds that the plaintiff had no jurisdiction, and that the extrajur-
isdiction was in the interest of the organization,
the official representatives
were joined with Oronhyatckha as
defendants.

Dr. Coulter also has sued Oronhyatckha and John McGilivray, Supr. and Secretary of the Foresters, for the return of his patents, which he alleges he transferred to them under an agreement which they failed to carry out, and for $100,000.

Who Struck the Lyolr?

There was a young girl in the choir,
Whose voice rose high and clear,
Till it reached such a height,
It was clear out of sight,
And they found it next day in the spoil.

A Narrow Escape.

An accident which might have entangled very serious consequences occurred about 11 o'clock on Saturday on William-st. Dr. J. A. White, his little child and a boy were driving north at a good rate of speed
when the horse stumbled over a large stone lying in the centre of the road, causing him to fall. The sudden shock threw the occupants
out of the vehicle, but by good luck
they escaped serious injury. The doctor sustained some painful bruises, but held his child fast in such a way as to escape contact with the ground. Many of our streets are littered with large stones and boulders that have either been dropped by carters or have worked their way up through the soil.
These should be removed regularly;
they are always dangerous at night
and--as the above mishap proves-- are liable to cause accident even in daylight.

DOMESTIC HINTS.

Temperance is a stimulant to industry.

Only one man in 203 is over 6 ft.
in height.

Gray linen shoes are cool and sensible footwear for the little ones.

To remove paint from window-glass wash with strong soda and water, and rub with a flannel.

Multiply by 365 to bring years to days, 24 to get the hours, 60 to find the minutes, and 60 for the seconds.

How many homes are sorely in need of religious instruction? We spend thousands to house and feed
an army of criminals, and neglect to give attention to children, which would prevent crime.

German surgeons say that the delicate membrane which covers the contents of an eggshell will answer
as well as bits of skin from a human being to start the healing of open wounds. The discovery has been successfully tested.

Water pipes can be secured and cleaned by a German apparatus,
which is composed of two globular
floats to fit the interior of the pipe,
carrying between them a toothed
scraper which engages the sides as the floats are forced through by the action of the water.

A Welsh rabbit that is made without liquor has a teaspoonful of mustard stirred smooth in a teaspoonful of melted butter. Stir in a half-cupful of thin cream, and as the sauce thickens add half a pound of cheese cut fine, a quarter of a teaspoonful each of salt and mustard
and a little cayenne.

Many people complain that tea
makes them nervous and dyspeptic.
That is generally because the tea is not made properly. It should not be allowed to "stand" more than four or five minutes, and all the liquid should then be poured off. Nine people out of ten add water to the teapot after the first supply is drawn
off. This is a mistake.

Tea is always acceptable in the afternoon. If one is very hot it induces a gentle perspiration, which has a cooling effect. There will be no difficulty in having it rightly or wrongly infused, because you may prepare it when convenient, and when ready pour it into other pots,
and it can be kept warm without deteriorating in flavour or quality.
Tea spoils by allowing the leaves to remain in the pot after the proper time of infusion.

To soften water for toilet use
keep a lamp of rough kallar's earth
in the water over, empty it all out once a week, and put in fresh kallar's earth. If this fails use oatmeal. Keep a tin of medium oatmeal in your bedroom, have a piece of muslin, place a handful of oatmeal
in it, and tie it up with a string.
Throw this bag into the washing water and squeeze it out a couple of times. The same bag of oatmeal will serve for a couple of days, and then should be removed. The same muslin will last some time. This treatment has a very good effect on the skin.

Council Committees Meet

ONE OF THE FIRE HORSES IS TEMPORARILY DISABLED.

One of the fire horses of the town is temporarily disabled. The horse, owned by the town, was injured while pulling the fire engine during a recent fire.

Three committees of the council met and transacted business last evening. The members present were Aldermen Touchburn, Jackson, Robinson, Sinclair and O'Reilly; absent, Mayor Ingles and Ald. Hore.

Ald. O'Reilly, acting chairman of the Board of Works, read a number of accounts. McLennan & Co's and W. Webster's were recommended for payment; one from W. A. Goodwin for $65.71, balance of town hall contract, was held over at Commissioner Chalmers' suggestion. In reply to a question the latter said he was unable to give the probable cost of the furnishing of the town offices owing to the absence of the Mayor.

On motion Mr. Jas. McWilliams was heard relative to the use of one of the town scrapers for 3-1-2 days. Commissioner Chalmers said the scraper had been taken out of the gravel pit without his permission and had been retained for some six weeks. Ald. Jackson pointed out that the Commissioner was liable for the use of the scraper. After a short discussion Mr. McWilliams agreed to pay $2.50 for the use of the scraper.

Mr. O'Neill, driver of the fire team, informed the aldermen that one of his horses had a sore foot and would have to be kept in the stable for some time. He was authorized to secure another horse from a local livery and to arrange for stable accommodation for the disabled animal while being treated for the injury.

On motion Mr. B. F. Reesor, manager of the Light Heat & Power Co., was heard relative to the practice of affixing curbs, signs and notices of various kinds to the Company's poles. The telephone and telegraph people were also complaining. In addition to the defacement the backs left in the wood endangered the life and limbs of the repairmen. The justice of the protest was admitted by the aldermen, and the Town Solicitor will be instructed to prepare a by-law forbidding the practice.

Barrister E. A. McDermid was heard with respect to a fine recently imposed by the Police Magistrate, and was told that the council would consider the matter.

Under date of Aug. 29th Messrs. Sims and Burgess, of the Lindsay Gas Co., stated that they were in a position to comply with the agreement to start work on the system by Sept. 1st, and would commence Saturday. After some discussion Commissioner Chalmers was told to protect the town's streets when pipe-laying began, as provided for in the contract. In reply to a question Ald. O'Reilly said he understood the Gas Company had purchased the Scully lot on Kent-st., opposite Ald. Robinson's block as a site for their works, whereupon Ald. Sinclair said the Council should enter a protest because of the objectionable smells sure to be generated. Ald. Jackson held that the Council would not be justified in interfering—it was not certain that the plant would prove objectionable to the neighborhood, but if it did it would then become the duty of the Board of Health to take action.

An account from the County for $240 for crushing 192 cords of stone was passed on the Town Commissioner's warrant that it was correct. The latter reported that the crusher was again needed at once, but that Foreman Gordon and men were not available. He was instructed to apply for permission to operate it under his own supervision.

The Finance committee dealt with a number of accounts, and then passed on to Sam Terrill's request for aid owing to inability to work. The suggestion was made that he be sent to the Home, but action was deferred. On motion the Treasurer was instructed to pay Mr. P. G. Pickle $10 for measurement of plans of Bond-st. sewer furnished by him.

Commissioner Chalmers reported that the cost of new granite crossings on Kent-st. from the Y.M.C.A. building to Britton's, from the Royal Hotel to Williamson's, and on Ridout-st. from Britton's to the photograph gallery, would be about $125. Kent-st. crossings would be 6 ft. wide, and that on Ridout-st. 5 ft. On motion of Ald. Robinson and Sinclair, it was decided to construct said crossings this season if possible. The committee then adjourned.

WORKINGMEN CONVE.

Local Champions of the Cause of Labor are becoming active.

A public meeting of the mechanics and workmen of the town was held in the council chamber Aug. 29, and was fairly well attended. Mr. P. G. Pickle took the chair, and stated briefly that the object of the meeting was to discuss the formation of a labor union in Lindsay, and to appoint a committee to draft a report setting forth the workmen's grievances so that they could come to some decision thereon. He further stated that another meeting would be held shortly, when a competent speaker would be here to discuss matters concerning their interests. Mr. David Sharps brought the workmen's grievances before the meeting, and stated that the wages were small, and they had no protection whatever. If the meeting was a step towards advancing their interests it would meet with his approval. He had understood that a speaker from Peterboro would be present to address the meeting.

After a little further discussion the following committee was named: Messrs. P. G. Pickle, J. H. Bonnon, Jas. Sharps, D. Sharps, Geo. Henderson, W. C. Morrell, Frank Shaw, John Scully, John Wilson and J. Rickaby. At a subsequent meeting of the committee Mr. Merfield was elected secretary and Mr. Jas. Sharps treasurer.

THE PORT HOPE FATALITY.

Hore, Buggy and Occupant Fell Fifteen Feet onto the Rocks Below.

(Port Hope Guide, Aug. 28.)

A most dreadful fatal accident occurred this morning about 10.30. Mr. Asa Choate, proprietor of "Belmont," was coming to town with a young horse, and when passing over the bridge at the Electric Light and Power House, the train along north whistled and frightened the colt. It backed against the bridge, which gave way; horse, buggy and occupant falling some fifteen feet on to the rocks below. Mr. Choate's leg was broken and a main artery severed.

Dr. Corbett, who happened to be at the Electric Works, saw the accident, and immediately rushed to Mr. Choate's assistance and stopped the flow of blood. Drs. Powers and Clemensha were also called, who did all they could to allay his sufferings, but there was very little hope of his recovery from the first. Death came about 2.30 this afternoon.

It was thought that the only chance for life would be the amputation of the leg at the thigh, and a specialist (Dr. Primrose, of Toronto), was telegraphed for, but arrived too late to be of service.

A sprained ankle is not an uncommon accident. Pain-Eller relieves and cures almost as if by magic. The greatest household remedy. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. 25c. and 50 cents.

An East Ward Blaze.

A stable owned by Mr. John O'Leary, grain buyer at the market, was destroyed by fire Aug. 29th. The fire is supposed to have been started by a spark from a neighbor's chimney. The stable was situated in front of box 43, and the fire was promptly on hand and did good work. We understand Mr. O'Leary's loss is covered by insurance.

Victoria Co. Sugar Beets.

Mr. James Keith expressed last week to the Guelph Model Farm 700 pounds of sugar beets grown by 22 farmers in this district. The beets will be tested at once by the College experts and Mr. Keith expects to be able to announce the results in a few days. This report means much for Victoria County, because it is made apparent that we can grow first-class sugar beets in this section. It is almost certain that the establishment of a beet sugar factory will follow.

Stolen Goods Recovered.

From time to time for several months past complaints have been made to the police by parties who have had parcels and other property stolen from their vehicles when left in hotel sheds. Chief Neilson has been on the lookout for a clue, and his patience has at last been rewarded. Last week he located the whereabouts of some of the stolen goods. The supposed thief is absent from town on his hiding, but will probably be arrested ere long. That sort of thievery is especially annoying, and Magistrate Steers will do the public a service by imposing a stiff sentence.

Lindsay's Public Institutions.

Mr. J. Mann, of Toronto, Deputy Inspector of Prisons, Asylums and Homes, was in town last Friday, 30, and visited the County Gaol and the Home for the Aged. In the gaol at present are confined five males and three females; the offences marked against them on the registers being larceny, larceny, assault and vagrancy. Mr. Mann found the gaol and surroundings in apple-pie order, and complimented Captain Jackson upon the fact. In the Home for the Aged he found sixteen inmates—thirteen males and three females. Here again he found everything in irreproachable condition, and the inmates comfortable and happy, thanks to the ceaseless care and attention of the Matron, Miss Cameron.

Board of Health Meeting.

The Board of Health met last Thursday week at four o'clock in the Town Clerk's office. Present, Chairman Keith, and Messrs. Kylo, Mills, McDonald, Duck and Staples. Medical Health Officer Dr. McAlpine and Sanitary Inspector Douglas. The minutes of the former meetings were read and confirmed. Chairman Jas. Keith said the meeting had been called to consider the fumigation of the Public Schools. Mr. Staples stated that some of the rooms in the schools had been painted instead of fumigated, and asked the board's approval of the same. This Mr. O expressed approval of painting the rooms instead of fumigating them. Moved by Mr. Staples, seconded by Mr. McDonald, that the first motion of the Board of Health of Aug. 13th as to fumigating be rescinded. Lost. A motion endorsing the action of the School Board and committee of the Board of Health, was then put and adopted, after which the Board adjourned.

An Enjoyable Outing.

The third moonlight excursion to Sturgeon Point, Aug. 29th, under the auspices of the Kawartha Club, was a most enjoyable affair, and was well attended despite the somewhat unfavorable weather conditions at time of leaving. When the lake was reached a blast of the steamer's whistle was a signal for the lighting of huge bonfires at Pleasant Point and Sturgeon Point, and the illumination of the cottages owned by Messrs. J. D. Flavelle, W. A. Goodwin, G. R. Hocking and J. H. Anderson with Chinese lanterns, while others displayed bright lights. On arriving at the Point the Citizens' band paraded Lake-wards and later on rendered half a dozen of their choicest numbers at the foot of Second-st. The trip home was particularly pleasant owing to the bright moonlight. We trust it will not be taken amiss by the good people of the Point if we suggest that when they are next treated to a free concert they might at least arrange themselves for their summer lethargy long enough to raise a cheer or two.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The weather man deserves something for good behavior.

Toronto has been selected as the meeting place for next year's C.M.B.A. convention.

Many a Lindsay woman judges her neighbors by their back yard display on wash day.

A branch of the Western Bank of Canada, with headquarters in Oshawa, has been opened in Sunderland.

The government seems to be making light of the case of York's visit. It has ordered 20,000 Chinese lanterns.

The man who eats clover May disguise his condition; But he's never quite free From the breath of suspicion.

The Peterboro Examiner boasts of a stalk of white corn measuring 18 1/2 inches in height. Surely the fertile fields of Victoria County can produce something better than that!

Guelph Mercury: If the Canada Traders and Electrical Company decide to remove from Toronto to Guelph it will be the first time that this city has been known to get rid of a Hogtown in the matter of brass.

Mr. Alex. Cullen's new steamer was given a trial spin down the river last Thursday week, returning at 7 o'clock a.m. The craft behaved well and her speed surprised the few who were on hand at that early hour.

A new section school building will be erected near Elford township of Manvers, this fall. The new school is being placed on the grounds. Lindsay brick, being the best in the province, will be used in its construction.

The Standard Chemical Works at Fenlon Falls are doing a large and increasing business. The company find it necessary to erect a new building, and fifty thousand Lindsay brick will be used in its erection.

Mr. J. A. Courtois and Mr. Warren, of Warren & Steele, liverymen, were in Peterboro, Aug. 27th, and 28th looking for a party who stole an overcoat and some money belonging to Mr. Courtois. He also left his livery bill unpaid.

Burglars effected an entrance into Burnt River post office one night recently and stole $18.50 in money and $7.45 in stamps. The same night the Pattie house at Cobocook was entered and about $40 abstracted from the bar cash register.

Mrs. J. W. Gould, who has been carrying on a general business in the village of Gooderham since the death of her husband a year and a half ago, has made an assignment for the benefit of her creditors. Mr. J. P. Cunnings, town, is the assignee.

A very severe thunderstorm passed over the country north of Lindsay Thursday, Aug. 29th. Rain fell in torrents at Sturgeon Point, and in Fenlon Falls the lightning struck and killed a valuable horse owned by Messrs. Mounsey & McCall, liverymen.

Orillia's tax rate should be 28 mills this year in order to give a clear sheet, but it is likely that only 26 mills will be levied. Last year the rate was only 22 mills, but the smallpox outbreak, and other special expenditures, necessitate an increase.

A jolly wheeling party comprising eight persons from town, left Aug. 28th, for Cambray, where they spent a few pleasant hours in games and other amusements at the commodious residence of Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Smith. They returned about 11 o'clock.

Montreal Herald: When Sir Wilfrid told the Toronto fair people he hoped "that every man here feels, as I do, the pride of being a Canadian," he scored a possible. If all our hopes could be as easily realized as that one this life would be one long, sweet dream of bliss.

B. Hepburn, who works for Dr. McAlpine, was rather roughly handled on Wednesday week by one of the Doctor's customers. He was sent to collect an account and some hot words followed. Finally the debtor lost his temper and gave Hepburn a few knocks which caused the blood to flow freely.

The excursion lately under the auspices of the Kawartha Club to Strawberry Island, Lake Simcoe, was largely attended. The special train, comprising five coaches in charge of Conductor Geo. Adams, passed through Lindsay at 9 o'clock. The excursion was from Keene, Campbellford, Hastings and other points east.

Dog fighting on the public street is one of the leading amusements of Cannington citizens, according to the Glanville. The editor remonstrated on a recent occasion, and was warned not to mention the affair under penalty of getting his head punched. His last issue carried a long and deft and promises to publish the names of parties who figure at the next scrap.

By a recent amendment to the Voters' List Act, anyone who will be twenty-one within thirty days from the date fixed for hearing approval of the name. This M.O. expressed approval of painting the rooms instead of fumigating them. Moved by Mr. Staples, seconded by Mr. McDonald, that the first motion of the Board of Health of Aug. 13th as to fumigating be rescinded. Lost.

A motion endorsing the action of the School Board and committee of the Board of Health, was then put and adopted, after which the Board adjourned.

Many Deaths Largely Due to Ignorance on the Part of Mothers

The disorders of children seem to the rugged and hearty grown persons a simple and not particularly dangerous thing.

This point of view on the part of parents has been the cause of the loss of thousands of baby lives.

You will always find that the mothers who are successful in bringing up a healthy and strong baby or children with scarcely a day's sickness, are always those who are careful to note the slightest evidence of illness and to check the difficulty at once.

They do not belong to the class of mothers that stuffy their children with sleeping draughts and similar medicines containing opiates.

They stick to the purely vegetable, healthful medicines which cure infantile disorders quickly, and of these Baby's Own Tablets are the best of all.

For cold, simple fevers, croup, constipation, diarrhea, irritation with a teething, indigestion and sleeplessness these tablets are a quick, safe remedy. The mother who is involved in water the smallest baby will take them without the slightest objection. Do not trifle with medicines concerning which you know nothing, when here is a time-tried remedy which is used constantly and with the best result in thousands of homes.

Mrs. H. H. Fox, Orange Ridge, Md., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets a perfect medicine for my baby, and would not do without them in any house. They are truly a baby comfort and mother's friend." Baby's Own Tablets can be found at drug stores, or will be sent prepaid upon receipt of price, by addressing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Dept. T., Brockville, Ont.

PRESENTED WITH AN ADDRESS.

thanks to you for the kind invitation with which you have favored me, and which gives me to-day the privilege of taking my share of the joy which I see depicted on the faces of all those who are gathered here. It gives me the opportunity of fastening my eyes upon the Exhibition, which shall do by-and-by, and studying the work and industry and art of this great Province of Ontario. (Applause.) True, I might have come without an invitation—(laughter)—but I should have been a guest, and received an invitation I would have remained at Ottawa engaged in the duties of my office. Let me assure you, ladies and gentlemen, that it always a pleasure to come to Toronto. Toronto may not be perfect in all respects—(laughter)—that is the failing of the human race. But even so, no man could visit Toronto in one of the most hospitable cities on the continent. Whether you visit on business or on pleasure, and have done both, you are sure since our trade had gone so greatly increased it must take six million of people to make such a large trade. But I have only six millions, only about five millions of people, and our neighbors to the south, our kinsmen, tell us that we have not done well, that we cannot do better until we throw in our lot with them. I am amongst nations as amongst individuals. I have a good friend, and he sees you are a true friend, and will commiserate with you, but his commiseration will be tinged with joy if he himself is suffering from the same trouble. (Laughter and applause.) So it is with the American people. They are commiserating with you because they see the trouble is not grown so rapidly as they have done. But I look on the figures of our trade and on the figures of the trade and I find that in these

WHY WOMEN

Like Merrill's System Tonic.

The first reason is that the use of this valuable medicine produces a clear complexion, rosy cheeks and ruby lips. You can easily tell a well woman. Her step is light and buoyant, her complexion as described above, and there is a complete lack of that don't-care-to-live air about her. These results can be obtained by any woman, no matter what her complexion may now be, and no matter how old or care worn she may feel, if she persists in using a few bottles of Merrill's System Tonic. It cures constipation and liver troubles, which causes the sallow and muddy complexion. It restores the blood to its naturally healthy condition and this gives the tint to the skin without the use of face powder. It cures female trouble and regulates the female functions, and restores the vivacity of girlhood. Used according to instructions it cures falling of the womb, whites and leucorrhoea. No medicine in the world to-day is more valuable to make sick women well, than Merrill's System Tonic.

Give it to young girls who are pale and nervous. Give it to women who expect to become mothers. Give it to women in all conditions of life and it will more than substantiate its claims. Merrill's System Tonic purifies the blood, builds up the system, strengthens the nerves and cures constipation.

Each 50c bottle contains 50 pleasant-to-take doses, and is sold at all drug stores.

THE STRIKE SETTLED

The C. P. R. Trackmen Will Return to Work at Once.

RECOGNITION OF THE UNION.

The Terms Accepted by the Strikers Are Those Which the Conciliation Committee Recommended—There Will Be No Discriminations Against Men—End of Long, Determined Struggle.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—The strike of the trackmen on the C. P. R., which has lasted nearly eleven weeks, was settled yesterday, and the men all returned to work forthwith. Word to this effect was wired to every Superintendent of the line immediately after a conference between Mr. D. McNicoll, Second Vice-President, and Mr. J. Lennan of the Trainmen's Brotherhood. The different committees, engineers, firemen and trackmen, had been recently in daily intercourse with the company and the trackmen. They have always favored the adoption of the recommendation of the Conciliation Committee, and have at last succeeded in bringing the trackmen to their views.

The official statement given out by Mr. D. McNicoll, the General Manager of the Canadian Pacific, was very brief. "The strike," he said, "has been declared off, an agreement to that effect having been reached between the committee of trainmen and myself. The basis of settlement is that recommended by the Conciliation Committee from the other orders of railway workmen. It includes terms favorable to the men in regard to reinstatement in the positions they held before the strike, the recognition of their order, but the wages remain unchanged from the terms offered by the company in June last."

Terms of Agreement.

The terms which were arranged between the Board of Conciliation, consisting of heads of railway brotherhoods and the management, and which have now been accepted by the trackmen are as follows:

The second vice-president and general manager will approve circular setting out the pay for trackmen increased, and also reciting rules and regulations governing the employment and service of the trackmen, and at the end of one year from this date, if the trackmen of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company have elected a responsible and workable organization the company will meet a committee and grant them a schedule, provided, however, that such schedule shall only apply to foreman and first and second men of one year's standing in the company's service, and neither the schedule nor any of its conditions shall apply to others employed, either on section work or on extra gangs, nor shall any committee representing the organization at any time interfere or attempt to interfere with the relations between the company and employees in its maintenance-of-way department, for the purpose of discussing suggestions calculated to remove any disadvantages under which the men may labor, or to promote the interests of the company.

The fact that men have been engaged in the strike shall not prejudice their position once they are restored to the service.

The company will always be glad to meet any committee of its employees, whether engaged in the maintenance-of-way or any other department, for the purpose of discussing suggestions calculated to remove any disadvantages under which the men may labor, or to promote the interests of the company.

A MUNICIPAL UNION

Canadian Municipalities Unite for Mutual Support

A DRAFT OF THE CONSTITUTION.

Deliberations of Municipal Convention Result in Organization Upon a Broad Basis of Better Government and Promotion of Municipal Interests—Coming Discussion on Municipalization of Franchises.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—The only business done yesterday at the Mayors' Dominion Municipal Convention was the adoption of a portion of the constitution. Proceedings did not commence until nearly 4 o'clock. After the chairman had explained that pressure of committee business had caused the delay, the result of the committee's labors was submitted for approval. The report was as follows:

Scheme of Organization.

"The name shall be the Union of Canadian Municipalities."

"The membership shall consist of all municipalities of Canada which by vote of their Councils declare their intention of joining the union."

"The objects of the association shall be general improvement and facilitation of every branch of municipal administration by the following means:

"First, the perpetuation of the organization as an agency for the co-operation of municipalities in all questions pertaining to municipal administration."

"Second, in particular, the guidance and improvement of the legislation of both the Dominion and the Province upon municipal questions, and the betterment of municipal government and the promotion of municipal interests generally."

"Third, the holding of annual conventions for discussion, information and resolutions on the above subjects."

"Fourth, the securing of united action for the protection of individual municipalities and municipal interests as a whole against legislative or other encroachments of corporations."

"Fees—The following shall be the scale of fees to be paid by members: Townships, parishes and incorporated villages ..... $ 2 Counties ..... 5

Towns and cities with a population under 10,000 ..... 10 Ditto, over 10,000 ..... 25

"Annual meeting—The annual meeting shall be held at such place as shall be determined by vote of the previous annual convention, and shall be held at such time as the Executive Committee shall determine."

"Representatives—Each member shall be entitled to send its Mayor, Warden or Reeve, and such additional representatives as its Council may appoint. Votes in the convention may be taken by a show of hands, unless any member calls for a vote by members, in which case each member by its representative or representatives shall cast but one vote."

"So far, the constitution drafted by the organization met with favor, but there was a lengthy discussion when the following additional clauses were submitted for consideration:

"Officers—The officers of the association shall be a president and a vice-president for each province represented."

"Executive—There shall be an Executive Committee, which shall be composed of the president and vice-presidents. The Executive may elect a chairman and secretary from its own membership. The chairman so elected shall be the central officer, through whom meetings, conferences and the action of the Executive may be taken. When the representation of any province becomes vacant after the time of the annual convention, the subsequent appointment of a vice-president for that province shall rest with the Executive Committee for the year. The Executive may confer by correspondence, and shall be a general administrative committee."

"The convention shall have as its members of the last year's Executive as are members of the Executive on Resolutions with such members as may be added by the convention at its first session for the session only. The Executive shall meet on the day before the annual meeting of the convention. Vacancies in the executive may be filled by the executive for the remainder of the year and until the next annual meeting."

"Amendments—Resolutions for the amendment of the constitution or for any other purpose shall in the first instance be referred to the Resolution Committee to report thereon to the convention, unless by a two-thirds vote of those present and voting, the rule is suspended with."

"Ald. Urquhart urged that the Executive Committee be more general and suggested that it be composed of the president, provincial vice-presidents and other members, two from each province, to be elected by the convention, and the vice-president and two other members of the executive from a province to form a provincial committee to watch the interests of the municipalities in their respective provinces, three to constitute a quorum, to meet at the call of any three municipalities, and, if necessary, to consult with the central executive, no expense to be incurred without the consent of the president and provincial vice-president."

"The suggestion was received with favor, and it will take the form of a resolution. A motion to refer the latter clauses in the proposed constitution back to the committee, was passed."

An adjournment was made till 10 a. m. to-day.

The following is a resolution submitted to the committee by Ald. Urquhart, Toronto, seconded by Ald. Richardson:

"That we desire to emphasize the principle that any undertaking which requires the use of the streets of a municipality for the purpose of carrying on its business, shall be deemed a public utility, and all such undertakings shall be owned and operated by the municipality concerned for the benefit of the citizens thereof."

Libbie Ford, Newark, badly scalded; will probably die.

Two, and possibly more, of the injured will die during the night.

The train was made up at Sudus Point, and consisted of four coaches, a baggage car and engine, with William Mosher at the throttle.

Chief Engineer was Dr. H. S. Merriman of Sudus Point was in charge of the train.

The train was running at nearly 40 miles an hour. Approaching the station at Fairville, there is a curve and gravel pit. For some reason the engine jumped the tracks while passing the gravel pit. The force of the accident turned the engine completely around, throwing the five cars on their sides. The train load of some 150 passengers was thrown into the ditch, and it is a wonder that the number of fatally injured is not greater.

COL. GIBSON'S LUNCH.

The Great Event of the Day at D. R. A. in Ottawa.

MINISTER OF MILITIA SPEAKS.

Mr. D. Borden Discusses Militia Topics—Summary of Speeches at the D. R. A. Matches—Hon. Mr. Tarte's Remarks in Evidence in Shooting Dangerous Rapids—East Lambton Liberal Nominations.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—The great event of yesterday at the capital was the luncheon given by Colonel the Hon. J. M. Gibson, President of the Dominion Rifle Association, in the commodious headquarters of the association on the Rockcliffe rifle ranges. Col. Gibson occupied the chair, having on his right His Excellency the Governor-General, and on his left Colonel the Hon. F. W. Borden, Minister of Militia. The remaining seats were occupied by a representative attendance of the leading riflemen of Canada. After full justice had been done to the excellent menu, a short toast list was honored.

The Toasts.

The health of the King and members of the Royal Family was drunk with enthusiasm, after which the chairman proposed the toast of the Governor-General.

In reply His Excellency, who was heartily cheered, expressed his warm sympathy with the work conducted by the Dominion Rifle Association.

The chairman next gave the toast of the Minister of Militia. In doing so he warmly eulogized Col. Borden and said that the Minister not only entertained a correct view of the necessities of the militia but succeeded in getting from his colleagues in the Cabinet all that he asked for. Since Col. Borden assumed office there had been a veritable revolution in militia matters, and the Dominion Rifle Association had derived the benefit.

Col. Borden's Reply.

Col. Borden, on rising to respond, was greeted with musical honors and round after round of cheers. The Minister in the course of an eloquent speech gave his predecessors the credit of having done their best for the militia, and said that it had been his good fortune to be confronted with splendid opportunities. In 1897 the Government sent a contingent to London to take part in the greatest demonstration the world has ever seen, on the occasion of the Diamond Jubilee of her late Majesty. Then a little later on we sent a contingent of a couple of hundred men to the Yukon. Some doubt about the wisdom of the proceeding was expressed at the time, but I venture to say that no more difficult operation was undertaken and accomplished than that of sending those men through that wilderness into the gold territory, and no task was ever better carried out. (Applause.) Then came the crowning effort of the Canadian militia, the greatest opportunity they have ever had, of sending a small army to South Africa to assist the Mother Country. (Applause.) But to turn to the affairs of the Dominion Rifle Association, His Excellency has told you that his distinguished predecessor, Lord Lorne, pointed this out as a suitable range, but I am bound to say that Col. Tilton is the man who first called my attention to the Rockcliffe rifle range, and it is due to his perseverance aided by Col. Gibson and the other members of the committee that we owe the fact that we have this rifle range today. Someone said to me to-day that this was the best, although not the largest, rifle range in the world. Possibly that is a little exaggerated, but I venture to say there is no better rifle range as far as it goes, and we shall take care it is made as good as money can make it. (Loud applause.) The Minister went on to speak of the commercial advancement of Canada, and pointed out that during the last three years not only had there been a capital expenditure of $75,000, but from $25,000 to $50,000 additional had been expended in providing the country with rifle ranges. Not only that, but a school of musketry, which was largely due to the efforts of General O'Grady-Haly, had been inaugurated at Ottawa. This school had just completed its first course and had a very successful one it had been, thanks to the director, Lieut.-Col. Cartwright. The Minister believed that the establishment of the School of Musketry would prove to be one of the most useful measures ever taken in the interest of the militia of this country. He was in entire accord with those who said that it was most important to teach the Canadian militia the use of the rifle, but he did not agree with those who held that the ceremonial features of militia training should be dispensed with. If they did that they would dispense with things that were dear to the heart of the soldier wherever he might be. He proposed, so far as the money at his disposal would permit, to teach every able-bodied man in Canada how to use a rifle. (Applause.) Events during the past few years had brought them closer and closer to the heart of the Empire. God grant, said Colonel Borden, in conclusion, that this Empire may remain as solid and united as it is today, and that it may go on growing and increasing in power. It will be a blessing to the Empire and the world at large that this condition of things should continue. (Cheers.)

Lieut.-Col. Tilton proposed the toast of "The Major-General Commanding."

General O'Grady-Haly, who was received with musical honors, emphasized the fact that the first and most important thing for the soldier was to know how to use his weapon. The soldier must also be thoroughly trained and disciplined.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 31.—It is understood that Lord Minto is of opinion that the Royal party will arrive at Quebec on time, the 16th of September.

A Fatal Railway Wreck.

Elmira, N. Y., Aug. 30.—The breaking of a coupling pin caused a wreck at Roaring Branch, Pa., on the Northern Central Railroad yesterday morning, which resulted in the death of Engineer J. J. McKay. He was 73 years old, and it is doubtful whether he will recover. Mrs. Burgess is also among the seriously injured.

Coroner E. P. Thatcher took charge of Mosher's body, and will hold an inquest.

Howard Tubbs, the ticket agent at Sudus Point, who was on the engine with Engineer William Mosher, was badly scalded and otherwise injured. He died shortly before 11 o'clock on the hospital train at Newark.

Justice in the Yukon—O'Brien the Murderer. Pays the Penalty of His Crime—History of the Case.

Dawson, Y. T., Aug. 23, via Seattle, Aug. 30.—George O'Brien, the murderer of Clayton, Olson and Relfe, was hanged at 7.30 o'clock yesterday morning. He declared his innocence to the last, and cursed the prosecutor, the judge and the jury as he mounted the scaffold. Death was instantaneous.

History of the Case.

Clayton and Relfe, two of the three murdered men, were gold-diggers, and the third, Olson, was an employee of the Government telegraph line. On Dec. 17, 1899, a year and eight months ago, Clayton and Relfe started to get out of the Yukon, each carrying a few thousand dollars in gold, besides some nuggets, in a sack. On the Christmas Eve following they arrived at Minto Road House, situated in a wild and lonely spot about two hundred miles from Dawson. Here they were joined by Olson. He had come from a station above called Hutchiku to where they broke in the line. His work was finished, he remained over night at Minto, and on Christmas morning, after a hearty breakfast, the three men started out on their Christmas Day journey up the trail to Hutchiku, which under ordinary conditions they should have reached at nightfall. They never arrived at Hutchiku, nor were any of them ever seen alive. But six months later, when the Yukon waters were low, three dead bodies were found on the sandbars some distance below Minto. All had bullet wounds in their skulls, and there was no difficulty in identifying them as the bodies of the three missing men. The Northwest Mounted Police worked unremittingly for many months on the case. O'Brien had been gradually a chain of circumstantial evidence was woven, which was amply sufficient for conviction. The case cost the Canadian Government $100,000 from first to last. Since his conviction O'Brien had behaved very badly, cursing his guards and all who have had to do with him. He made a desperate attempt at suicide on August 1st by trying to choke himself with a handkerchief, but was detected by his guards. His outcries in his cell were so dreadful that for some weeks before the execution the ladies of Dawson refrained from passing near the jail.

Keck Will Inoculate Dr. Granat.

Paris, Aug. 30.—Dr. Koch has announced he will inoculate Dr. Granat with cow bovine tuberculosis to test the theory that human and bovine tuberculosis have nothing to do with each other and that man cannot catch the disease from cattle.

Clayton and Relfe, two of the three murdered men, were gold-diggers, and the third, Olson, was an employee of the Government telegraph line. On Dec. 17, 1899, a year and eight months ago, Clayton and Relfe started to get out of the Yukon, each carrying a few thousand dollars in gold, besides some nuggets, in a sack. On the Christmas Eve following they arrived at Minto Road House, situated in a wild and lonely spot about two hundred miles from Dawson. Here they were joined by Olson. He had come from a station above called Hutchiku to where they broke in the line. His work was finished, he remained over night at Minto, and on Christmas morning, after a hearty breakfast, the three men started out on their Christmas Day journey up the trail to Hutchiku, which under ordinary conditions they should have reached at nightfall. They never arrived at Hutchiku, nor were any of them ever seen alive. But six months later, when the Yukon waters were low, three dead bodies were found on the sandbars some distance below Minto. All had bullet wounds in their skulls, and there was no difficulty in identifying them as the bodies of the three missing men. The Northwest Mounted Police worked unremittingly for many months on the case. O'Brien had been gradually a chain of circumstantial evidence was woven, which was amply sufficient for conviction. The case cost the Canadian Government $100,000 from first to last. Since his conviction O'Brien had behaved very badly, cursing his guards and all who have had to do with him. He made a desperate attempt at suicide on August 1st by trying to choke himself with a handkerchief, but was detected by his guards. His outcries in his cell were so dreadful that for some weeks before the execution the ladies of Dawson refrained from passing near the jail.

Twenty Persons Are Lost.

Eleven Found and Identified, But Nine More Are Yet Missing.

Philadelphia, Aug. 30.—Eleven known dead, nine missing and thirty-two injured is the record made by the explosion of the boilers of the steamboat City of Trenton on the Delaware River Wednesday afternoon. All night long city firemen, policemen and employees of the Wilmington Steamboat Company, which owned the boat, worked in and around the burned and blackened hull, searching for bodies of victims. Hundreds of men dragged the river bottom with grappling irons yesterday, and they will continue to do so until every person is accounted for. Of the eleven bodies that have been recovered, ten have been identified.

DR. GEO. BEERS' MEMORIAL FUND.

Monument to be Erected to the Father of Lacrosse.

The Lacrosse clubs of the Dominion are invited to help this fund, and it has been suggested that all clubs throughout the country arrange to play a match for the benefit of the fund either on Wednesday, the 23rd September, or Wednesday, the 2nd October, or between those dates if possible. If the clubs of Canada will take this matter up the committee in charge of the fund feel positive that their hopes will be realized, and an amount raised sufficient to meet all requirements.

It is a well-known fact to lovers of the game of lacrosse, that Dr. Beers was the father of the game. His active mind saw the glorious possibilities which the game possessed in observing the crude efforts of the Red Man to shape its destiny, to mould and fit it for the White Man's costume. His master judgment was set to work to evolve from its chaotic state, an modern game of lacrosse, and in course of time, through dint of hard work and unwavering faith in that success, he was enabled to produce the first laws governing the game.

He created an interest in lacrosse all over Canada by his personal influence, on various travels to different parts of the country, and the committee appointed to look after this fund, feel that to look after the clubs only have to be brought to the matter when a general response will follow. We trust the clubs everywhere will accept this notice and immediately make arrangements with each other to play matches as suggested above.

Please send drafts, cheques or money orders to the order of P. E. Nelson, Trustee Dr. Beers' Memorial Fund, care of the M.A.A.A. Office, Montreal, P.Q., and they will be duly acknowledged in the Montreal Daily Star.

Fred E. Nelson, Chairman and Trustee; Committee: Chas. C. Chitt, Thos. L. Taton, F. C. A. McIntosh, H. S. MacDougall.

President McKinley's Condition

There is now good cause to hope that President McKinley will recover. The only danger to be feared is that arising from risk of peritonitis or blood poisoning, and this risk is lessened by the improvement brought by every hour. Dr. McBurney, a physician of great experience, assures the world, however, that the President cannot be pronounced out of danger and convalescent until another week has passed, and this week will be one of anxiety to many millions. Because of his conduct at the time of the attempted assassination and afterwards, William McKinley's figure has assumed heroic proportions in the eyes of the world, and all his good qualities are now seen in such a light as never would have been focussed upon them but for the tragic happenings of the past few days. In the words of Nicholas of Russia, the universal world joins in wishing him a speedy recovery.

THE PEOPLE HONOR
REV. FATHER PHELAN.

LINDSAY'S TRIBUTE OF LOVE AND RESPECT.

Addresses and Presents from the People of St. Mary's—Rev. Father Phelan's Feeling Reply—Sentimental and Substantial Evidence of Esteem

Rev. Father Phelan has reason to feel proud of the honors he has received since his elevation to the priesthood about six years ago. These honors do not consist in preferment in office, but in the love and esteem which his faithful and earnest discharge of his priestly duties have engendered, both in his brethren of the clergy, in the hearts of the people among whom he has labored as a pastor, and in the estimation of our citizens as a body.

For the past three years and seven months he has been assistant to Rt. Rev. Mgr. Laurent. A practical evidence was last week afforded of how Rev. Father Phelan has endeared himself to the people of Lindsay during his brief stay amongst them. His Lordship the Bishop having transferred Rev. Phelan to Peterboro, he promptly responded to the call of duty. The position of a Priest resembles closely that of the soldier mentioned in the gospel: "Go and he goeth, come and he cometh, do this and he doeth it."

The people could not permit Fr. Phelan to leave without expressing their affection for him as a priest, and their appreciation of his services. Friday night over 100 members of the congregation, including a number of ladies, assembled in the spacious C.M.B.A. parlor in the Parish Hall to bid him an affectionate farewell on the eve of his departure for Peterboro, and to give expression to the feelings aroused by a sense of the loss which the parish was about to sustain. Mgr. Sullivan was present, also Rev. Fr. Sullivan of Peterboro, who succeeds Fr. Phelan as curate of St. Mary's.

ADDRESSSES AND GIFTS.
Mr. A. P. Devlin, chairman, opened the proceedings with a few appropriate remarks relative to the object of the gathering and then called upon Mr. W. F. O'Boyle, who stepped forward and read the following address on behalf of the congregation of St. Mary's. The address was a work of art, being engrossed in old scriptural text, with illuminated hand-painted capitals and ornaments, and had been executed by Mrs. A. O'Loughlin. The address read as follows:

Rev. C. J. Phelan:
Rev. and dear Father,—The first intimation of your intended departure from our midst came to us when our beloved Monsignor announced last Sunday that, like the soldier in battle, the priest must ever stand ready to march. Our respected and revered Bishop, acting under guidance from above, has seen fit to claim you for a new and higher field of labor; therefore we add, in the words of the immortal Shakespeare:

"Nor come we to add sorrow to your team,
But to relieve them of their heavy load."
To say that we will miss you were but a faint idea of our feelings, but we live to realize that—

"The better to have loved and lost Than never to have loved at all."

The children of our schools lose in you a director and guardian that will be difficult, if not impossible, to replace, and not only the children but the parents as well have been silent observers of your zeal and magnificent work in the cause of Catholic education.

Our C. M. B. A. of the Lindsay Branch owe you endless gratitude for the assistance you have given them, and the many ways in which you have advanced their interests.

The congregation of St. Mary's will ever hold you in mind and heart for the noble use which you have made of those superior qualities with which heaven has endowed you.

The community at large is your debtor for the good example of a manly and honorable character which it is your happiness to possess. You number among your friends many of our separate brethren who have always been edified by the purity and holiness of your life.

For these, and many other reasons have we to be grateful to you, therefore we would ask you, before parting from us, to accept this purse as a slight acknowledgement of our noble work, and as evidence of our love and regard for your sacred person.

Your silent deeds of virtue performed among us have added another jewelled span to the bridge between time and eternity; and we pray that when you cross over the surging waters that he beneath it your affectionate people of St. Mary's, Lindsay.—Signed on behalf of the Congregation,

DANIEL O'CONNELL,
JOHN KENNEDY,
W. F. O'BOYLE,
JAS. GREENAN,
A. P. DRYDEN,
GEO. McLENNAN.

At the proper moment Mr. P. J. Hurley presented Fr. Phelan with the purse, which contained $225 in gold.

From the Altar Boys.
Next came the following address from the Altar boys of St. Mary's, which was read by Master W. Duffus, Master Jas. Gilgilly presenting the accompanying gift—a handsome travelling case and a costly desk clock. Following is the address:

To the Rev. Father Phelan, from the Altar Boys of St. Mary's Parish, Lindsay.

It was with deep feelings of regret and sorrow that we, the Altar Boys of St. Mary's parish, Lindsay, received the announcement of the departure from our midst of you, our prized priest and friend.

We earnestly hoped that the separation would not take place so soon, but since His Lordship Bishop O'Connor has recognized in you those sterling qualities worthy of his highest consideration, and which necessitate your removal to a newer and higher sphere, we most reluctantly bow to the inevitable, and, in common with the other members of your flock, assemble on this occasion to congratulate you on your well-merited elevation, and to testify in a slight manner our undying love and admiration for you, our beloved instructor, and to give evidence of our heart-felt sorrow at your leaving.

For nearly four years you have zealously labored amongst us, unceasingly caring for our spiritual and temporal welfare. You have tenderly watched over us in our trials and difficulties, upon the Altar steps, and all your instructions, imprinting upon the soul God-like characteristics, have been marked by the finest, the worthiest, and the rarest part of the holy gift of fortitude—patience.

Your unostentatious efforts and endless months of toil for God and Church have endeared you to us all. Some of us, who first knelt by your side at the Altar of God on your advent to the altar, have grown into manhood and entered the body of the church, carrying with us cherished recollections of the pleasing smile and fatherly affection of our curate.

Your kind words, your sympathetic look, your consoling manner and cheering ways, are now, to us, golden memories of the "irrevocable past," but they speak more eloquently to the hearts of the Altar Boys, than can any written record of your noble life.

We congratulate you on your most deserved promotion, and trust that it is but a foretaste of further ecclesiastical honors. We are loath to say "Farewell," but do so, resting in the sweet and consoling assurance that your thoughts will often be directed towards St. Mary's Altar Boys, and your prayers will rise for us as the incense upon the Altar of God.

We ask you to accept this slight token, and hope that to look upon it will be to remind you of the Lindsay Altar Boys, and their admiration of your zeal for them.

Signed in behalf of St. Mary's Altar Boys,
J. D. O'CONNELL,
J. B. DUFFUS.

FATHER PHELAN'S REPLY.
Fr. Phelan was visibly affected when he rose to reply, and some moments passed before he regained his self-command. Nor was he alone in his manifestation of deep feeling—many of his hearers were likewise stirred. The incident afforded a powerful and affecting proof of the nature of the bond which has existed between the congregation of St. Mary's and their beloved curate. The following is a synopsis of Fr. Phelan's reply:

My Dear Friends,—I hardly know how to begin to answer your very beautiful and very flattering address. Your own goodness depicted what I ought to be, rather than what I am. Almost four years ago I came amongst you as a stranger, but before long I recognized that I was amongst friends. I needed not the testimony of your appreciation of my services, small though they were, for on more than one occasion you had given expression to that kindly feeling and high regard which should always exist between the Priest and his people. For within the people work with the Priests, and the Priests with the people, then a chain is formed sufficiently strong to remove all obstacles. I have endeavored as far as lay in my power, through the exercise of my sacerdotal functions, to administer to your spiritual wants, and no greater consolation could come to a Priest than to know that, while laboring for the glory of God and the salvation of souls, he still retained the warm affection and co-operation of his people. In the words of the address you were pleased to ascribe to me many virtues and qualities which I feel I do not possess, but whatever may have been my defects or shortcomings, my heart was always in my work and the good people of St. Mary's in my thoughts. You have left an impression on me that shall last forever, and which will be a source of strength and comfort to me in my future labors in the vineyard of the Lord. The longer I lived among you, the better I knew, the more I loved you all.

A Priest is ordained to do the work of God, to continue the mission of Christ upon earth. That mission is one of peace, charity, and mutual forbearance. Of peace, by soothing trials and troubles with necessary fall to the lot of man; of charity, in extending a helping hand to those in

STORMY DISCUSSION AT THE CHEESE BOARD MEETING.

Mr. Switzer, of East Emily, Makes a Charge of Unfair Treatment Against Mr. Bailey, by Whom Fifty Cheeses were Rejected—A Motion That the Buyer be Expelled.

(Peterboro Review, Wednesday.)

The regular meeting of the Peterboro Cheese Board was held this morning, the buyers present being Messrs. Cluxton, Kerr, Fitzgerald, Cook, Whitton, Rollins, Wrighton, Bailey and Saue. In all 4307 boxes were boarded by 37 factories.

Mr. C. Switzer began what proved to be a rather stormy discussion. He represented East Emily cheese factory, which had patronized the Peterboro Board for some eighteen months, and up to a few weeks ago had enjoyed fair treatment therefrom. In Mr. Cluxton's death, he said, the Board had lost a valuable member, for he had always kept it upon the right path so far as observance of rules was concerned. Mr. Switzer then made reference to what he considered an injustice which had been done both East Emily factory and the inspector, Mr. Wrighton, in that Mr. Bailey, a buyer, had rejected fifty cheeses which formed part of a lot that had been sold him at a previous board meeting. The cheeses had been inspected by Mr. Wrighton. The buyer, Mr. Bailey, had been to cheese factory and rejecting the cheeses had refused to drive half a mile further to see the salesman of the factory for the purpose of giving the matter the benefit of fair consideration. It was eleven miles to Peterboro, but sooner than see the cheesemaker imposed upon to the extent of $50, the buyer having offered to take the cheese at one cent a pound less, Mr. Switzer that night drove to Peterboro and met Mr. Bailey. He also had the cheesemaker take samples of the cheese complained of and submit them to Mr. Wrighton's inspection. That gentleman, upon examination, declared their rejection was something of a humbug. During the 18 months East Emily had been on the Board, only four of its cheeses had been complained of.

Upon Mr. Switzer meeting Mr. Bailey at the hotel, the buyer said he would not accept Mr. Wrighton's inspection of the cheese—that he was not a competent judge. The salesman offered to ship Mr. Bailey the 85 accepted cheeses, but this was refused. The buyer having given consent until his employer, Mr. McGrath, inspected the East Emily factory. No similar complaint had ever been made of the factory before, and Mr. Switzer was indignant that Mr. Bailey should make an unjust initial rejection. He proceeded to read a report of Victoria Cheese Board, at which he alleged complaint had also been made of this particular buyer.

Mr. Cluxton—"One man should not take up all the time at this Board. Let him put his trouble in a nutshell."

Mr. Bailey—"I don't think any outside report should be brought in here. I am willing to meet this gentleman in fair discussion. Newspapers can very often illustrate only one side, and so on. I am not making a charge, but if there is a charge made against me at the last Lindsay Board it is false. These buyers will uphold me in what I am saying, and what is more, I have not bought cheese in Lindsay for four or five weeks."

The report was that Mr. Bailey had bought from two or three factories, but had never gone to inspect them or to take them away. Mr. Flavelle had not wished to make any direct charge at Lindsay Board, pointing out that Mr. Bailey, one of those principally concerned, was not present.

Mr. Bailey—"I wish to give direct contradiction to the implied charge. It is false, and I will make Mr. Flavelle take it back. The buyers here will back me up in the statements I am making in regard to my actions."

Mr. Wrighton stated that if 20 per cent. of any lot of cheese was radically wrong the buyer had no right to purchase them. It was, moreover, not for the buyer to say as to whether or not he was "unqualified."

Mr. Cook favored the appointment of a Board arbitrator among the buyers.

Mr. Bailey said he was perfectly willing to have the cheese rejected at East Emily. He himself would also send an inspector and would accept no cheese that was 20 per cent. radically wrong. It was, moreover, very easy for the factory people to ship a lot of cheese in the good ones at times; this, in fact, was very often done.

Mr. Whitton thought the buyer as well as the factory should be "protected," and moved the appointment of Mr. Rollins as arbitrator for the buyers.

That gentleman said he could not accept, owing to press of other duties. The matter will be considered by the buyers.

Bidding commenced with Mr. Rollins' offer of 9c. Mr. Fitzgerald followed with 7-1/2c. Mr. Wrighton 7-1/2c. This bid held and Mr. Wrighton selected Keene, Shearer, Villiers, Westwood, Long, Ormiston, and was accepted.

Mr. Cook at 9-1/2c. was accepted by Norwood, McVoss Abbey, Lakefield, and Pine Grove. Maple Leaf, Young's Point, North Dunbar, Cedarvale, Stony Lake, South Burlington, and was accepted.

Mr. Bailey at 9-1/2c. was accepted by Bunker, Fraserville, Otonabee Union, Mount Pleasant and Myrtle. At 9-1/2c. he secured Fleetwood, Oak Leaf and Missing Link.

Some Good Advice on the Beet Sugar Question.

Of the 23 different propositions in various parts of Ontario to establish sugar plants, very few of them have the faintest chance of succeeding. Most of them have very little, if anything, to recommend them, and it seems a waste of energy to even consider them. It has recently come to our notice of a case wherein one party was offered $5,000 in stock for the use of his name in connection with a project. Another case, where large commissions (10 per cent. in some cases) is offered to parties to sell the stock. Such propositions are not good for the shareholders, and it is advisable to look carefully into these matters when asked to subscribe. No business of such magnitude as a sugar factory can be started without great expense, but when outsiders are offered such a large commission as ten per cent., and there are the promoters and others ahead of him also to be paid, it would look as though the shareholders are paying too "dear for their whistle." Don't be lured away by the promises of very large dividends; investigate the matter and find out where you are at before signing your name to any stock sheet. A business that will stand $50,000 expense for securing stock must indeed be a good one. The sugar business will not stand it—Farming World.

The Trent Valley Canal.

In reply to a request of a subscriber, the following information is given in regard to the Trent Valley Canal: This waterway of 200 miles in length can be completed for $8,500,000. When complete it will give continuous barge navigation of 500 tons burden—and of twice the capacity of the Erie Canal—between Montreal to Sault Ste. Marie. It will shorten the distance between all the great western lakes ports and Liverpool by 727 miles. It is capable of being open during a season of seven months in a year, and of transporting 200 bushels of grain per annum. By means of the numerous locks and rivers which it utilizes and intersects, it will give a shore of 100 miles and lay under tribute six million acres of agricultural land and mineral lands capable of yielding from 50 to 100 tons of freight per acre. It will utilize the finest continual system of water powers on the globe. 140 miles of this waterway is now completed, but it is still in a very rough state, yet it is giving employment for 10,000 men and commerce and tourist travel to 50 steam boats, besides numerous small craft.

Dishonest Practices in Exhibits.

Now that the Toronto Exhibition is over, and our attention reverts to our local fair, the dishonest practices which have been perpetrated in other years at Toronto, and successfully copied with by the directors and judges of this year's exhibition, should also demand the consideration and attention of those at the head of the Lindsay Central. Especially would we call their attention to the practice of adulteration of grain. For the purpose of carrying away the coveted red ticket some exhibitors at Toronto Exhibition have resorted to whitening the grain on exhibit with sulphur, and the adulteration escaped the eyes of the judges until their attention was called to the matter. With the object of doing away with and avoiding the deception named a sample of the grain in the ear has been recommended to be left alongside the exhibited grain in bags, and thus the judges are enabled to compare the grain in the bag with that in the ear. If deception is the price of the coveted red ticket, then it is an unjust practice. Our judges should keep their eyes open for any such fraud, and mete out justice to the offenders. A general shaking up of the grain has brought much trickery to light, the top peak often being superior to the grain underneath. It is the old story, "the grapes are not on top," and the offenders are not only undeserving of a prize, but should not be admitted to membership in the Association in future years.

Bennett left Vancouver a few months ago to accept a captaincy in the Constabulary. In the fight, Capt. Bennett's command, consisting of 90 men, was confronted by a Boer force of 4,000, losing four killed, six wounded and 24 captured. The Boers reported seven killed and 24 wounded. The Constabulary consisted of two detachments of 30 each from the 10th and 15th troops, recruited in England, and 30 Western Canadians. The Canadians had the right flank and opened fire first.

MR. MARTIN'S POSITION.

Leader of the Opposition in B.C. Will Resign That Post.

Victoria, B. C., Sept. 6.—The political situation underwent no change yesterday, the only new feature in connection with it being the advent of the one-time leader of the Opposition, who finds himself, through the peculiar changes that have been made, relieved of his duties. In an interview yesterday Mr. Martin frankly admitted that his occupation was gone, and that he will abdicate his anomalous position as leader of the Opposition.

Mr. Hugh Gilmour, M. P. for Vancouver, came over with Mr. Martin last night, and is understood to share the views of the chief in regard to the new arrangement. The names of Messrs. Gilmour and Hall are frequently heard in connection with filling the vacancy in the Cabinet, but no active steps seem to have been taken to install a successor to Mr. McBride. In the meantime Mr. Eberts is acting Minister of Mines.

Mr. Martin yesterday said he was fully in accord with the Government as at present constituted.

"You will resign your post as leader of the Opposition?" was suggested.

"Yes," certainly," he replied.

"There is no Opposition that I am aware of, with the exception of Messrs. Smith, Curtis and E. C. Smith."

WINNERS AT SEA GIRT.

How Canadians Won From the All-American Team in the World Championship Competition.

New York, Sept. 6.—The Canadian and American riflemen had a long session yesterday on the State rifle ranges at Sea Girt, N. J., in the contest for the American Centennial Palma trophy, emblematic of the world's championship, and the Canadians won by a margin of 28 points, the final score being: Canada, 1,522; American, 1,494.

The utmost good fellowship prevailed throughout the match, which was very close up to the last stage. Two of the members of the Ulster Rifle Association of Belfast, Ireland, W. T. Braithwaite and Thomas Robertson, acted as coaches for the Dominion representatives, and the Americans had Gen. B. W. Spencer with some of his officers attending to them in a similar capacity.

The conditions of the contest called for the use of the national arm of the country represented by the teams, so that it was practically a duel between the American Krag and the English Lee-Enfield weapons. The Canadians used orthoscopic sights, while the Americans had the service sights.

Lieut. Leiser of Washington, D. C., made the highest collective and best individual score in the match, which was shot in three stages, 800, 900 and 1,000 yards. Each of the teams of eight men had 15 shots at each of these distances.

The carbine team match was won by the men from the First Troop of National Guard of New Jersey. This team was shot over the 200 and 500 yard range and resulted in a tie between the Essex men and the Pennsylvania squadron, each having a total of 203.

But, as the Jersey riflemen had a better aggregate score over the lower range the Pennsylvanians had to take second place. Squadron "A" of New York was next with 184 and Troop "A" of Maryland fourth with 180.

The following is a summary of the Canadian-American match:

Canadians.	Americans.
Lieut. Ross	183
Capt. B. J. Davidson	182
Private Fleming	182
Lieut. Leiser	182
Private Paubst	182
Capt. W. H. Davidson	182

TWELVE BOERS WERE KILLED.

There Was a Total of 133 Boers Killed, Wounded and Taken by the British, Who Lost Ten Men—Two Prominent Rebels Were Killed, and Two Commandants Were Among the Prisoners.

Middleburg, Cape Colony, Sept. 6.—"Lotter's" entire commando has been taken by Major Scobell, south of Petersburg. One hundred and three prisoners were captured, 12 Boers were killed and forty-six wounded. Two hundred horses also were captured.

Nineteen Killed.

London, Sept. 7.—Lord Kitchen-er's report from Pretoria to the War Office covering the capture of Lotter's commando gives the figures as nineteen killed, fifty-two wounded and sixty-two captured unwounded. The prisoners include Commandants Lotter and Breedt, Field Cornets Kruger and W. Kruger, and Lt. Shoeman. Among the killed were the two Vasters, notable rebels. The British casualties were ten killed and eight wounded.

WHEAT IS GRADING UP WELL.

Large Percentage of That Inspected Registered No. 1 Hard.

Winnipeg, Sept. 7.—Reports from the railroad companies as to the progress of threshing and wheat deliveries will amount up to nearly 100,000 bushels. Inspector Horn's daily report of cars inspected here shows a steady increase each day. The first of the week started with 20 cars inspected here, out of which 12 cars graded No. 1 hard; Tuesday had 54 cars, with 30 No. 1 hard; Wednesday 70 cars, with 39 No. 1 hard; and yesterday 98 cars were inspected, 46 grading No. 1 hard and 42 No. 1 northern. For the month of August 507 cars were inspected, 78 cars, or 64,740 bushels, grading No. 1 hard, 41 cars of this being raw wheat. The percentage of No. 1 hard wheat is shown up by Mr. Horn to be large and very satisfactory. On the lighter soil the grade grown is generally No. 1 northern. This disproves the statement made by some grain buyers that a large percentage, in fact the bulk of the wheat, would grade No. 1 northern instead of No. 1 hard.

A number of farmers have made indignant protests, but so far as the mere statement went no harm otherwise has been done, as they are getting fair play at the hands of the inspectors.

ACCIDENT ON THE C.P.R.

Six Cars Went Off, and Fifteen Persons Received Injuries.

Winnipeg, Sept. 7.—A serious accident was reported on the Canadian Pacific yesterday morning. Fifteen persons were reported injured. They are mostly from the United States. The cause of the accident is reported as a broken rail.

SULTAN MENACES BRITAIN.

Thinks Stopping of Corvettes Incompatible With Friendly Relations.

Constantinople, Sept. 6.—The Turkish Ambassador in London has been instructed to inform Great Britain that the action of a commander of the British warship in the Persian Gulf, in preventing the Turkish corvette "Sohob" from entering Koweyt, is incompatible with friendly relations. The British side of the controversy is that the Sohob was trying to land Turkish troops on the territory of a Sheikh, who was independent of Turkey.

The German Ambassador on Monday communicated to the Porte the Kaiser's declining to intervene, and advising the Porte to come to an understanding with France.

It appears that Mr. Delcasse's letter requesting Munir Bey to leave the country expressed astonishment that Munir Bey should illuminate the Embassy and give a banquet on the anniversary of the Sultan's accession, in view of the rupture in relations between France and Turkey.

Assisted by Cuticura Ointment, the Great Skin Cure, for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of cruds, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, itchy eruptions, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Millions of women use CUTICURA SOAP in the form of baths for annoying inflammations and irritations, or too free or offensive perspiration. In the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, for many sensitive, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, especially mothers. No amount of persuasion can induce those who have once used these great skin purifiers and beautifiers to use any others. CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients, and the most refreshing of flavor colours. Secretary President
God Save the King

The Weekly Post.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, SEPT. 13th, '01
PETERBORO'S WATER POWER.

The Mail and Empire's statement that a syndicate headed by Hon. J.
R. Stratton had obtained from the Dominion Government a lease of water power on the Trent Canal works, near Peterboro, for 60 cents per horse power, though $1 per horse power was demanded from the Town of Peterboro is promptly denied by the Examiner, which says that Mr. Stratton has never applied directly or indirectly for any water power on the Otonabee River or Trent Canal, and is in no way connected with any syndicate that has applied for water power at No. 3 dam. The only interest Mr. Stratton has in the enterprise referred to is the interest, every good citizen of the town, has in the promotion of the welfare and progress of the town
as represented by an action looking to the providing of cheap and available motive power for manufacturing purposes, and the Mail's paragraph is only a sample of the reckless lengths the conservative organ
will go to try to injure the reputation and influence of public men politically opposed to it.

The Otonabee Power Company has obtained the lease of the surplus water at the rate of $2 per horse power,
the price of $4, which was at one time mentioned, being considered excessive. The power to be developed will be needed to the extent of about 400 horse power by the Cordage Company, the Shovel Company and the Central Milling Company. If there was not this power to give them they would have to go elsewhere. The Examiner adds that the citizens of Peterboro should heartily approve of the government's action in thus reducing the rental price for power, a circumstance which will doubtless encourage applications for the development of power; and it is to be hoped that town, or other persons will take advantage of the opportunities presented at the remaining three dams of developing cheap motive power to offer to industries looking for the most favorable sites for location.

Single Fare Tickets

vention) good to return on 7th, at any

REFORM CONVENTION.

Hon. S. C. Wood, not having been able to accept the nomination tendered him by the liberal convention held on June 5th last, it becomes necessary to assemble a convention of the liberals of West Victoria at an early date as possible for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the riding in the coming Provincial election, and also for the purpose of organizing the West Riding
for the campaign.

Arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk Railway whereby all wishing to visit Lindsay on the 5th of October can secure tickets at single fare from all stations on the Midland Division, or from any point covered by a single fare of $2.50.
Tickets good from 5th to 7th Oct. inclusive.

It is expected that a very large number of our liberal friends, whether delegates or not, will be present at the convention on Oct. 5th.

BABY IN THE HOME.

A Joy and Treasure When Good Natured and Healthy.

All children in every home in the country need at some time or other
a medicine such as Baby's Own Tablets, and this famous remedy has cured many a serious illness and saved many a little life. Mothers insist upon having it because it contains no opiate or harmful drugs. It is purely vegetable, sweet and pleasant to take and prompt in its effect.
For simple fevers, colic, constipation, disordered stomach, diarrhoea, irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth and indigestion, Baby's Own Tablets are a certain cure. In fact, in almost any disorder common to children these tablets should be given at once and relief will be promptly looked for.

Never give the babies so-called soothing medicines which simply put them into an unnatural sleep. These tablets are small, sweet, pleasant to take and prompt in action. Dissolved in water, they will be taken readily
by the smallest infant.

Mrs. John McEwan, Bathurst Village, N.B., writes: "My baby was almost constantly troubled with colic before I gave him Baby's Own Tablets, but since giving them to him
he has not since suffered. Every mother should keep these tablets always at hand."

You find them 25 cents a box. You can find them at your druggist's or if you do not, forward the money direct to us, and we will send the tablets prepaid. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Dept. T., Brockville, Ont.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A commission is to be sent to Syracuse by the Per. Conference of the Methodist church to find out just what sort of a time those two ministers had there. It should also travel incognito, and leave its valuables in the hotel safe.

Since the death of Miss Elizabeth Mackenzie in St. Luke's hospital, Chicago on Sunday last, the only two members of the family of William Lyon Mackenzie yet living are Mrs. Charles Lindsay and Mrs. John Klug, of Toronto.

Whitney says the land through which the Algoma Central is to run is "uninhabitable." That is not Mr. Clergue's belief. He has bound himself to place a thousand settlers a month in it. Before slaughtering Ontario Mr. Whitney ought to look into its resources.

The Canadian Medical Association has approved the scheme for a system of medical reciprocity all over the Dominion so that a Canadian physician would be a qualified practitioner in any province. That is a sensible move and it is to be hoped it will result in definite legal action.

Nova Scotia is to have a Provincial general election on October 2nd, the intention being to have the ballots counted and the dust cleared away before the arrival of the Duke of Cornwall. The retention of the liberal government in office is regarded as a certainty, as Hon. George Murray, the premier, had an almost unanimous support in the legislature that has just been dissolved.

British sportsmen will appreciate the kindly desire, which has found expression in New York that Sir Thomas Lipton may succeed this year in carrying off the 'America' Cup. The trophy has been held for fifty years by the United States, and it is feared that if he should not succeed after his two plucky and ingenuously expensive attempts, there will be an end to international yachting, at least under the conditions which govern the 'America' Cup races. If the race should be run alternately in British and American waters the chances would be more even. The contestants know their own seas, the currents and other peculiarities, and so long as one of them is always at the disadvantage of sailing unaccustomed waters the essential element of equality of opportunity is lacking. Apart altogether from the matter of national feeling, it would be a good thing in the interests of international sport if the cup should change hands. It would be easier at least to make new and better arrangements for future contests without art casting reflections on either side.

Bishop Potter, of New York, has been giving his views upon the great labor strike and the natural rights of the two parties to the conflict. He looks to the ballot as the final protector of labor against combinations of capital; and remarks that there are times when legislatures are not bought.

"The extremists of both sides do not represent the mass on either side. As the extremists on the labor side are often those put in the place of power, so the extremists of corporate capital are often the spokesmen of the employers; but it is the conservative who finally decide the men willing to listen to reason. The man who does not wish to join a union must not be forced to, but neither must the man who is a unionist be compelled to give up his union while the employer is at liberty to join a trust. No employer will continue his business if he does not make a profit. While human nature remains as it is the workman will insist that he get in wages some share of increase of profit, and capital should be content that this is so, for its means enthusiasm in work, which must exist where progress is looked for. Unionism which would break down all workers to a dead level of skill and effort would be as harmful as the corporate management that beat down all workers to the level of unskilled laborers."

May Get Carnegie Library

MAYOR INGLE WILL APPLY FOR A GIFT OF $10,000.

The Matter was Discussed at Saturday Night's Meeting of Committee—Other Business Transacted

Several of the Council committees met Saturday evening to clear away arrears of business, and spent about two hours at the task. Mayor Ingle and all members of Council were present.

A Carnegie Library.
On motion His Honor Judge Harding, chairman of the Public Library Board, and Mr. E. A. Hardy, secretary, were granted permission to address the members. His Honor referred to the well-known philanthropy of Mr. Andrew Carnegie, the multi-millionaire, and to his wide-spread benefactions in the cause of education. He was devoting a portion of his vast wealth to the establishment of free Public Libraries and the cause of education, and a number of Canadian cities and towns had already taken advantage of his generosity. The members of the local Library Board realized what a grand thing it would be if the town possessed a modern fire-proof library building, and were in favor of asking Mr. Carnegie for a grant of $10,000, feeling that the condition of free site and 10 per cent. maintenance fund—could be complied with.

Mr. Hardy pointed out that Mr. Carnegie was devoting the balance of his life to giving away his money, but was finding it difficult to bestow it faster than it accumulated. Lindsay was already fulfilling the requirements for a $10,000 grant, such as Collingwood has received. Some people professed to be squeamish and inclined to refuse Carnegie money because he had made it in the States, but that was nonsense. He hoped the Council would sanction the application for a grant.

Judge Harding—"As for the patriotic sentiment of stocks, it should not be for nothing that Carnegie made some of his wealth out of Canadians, he being the manufacturer of nearly all the structural steel consumed in the Dominion. Barring the editor of the Mail and Empire, I do not think there is a man in Canada so generous as to refuse a grant for such a purpose."

In the subsequent discussion it was pointed out that the whole of the $10,000, if secured, would have to be expended on a fire-proof building. The half-million now raised for the library purposes would fulfill the condition of a ten per cent. maintenance fund, while the building could be erected on one of the lots owned by the town.

On motion of Ald. Jackson, seconded by Ald. O'Reilly, Mayor Ingle was authorized to consult with the Public Library Board and take what steps might be deemed necessary in making application for the suggested grant.

Judge Harding said that in the meantime the Council should proceed with the fitting up of the Library quarters in the old Council chamber, because the lease of the present rooms in the Dominion-Bank block would expire on Nov. 1st and unless they left by that date, the Board would become liable for another year's rent. Under the circumstances the room should be furnished as cheaply as possible; a new floor and counter would be required, also a number of revolving book-cases.

Police and Lighting Committee.
Ald. Robson, chairman, took up the application of Mr. Patterson, of Toronto, for a billiard license, and started in to read a sheet of testimonials.

Moved by Ald. O'Reilly, seconded by Ald. Hore, that the application be not granted.

Ald. Robson—"You think, then, that it would not be desirable to have a billiard room?"

Ald. Jackson—"There is a motion before the committee, Mr. Chairman."

The resolution was put and carried. Ald. Sinclair, who supported the application, then made, recording his vote against it.

About a Cement Walk Petition.
Messrs. B. F. Reesor and H. McNeill appeared before the Board of Works committee in connection with the petition sent in for a granolithic walk on south side of Francis-st. between William and Cambridge-sts., which was turned down by Council last Thursday evening.

Ald. Jackson—"Did you or any of the petitioners say the walk was not needed?"

Mr. Reesor—"No." Mr. McNeill returned the same reply.

Ald. Jackson—"Well, Ald. Hore reported at last Council meeting."

Ald. Hore—"I only referred to Mr. McNeill, he told me he was not particular."

Mr. McNeill—"You certainly must have misunderstood me, as I want all the walk."

Mr. Reesor—"I fancy Mr. Hore has been opposed to the walk from the first."

Ald. Hore denied being actuated by such a feeling. He had certainly got the impression from Mr. McNeill and other persons that they were not particular about having the walk built this fall, and as there was a great deal of work on hand he thought it as well not to press the walk in face of opposition, especially as the stone could be procured at a cheaper rate in winter.

Ald. Touchburn—"There would be no saving."

Ald. Jackson—"Oh, yes there would; the stone could be drawn and piled wherever wanted along the route of any proposed walk."

Mr. Reesor said he had been told that the petition had been thrown out, which would necessitate the getting up of another one next spring. He didn't think it was fair to give that trouble; the petition should be revived and held over if necessary.

Ald. Hore—"I'm willing to support that."

A discussion then took place as to whether the walk should be 4 ft. or 5 ft. in width.

Mr. Reesor—"We don't care which but I notice a number of towns are making their walks 5 ft., and in Berlin they have torn up some of the narrow ones."

In reply to a question Commissioner Chalmers said the difference in cost on the walk in question between the 4 ft. and 5 ft. widths would only amount to about $26, of which the town's portion would be only 60 per cent.

The Law

Of health has no uniform guardians of its peace. If it had there would be arrests innumerable in every restaurant every day of the year. Both in the quantity and quality of the food they eat and in the manner of its consumption men and women sin each day against the laws of health.

Those who will not heed Nature's warnings cannot escape her punishments, and dyspepsia or stomach trouble is the inevitable penalty of careless eating.

There is no other medicine for diseases of the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition which can compare with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures these diseases perfectly and permanently, and enables the building up of the whole body into vigorous health.

I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble. I was a sufferer from indigestion, and I did not know what to do. I tried a whole lot of medicine, but it did me no good. I was told that I should try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did, and I was cured. I am so well pleased with it that I can hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of medicine, but it did me no good. I was told that I should try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did, and I was cured. I am so well pleased with it that I can hardly know how to thank you for your kind information.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

Ald. Touchburn said he was going to introduce a by-law at next meeting to see if the aldermen were looking after the interests of the town or the interests of private individuals. He thought it unfair that the people at large should have to pay 60 per cent of the cost of walks when the property owners concerned would be exempt from assessment for similar work.

Ald. Sinclair—"We'll have to be careful or high taxes will drive the people away."

Ald. O'Reilly—"The Commissioner says it costs 60 per cent to lay plank walks while cement pavements can be put down for 60, and which would last five times as long."

Ald. Touchburn—"The debtors' debt for Local Improvements is growing very rapidly, and we'll have to be careful."

Ald. Jackson—"The people want Local Improvements and we can't stop them."

Ald. Sinclair—"Make it difficult to get them by raising the proportion to be paid by property."

Ald. Jackson—"All right introduce your by-law."

Board of Works Matters.
Ald. Jackson—"About the steam roller—when will we take it up?"

Ald. Sinclair—"I am after hearing the statement made by the representative of the Hamilton 10-ton roller we should all feel that he is not prepared to guarantee it."

Ald. Jackson—"Did you meet the representative of the Buffalo-Fitts roller, which is now made in Canada, and of which there are over 100 in use? It seems to be the thing weights are 10, 12 and 15 tons, and the price from $3,200 up."

The matter will be dealt with at a subsequent meeting, to be held for the purpose.

On motion of Ald. Sinclair, seconded by Ald. O'Reilly, the Presbyterian church authorities were granted 180 feet of cedar plank and the necessary posts for curb and boulevard.

Mr. Marshall Lindsay's request relative to an obstructed ditch was handed to the Commissioner to be reported upon, and Mr. Geo. Brooks' application for a stretch of new walk to his house on Colborne-st. was granted.

A number of accounts were read and recommended for payment.
Cement Gutter for Model Road.

Ald. O'Reilly suggested that a cement gutter be put on the sidewalks, instead of the cobblestone kind, which had proved a failure in Kent-st.

Commissioner Chalmers—"The cost would be about $65 for 200 feet on the south side, or about $30 more than cobblestone."

On motion of Alderman Touchburn and O'Reilly, the decision was left with the Commissioner.

Finance Committee Matters.
Ald. Jackson, chairman, explained that several tenders had been sent in for the Kent-st. sewer, but another was on the way from Sault Ste. Marie. It was decided to defer action until it had been received.

Ald. Jackson next read an opinion from the Town Solicitor, who held that the town need entertain no fear of trouble with the Provincial Board of Health because of the construction of Kent-st. sewer.

Ald. Sinclair—"Do you intend to go on with the sewer this fall?"

Ald. Jackson—"Yes, we propose to push it as far as we can."

Ald. Sinclair—"No one wants it to go ahead this season."

Ald. Jackson referred to the collection of taxes, and said the members should devote some thought to the situation created by having two receivers—the Collector and the Town Treasurer. It was a most unsatisfactory arrangement.

Ald. O'Reilly—"What proportion of the taxes did the Collector receive last year, and how much was paid to the Treasurer? If we pay $300 for the collection of $3000 or $6000 it comes high."

Clerk Knowlson—"I can't tell off-hand how much the Collector handed in."

The following accounts were then recommended for payment:

COMMUNICATIONS

Room for an Explanation.
(To the Editor of The Post.)

Dear Sir,—In your report of minutes of City Council, issue of September 7th, we notice a communication from the Flavell Milling Co., which contains the following paragraph: "It would also become necessary in the near future to have the tannery discharge diverted or filtered."

Now by said paragraph they have created an impression in the minds of at least a portion of the citizens that something is wrong with the discharge from our tannery, and in the interests of the community and ourselves we would ask the Flavell Milling Company to specify their grievance.

We are anxious to comply with anything reasonable and right, but we certainly are not aware of anything existing detrimental to the good health of the town.—Yours truly

THE COUPLING PARTED

Mishap on the Down Trip of the Port Hope Mixed Train Yesterday.

Conductor J. W. Britton and those on board the Port Hope mixed train on Monday morning, figured in a somewhat exciting episode just as Somewhere was reached. The coupling of the rear coach parted and when the front end was halted the detached car bore down upon it at a good rate of speed.

Mr. M. Mulvihill, G.T.R. carpenter, was one of those in the coach, and realizing the nature of the mishap he ran out and applied the brakes with a promptitude that resulted in materially lessening the force of the collision. However, the bump was a severe one and everyone on board felt it more or less. Conductor Britton, who was making his way to the rear to see what was the matter, was thrown against a door and had his head cut and bruised, while Mr. Adam Skizlar, who was sitting in the baggage car, was thrown from his seat and sustained some painful contusions.

The coupling mechanism having been knocked out of gear in the collision, the coach was made fast by means of chains, which answered the purpose very well.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, SEPT. 13th, '01

FROM LINDSAY
TO PARRY SOUNDA SHORT SKETCH OF A DE LIGHTFUL HOLIDAY TRIP.

(Written for The Evening Post)

By N. HOLLIN

It has always been a part of the writer's creed that it pays the business man, in these days of keen competition for trade and ambition to reach the top notch before the other fellow, to call a halt now and again, drop work, throw business cares to the winds, and live away to nature's restful and refreshing scenes; also that it pays well to do this before tired nature becomes fagged with overwork and the holiday is made compulsory by the doctor's orders. The proper time for recreation is when one is in good health.

In our humble opinion the business man that fancies his absence from the deck for a day or two would regret in the stranding of his craft, much a mistake. It might mean the loss of a shakedown or two at the time, which would be easily regained with the renewed vigor picked up during the recreation, however short. There are now so many delightful trips available and within reach of the busiest of men that no difficulty should be found in choosing a route.

For young people there is no more beneficial nor jollier outing than a camping expedition to some of our charming northern rivers and lakes, but as one grows older, camp life loses some of its attractions, and a little better protection than a canvas roof is more to the liking.

Never having done the far-famed Georgian Bay, this was selected as our

for a short vacation this year. Through the kindness of Mr. Geo. Wilder, the obliging O.A. of the G.T.R., we secured a coupon ticket good for two persons reading as follows: Lindsay to Midland per G.T.R.; Midland to Parry Sound via Inland Channel per the Northern Navigation Co.; Parry Sound to Rose Point via the Parry Sound Yacht Fleet; Rose Point to Maple Lake via Canada Atlantic Railway; Maple Lake to Port Cockburn, Lake Joseph, via Seward's stage; Port Cockburn to Gravenhurst via the Muskoka Navigation Co.; Gravenhurst to Lindsay via G.T.R. As this route may be new to some of the readers of The Post, a brief description of it may be of some interest.

In the summer of 1885—just thirty-six years ago this month—we were making our first trip to the northern lakes via the Port Hope and Lindsay Railway. The train was slowly climbing the heavy grade near Millbrook when a gust of wind carried off the writer's hat. The conductor standing on the platform of the car dropped off, secured the baggage and caught his train. The conductor was our old Port Hope friend Richard Boudry. Dick is still taking tickets over the same old rail, and while perhaps not quite so sprightly in jumping off trains for stray hats owing to increasing portly proportions, he is the same obliging and popular official as of old. May his shadow never grow less.

Upon our changing trains at Blackwater we found another old Port Hope boy in charge in the person of Conductor L. Thibodeau. Whenever one travels by rail one meets with old Port Hoppers, and we venture to assert that no better class of railway officials ever donned the uniform of any railway.

Passing Wabouanabe

and Victoria Harbor, with their big mills and extensive lumber piles, Midland was reached at 1:30 P.M. and was waiting here to connect with the steamer at Penetang, (having called at Midland an hour or two before). We decided to linger here for the afternoon and do this one of our most profitable and promissory business trips. The Queen's Hotel, bus conveyed us to that comfortable hotel, where dinner was taken. Midland's business street is hardly up to Lindsay's fine Kent-st., but its merchants appear to be wide-awake. There are numerous, with evidence of keen competition in all lines. After making a few necessary purchases at Neighbor Gough's fine store we found our way to Midland's magnificent harbor, said to be one of the most commodious and safest on Canada's Great Lakes.

The two large elevators are buildings of interest to strangers and are of great importance to the trade of the town. In charge of the Grand Trunk elevators we were pleased to meet Mr. John Preston, a young man of a respected residence of Port Hope. Mr. Preston has for many years been a prominent resident of Midland, one of his sons being a member of the well-known firm of Playfair, Preston & Co. A little later Mr. Preston accompanied us on a cruise out on the glorious Bay on the steam yacht "Conqueror," which we had chartered for the trip.

Millionaire De'g's

but how the property of our friends the Currie family, the extensive paper manufacturers of Toronto. The island contains some forty acres, most of it being well wooded, with charming shady nooks and romantic walks extending in all directions. The house is a summer place with every convenience and comfort that heart could desire or money secure. In the absence of Mr. Ed. Currie, who had gone to Penetang on his steam yacht, we were hospitably entertained by Miss Currie and her friends. Our little launch over this part of the great bay, with its fresh, pure and invigorating breeze, terminated altogether too quickly. Our return to Midland was made in time to secure a spanking team, handled by a young but old-fashioned Jehu, to reach Penetang before sundown. The drive over the hills and through the pine-scented woods was a glorious finish for a enjoyable day.

Our resting place at Penetang was the Hotel Canada, one of the best appointed and most admirably conducted small hotels in Ontario. Here we made the acquaintance of Dr. Reeve, the famous oculist, of Toronto, who, with Mrs. Reeve, had been journeying here for some time. Wednesday morning found us up bright and early, ready to explore the beauties of this romantic little town, of which we had heard so much. According to history, the first settlement on the bay was made at Penetangulshene. Our Komatuk Catholic friends here erected here a very handsome Cathedral (not yet finished) in commemoration of connected with the early history of the Jesuit Fathers at this point. The town is beautifully situated on the slope of a hill overlooking the bay. It is an up-to-date town, having fine, well-kept streets, a good water system, and electric lighting. Many of the private residences are quite elegant, surrounded with beautiful gardens and well-kept lawns. Some very charming views were enjoyed as we drove along the ridge overlooking the town. A couple of miles or so out is situated, in a fine pine grove, the Penetangulshene Hotel, one of the most commodious and popular summer resorts on the Georgian Bay. The situation is excellent, commanding a splendid view of the bay, its handsome and well shaded lawns reach the water's edge. It has its own wharf, at which the steamers call daily. The hotel has accommodation for four hundred guests, and at the time of our visit the house was full.

Some Tragic Events

Following the same ridge road a mile or so further on we reached the Provincial

Reformatory for Boys.

Driving up to the big barred gates, no sounds of any kind were heard—all was as quiet and still as a Lindsay Sunday. Pulling the rope of the big bell, which hung over the gateway, a small door opened and a guard made his appearance, who informed us that this was the institution's holiday; the boys, some 139 in number, had gone up the bay on an excursion. Upon application at the office the guard secured instructions to show us through. Within the high enclosure are several massive stone buildings, to reach which you pass through pretty flower gardens with beautifully kept walks and green lawns. Nearby is an extensive vegetable garden and a small space where the boys are introduced to garden and farm work. There are also workshops, in which trades are learned under skilled masters. As "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," provision is also made for games and sports. There are sports grounds upon which, after hours, games of baseball, lacrosse and cricket are indulged in. There is also a music-room for the boys' own brass band, which at present is a good one, so the guard informed us.

Being the main building, you are impressed with the order and cleanliness prevailing everywhere—the kitchens, dining-rooms, dormitories, all are in perfect order, and scrupulously clean. One dormitory contains sixty beds, and the boys are each bed being occupied by a real living boy. One can but imagine the activity of the scene at

Turning In and Out Time.

Of course, no disorder is permitted, the guards being always present. Lights are out at 9 a.m., and then silence must prevail. There are two chaplains—one Protestant, the other Catholic—in which service is held every morning, and all the boys have to be present. Over the entrance to the several rooms are to be seen mottoes printed in plain letters. We only had time to read a few of them; two only do we remember. One read this way: "If nobody loves you, be sure it's your own fault." The other was one of Lord Nelson's famous sayings, viz.: "I owe everything in the world to being a quarter of an hour before hand." While there are many things to add about the buildings that are part of the institution, the visitor is reminded that he is in a prison by the doors and windows, which are barred and locked. Some of the floors and steps are of stone, and before we left the guard conducted us down below and pointed out to us the

Dark and Lonely Cells,

in which bad boys, who disobey orders, have to be put and kept in for a long time until they are sent to their senses. In leaving this unfortunately necessary institution, two thoughts run through the mind: First, one of sadness that our Canadian boys, blessed with such education and religious privileges, should make it necessary for the government to maintain such a corrective institution, in which over a hundred lads, ranging from ten to twenty-one years of age, have to be confined; the other thought is one of satisfaction that punishment and correction are tempered with so much mercy and kindness. This institution is so beautifully situated that the views from the windows should inspire the boy, however low he may have fallen, with a desire to become good and pure again. We are of the opinion that the boy that leaves this reformatory unimproved in morals should be sent to the Incurable Asylum.

Two thirty found us on board the fine steamer "City of Toronto," and shortly after, the vessel was steaming up the bay, wending its way in and out among its

Thirty-Three Thousand Islands.

Our thirty passengers were mostly American tourists; like ourselves, and taking this trip for the first time. The afternoon was gloriously fine and warm everybody in excellent spirits, all on pleasure bent. A large flock of sea gulls followed the steamer all the afternoon and much amusement was created by the passengers throwing fragments from the kitchen overboard and watching the scramble of the birds in securing them.

For the first few miles the scenery was rather tame, the islands being low and barren. The course of the steamer was through what is known as the inside channel. As far as the eye can reach islands are to be seen in all directions. They are of all sizes and shapes; some of them are no bigger than Lindsay's watering cart, others would take in the whole of Sturgeon Point. In some places the channel is so narrow and winding that one wonders if the steamer has not made a mistake and got off its course, with danger of running ashore. The signal bell rings, the engine slows down until it hardly moves, a sharp turn is made and the big vessel quickly glides through an opening so narrow that you fancy you can feel the ship scraping the rocks on either side.

From Sans Souci

to Parry Sound the scenery surpasses anything that we have ever witnessed either in Muskoka or on the St. Lawrence, the countless islands, winding channels and narrow passages, with the wide water straits a experienced now and again, bringing distant headlands and high bluffs of the mainland into view, all combining to produce such a glorious ever-changing picture, that is far beyond the power of this amateur writer to describe. About 8 p.m. we passed through the fine iron draw-bridge of the Canada Atlantic Railway; a few minutes later Rose Point was reached, and across the bay were seen the lights of Parry Sound. Half an hour later we were at the wharf, many of the passengers rushing up the steep hill to the hotel Belvidere to secure accommodation, which was reported to be limited. In due time, after exercising a little patience, our party had all registered, and were all comfortably housed. The accommodations were promised better things in the morning. The Pan-American has brought hundreds of American tourists this way, consequently the accommodation of the hotel is taxed to the utmost. Many of our Yankee friends remain at one place a day or two, but they usually manage to secure the best of everything going; money being no object with them, they as a rule get the preference. Hotel managers are the same the world over—the man with the largest purse generally gets

Ahead of the Other Fellow.

There is a universal demand for the best front rooms, the most desirable seats and best waters in the dining-room but these luxuries, as a rule fall to the lot of the man that is prepared to plunk down the most money per diem. The average American tourist is wise enough to know this; he therefore travels with a big wad of greenbacks and freely circulates the same, with the result that he generally gets there. We do not know that any fault can be found with this arrangement, for it is money that makes the mare go. Nearly all good things in life are now on a cash basis—including those pertaining to our synagogues.

The Belvidere is beautifully situated upon a high bluff commanding a magnificent view of the bay and islands. It has accommodation for nearly two hundred and fifty guests. The house has been unable to receive all would-be guests this season, so great has been the rush of Americans passing up and down to and from the upper lakes. Being within five minutes' walk of Parry Sound's playgrounds upon which, after hours, games of baseball, lacrosse and cricket are indulged in. There is also a music-room for the boys' own brass band, which at present is a good one, so the guard informed us.

Look Well After Their Streets.

No noxious weeds are permitted, the boulevards are well-kept, and pride is taken in having their lawns in good order. It would pay the Town Council of Lindsay to send their Street Commissioner up this way to see how things are done up here in what is supposed to be the back country.

The Canada Atlantic Railway Company not being able to secure satisfactory terms with Parry Sound gave it the go-by, placing their station three miles out at Rose Point. The R.V. Company, however, secured a route over Parry Island (Indian Reserve), connecting it with the mainland by a draw-bridge.

Depot Harbor, on the west end of the island, is the terminus of the road. Here a magnificent harbour has been secured, capable of holding a huge fleet of the biggest vessels afloat. A monster elevator has been built. The Co. has also erected houses for its employees, and already quite a little town of nearly a thousand population has grown up. A fleet of ferry-boats run between Parry Sound and Depot Harbor, and the trip over is both interesting and pleasant.

Visitors to Parry Sound take much pleasure in doing the big mill which at present are working at night. Each mill is connected with an immense tower furnace in which thousands of cords of wood are consumed annually to be gotten rid of. If Ald. Graham, of Toronto, would secure transportation for this wood to his city, his "cheap fuel for the poor" problem would be solved.

Tuesday Morning.

A rap is heard upon our bedroom door, accompanied with the melancholy information that it is 3 o'clock and time to get up. An early breakfast is short delay for the wharf, where the staunch little steamer "Bianca" is boarded, and we are soon steaming out of the harbor in the direction of Rose Point—a lovely three-mile sail in the blue morning air. The scenery around Rose Point is not lacking in beauty. An attractive summer hotel is here, with its full share of guests. Eighteen miles by rail, passing many a lovely lake (some of them said to be alive with hungry fish), rushing through rocky gorges, hurrying by a few well-titled Muskoka farms, and Maple Lake is reached.

Sword's comfortable stages are in waiting. The drive of nine miles to Port Cockburn begins without delay. A glorious morning, comfortable carrying, agreeable company, a good road, up hill and down dale, through the woods, fragrant with honeysuckle and delicious perfumes from the places; here a well-cultivated farm, there a country schoolhouse with visible through open windows and doors. "Eyes front" must have been the school marm's command, for not a head turned our way as we passed, trying to secure their attention by whistles and shouts. One American cousin remarked, "Good discipline in your Muskoka schools, I should say." Thus we spent one sweet short, delicious hour, and the towers of the Summit House loomed in sight and once more we were gazing upon the clear blue waters and inhaling the pure air of dear old Lake Joseph, the gem of all the lakes.

A perfect summer day, followed by a lovely night, made brilliant by a glorious harvest moon at its full, made our short stay at this charming spot one of great delight. This trip is conducive of early rising. Tourists, to catch the morning boats, have to belong to the early bird family. At 7 Wednesday morning we were on board the fine Str. Medora, bound down the lakes. A bright morning with a gentle breeze, neither too warm or too cold, made it exceedingly enjoyable on deck. Seven miles out the steamer called at is our next stop. Here are the government locks that connect Lakes Rosseau and Muskoka. All route lead to Port Carling; it is the great rendezvous for all sorts of craft—large fishing boats, the small get-caps, sixty yachts, and launches, some steam, others electric or gasoline, were counted passing up and down the river within two hours an evening or so ago. To be "in the swim" and number with the four hundred of Muskoka today, no doubt is a card to have an establishment with men servants and maid servants, and entertain distinguished house parties, but you must also own a steam or other motor launch or yacht. There is quite a rivalry among the wealthy nabobs of Muskoka as to the ownership of the handsomest and fastest of these little vessels. As they cost anywhere from $500 to $5,000 each it will be seen that Muskoka is rapidly becoming the Newport of Canada.

Port Carling

Vigorous Old Age.

Markham Economist: Mr. Geo. Wilson, (J.P.), editor of The Port Hope Daily and Weekly Guide, is we believe the oldest newspaper man in harness between Montreal and Toronto. He is a native of Markham, where members of the family still reside. Mr. Wilson is 70 years of age and says he feels almost as young as he ever did. He certainly looks a picture of happy hale old age, and in his habits sets an example that might profitably be followed by younger men. He is a total abstainer and has been since 15 years of age when a few leaders in the township of Markham organized a temperance society and drafted him in as one of its first members. Seven o'clock in the morning finds him at his desk, and he seldom leaves the office before six. This, of course, we think is a mistake, as a man of his age should have time to go fishing every day if he wants to, but he seems to like the office and takes a pride in every detail of the business. He sons are all successful newspaper men, including Messrs. George H. Wilson of the Lindsay Post, S. Frank Wilson of Truth and the Ladies' Journal, Toronto, and F. W. Wilson, of Port Hope, in partnership with his father. Two grandsons are also engaged in the field of journalism. Messrs. Wilson & Son have a well equipped office at Port Hope and always seem to have received a large share of public patronage.

It is claimed that people do not marry at as early an age as in former years, but still they marry, and when the happy event takes place, stationery is required, and good stationery is appreciated. ## OBITUARY

Mrs. John Connolly, West Ops.

It is our melancholy duty to record the death of Mrs. John Connolly, of West Ops, which took place at the family residence on Monday evening, Sept. 2nd, surrounded by her family and other intimate friends and neighbors. Mrs. Connolly was the second eldest daughter of the late Francis Kelly, of Ops, and was born near Rambo about sixty-nine years ago. She married her surviving husband, John Connolly, in 1851. The surviving children in order of seniority are as follows: Nicholas, at home with his father; Anastasia, at home; Mary, wife of P. J. Murphy, of South Ops; John, in Grafton, North Dakota in real estate business; Eliza, wife of Dr. Henry O'Keefe, residing in Minto, N.D.; William, residing in Washington, chief clerk in State and Commerce Department; Dolly, wife of John O'Keefe, druggist, Cavalier, North Dakota; Joseph, in Oklahoma, Okla.; Nellie, residing at home with her father; Frank, the youngest, residing at home.

On Wednesday morning, Sept. 4th, the funeral took place from the family late residence, and the large gathering of sorrowful friends and neighbors testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. The bereaved husband and family have in their affliction the sympathy of the entire community. Requiescat in pace.

Are made more beautiful still by the presence of a few handsome Rings. Not too many, of course—an excessive display is bad form.

It may not be generally known that Rings have become much cheaper during the last few years—GEM RINGS particularly. This has been brought about by the discovery of large deposits of semi-precious stones in various parts of the world.

Many ladies prefer to wear a couple of pretty and unique Gem Rings in preference to a Diamond.

We invite an inspection of our stock, satisfied that goods and prices will please.

The Sweet and Sour of Life

"SOME PEOPLE I'VE MET."

A Pleasing Lecture by Rev. J. J. Bar, of Oshawa.

The basement of Cambridge-st. Methodist church was filled to its utmost capacity last Monday by citizens desirous of hearing Rev. J. J. Bar's address on "Some People I've Met." The lecturer started out by referring to the importance of that personal pronoun, "I." Some men are all "I's" when in conversation, and while I was the important personage to which every attention should be paid, yet such men were a source of annoyance because of their egotism along this line. Other people he had met were annoyed by their very indifference, others by their baseness. The speaker said there was no one day of his life that he would sooner blot out than that day when a man under whom he was employed made one studious effort to demean his young life. There is, he said, no greater crime than that which takes away innocence and simplicity from childhood life.

Other classes he had met were those who annoy you because their words sting, while others buzz about and don't sting. There is another class which is the worst kind of all—those that turn sour. If they have been defeated in a political election, or have striven for some office, or things do not just please them, they sour—nothing satisfied them. They are the most hopeless creatures in the universe. Never do they see the bright side of human life. These are the class of people who annoy us, and they become problems that we are left to work out.

There are people that amuse us. Some of the richest benefactors are the men and women that can lift sadness from human hearts by a smile, or by their ability to turn sadness and gloom into laughter and joy. Earth has its sorrows, but we are to get ready for a heaven of laughter. Some people amuse us unintentionally; others amuse us by their inability to be amused and pronounced to be settled down to welcome the gloom. They have met disappointment, and fall under it. But the strong men and women are the moral heroes who have risen up out of their unpleasant surroundings and by great effort have taken their place in society. They have built up a name and stand responsible for it.

Another class of people are those who inspire us. The man who will help to climb up the ladder of possibility, the man who will enable you by word or deed to stand over a conquered self, is an inspiration to your life. The play idea coming into your life of work is an inspiration. The man who can make you feel you are "digging gold," whereas you are digging dirt, is a blessing to your life. The man who gives you a "boost," a helping hand, and awakens you from a state of lethargy; the man who has the ability to give a vision to mankind that they may see what lies within the range of human possibility and achievement, is a blessing to humanity because of the spirit of helpfulness in his life.

The lecture was most entertaining. The rev. gentleman, during his address, made incidents in the careers of his remarks touching on the characteristics of some people he had met. His vein of humor and sympathetic nature form a combination that gives strength to him as a pastor, and has won for him the popularity and esteem he enjoys.

WEDDING BELLS.

Young-Burke.

A pretty and happy wedding took place at the Bishop's Palace in Peterboro on Wednesday morning last, at which the Very Rev. Archdeacon Cargy officiated. The contracting parties were Mr. Joe Young and Miss Margaret Burke, two of the most popular young people of this town. The bride was attended by Miss Kate O'Loughlin, while Mr. T. Burke acted as the groom. The happy couple left on the morning train for Toronto, Chatham and other points, carrying with them the best wishes of a large circle of Lindsay friends.

Shelly-Brown.

(St. Catharines Journal, Sept. 5.) An event which proved to be an exceedingly pretty, interesting and brilliant one, was the marriage of J. Webster Shelly, one of St. Catharines' most promising and enterprising young merchants, to Miss Ida Brown, niece of Mr. J. Comstock, a young lady who is well and favorably known in a large circle of friends in this city.

The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. W. H. Harvey, the pastor of the Welland-ave. church, in the cozy parlor of Mr. Comstock's residence on Welland-ave., and in the presence of friends and immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The room had been decorated in a manner which called no attention to the attention of all present. Palms, roses, pot plants and many different varieties of cut flowers were strewn about in the most bewitching fashion, and the impression of the pretty scene long be remembered by those who witnessed it.

The bride was assisted by Miss Elsie St. John, who performed her duties in a very pleasing and lovable manner, while the duties of best-man were very ably carried out by Mr. Wm. Shelly, brother and partner to the groom. A rather pretty part of the ceremony was the part taken by little Reta Brown, of Lindsay, the bride's niece, who acted as maid of honor.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome gold watch which was presented to her by the Rev. Mr. Harvey, after the ceremony had been performed. The happy couple were surrounded with a large number of beautiful and costly presents from their friends, among others a handsome armchair from the choir of the Welland-ave. church, of which Miss Brown was a member. After partaking of a sumptuous wedding repast, the newly married couple left on an extended honeymoon for Toronto, Lindsay and Kawartha Lakes, after which they will take up their residence in this city.

Among the guests from outside places were the bride's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown, and Mrs. J. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown and family, Mr. Will Brown, Mrs. Alex. Finck, Miss Annie Kellott, all of Lindsay; Mr. and Mrs. Aaron and Miss Sarah Comstock of Peterboro; Mr. and Mrs. Mans Campbell, Chatham; Mr. D. Comstock, Kenilworth, all relatives of the bride, and friends of Mr. Shelly.

Rich and poor alike use Pain-Killer. Taken internally for cramps, colics and diarrhoea. Applied externally cures sprains, swollen muscles, etc. Avoid substitutes, there is but one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'. 25 cents and 50 cents.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The fact is, it is the only safe and reliable medicine for infants and children.

Like Old Times in Lindsay. Whitty Chronicle: If a rat-payer wishes to tie his cow on the street so as to eat a mouthful of sweet grass we have no fault to find if the rope is not long enough to reach the other side of the street and become entangled with passing rigs when an attempt is made to drive over the rope lying on the road.

Ignorant of Nature's Laws.

If not ignorant, stupid—also why attempt to treat catarrh, bronchitis and asthma by snuffs, tablets or atomizers. Such remedies can't cure, for the medication must be carried to the diseased parts by the air you breathe. Catarrh is an inflammation of the lungs, throat and nasal passages. Kills the disease from its very roots. Catarrh is a disease contracted by doctors and druggists, a never-failing cure. Try it, 25c. and $1.00.

Board of Health Meeting.

The Board of Health met in the Chairman's office last Friday at 8 p.m. Present: Chairman Keith, and Messrs. Kyle, Duck, Staples, McDonald, Mills, the Medical Health Officer and Sanitary Inspector. A report from the Sanitary Inspector was read stating that the East and South Ward Schools had been painted and disinfected, that the other public schools would be attended to later, and that the Separate School and Convent had been fumigated. Moved by Mr. Mills, seconded by Mr. Kyle, that the report be received and adopted, and that the Board approve of what has been done in the East and South Ward Schools and request the Board to fumigate the other schools with sulphur forthwith, under the supervision of the Sanitary Inspector. A report from the Sanitary Inspector complained of stagnant water on Elgin-st., James-st., and Durham-st., and stated that the same was doing harm to health. Moved by Mr. Mills, seconded by Mr. McDonald, that the Secretary be directed to notify the Council to have the water removed from the Elgin-st. mentioned in the Sanitary Inspector's report. Carried. The Board then adjourned.

Hudspeth, son of the late Adam Hudspeth, M.P., of this town, at the early age of 29 years. The cause of death was typhoid fever. The body reached town on Thursday.

—At last week's council meeting Ald. Jackson said he hoped the by-law to prohibit the posting of signs and notices on street poles would be ready for next meeting. The Bell Telephone Co. poles are being painted and we understand the Light, Heat & Power Co. will follow suit as soon as the by-law is enacted. Then a little persuasion may induce the C.P.R. and G.N.W. Telegraph Companies to follow the same example.

—The secret of a doctor's success is in knowing how long he can keep a wealthy patient alive without disgusting him with the mode of treatment.

—The Toronto World notes that "Bob" Harrison, G.T.R. constable at the Union Station, and formerly of Lindsay, is suffering from "punch" rheumatism in his hand, caused by the incessant punching of tickets at the entrance to the station tracks. Porter, who lives near Uppergrove, and we understand he holds a policy of insurance on the building.

He is Superannuated.

The Dominion government has abolished the office of Inland Revenue Inspector at Lindsay, and the duties pertaining thereto will hereafter be performed by Customs Collectors at Midland and Lindsay.

After entering the employ of the G. T. R. he resided in Port Hope for a number of years and later on was engineer on the Peterboro-Lakefield and Toronto-Peterboro runs for a time, after which he was transferred to Lindsay. About two years ago he was sent to Midland to take charge of the engine hauling the Midland-Blackwater passenger train, which necessitated the removal of his family to the Georgian Bay town. He had many warm friends in Lindsay and at other places on the division where he had been stationed for a time.

Other Places Alter It.

Toronto Mall and Empire: The Ontario Beet Root Sugar Company held an organization meeting yesterday at the Board of Trade. It is understood that while Danville is pressing to have the factory located there, other places have not given up hope, and are pressing their claims. Among the places mentioned are Aylmer, Lindsay and Whitby. Shipping facilities and a large supply of beets are the great requisites of a site for the factory.

His Birds are Winners.

Mr. D. C. Trew, our famous poultry fancier, returned Saturday morning last from the Toronto Exhibition. He exhibited in the Houdan class and swept everything, capturing five 1st and four 2nd prizes, in addition to all the honors. His record was: 1st for cock bird; 1st and 2nd for pens; 1st and 2nd for cockerels; 1st and 2nd for pullets; 1st and 2nd for breeding pen. Mr. Trew refused $250 for his birds, of New York, for a pair of birds only 4-1-2 months old, but may yet part with them if his price of $80 is accepted.

Church Notes.

—Large congregations waited on the ministrations of Rev. A. J. H. Strike, pastor of Queen-st. Methodist church, at both services on Sunday, which was very encouraging considering counter attractions. The rev. gentlemen's "Railway Sermon" last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and especially by the young people.

—Rev. W. M. Martin, B. A., of Canington, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Sunday and administered the sacrament at the morning service. He is an earnest and forcible speaker, with a pleasing delivery. The rev. gentleman and the absent minister, Rev. J. W. Macmillan, were close associates in schoolboy days.

—Rev. J. J. Rae is popular with Lindsay Methodists. This fact was attested yesterday by the large congregations at both services. This is the third time Rev. Rae has occupied Cambridge-st. pulpit. Both addresses were practical, and his clear voice commanded the closest attention. He morning address on "Covet earnestly the best gifts," was a masterly exegesis.

Surgeon General.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—Secretary Cortelyou
last night gave out the following statement:

The following bulletin was issued by the physicians at 7 p. m.: "The President was shot about 4 o'clock.

Mrs. McKinley stated:

When it was decided to remove the President from the Exposition Hospital to the Milburn residence, the news was broken to Mrs. McKinley as gently as might be, by the members of the Milburn family. She bore
the shock remarkably well, and displayed the utmost fortitude.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY SHOT.

Assassination Was Attempted at 4 O'clock

Friday While the President Was Holding a Reception.

Buffalo, Sept. 7.—The scene of excitement and anxiety displayed on

Buffalo's streets last night never had a parallel in the city's history. The Pan-American was abandoned, and the entire population, including the many thousands of temporary visitors,
congregated down town,
blockading the streets while they awaited the frequent reports of the condition of the stricken head of the nation.

The President was first reported dead, but it was soon made known that he still lived, after receiving the two bullets from the revolver of the would-be assassin, and on a succeeding announcement was more encouraging,
until about 9 o'clock it was given out that the probabilities were quite favorable for the President's recovery.

It was not until this development that Mrs. McKinley, who has been an invalid for several years, was made aware of the attempt on her husband's life. He was removed to the home of Mr. John G. Milburn, President of the Pan-American,
whose house has been occupied by the Presidential party since their arrival here.

It was a few moments after 4 p.
m. while President McKinley was holding a public reception in the great Temple of Music on the Pan-American grounds that the cowardly attack was made, with what success time alone can tell.

Standing in the midst of crowds numbering thousands, surrounded by every evidence of good will, pressed by a motley throng of polyglot peoples showing with expressions of love
and loyalty, besieged by multitudes
an eager to grasp his hand amidst those surroundings, and with the ever recurring plaudits of an admirer army of sightseers ringing
in his ears, the blow of the assassin fell, and in an instant, pleasure gave way to pain, admiration to agony,
folly turned to fury and pandemonium
followed.

Last night a surging, swaying,
ever multitudinous throng of the city
main thoroughfare, clogging the streets in front of the principal newspapers, scanning the bulletins with anxious eyes and groaning or cheering
in turn each succeeding announcement
as the nature of the message
sinks or buoyed their hopes.

Down at police headquarters, surrounded by stern faced inquisitors of the law, was a medium sized man of commonplace appearance, with the fixed gaze directed on the floor, who passed his lips firmly together, and listened with an air of assumed indifference
to the persistent stream of questions, arguments, oburgations
and admonitions with which his captors sought to induce or compel him to talk. It was just after the daily organ recitals in the splendid Temple of Music that the dastardly attempt was made. Planned with all the diabolical ingenuity and fineness
of which anarchy or nihilism are capable,
the would-be assassin carried out the work without a hitch, and should his designs fail and the President survive, only to Divine Providence can be attributed that beneficent result.

The President, though well guarded
by United States and city detectives,
was fully exposed to such an attack
as occurred. He stood at the edge of the raised dais, upon which stands the great pipe organ, at the east side of the magnificent structure.

Thronged of people crowded in at the various entrances to gaze upon their well beloved executive, perchance to clasp his hand, and then fight their way out in the good-natured
mob that every minute swelled
and multiplied at the points of ingress
and egress to the building.

The President was in a cheerful mood, and was enjoying to the full
the hearty evidences of goodwill which everywhere met his gaze. Upon his right stood John G. Milburn of Buffalo, President of the Pan-American Exposition, chatting with the President and introducing to him especially persons of note who approached. Upon the President's left stood Mr. Cortelyou.

It was shortly after 4 p. m., when one of the throng which surrounded the Presidential party, a medium sized man of ordinary appearance and plainly dressed in black, approached
as if to greet the President.
Both Secretary Cortelyou and President Milburn noticed that one of the man's hands was swathed in a bandage or handkerchief. Reports of bystanders differ as to which hand.

He worked his way amid the stream of people up to the edge of the dais, until he was within two feet of the President.

President McKinley smiled, bowed
and extended his hand in that spirit of geniality the American people so well know, when suddenly the sharp crack of a revolver rang out, loud
and clear, above the hum of voices,
the shuffling myriad of feet and vibrating waves of applause that ever and anon swept here and there over the assemblage.

There was an instant of almost complete silence, like the hush that followed a clap of thunder or a momentary silence that ensues after the discharge of a bombshell.

The President stood stockstill, a look of hesitancy, almost of bewilderment, on his face. Then he retreated a step, while a pallor began to steal over his features.

The multitude, only partially aware that something serious had happened, paused in the silence of surprise, while necks were craned
and all eyes turned as one toward the rostrum where a great tragedy
was being enacted.

Then came a commotion. With the leap of a tiger three men threw themselves forward as with one impulse, and sprang toward the would-be assassin. Two of them were United States Secret Service men, who were on the look-out, and whose duty it was to guard against just such a calamity as had here befallen
the President and the nation.

The third was a bystander, a negro,
who had only an instant previously grasped in his dusky palm the hand of the President.

As one man the trio hurled themselves
upon the President's assailant.
In a twinkling he was borne to the ground, his weapon was wrested from his grasp and strong arms
pinioned his arms.

Then the vast multitude, which

throughout the scene began to come to a realizing sense of the awfulness of the scene of which they had been unwilling witnesses. A murmur arose, spread and swelled to a hum of confusion, then grew to a babel of sounds and later to a pandemonium of noises.

But of the multitude, which witnessed or bore a part in the scene of tumult and turbulence, there was but one mind which seemed to retain its equilibrium, one hand which remained steady, one eye which gazed with unflinching calmness, and one voice which retained its even tenor and faltered not at the most critical juncture. They were the mind and the hand and the eye and the voice of President McKinley.

After the first shock of the assassin's shots, he retreated a step, then,
as the detectives leaped upon his assailant, he turned, walking steadily
to a chair and seated himself,
at the same time removing his hat
and bowing his head in his hands.

In an instant Secretary Cortelyou and President Milburn were at his side. His waistcoat was hurriedly unbuttoned, the President meanwhile admonishing those about him to remain calm and telling them not to be alarmed.

"But you are wounded," cried his secretary, "let me examine."

"No, I think not," answered the President, "I am not badly hurt, I assure you."

Nevertheless his outer garments
were hastily loosened, and when a trickling stream of crimson was seen
to wind its way down his breast, spreading its tell-tale stain over the white surface of the linen, their worst fears were confirmed.

The President was removed to the home of Mr. Milburn at 7.25 p. m.

The prisoner is locked up in the jail.

Just after the arrival of the President
at Mr. Milburn's house, at 7.30 p. m., Mr. Milburn gave out a statement, saying that, while the President's condition was serious, the wounds
were not necessarily fatal.

Dr. John Hammett of Baltimore, specialist on stomach troubles, saw the President. He stated that he did not believe the wound would prove fatal.

Third in Illustrious Line

April 14, 1865, President Lincoln, fatally shot in the back by John Wilkes Booth; died the next morning.

July 2, 1881, President Garfield, shot by Guiteau in the back, lingered
on till September, when death
relieved him of his sufferings.

Sept. 6, 4 p. m., President McKinley, shot in breast and stomach
by Nieman of Detroit (whose real name is known now to be Leon Czolgosz).

His Career.

Twenty-fourth President. Born in Miles, Ohio, Jan. 28, 1843. Served in the army of the North during the civil war, and rose to rank of captain and brevet-major. A member of the bar, and of Congress from 1871 to 1891, when he was elected Governor of Ohio. In 1896 elected by a plurality of over 600,000 votes over Mr. Bryan; last fall again successful for a second term.

Secretary of State in Charge.

Toronto, Sept. 7.—Col. Sewell, the American consul of Toronto, after expressing his sorrow, stated that the Secretary of State will take charge of affairs now and remain in charge until the worst comes to the worst or the President gets better.

NIEMAN CROSEN BY REDS.

The Would-Be Assassin of President McKinley
and His Career.

Detroit, Sept. 7.—At 7 o'clock last night the local police started out to look up Nieman, the would-be assassin
of President McKinley. Details of officers were sent out to investigate
every man by that name in the city directory.

At 11.15 p. m. the police had learned definitely that Nieman was of German descent, a blacksmith by trade,
and had always resided in or around Detroit. He was in the city up to a month ago, when he disappeared,
leaving no trace as to his whereabouts or probable destination. The police believe he was selected from a national society of "Reds" to assassinate
the President.

Selected to Do the Deed.

Buffalo, Sept. 6.—(9.15 p. m.)— Nieman said to a detective to-night at Police Headquarters that he was recently in Cleveland and had been selected to kill President McKinley.

Real Name Leon Czolgosz.

Buffalo, Sept. 6.—(12 a. m.)—The police have just learned that the real name of the would-be assassin is Leon Czolgosz. He was born in Detroit and came here from Cleveland.

Fatal to Mrs. McKinley.

London, Sept. 7.—The news of the attempt upon the life of President
McKinley spread slowly in London.
The first ticker reports were discredited,
then with the confirmation and general dissemination of the news arose a far-reaching feeling of sorrow and indignation, which,
wherever Americans were gathered,
almost gained the proportions of a panic, accompanied by feverish anxiety for further details. The thousands of Americans now in London express their unspeakable indignation
at the cowardly act; the deepest sympathy with President McKinley,
and hopes for his recovery.

And to this personal patriotic sentiment
was the dread whatever the outcome of the outrage upon the President,
it would perhaps react fatally
upon Mrs. McKinley.

Hanna "Crowned."—
"Cleveland, Sept. 7.—'My God, it can't be possible,' cried Senator Hanna, yesterday afternoon, when the despatch was read to him saying that President McKinley had been shot.
'It is terrible, and I am too shocked to express my feelings,' he added.

The Senator was prostrated by the news and begged that all despatches relating to the condition of the President be telephoned to him as fast
as they arrived.

Nelson, B. O., Sept. 7.—At the Provincial convention of the British Columbia Union Christian Endeavor
yesterday, the first bulletin of the attempted assassination of President McKinley was read and prayer was immediately offered up that he would recover. A telegram was sent to the general secretary of the Union in the United States, offering the sympathy of British Columbia Union
to the United States members.

SUNDAY'S BULLETINS.

Buffalo, Sept. 8.—The latest reports from Milburn house state that the President is resting comfortably
and that no alarming symptoms had developed on Sunday. These bulletins were issued throughout Sunday:

9 p. m.: The President is resting comfortably and there is no special change since the last bulletin. Pulse 130, temperature 101.6, respiration
30. (Signed), P. N. Rixey, Roswell Park, Herman Myer, Eugene Mas-
din, Eugene Wasdin, Charles McBurney, George B. Cortelyou, Secretary to the President.

4 p. m.—The President has slept quietly since the last bulletin, four hours altogether since 9 o'clock. His condition is satisfactory to all the physicians present. Pulse 128, temperature 101, respiration 28.

Noon.—The improvement in the President's condition has continued.
Pulse 128, temperature 101, respiration
27. Dr. McBurney, an eminent surgeon from New York, is here and one of the other physicians in consultation at 9 o'clock.

9 a. m.—The President passed a good night and his condition this morning is quite encouraging. His mind is clear and he is resting well.
Wound dressed at 8.30 and found in a very satisfactory condition. There is no indication of peritonitis. Pulse 131, temperature 102.8, respiration
24.

A REASSURING SUNDAY.

How the Day Was Passed by the President and His Watches—No Unfavorable Symptoms.

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—Throughout Sunday
every word that came from the big vine-clad house in Delaware avenue,
the residence of the stricken Chief Magistrate of the nation, has been for life, was reassuring, and last night the chances of his recovery are so greatly improved that all of those who have kept the patient vigil at his bedside feel strongly that his life will be spared. Not an unfavorable symptom showed. Five times during the day the eminent doctors and surgeons assembled for consultation and each time the verdict was unanimous that what change had occurred was for the better.

And yet, despite all this optimism,
the President of the Republic is by no means out of danger. Not one of his physicians, not one of his advisers, who are admitted to the inner councils, has the temerity to go so far as that. But if the President continues to improve for one more day, the danger of peritonitis, which is most dreaded, will have practically disappeared.

All the efforts of the ether which was administered when the operation was performed on the Exposition grounds
had disappeared yesterday morning,
and the President's mind
was perfectly clear during the time he was awake yesterday. For the first time he enjoyed natural sleep.
While he was still more or less under the influence of anesthetic his slumber was restless and disturbed and did him little good. Yesterday between 9 and 4 o'clock he had the solace of natural slumber for about four hours, and the physicians stated unofficially that his sleep had been quiet and restful and had helped the sufferer a great deal.

Sunday also for the first time nourishment was administered: It was in liquid form, and was injected hypodermically to avoid the possibility of irritating the walls of the stomach where the sutures are healing.
The exterior wound was dressed satisfactorily.

All the members of the Cabinet
are now here except Secretaries Ray and Long. The former telegraphed yesterday that he would start from Newbury, N.H., to-day, probably in time to be here to-night. Secretary Long also signified by wire that he was coming, but did not specify the time. The Cabinet officers feel it to be their duty to be here in this crisis to meet any emergencies. They are holding no formal meetings, although there are some matters of public business which they discuss informally, and the possible con-

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil.

It's curious to see the result.

Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anæmic child,
and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him
the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme.
It has been done for years.
Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Scott's Emulsion neither looks nor tastes like oil because tingencies should the President grow

worse are also thoroughly canvassed.

Last night was included within the time allotted to the President. He is holding his own, as Secretary Cortelyou expressed it, and if he successfully passes the night without loss of strength or the intervention of threatening conditions his ultimate chances of recovery will be increased. He was seen last night by all of the physicians and surgeons who are treating him, and their opinion, as expressed by the night bulletin, was favorable. They found his general condition to be unchanged,
and their examination did not disclose anything of an unfavorable nature. They believe that the President is in a serious condition, and that the crisis will not be passed for another 48 hours.

FOR STATE REASONS.

Physicians State in Demand That the President Will Not Die

Buffalo, Sept. 9.—For reasons of State it became necessary Saturday afternoon to secure, at the demand of Vice-President Roosevelt, a definite statement as to whether the President would live or die from the effects of his wound. The physicians hesitated, in view of the boundless uncertainty surrounding such a case, but the order for a conference and verdict was issued in such a manner as to brook no refusal, evasion
or equivocation.

Five surgeons joined in the consultation,
Dr. Myer, Wissner, Mann, Wasdin and Park. Every phase of the case was examined, discussed and disputed. All possibilities, as far as medical skill can diagnose, were taken into consideration in formulating the opinion of the consultation to be officially rendered. After scanning the President's condition
from every viewpoint, a unanimous verdict was reached by the consultation of surgeons which was reported to the high official who had demanded the pronouncement, in the following words:

"A careful scrutiny of the President's condition, taking into consideration
all developments, actually occurred or liable to occur, our conclusion is that His Excellency's chances of recovery are the brightest, an extremely remote possibility of peritonitis being the only element of danger."

Hardly satisfied with the careful wording of the report of the conference
the administration official demanded imperatively:

"He live or die?"

"He live or die?" the answer of the surgeon who had conveyed the report of the consultation.

THE PRESIDENT'S ASSAILANT.

Czolgosz Makes a Confession and Admits
That He Planned to Kill—Declares
He Is Alone.

While the full text of Czolgosz's signed confession will not, for a time at least, be given out, its substance is known. Czolgosz says that his parents came from Russian Poland, and that he was born in Detroit 26 years ago. He received some education in the common schools of that city, but left school
when a boy and went to work as a blacksmith's apprentice. Later he went to Cleveland, where he worked for a while and then went to Chicago.

After returning to Cleveland from Chicago he went to work in the wire
mills in Newburg, a suburb of Cleveland. He was working there up to the time he started for Buffalo,
eight days ago.

About two weeks ago Czolgosz attended a lecture given by Emma Goldman, the woman whose anarchistic doctrines have made her more notorious all over this country. The extermination of the rulers of people is a part of her creed. It was this lecture by a woman given in the City of Cleveland, the metropolis of the State in which is the President's home, that instilled in the heart of the Pole the poison of assassination.
He went back to his lodging from the lecture, with fever in his brain.
His mind was filled with the terrible preaching of this woman. The doctrine that rulers had no right to live was burned into his soul. He awoke in the morning with the lecture of Emma Goldman running through his mind.

A few days afterward he read in a Chicago paper that President McKinley was to visit the Pan-American Exposition and to remain in Buffalo for several days. The lecture of Emma Goldman and the projected visit of the President to Buffalo were linked in his thoughts.

Eight days ago he packed a small telescope valise with a few of his belongings and took an early train for Buffalo. Upon arriving in Buffalo he went at once to John Nowak's hotel at 1078 Broadway. He went there because he knew Nowak was a Pole.
He told Nowak he had come to see the Exposition and that his stay would be indefinite. He inquired of Nowak about the visit of the President, when he would arrive, how long he would be in the city, what he was to do here, and whether the people would be able to see much of him. Nowak told him what the plans were.

The next day Czolgosz went to the Exposition. He went there on the next day and the next. The idea that he might kill the President when he came was in his mind, but the purpose was but half formed.

On Wednesday morning, the day of the President's arrival, Czolgosz had his mind made up. His mission to Buffalo was clear to him then. He determined to shoot the President.
The first thing he did was to buy a 32-calibre revolver.

He arrived on the grounds shortly before noon. He knew that the President would not arrive before the early evening. He had read the papers carefully and knew every detail of the plans. But he was anxious to be on the scene.

He remained at the Exposition all day, and followed the President that day and the next, but did not get the opportunity he wanted.

Friday morning he was at the Exposition again, and was in the crowd
at the railroad gate when the President arrived at that point after crossing the grounds from the Lincoln Park entrance. But with the rest of the crowd he was driven back

when the President's carriage arrived.
He saw the President pass through the gate to the special train,
which was to take him to the Falls.

Czolgosz waited for the President's return. In the afternoon he went to the Temple of Music and was one of the first of the throng to enter. He crowded well forward as close to the stage as possible. He was there when the President entered through the side door; he was one of the first to hurry forward when the President took his position and prepared to shake hands with the people.

Czolgosz had his revolver gripped
in his right arm, and as the President's hand and the revolver were wrapped around a handkerchief. He held the weapon to his breast so that anyone who noticed him might suppose that the hand was injured.

He reached the President finally.
He did not look into the President's face. He extended his left hand, pressed the revolver

Facts about your Liver

The liver is a large gland, the largest in the body. Its work is to secrete bile and also to destroy certain poisonous compounds in the blood as the bile passes through it. It stores the bile thus obtained in the gall bladder from where it is conducted by two ducts, one leading into the stomach and the other into the intestines. The bile thus made is the most important factor in the process of digestion; for without a certain definite proportion of it none of the solvents or digestive fluids are sufficiently active enough to do their work. The liver occasionally dries up, so to speak, and no bile is secreted. This soon becomes apparent by a feeling of torpor or laziness, yawning and a yellow appearance to the skin, and in bad cases a pain in the side. The liver being a gland requires an alterative medicine, as alteratives are medicines which promote glandular secretion. In Merrill's System Tonic is found a combination of the best mineral and vegetable alteratives known and when you take it the liver is quickly restored to its proper condition. Then, too, System Tonic purifies the blood of all accumulated poisons and acts on the bowels, undoing the foul matter that has accumulated through lack of bile. ## The Weekly Post.

BOERS LOSE HEAVILY

250 Killed or Captured Within Three or Four Days.

DETAILS OF LOTTER'S FIGHT IN.

Completely Surrounded by the Cape Mounted Rifles and the Ninth Lancers. They Took Refuge in a Shed into Which the British Poured a Concentrated Fire-Carnage Was Awful.

Pretoria, Sept. 8.—Over 250 Boers have been killed or captured in the last three or four days. Col. Williams captured 20 burghers in the Magbelsburg and Gen. Grenfell almost caught the Boer Commandant Beyer, who only escaped after a hard fight of 10 miles. He took a land-ride prisoner.

Col. Rimington had an engagement east of Kroonstad, in which he killed four Boers and captured 20, in addition to many wagons and a quantity of stock.

Cols. Benson and Copley effected two surprises on the Boers in the vicinity of Middleburg, Cape Colony, in which the burghers lost 80 men. Col. Murray captured six more at Vryburg.

LOTTER'S DEFEAT.

Details of the Awful Fight Directed Against His Commando.

Cape Town, Sept. 8.—The details of the fight in which Lotter's commando was captured by Col. Scobell have just been received here. It appears that Col. Scobell surprised Lotter, who had laagered in the centre of a basin surrounded by two kraals and a shed into which the Boer pickets rushed all the wounded. The Cape Mounted Rifles and the Ninth Lancers surrounded the position completely.

The first British volleys, which were fired at daylight, stampeded the Boers' horses. The burghers, seeing that escape was impossible, took refuge in the shed, from which they returned the British fire. Then the British concentrated their fire from four points on the shed at distances of from 50 to 400 yards. Every corner of the Boer position was well searched for three-quarters of an hour, when a white flag was hoisted. Nevertheless, the Boers continued firing and a private of the Lancers, who galloped forward to receive the surrender, was shot 30 yards from the shed. The firing then ceased as Commandant Lotter came from the shelter and surrendered. The shed presented a terrible spectacle. The dead and wounded were lying in all positions.

Col. Scobell's disposition of his force was admirable and he outmaneuvered Commandant Lotter completely.

Had Good Spy System.

Pretoria, Sept. 8.—Fockema and Kerkhof, Hollanders, were court-martialed for having treacherously harbored spies at Pretoria. Mr. Lohman defended them. These trials are gradually unfolding the fact that the Boers have had a good intelligence system in Schurbeburg, which is about six miles from Pretoria, and that this has been the principal station for the receipt of communications.

Women at the Polls.

Christiana, Sept. 7.—Women are entering the campaign for the coming municipal elections, at which they hope to obtain an extended franchise and eligibility to sit in local bodies. As all the candidates are men, the women will put up a ticket, and conduct an active fight for it. It is believed to be the first time that the women of this country have united against the men's ticket.

TO PREVENT FRAUD.

Fruit Inspection Act to Be Enforced at Once.

Toronto, Sept. 9.—The inspectors who have been appointed by the Dominion Government for the enforcement of the "fruit marks act" in Ontario and Quebec met Professor Robertson, the Government specialist, on Friday and Saturday last, in this city, and received their final instructions. The gentlemen who will be responsible for the enforcement of the act are Alexander McNeill, Walkerville; Elmer Lick, Oshawa; J. P. Carey, Cobourg; E. W. Wartman, Kingston, and John Scribner, Hemmingford, Quebec. Those who are to be appointed by the Maritime Provinces will meet at some other point to receive instructions. The act is primarily intended to prevent fraud and not to interfere in any way with packers or shippers who are carrying on business honestly. The main purpose of the act is to insure that the name of the packer and address are put on every closed package of fruit, and that the fruit is not branded as finest, best or extra good, unless of a quality that may be designated by these or similar terms. Then the fruit shall not be fraudulently packed by having the package faced by fine specimens while the bottom or middle of the box is filled with inferior fruit. The act will apply alike for fruit for export and for sale on the home market. The inspectors will begin their duties at once, and while at first they will be occupied perhaps chiefly in giving information regarding the act and its enforcement, they will also take action in any cases of evident fraud.

Mr. Thomas Russell, one of the largest fruit importers of Glasgow, also had an interview with the inspectors on Saturday, and told them the conditions under which the fruit trade was handled in Scotland. He pointed out that most of the fruit from Canada was handled in an honest manner, and Canadian fruit had the highest reputation there for both quality and packing. Some few men, however, sent inferior fruit over, to the injury of the trade.

Killed by a Train.

Delhi, Sept. 9.—Yesterday afternoon a young man named Newell of Cornell was struck by the fast Horse Special on the M.C.R. at Hawtreys and died twenty minutes afterwards. He had been working on the extra train and was to have quit work last night. At the train approached the gang quit work to let it pass, and when the train was about 100 feet distant Newell was fooling with the water boy and stepped back on the track, and before he could again step forward the train struck him.

SIX VESSELS BEACHED.

One of the Roughest Nights on Lake Huron Was Saturday.

Port Huron, Mich., Sept. 9.—After one of the roughest nights ever known on Lake Huron, made worse by a heavy pall of smoke that overhung the water, six vessels are wrecked on the beach, three miles north of here. The crews of four of them were rescued by the life-saving crew, during the night, thirty-eight all told, and the crews of the other two are still on their vessels, but in no danger. Several other crafts were in grave danger during the night, but were extricated yesterday morning. The wrecked crafts are the Watnam and consort, whaleback 102; Pauley and consort, Ameranth; barque Paige and tug Sarina. In the smoke and gale their masters lost their bearings.

Sea Girl Shooting.

Sea Girl, Sept. 9.—The serious condition of President McKinley prompted the association to abandon the sailing trip yesterday and banquet on Monday night in honor of the Irish and Canadian teams.

VOLUNTARY REFORMS

China Grants and Guarantees Them by Signing Protocol.

END OF A YEAR'S NEGOTIATIONS

Ministers of the Powers as well as the Plenipotentiaries of China Sign the Document—The Rice Tribute, Which Was a Sink of Corruption, Abolished—Examinations That Have Been Abrogated.

Peking, Sept. 7.—(8 p. m.)—The protocol was signed to-day by the plenipotentiaries and Chinese plenipotentiaries. This is the result of one year of negotiations. China has agreed to make two voluntary reforms. The first one is the recent abolition of the rice tribute, which for a long time has been a sink of corruption. The second, in regard to a reform in the system of examinations, has just been authorized by an Imperial despatch to Li Hung Chang. This despatch, which approved the preliminary edict and delayed the signature of the protocol, was approved yesterday. It annulled the old system of essays, which are changed to the western style of answers to questions, in place of the traditional essay in eight divisions. The old order of military examinations is also abolished. The latter action is the most significant reform of all, and shows that the new Board of State, which is charged with the reorganization and reform of the Government, will not rest until the return of the Court of Peking and the functions of the Chinese plenipotentiaries cease. The legations will now have to deal with the new Chinese Foreign Office, which has taken the place of the old Tsung li Yamen. Prince Ching, the president of this, and Chu Hsuan-chi, one of the two Ministers, are now here. Wang Wen Shao and the other Minister are at Singanfu.

According to the highest foreign authority this institution, which was created by the protocol, will be less capable of working reforms than the old Tsung li Yamen, unless the spirit of reform dominates the court. The literati members being barred, the other members may be incapable. The members of the Tsung li Yamen were specialists, and being members of the various boards, were conversant with all the affairs of the Government.

BOAT TRAVEL ON SUNDAY.

Dominion Executive of the Lord's Day Alliance Will Appeal to the Dominion Government to Prohibit It.

President McKinley visited the Pan-American on Thursday and inspected the Canadian exhibit. Charles V. Parke, merchant, of Warton, has been appointed sheriff of Bruce County in succession to the late F. S. O'Connor.

The Dominion Executive of the Ontario Lord's Day Alliance will appeal to the Dominion Government to prohibit Sunday travel by boat. It was Pan-American Day at the Toronto Industrial Fair on Thursday. At the directors' luncheon Hon. James Stratton spoke at some length.

William Wheldon of 228 Goursol street, Ste. Cuneo, Montreal, was killed at 1 o'clock Thursday as a result of a fall from the third story of his residence to the sidewalk, almost thirty feet.

CHES NOT A TUGGIST.

His Diplomatic Mission Is at an End—Scant Attention Paid.

Berlin, Sept. 6.—Prince Chun and his suite arrived here yesterday from Potsdam and were conducted by Gen. Von Hoepfer to apartments in the Thiergarten. The envoys were accorded no reception, except by the members of the Chinese legation. Prince Chun and the new Chinese Minister, Kien Chang, were formally presented to the Empress yesterday. This ends all official recognition of Prince Chun's presence in Berlin. Hereafter he will be merely a distinguished tourist.

The German newspapers are, by desire of the Government, it is understood, paying scant attention to the presence of the Chinese mission in Germany. Most of the papers dismiss yesterday's audience with a prefatory paragraph. Prince Chun's further stay here will probably be brief.

A Willy Scheme.

Pekin, Sept. 5.—Li Hung Chang to-night notified the Foreign Ministers that the Imperial edicts providing for the signing of the peace protocol had arrived. This announcement, made immediately after the settlement of the difficulties which Prince Chun experienced before going to Berlin, confirms the impression here that the Chinese used the protocol to induce Emperor William to waive the kowtow ceremony.

Reception Was Chilly.

Tokio, Sept. 5.—No Japanese officials to-day met the Chinese mission of expiation for the murder of Sugiyama Akira, chancellor of the Japanese legation in Peking, prior to the "Boxer" uprising. On its arrival at Tokyo, the members of the mission hunted up a hotel, where they established themselves.

Stratford, Ont., Sept. 6.—While John Latimer, aged 67, a farmer living in the city, was building a load of oats Wednesday evening the front of the wagon, both wheels passed over his chest, nearly cutting him in two. He was taken to the hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries at 3 o'clock yesterday morning.

RULED OUT OF ORDER

Mr. Joseph Gibson Makes His Presence Felt in Old London.

REV. DR. POTTS LIKewise SPEAKS

The latter's Patriotic Reply Was in Answer to Sir Charles Skelton's Assertion That "Hell Is Let Loose in South Africa"—Archbishop's Letter to Conference Could Not Read.

London, Sept. 6.—The Ecumenical Methodist conference yesterday unanimously declined to hear the secretary read the message of the Archbishop of Canterbury, in which he expressed a hope that some day the Methodists would be united with the Episcopalians and on similar import the message of the Bishop of London, on the ground that they had been addressed to the editor of a religious newspaper and not to the conference.

The Rev. I. Bowman Stephenson of England, in moving that the messages should not be received, said that the conference would not have had cause to complain had the proposals been approached in a proper manner.

The proceedings were interrupted by an ardent pro-English speech, delivered by Rev. Joseph Gibson of Ingersoll, Canada, who defended the action of the British in South Africa.

Frequent interruption arose from the English delegates, one of whom finally declared that if Mr. Gibson proceeded he would have to be answered in a controversial strain, as he was voicing sentiments by no means shared by many present, whereupon the chairman ruled Mr. Gibson out of order.

Rev. J. P. Goucher of Baltimore, Md., read a paper on "The Present Position of Methodism in the Western Section."

Rev. J. D. Hammond of Nashville, Tenn., reported on Methodism in the South, and Rev. W. Johnson of Belleville reported for Canada.

Discussing the present position of Methodism, Rev. T. E. Duckles of King William's Town, Cape Colony, went into the relations between the South African natives and the Europeans. He said he believed the war would purify the administration of the natives.

Bishop Hartzel, missionary bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Africa, said that the present time was the beginning of another Empire of Anglo-Saxon civilization. The war was merely an incident.

Dr. Leonard of New York thanked God for what Great Britain was doing in South Africa, and expressed the hope that the war would soon end, with the Union Jack floating.

Another incident which attracted comment was a declaration of Sir Charles Skelton, formerly mayor of Sheffield, who, in welcoming the Americans, severely criticized the war in South Africa, exclaiming: "Hell is let loose in South Africa!"

He appealed to the visitors to go back and, by preaching and example, make such war impossible.

Dr. Potts of Toronto, replying in behalf of Canada, protested, in a heated patriotic speech, against the statements made by Sir Charles Skelton.

GR IN COMING EAST.

First Two Days Saw 210,000 Bushels Handed by C.P.R.—Sir Wm. C. Van Horne Says 100,000,000 Bushels.

Montreal, Sept. 6.—Advices received by Mr. C. M. Bosworth, freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, show that the movement of this year's wheat crop has already commenced. On the 2d there was marketed 22,000 bushels, and on the 3rd 120,950 bushels, which is over twice as much as the quantity marketed during the month of September last year. The actual cars on the 2nd were 49, and on the 3rd 77.

New York, Sept. 6.—The Herald prints the following: Sir William C. Van Horne, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway, estimates Wednesday that the grain crop in the Canadian Northwest would reach a total of 100,000,000 bushels. "This is a bumper crop," said Sir William, "and will allow the farmers a surplus for export trade."

More Harvesters Needed.

Winnipeg, Sept. 6.—The local Agricultural Department is being besieged with inquiries from farmers throughout the Province for help in the harvest fields, where good men in stacking and threshing can command $1.50 to $3 per day.

Forty farm laborers arrived from England yesterday. They state that in England the newspapers advertised for 20,000 farm laborers for Canada to assist with the harvest and that the wages would be 10 shillings per day for several months' work. They were disappointed to find that from $30 to $40 per month was all that was offered for harvesters, but all accepted engagements in various parts of the Province. Eighteen new engines have reached the C. P. R. western division from Richmond, Va., and Montreal, and 18 more are expected within the next week or two. These will be engaged in the extra work of hauling the big crop to the Port William elevator. There are now 270 engines on the western division of the C. P. R.

Sale of Sheepskins.

London, Sept. 7.—A sale of sheepskins was held here yesterday, and will be continued to-day. There are 3,850 bales, and 192,470 skins offered. The attendance was large. The quality of the stock was fairly satisfactory, and there was unlimited demand. Merinos sold at 7 1/2 per cent., and cross-breeds 5 per cent. Long woolled grades were 1d. to 1 1/2d., and short woolled a farthing to 1 1/2d., dearer.

THE ROYAL SALUTES

Cannon Will Thunder in Welcome to the Duke of York.

TIME WHEN THEY WILL BE FIRED

Hours and Dates at Which the Reviews at Quebec, Toronto and Halifax Will Take Place—A Detachment of 400 Men From North American Squadron Will Be at Quebec and Halifax.

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—When the Ophir with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York arrives at Quebec on the 16th instant a Royal salute of 21 guns will thunder out from the fleet and from the batteries at the Citadel. On the official landing of the Royal visitors the salute will be repeated. There will also be similar salutes when the Duke and Duchess leave for the review and return, and on their departure for Montreal. At Montreal, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Toronto, Hamilton, Kingston, St. John and Halifax Royal salutes will be fired when their Royal Highnesses arrive at and depart from the respective cities. In Toronto and Halifax guns will boom the same as at Quebec when the Royal party pass to and from the review grounds. The Quebec review will take place at 7 1/2 a. m. on the 17th instant, the Toronto review at 11 a. m. on October 11th, and the Halifax review at 3 p. m. on October 19th. A detachment of 400 men from the North American squadron will participate in the reviews at Quebec and Halifax.

Warships in Royal Salutes.

At Montreal, Quebec, Vancouver and Halifax warships will join the garrison batteries in the Royal salute. In the other cities visited the salute will be fired by the local batteries. His Excellency Lord Minto will receive a salute of nineteen guns at every place he visits. The Governor-General will travel in his own train, which will precede the Royal train by half an hour. This is the following procedure adopted in Australia. During the Royal stay in Montreal the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York will occupy the mansion of Lord Strathcona. The residence of Mr. James Allan has been placed at His Excellency's disposal. Both houses are on Dorchester street. While the Duke and Duchess are in Montreal two British warships will be moored in the harbor.

The Royal Procession.

The following will be the order of the Royal procession wherever formed: Three mounted police, interval of 25 yards, two troopers, one sergeant, interval of 50 yards, one staff officer, No. 1 troop escort, interval of 50 yards, carriages of Royal suite, headquarters staff, Canadian militia, interval of 50 yards.

Royal Carriage.

Rear-guard escort—One Sergeant; interval of 50 yards, two troopers; interval of 25 yards, three mounted police.

The guard of honor will consist of a field or captain, two subalterns and 100 rank and file, with the King's color on occasions of review, and the band of the regiment.

Ophir Heads for Quebec

St. Vincent, Sept. 6.—The Royal yacht Ophir, with the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York on board, escorted by the British cruisers Diadem and Niobe, sailed for Quebec yesterday.

ACCIDENT AT BRIDGEN.

One Has Terminated Fatally and the Other May.

Bridgen, Sept. 6.—An accident resulting fatally to George Branton of Wallaceburg occurred half a mile west of here on the Fourth line, at Bear Creek hill, Wednesday afternoon, by his horse turning suddenly when driving down the hill, throwing Mr. Branton out down the embankment, and breaking his right shoulder. Dr. Fisher was in attendance soon after the accident and the injured man was brought to the Queen's Hotel here, where everything was done to relieve his suffering. He did not regain consciousness and died during the night.

During the afternoon Mr. Branton was driving through Main street with Hiram Hales in the buggy, and when near the corner at the Commercial Hotel, the horse turned very fast and overtook the rig, throwing both men out. The doctors found that Mr. Hales' skull was fractured, and he is seriously injured about the shoulders. At present writing his condition is considered very serious, but not fatal.

Close Down or Move.

Ottawa, Sept. 6.—Mr. J. R. Booth, speaking to a press representative yesterday about his summons to the Police Court for throwing sawdust into the Ottawa River, said he would be fined and would keep on paying the fine as long as he could, and the mill would close down or be moved.

Damaged by Storm.

Montreal, Sept. 9.—A terrible storm of wind and rain burst down Saturday evening upon Lake St. Louis, and the whole north shore was raked for and aft, making almost a complete wreck of the St. Lawrence Yacht Club's fleet. A good deal of damage was also done on the south shore, but fortunately no fatalities are reported.

Nova Scotia Elections.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 9.—Hon. A. McMillan and C. P. Chisholm will again be the Liberal candidates in Antigonish at the local elections.

Compare the Lindsay stores of ten or fifteen years ago with the stores of to-day. You will find that the old stores which were not advertised (if they exist at all) are no bigger or busier than they used to be, while the stores which were well advertised have had to be enlarged to accommodate their increasing business. Even young firms have started and outstripped the old ones by sheer force of advertising.

The Canada Life Assurance Co.

A Business Proposition.

We offer you a better investment than Government Bonds.

Better for three reasons.

- 1st.—Canada Life 5 per cent. Gold Bonds yield a much higher rate of interest than Government Bonds.
- 2nd.—They are paid for by instalments—thus placed within the reach of men without capital.
- 3rd.—They are insured. That is, should the investor die after paying only one instalment on his bonds, all his future payments to the Company would be immediately cancelled and the benefits of his investment would at once become available.

Add to all these advantages the very material one that the investor shares in the surplus earnings of this leading Company, and you have an opportunity for safe and profitable investment rarely equalled. A handsome booklet, giving a full explanation, will be sent on request.

FENELON FALLS.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
H. L. there. One of the very best combined orators and comedians in audiences in suspense at Munro, Victoria and High Parks, Toronto, and drew more people than ever before, will give their entertainment on the grounds at Lindsay during the exhibition on Sept. 26th, 27th and 28th.

Mr. Percy Knox and Miss Knox entertained their friends on Monday by giving them a sail on the Dainties to Boboyou.
Elder H. H. performed the ordinance of baptism on Sunday in the river near the railroad bridge. About 200 people gathered to see the ordinance performed in the proper mode, as usual by the "Latter Day Saints." One of the subjects for baptism was a young child, and if a person can judge from looks, she regarded the whole affair as a huge joke. Elder H. H.'s success here so far has been of small dimensions, if he regards the learning under the belief of other Christian denominations as the road to success, he will find himself badly mistaken.
Work at the Standard Chemical Company's plant here goes steadily on, and in the course of three weeks there will be running at double the capacity lately used.
The main street in this village is a disrepute to a progressive business centre like Fenelon Falls. Gravel is scarce, and it is surprising that a street of this importance should be allowed to assume such a deplorable condition. Where is the chairman of the Street and Bridge committee? He should either attend to this matter or resign his post at the Council's head.

The meeting of the town convention was held here on Wednesday of this week and was fairly well attended by the fire-eating copies of the riding. It is likely that this country will be safe now for a while after the display of oratory.
Mr. J. Townley returned from Toronto on Tuesday, whither he had come on a business trip.
Mr. P. J. Knox returned to Lindsay on Tuesday, where he is attending the Model School.
Miss Guest, of Simcoe County, is visiting Mrs. (Dr.) Mason.

BANDRINGHAM-ELDON.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Come now! we will go to the Lindsay Exhibition on the 26th, 27th and 28th Sept. Harry Rich is to be there. He is Canada's foremost comedian in a series of very funny and amusing songs and sketches.
On the evening of the 24th inst., at the residence of John Torry, there occurred one of those pleasing events which sends a thrill of pleasure through young and old hearts, when the social circle of daughter, Miss Catherine A., was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. K. A. Ferguson, of "The Glen," North Manvers. Long before the hour appointed the majority of the invited guests had congregated on the lawn in front of the parlor, where the interesting ceremony was to be performed, all anxious to get a glimpse of the bride elect, who was highly esteemed by all in the community. At 4.30 the marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. N. A. McDonald, of Manse Grove, Eton, who appears to be quite an expert at tying such knots. The bride was given away by her father, and was charmingly dressed in a color of broad satin, trimmed with pearl trimming and chiffon. Her sister, Miss Mary, was bridesmaid, and looked handsome in white silk, trimmed with white ribbon and pearl trimming. Little Miss Ruth Walker acted as maid of honor and stood in white tulle. The groom was assisted through the trying ordeal by his brother, Angus Ferguson. The wedding march was delightfully played by Miss Minnie McRae. The bride and bridesmaids each carried a bouquet of white asters, and the parlor was handsomely decorated with ferns and white asters. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold bracelet. A Mon, if ever, have we seen such an array of costly and useful presents as the bride received, which shows plainly the high esteem in which she was held. After congratulations extended to the happy couple, all repaired to the tables, which were fairly groaning with all the delicacies of the season. Soon afterwards the sweet strains of the violin were heard and the light fantastic was tripped till the "wee wee" hours afloat the town. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson left by the morning train for Toronto, where they intended to take in the exhibition from there to journey to Niagara Falls and then to Buffalo to visit the Pan-American.

We wish the young couple long life, health and prosperity. Your reporter would naturally come to the conclusion, when he took an observation of the many young ladies and gentlemen who sat down to the table, that there is a rich harvest in store for the Rev. Mr. McDonald in the near future.
We hear they are offering larger and better prizes for all stock at the Lindsay Fair this year. We may expect to see a very fine display in all classes.

LITTLE BRITAIN.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Come to Lindsay Fair with us to see the three year old speeding—a new feature. Nothing like bringing in young blood. Sept. 26th, 27th and 28th.
For bicycle repairing and bicycle supplies, go to Isaac McKee. He is a practical mechanic and can guarantee a first-class job. Bells, engines and fenders repaired promptly and reasonably. ISAAC MCKEE, Little Britain.
Mrs. Perry and child, of Lindsay, were visiting at Mr. J. Trick's last week.
Let us go to the Lindsay Central. The little children, the youngest and cleverest national dancers in the Dominion, winners of many prizes, are one of the special attractions at the Fair.
Mrs. R. S. Robertson and daughters have arrived from Buffalo, where they were attending the Pan-American.
Mrs. R. Elker and Miss Stella Evans were guests of Mr. E. Z. Yerex on Friday, Sept. 6th.
We are glad to note that a new doctor has arrived, although he is very young yet. There is full time for him to grow.
Mrs. J. Glenn has presented her husband with a fine boy.
Miss Lily Holman, of Sunderland, was a guest of Mr. E. Z. Yerex on Sept. 6th.
Mr. R. Greenaway is improving his fine dwelling house greatly by erecting a new verandah and fence in front.
Mr. J. Blawett has painted his fence, which makes it more attractive.

We are glad to see the genial physician of Mr. D. Yerex in the mill again after his severe attack of typhoid fever.
Mr. A. Delve, one of our former ministers, has come back again for a visit, bringing his bride. We all heartily wish him much joy on his success.
A number of ten men are seen driving away and coming back to the hotel every night and morning. They are engaged in putting up a new telephone line, called the metallic system which enables the parties speaking to hear much more distinctly. We are glad we have got this improvement because it will be a great deal more satisfactory.
Mr. Leslie Hall, Mr. Sam Hall, Mr. W. Henderson, Mr. H. Henderson, Mr. F. Newton and Mr. C. C. Newton were over to Buffalo last week taking in the Pan-American. They say it is something grand and worth while going to.

On Sunday and Monday, Sept. 8 and 9, the E. L. C. Endeavor had a reunion. On Sunday morning Mr. C. W. of Toronto gave us a splendid sermon, everybody being delighted with it. He also preached in the evening; the church was crowded, there being six hundred or over present, and no one went away without feeling that they had been benefited by his sermon. On Monday morning Mr. D. W. of Windsor, delivered a fine lecture on the Model League, after which Mr. Clarke, of Woodville, gave us a short talk, both were well received. The proceeds from collection on Sunday and Monday both were $27.50.
Mr. T. R. Bullivant, sr., has moved into the village.
Mr. Hancock is erecting a new dwelling.
The harvest home of the Christian church, which was held on Saturday evening, Sept. 7th, was very satisfactory, there being a large crowd and all enjoyed themselves greatly.
Mr. T. Beaulieu, sr., has purchased a fine dwelling of Mrs. White-side, and we hope to see him moving in soon.
Master Milton Yerex, who has been sick lately with typhoid fever, is out again.

KIRKFIELD.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. Wm. McFarlane has left the farm of Campbell and Graham, merchants here, and gone north to Powness to manage a store. He will be very much missed here, being a member of the Presbyterian church choir and a general favorite with everybody. We wish him every success in his new duties.
Let us all go to the Lindsay Central to see Lily Holman, the youngest and cleverest national dancers in the Dominion, winners of many prizes, are one of the special attractions at the Fair.

OAKWOOD.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Come with us to the Lindsay Fair to see Varin & Turne, the celebrated Mexican axe jugglers, showing their wonderful skills in handling a perfect shower of axes, Sept. 26th, 27th and 28th.
This month Oakwood has been somewhat livelier than usual, the council meeting, regular division court and court of revision being held here while they brought a good many into the village on special business.
Now that the big Toronto fair is over the people have quit telling their big yarns about what they did see and are commencing to think of the fair to be held in Oakwood on the 1st and 2nd of October. The track is in good condition for speeding and if you want to see some nice work done by green horses, come out one evening, when you can see them practicing. Admission, free.

Mr. Jas. Ghies, of Little Britain, and Miss Jacket of Taylor's Corners were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony lately. The ceremony was performed in Port Hope. They took in Toronto and the Pan-American, returning to Oakwood Tuesday evening.
James Lockhart, of Chicago, Thomas Stanton and wife, of Pontypool and Misses Drummond, of Pleasant Point, were the guests of Mrs. L. T. Dickie the last few days.
Mrs. G. B. Rennie is on a week's visit with friends in Collingwood.
Mr. N. E. Yarnold, of Port Perry, is in the village this week making a survey for the purpose of having our village property drained. This is what should have been done long ago.
Thanks to the efforts of some of our townsmen the graveyard at East Oakwood is once more taking on a presentable appearance. The ground which was kept in long ago, is now being cleared up. It is the intention to have the property fenced and have it divided up in lots. When finished it will certainly be a vast improvement.
Mr. Herb Rennie returned on Saturday evening from a 10 days' trip to Toronto and the Pan-American.
The Misses Jacket returned from Buffalo on Tuesday evening.
Mrs. Ed. Prouse is visiting friends in Norland.
Mrs. A. O. Hogg is enjoying a visit with friends in Detroit, Mich.
Messrs. Ed. Dames and A. B. Sherman paid Toronto to exhibition a visit last week. They report a good time.
Mrs. C. A. Stanton, formerly of this village, but now of Quebec, is visiting friends here this week.
Mr. T. H. Tebo and family are on an extended trip down through New Spare yourself the labor of making up your boy's clothing, or making over for the little kids the old clothes that the bigger boys have worn. COUCH has made a mighty slash in prices of Boys' Suits. Actually you can purchase them this week at prices that won't pay you to bother making them at home.

"Don't Spoil the Ship for a Ha'porth of Tar."

The assertion is not quite accurate; to be nearer the truth we should have said "more than all the other stores in Lindsay." Why is this so? Come in, look at the Suits and compare the prices—your question will answer itself.

Arms and the Woman.

By HAROLD MACGRATH.

"With her keep perfectly quiet if I take the handkerchief from his mouth," he asked. I nodded, bewildered.

"What in tophet does this mean?" I asked. I did not say tophet, but it looks better in writing.

"It means nothing and everything," was the answer. "In the first place, here will fight no duel. The man with whom you were to fight was sent on an errand to this out of the way place as a punishment for his duelling at the capital. I know him by reputation. He is a brawler, but a fair swordsman. He would have you as I would a chicken. There is another who has a prior claim on him. If there is anything left of Herr Lieutenant at the end of the fray, you are welcome to it. Yes; there will be a duel, but you will not be one of the principals. It is all arranged."

"But I do not understand," I cried. "It is not necessary that you should."

He laughed and rubbed his hands in pleasurable anticipation. "There is a young man down stairs who arrived a few moments before the lieutenant. He has a special affair. There were words. Herr Lieutenant is mad enough to fight a whole company."

"Then why in heaven's name am I up here in this condition?" I cried. "Let me go and be the young man's second, though I can't for the life of me see where he has come from so suddenly and I might say opportunely. Come, cut me loose."

"It is too late."

"Too late?"

"Yes. Herr Lieutenant has been informed that you ran away."

"Run away!" I roared. "You told him that I ran away? Curse your insolence! I'll break every bone in your body for this!" I cried, straining at the ropes.

"The ropes are new," said he. "You'll hurt yourself."

"You told him that I ran away?" This was too much.

"Yes. Ah, but you will be surprised. The duel will last five minutes. Herr Lieutenant will thrust. The thrust will be parried. He will feint; useless. Thrust on thrust, parry on parry. Consternation will take the place of confidence. He will grow nervous. He will try all his little tricks, and they will fail. Then his eyes will roll and his breath come in gasps. Suddenly he thinks he sees an opening. He lunges. Ah, the fool, it is all over!" The old man's voice quivered with excitement. He had passed his time in the barracks and had seen many a sword skirmish.

"Well, are you going to take off these ropes?"

"No. You would break every bone in my body."

I groaned in exasperation. "You will soon be out of breath."

Oh, could I have but loosened those cords!

"Stahlberg, who left the service a year ago, will act in the capacity of second." Stahlberg was at the head of the vineyard. "I shall watch the affair from the window here. The scene of action will take place in the clearing beyond. It will be an affair worth witnessing."

"And where is Gretchen?"

"Where she should be—at the bar, a dutiful barmaid." Then I heard nothing but the deep cacklings of the innkeeper. There was something in the affair which appealed to his humor. I could not see it. For ten minutes my vocabulary was strictly unprintable.

"Will you kindly tell me what the meaning of all this is?"

"Herr Winthrop, the idyl has come to an end. The epic now begins."

CHAPTER XII.

The golden summer moon was far up now, and the yellow light of it came in to the window and illumined the grim face of the innkeeper, throwing a grotesque shadow of him on to the floor. The leaves rustled and purred against the eaves. As the branches moved so did the light and darkness move over the innkeeper's visage. He was silent and meditative.

"An epic," I said.

"An epic," said I, "if I give you my word of honor not to molest you or leave this room will you let me be a witness?"

He passed into the gloom, then back into the light. "This is no trick?" suspiciously. "I have a deal of regard for my old bones, old as they are."

"On my honor."

"Well, I'll do it. It is in the blood of us all. But a false move on your part, and I promise you that this knife shall find a resting place in you."

He cut the ropes, and I was free. But my arms ached. The two of us took our stand by the window and waited for the principals in the drama about to be enacted in the clearing.

I confess that my conscience was ill at ease. Why I knew not. I was dreading something, I knew not what. The innkeeper's hand trembled on my arm.

"Sh! They come," he whispered.

As I looked beyond his finger I saw four figures advance over the sword. One of them, a slight boyish form, was new to me. The fellow walked briskly along at the side of Stahlberg, who was built on the plan of Hercules. When they came to the clearing, they stopped. The seconds went through the usual formalities of testing the temper of the swords. Somehow I could not keep my eyes off the youngster who was going to do battle with the veteran, and I could not help wondering where in the world he had come from and why in the world he had chosen this place to settle his dispute in. There were plenty of courtyards.

He tottered and fell in the arms of his subordinate.

battles." I said sternly. "My God, breaking down suddenly, 'supposing you had been killed!'"

"It was not possible. And the man insulted me, not you. A woman? Very well. I can defend myself against everything but calumny. Have I made a laughing stock of you? It is nothing to me. It would not have altered my— She was very white, and she stroked her forehead.

"It would not have altered my determination to take the sword in hand again."

She put her hand to her throat as though something there had tightened. "Ah, I am a woman, for I believe that I am about to faint. No!" Imperious, I as I threw out my arms to catch her. "I can reach the door alone without assistance."

I was a man—human. I loved her. I had always loved her. I had never loved any one else. I was a coward to do what I did, but I could not help it. I crushed her to my breast and kissed her lips, not once, but many times.

"How dare you?" weakly.

"How dare I, Gretchen, dear Gretchen?" I said. "I dare because I love you! I love you! What is it to me that you have dishonored me in the eyes of men? Nothing. I love you. Are you a barmaid? I care not. Are you a conspirator? I know not nor care. I know but one thing. I love you. I shall always love you. Shall I tell you more? Gretchen, you love me!"

"No, no, it cannot be!" she sobbed, pushing me back. "I am the most wretched woman in the world. Do not follow me, here. Leave me; I beg you to leave me. I have need of the little strength left. Leave me, leave me!"

And she passed through the doorway into the darkness beyond. I did not move from where I stood. I grew afraid that it was a dream and that if I moved it would vanish. I could not feel her little, warm body palpating in my arms. My lips still tingled and burned with the flame of hers. An exultant wave swept over me. She loved me! She had not told me so, but I knew. She had put her heart before mine. My life was dearer to her than her own. I could have laughed for joy. She loved me! My love overwhelmed my shame, engulfed it. Then—

"I know you," said a harsh voice at my elbow. It startled me, and I wheeled swiftly. It was the lieutenant's brother officer. "I thought from what I heard of you that you were a man worth trouble and caution. Ah, you, the man we have scoured the country for? I should not have believed it. To let a woman fight for him! And she—she is more than a woman—she is a goddess!" with enthusiasm. "If I was betrothed to her, I'd find her in a hunt in heaven and hell for her. And what does she see in you?" He snapped his fingers derisively. "I warn you that your race is run. You cannot leave a railway station within the radius of a hundred miles. The best thing you can do is to swim the river and stop in the middle. The prince is at the village, and he shall know. Woe to you, you meddler!"

"Young man," said a voice from over my shoulder from the doorway, "you should by right address those impertinent remarks to me. I am Hillars, the man you seek."

And I had forgotten his very existence! What did he know? What had he seen?

"You may inform Count von Walden," continued Dan, "that I shall await his advent with the greatest of impatience. Now let me add that you are treating this gentleman with much injustice. I'll stake my life on his courage. The Princess Hildegard is alone responsible for what has just happened."

"The Princess Hildegard?" I cried. Hillars went on: "Why she did this is none of your business or mine. Why she substituted herself concerns her and this gentleman only. Now go, and be haughty to you and your prince and your count and your whole stupid country. Come, Jack!"

The fellow looked first at me, then at Dan.

"I apologize," he said to Dan, "for mistaking this man for you." He clicked his heels, swung around and marched off.

"Come," said Dan.

I dumbly followed him up to my room. He struck a match and lit the candle.

"Got any tobacco?" he asked, taking out a black pipe. "I have not had a good smoke in a week. I want to smoke awhile before I talk."

I now knew that he had been a witness to all or at least to the larger part of it.

"There is some tobacco on the table," I said humbly. I felt that I had wronged him in some manner, though unintentionally. "The Princess Hildegard?" I murmured.

"The very person," said Hillars. He lit his pipe and sat on the edge of the bed. He puffed and puffed, and I thought he never would begin. Presently he said, "And you never suspected who she was?"

"On my word of honor, I did not," Dan said, I, staring at the faded designs in the carpet. The golden galleon had gone down, and naught but a few bubbles told where she had once so proudly ridden the waters of the sea. The Princess Hildegard! The dream was gone. Castles, castles!

"I am glad you did not know," said Dan, "because I have always believed in your friendship. Yet it is something we cannot help, this loving a woman. Why, a man will lay down his life for his friend, but he will rob him of the woman he loves. It is life. You love her, of course."

"Yes," I took out my own pipe now. "But what's the use? She is a princess. Why, I thought her at first a barmaid—a barmaid! Then I thought her to be in some way a lawbreaker, a socialist conspirator. It would be droll if it were not sad. The Princess Hildegard!" I laughed dimly. "Dan, old man, let's dig out at once and close the page. We'll talk it over when we are older."

"No; we will face it out. She loves you. Why not? So do I! He got off the bed and came over to me and rested his hands on my shoulders. "Jack, my son, next to her I love you better than anything in the world. We have worked together, starved together, smoked and laughed together. There is a bond between us that no human force can separate. The princess, if she cannot marry you, shall not marry the prince. I have a vague idea that it is written. 'The moving finger writes and, having writ, moves on.' We cannot cancel a line of it."

"Dan, you will do nothing rash or reckless!"

"Sit down, my son, sit down. Premeditation is neither rashness nor recklessness. Jack, life has begun with you. With me it has come to an end. When there is nothing more to live for, it is time to die. But how? That is the question. A war would be a godsend. But these so-called war lords are a lazy lot or cowardly or both. Had I a regiment, what a death! Jack, do you not know what it is to fight the invisible death? Imagine yourself on the line, with the 'merry thundering' toward you, sabers flashing in the sunlight and lead singing about your ears. It is the only place in the world to die—on a battlefield. Fear passes away as a cloud from the face of the sun. The enemy is bringing you glory—or death. You would give a good deal for a regiment and a bad moment for your side. But the regiment non est. Still, there is left!"

"Dan, what are you talking about?" I cried.

Death—grim, gaunt and gray death, whose footstep is as noiseless as the fall of snow; death, the silent one, as the Indian calls him."

He knocked the ash from his pipe, and stuffed the briar into his pocket. "Jack, I am weary of it all. If I cannot die artistically, I wish to die a sudden and awful death. What! Do I look like a man to die in bed, in the lace-trimmed ward? For surely I shall land there soon! I am going to places like a sand house in a windstorm. I suppose I'm talking nonsense. After all, I haven't as much to say as I thought I had. Suppose we turn in? I'm tired. You see, those fellows moved me around today."

CHAPTER XIII.

Hillars and I stood in the middle of the road. He held the binoculars. "How many can you make out?" I asked.

"Four. All on horseback. There's a coach of some sort following on behind. But everything is blurred, and my hand trembles. The whisky here is terrible. Here, look for yourself," handing the glasses to me. "Tell me what you see."

"There's one with a white cap—ah, it is Count von Walden! There are two soldiers in the Hohenphalian uniform, cavalry. I do not know who the fourth fellow is."

"Describe him to me," said Hillars, trying to roll a cigarette with his trembling fingers. "Curse it!—throwing away the rice paper—I've got so bad that I can't roll a cigarette! Well, what's he look like?"

"He's in civilian dress; has a little black mustache and an imperial."

"Look anything like Napoleon III?"

"You've hit it. Who is he?"

"They say he's Prince Ernst of Wurttemberg," said Hillars, "but it is my opinion that he's the devil on a four-lough."

"Then he is the man!"—I began.

"He is. Your love affair is all over once he gets here, unless"—Dan looked at the sky as though he was undecided about the weather.

"Unless what?" I asked.

"Oh, just unless," said he. "I'd give $5 for a glass of homemade whisky."

"You've got a plan of some sort," said I. "Speak it out."

"It wasn't a plan; it was just an idea. It's gone now. Maybe it will come back later. Are you going to stay here or come with me and tackle a bottle of the innkeeper's Rhine wine? The German vinegar used to make you hilarious."

"What's the coach for?" I asked. "Are they going to carry us off like a couple of chickens?"

"I presume it is for her serene highness. I wonder how they found out she was here? Probably the lieutenant was going to fight, but didn't, informed them. At any rate, the coach will not be for us. The prince will not bother with you and me while the princess is here! I don't know what they will do with us. Possibly nothing; possibly put us in jail. Come along; I'm thirsty."

It was late in the afternoon of the day following. I had not seen her serene highness the Princess Hildegard—Gretchen. She had remained in her room, and all efforts of mine to hold communication with her had proved futile. I had stood at her door and supplicated. She had told me to go away. The innkeeper had scowled when I suggested that he carry a note to his mistress. He had refused.

"The princess receives no notes," he had said. "Gretchen—it was a different matter."

And Hillars had slept till after noon. It had been a bad morning for me. The wounded lieutenant had been carried away the night before, and there had not been anything for me to do but wander about—waiting.

"Will you help me with the Rhine wine?" asked Hillars.

"No. My head is ruddled enough as it is."

"Then you must let me do all the talking."

"And why not?"

"I shall know better how to irritate them," with a laugh. "They will not take any particular interest in you when they set eyes on me. Homo sum! I am the man they are looking for. They will find plenty of me. I shall be a syndicate in myself. Where they expect to find one man they will find a dozen, all alive and kicking. It will be good sport."

"What the devil are you up to?" I demanded.

"Wait and see; wait and see. Come, let us receive them in the hall. The affair must be conducted on the line of court etiquette. First, we shall try to avert hostilities by the aid of diplomacy. If that fails, the princess herself will be made to vindicate us. And why not?"

"You are not going to drag her in?" I exclaimed.

"My dear Jack, of course not. The prince and the count will do that for us. You understand that she is concerned in all that is to take place, do you not? Well, then, it will cost her but little."

"But this fellow, the prince?" I cried. "Let us get out while there is time." Dan regarded me seriously.

"You aren't afraid of him? What do you want to run away for? My son, there will be some very good sport before this is done. You will miss it by running away."

"It's meeting the man who is to marry her—the woman I love. That is the reason."

"To marry her—the woman I love?" he repeated softly. "Yes, it is hard. But it isn't any worse for you than for me."

"Forgive me, Dan! You know—"

"Yes, yes; I know," crossly. "Hang it, can't I punch it into your head that I am taking all this trouble on your account? If it were not for you, do you suppose I'd wait? The prince shall never marry the princess. Can that satisfy you? Now, look pleasant," as the photographer says, for here they are."

The count entered first, then the prince, who was followed by two cavaliers. Hillars and I stood silently by our chairs and waited. The prince, a man with a hooked nose, black eyes with half shut lids, regarded me curiously. He had the air of one amused. When his eyes grew accustomed to the semidarkness of the room, the count sounded a note of satisfaction.

"Ah, so you are here? You have given me a devil of a chase!"

"I return the compliment, Herr General," said Hillars, with a good humored smile. "But, may I ask, what the devil have you been chasing me for?"

For reply the count turned to the cavaliers. "Arrest that man and bind him!" he said.

"You might make the order wholesale," said I, stepping over to the side of Hillars.

"I told you there would be some sport," whispered Dan. He put his arm across my shoulders.

"And who, in the name of Weimar, are you?" bawled the count. He scrutinized me intently. Then a light of recognition broke over his face. "The other one! A nest of them!"

"Count," interposed the prince, seating himself at the table, "let me have a short talk with them before you act. There may be extenuating circumstances. Anything of this sort amuses and interests me. Let us use a little diplomacy in the matter."

"Yes," said Hillars; "let us lie a little."

"And who can do it better than a journalist?" the prince laughed. "Diplomatists," Hillars sent back. "What is her serene highness to you?" resumed the prince.

"Nothing; positively nothing."

"Then you are afraid to acknowledge your regard for her?"

"I?" Hillars dropped his arm from my shoulders. "I am not afraid of My hands were around the throat of Prince Ernst.

anything—not even the count here. Then he laughed. "If her serene highness was anything to me, your highness, I should not be afraid to say so before the king himself."

"You impudent!" But a wave of the prince's hand silenced the count.

"Have patience, my friend. This is not impudence; it is courage and prudence. I believe," readdressing Hillars, "that once you were on the point of eloping with the Princess Hildegard."

Hillars thrust his hands into his pockets. "So they say."

"And yet you deny your regard for her!"

"Oh, as to that affair," said Hillars easily. "It was the adventure more than anything else! It is not every man in my position who has such a chance. And then, perhaps, I saw a good newspaper story." The muscles in his jaws hardened, despite the airy tone he used.

"I see that there is nothing to be got from you." Then the prince directed his glance to me. "And you, sir; what is she to you? What is her serene highness to you?"

"She is everything in the world to me," said I.

The consternation which followed cannot be described here. The count stepped back dumfounded. Hillars regarded me as though he thought I had suddenly gone mad. The countenance of the prince alone remained unruffled.

"Count," he said, laughing, "it seems that the princess gathers lovers as a woolen coat does fleas. Her lovers—there must now be a legion!"

"You lie!" said Hillars, in an oddly suppressed tone. "You know that you lie."

The prince's lips drew to a thin line, but that was all. "Still, who will disprove it?" he asked.

"If you will allow me," said a voice behind us.

We beheld the princess framed in the doorway. There was a pallor and a look of utter weariness in her face. At the sight of her the count uncovered and the prince rose.

"Your arrival is quite timely," said he. "Here are two champions of yours. Come, which do you love?"

A fury sprang to my head, and I said: "You have too much confidence in our patience. I warn you that I have no fear of the sabers back of you."

The same sabers leaped from their scabbards and fell stiffly against their owners' shoulders instinctively.

"Has it come to this," said the princess, a superb scorn in her eyes, "that my honor must needs be defended by strangers and aliens?" For the briefest space her glance plunged into my eyes. She moved toward the prince. "And you, sir, are to be my husband?"

"It is the will of the king," said the prince, a mocking smile on his lips. How I lusted for his blood!

"And, though my honor is doubtful," went on the woman I loved, "you still would marry me?"

oil. The factory would employ fifty men per day, and the daily payroll would amount to at least a hundred dollars. All these men would want food, houses, and fuel for thousands of tons of lime, six thousands of tons of coal, and large quantities of oil would be required for each season of operation.

Mr. George Flinskey said it was hard-nosed to say that if Lindsay would create this industry, it would be a great thing for the town and district. THE RESOLUTION WAS DROPPED.

Chairman of Winthrop Declined to Express Sympathy for President.

Winthrop, Sept. 14.—At a labor meeting last night a delegate suggested a resolution of sympathy with President McKinley.

President Scott said: "In common with the general public we deplore the crime, but there can be no doubt that the present conditions breed Anarchists, and lead to crime and violence. The only remedy for state of things is not to agitate with Legislative screws, but to improve the conditions. At the same time, though, we deplore the attempt upon the President's life. I am not in favor of passing a formal resolution."

Judge Haze

"Mr. President," said Judge Haze, handing the crossed oath to him, "please attach your signature."

The President turned to a table near the window and wrote near the bottom of the document in the homely characters which have always distinguished his handwriting, "Theodore Roosevelt."

President Roosevelt's first cabinet meeting was held in the same room in which he had been sworn in. It lasted for nearly an hour. When it was over it was announced with authority that the deliberations had all tended toward ascertaining the best way in which the sentiment with which the President had received the accepting office might be carried into action. It was agreed in the cabinet

GEO. JOHNSTON, President
God Save the King

The Weekly Post

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, SEPT. 20th, '01

THE REFORM CONVENTION.

Our Liberal friends should keep before them the date of the Liberal convention at Lindsay Saturday, 5th Oct. The selection of the very strongest candidate to contest the riding in the coming Provincial campaign can only be secured by having a full representation from each sub-division.

If meetings have not already been called in some sub-divisions for the appointment of delegates, our friends should be got together at once, the appointments made, and the names sent to the secretary.

Half-fares on the railway have been secured from all points in the riding. Tickets will be good until the Monday night following the convention.

COUNTY GOOD ROADS ACT.

The action of the Provincial government in setting aside a sum of one million dollars to aid municipalities in constructing good roads has met with general approval, but there is a difference of opinion in some counties concerning the provisions governing the administration of the fund. This is attributable in all probability to the matter not having been sufficiently discussed, and not to any inherent fault in the act itself.

The question of a County system of good roads has been before the people of Victoria for some years, and the offer of government assistance comes at a most opportune time. Under the act the County's share of the million dollar grant would be $25,000, and to secure it the County would have to raise the sum of $51,000. Thus the total sum of $76,000 would be provided for a good roads system, and would have to be expended within 10 years.

The opportunity for the County appears to be a grand one. The broad features of the offer have already been explained to the council of a number of municipalities by Warden Graham, and a special meeting of the County Council will be held Monday next, Sept. 23rd, at the Court House here, at which Mr. A. W. Campbell, Provincial Good Roads Inspector, will clearly explain the provisions of the act. It is likely that the representatives of the municipalities will then decide either to accept or reject the proffered aid. The people of the County should attend in large numbers to hear the discussion and keep an eye on the men who have it in their power to refuse a gift of $25,000.

COME TO THE CENTRAL

Before another issue of The Post reaches our subscribers the Lindsay Central Fair will be in full swing, the dates being Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 20th, 27th and 28th. If signs do not fail, the opening fair of the new century will be by long odds the most successful of the eighteenth exhibitions already held under the auspices of the South Victoria Agricultural Society. Shrewd, careful and economical management has been the aim of the directors from the outset, and the finances are now so healthy that they have felt warranted in adding largely to the already handsome premium list, while the attractions offered for this year's fair are unique, costly and worth a trip of many miles to witness. The Lindsay Central is the premier agricultural fair of the Midland district, and the people of the County can make it better still by attending in larger numbers. We trust they will make 1901 a record year for the Fair directors.

PASSED THE 7,000 MARK

It will be remembered that a few days before the lists of the census enumerators for Lindsay were sent on to Ottawa. The Evening Post predicted that the published statement would show that the town had a population slightly exceeding 7,000. The calculation was based on close figuring and a study of the assessors' yearly returns, and while we were not very far astray it was a trifle humiliating to many of our citizens to find that the town was still classed in the 6,000 rank. To be precise, the town was credited with possessing a population of 6,994—close to the mark almost at, but still not a bullseye.

It is, therefore, with much pleasure we announce the fact that, as the result of a protest sent in by Mr. E. C. Taylor, to Chief Census Commissioner Blue at Ottawa, the lists for Lindsay were carefully reviewed and compared, and an error was discovered that gives our town a welcome addition of nine citizens. They are small as yet, but—like the town—they will grow, and may figure largely in future counts.

Lindsay has increased 15 per cent. in population since the last census, ten years ago, and during the last few years has gone ahead at a rate never before equaled. Our people believe implicitly in a bright future for the town, and we predict that the next census will give us a city's rating.

THE EMILY VOTERS' LIST COURT.

The Watchman-Warder in his latest issue declares that our account of the proceedings at the court of revision for the voters' lists of the township of Emily was the product of our imagination, and it has the audacity to say that the reform lawyer who attended the court, and the Judge who presided there, confirm this. The Watchman-Warder thereby published what was untrue, and did it most deliberately, knowing it was untrue.

The facts are that George McCarrell, who is a lad of sixteen years of age, was placed on the assessment roll for the township by the assessor as a manhood franchise voter. The lad is a son of William McCarrell, who lives on lot 22, con. 4, of the township of Emily, and who is a strong conservative. The lad and his father and mother attended the Court at Oshawa, and his name was struck off the list, he not being of age.

Afterwards Mr. McCarrell applied for his witness fees, alleging that the assessor had placed the boy on the list against the protest of his boy was only sixteen years old and not to put him down on the list, but the assessor said it was all right, and that if the girls didn't notice it and get him struck off the boy could vote. She protested again, but the name went down all the same. The girls did notice it, and it cost the boy and his father a day's time coming to court. The Judge asked the assessor if this was true, and the assessor admitted that it was. Mr. McCarrell couldn't get his witness fees, as unfortunately there is no provision in the statute to make the assessor pay them.

Now this proceeding, together with the other cases referred to, are those which convince The Post that there was a deliberate attempt made by the assessor to stuff the voters' list of Emily with conservative names. The language of the assessor to Mrs. McCarrell is sufficient proof of this.

What does the Watchman-Warder mean? It says, "We rejoice at this escape of the conservative party from disgrace," and at the same time it knew beyond all question that it was deliberately lying. The conduct of the Tory newspaper is worse than that of the assessor.

The party whose manager will insist on the appointment of assessors such as these, and whose local representatives instruct the assessors to place every conservative on the list regardless of age, or other qualifications; who say, "Let the girls strike them off if they can," and then strive to bolster it all up by the deliberate lying in the Tory newspaper is disgraced beyond doubt and its representatives and newspaper sunk beneath contempt.

We are authorized by the Honourable Judge Harding to state that nothing which he said to the interviewer of the Watchman-Warder could possibly be construed into what was published.

Now it is in order for the Watchman-Warder to write an apology for itself in one column and a screed about the corruption of the Tory government in another.

Progress or Stagnation

THE QUESTION FOR ONTARIO ELECTORS TO DECIDE.

Hon. Mr. Stratton Expresses Confidence in the Coming Verdict.

From the Sarnia Observer
Hon. J. R. Stratton, Provincial Secretary, was in Sarnia lately, the guest of Mr. F. F. Pardee, M.P.P., West Lambton. In conversation with an Observer representative, and in answer to the inquiry, "Have you anything new to say regarding the political situation in Ontario, and the outcome of the next provincial election," Mr. Stratton said:

"No, it is the same old story. The administration of the liberal government for over thirty years and the record of the present government have established a reputation for good government that gives ground for the greatest confidence in believing that the people will return by a big majority, the Ross government, which has made such a splendid showing in the two years it has administered Provincial affairs, and during which it has applied and is prepared and alert to apply, to the development of the resources of the province, new and old—a policy which must appeal to the practical sympathy of the energetic and enterprising electors of Ontario. A live and progressive people, like the electorate of this province, cannot sympathize with a standstill policy, a policy of stagnation on the part of either its parliamentary or administrative representatives. There are only the government and the opposition to choose between, and the selection presents no difficulties. The government offers the people a long and strong record of administration and legislation and a grand policy of progress.

Without being uncharitable it seems to me that it is not unfair to put the matter in this way—the government desires to be returned to power so that it can advance the interests and develop the resources of the province, while the opposition seems to seek office merely for the sake of getting office. In a word, the government offers the people a long and strong record of administration and legislation and a grand policy of progress. The government desires to be returned to power so that it can advance the interests and develop the resources of the province, while the opposition seems to seek office merely for the sake of getting office. In a word, the government offers the people a long and strong record of administration and legislation and a grand policy of progress.

THE NEW BABY

Opens up a new world to the loving mother. If it is a strong, healthy baby that new world is a world of happiness. If it is a weak, fretful child the new world is full of anxiety. It has been proven in thousands of cases, that the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes all the difference between strength and weakness in children. Healthy, happy mothers have healthy, happy children. "Favorite Prescription" gives the mother strength to give her child. It makes the baby's advent practically painless and promotes the secretion of the nourishment necessary to the healthful feeding of the nursing child.

"I have been using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and can say it is just what you advertise it to be," writes Mrs. Victor J. Hadin, of Leonardville, Riley Co., Kansas. "I began taking it just two months before baby came and was greatly benefited by its use. The doctor who attended me said I did about as well as any one he had seen (as I was sick only about three hours), and also that your 'Favorite Prescription' was 'one of the best medicines' which he had ever given. We now have a darling baby boy, strong and healthy, who when nine pounds when born. During this month he has gained three and one-half pounds. Have never given him one dose of medicine."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. J. H. Carnegie, M.P.P., will again contest East Victoria in the conservative interest at the coming Provincial election. He was the unanimous and sole choice of the tory convention which met at Fenelon Falls yesterday.

The United States papers are full of suggestions with reference to the suppression of anarchists. The one most generally advanced is that the emigration laws of the republic should be made much more stringent and prohibitive. This would undoubtedly be beneficial as checking the influx of undesirable people. But in the case of McKinley such a law would have been inoperative, as his would-be assassin is an American citizen born and bred.

England's freedom from Anarchist operations has been attributed to her toleration of free speech. It has been said that where men can say what they will plotting against society loses half its attraction. Yet in the States, where free speech prevails, the Anarchist is dealing his deadliest blows. The explanation may be found in the tremendous flow of Continental peoples into the States, the wave carrying with it a host of moral strays and waifs. These human derelicts are not to be taken to American civilization. They are distinctly foreign and cannot be regarded as a natural or permanent part of society on this continent.

The Weekly Sun, Toronto, has this to say in criticism of the recent speech delivered by Mr. Whitney, leader of the Ontario opposition:

Mr. Whitney declares that grants to railways should be given only after careful examination into the merits of each case, but it would not be easy to point to a single instance in which the Ontario government or any other government, would not claim to have followed this course. His statement that for every grant stock should be taken or security given shows an advance upon the existing practice, but his policy bears the appearance of a compromise, and might well have been more definite. To take stock in a railway already bonded would be like taking a deed of a farm mortgaged for more than its value. The security should be taken in business-like form. Mr. Whitney's weak point on the subject of houses is found in his legislative record. He informs us every year in the House that a consistent record has far more influence with the public. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were voted last session to the railway promoters, yet Mr. Whitney neither by word or vote made any attempt to put his policy into effect.

According to Mr. Whitney "the conservative party would never rest satisfied till they had four or five agricultural schools in the province." This is the bid for agricultural support by the party which has for years made the agricultural college at Guelph its main point of attack on the provincial government. The farmer will not require a long memory to recall Mr. Magwood's criticism on the college because it was not made pay its way, though one of its chief functions is to try uncommunicative experiments for the benefit of the farmers of the province. This attempt at going the liberal policy four or five better will not go down with the farming community, for as the Hamilton Times points out, such would be a needless expenditure of public money, for in addition to the Agricultural College at Guelph the Dominion government maintains an experimental farm near Ottawa, and the Ontario government has a model farm at Walkerton in the portion of Ontario north of Lake Superior. These three are amply sufficient to test the capabilities of soil and climate in the various parts of the province, and the farmers have too much sense to demand the multiplication of agricultural farms or experimental stations. Mr. Whitney has made a bold, but rather silly, bid for the farmers' vote.

The County Roads System

Adjourned Session of the Council Last Monday.

WARDEN GRAHAM HEARD ON GOOD ROADS ACT.

Towns and Villages will not Benefit Thereby—Compromise Suggested
Our civic representatives met in adjourned session Monday night at 7.30, in the new Council chamber. Mayor Ingle and all members were present.

The Good Roads Act.

On motion Mr. James Graham, Warden of the County, was heard by Council. Mr. Graham, in opening complimented Mayor Ingle and his colleagues on the improvements effected in the town hall building, which gave them the use of so elaborate a chamber; it was certainly a change for the better, and he did not wonder that the members understood the business in hand. Mr. Graham said he appeared before them to present a question their representatives in Council should be deeply interested in—the possibility that the county might take advantage of the provisions of the local improvement act setting aside one million dollars to aid in the construction of good roads throughout the province. Assistance would be granted on the basis of acreage, and Victoria County's portion would be $25,000. In order to secure that aid the County would have to raise $51,000 or $2 for each dollar of government money. This would give a total fund of $76,500, which would be expended within 10 years. The expenditure would apply only to country roads—no portion of the sum could be expended on the streets of Lindsay or any of the incorporated villages in the county, yet Lindsay was a large contributor to the county rates; only two municipalities—Mariposa and Ops—paid more for county purposes. While Lindsay streets would not benefit by the expenditure of the $76,500, the town's share of the rate for good roads would be $471 per year for a period of 20 years.

Ald. Sinclair—"And you ask us to pay that sum and get nothing—it's ridiculous."

Mayor Ingle—"We would benefit by the system of good roads leading in to the town."

Warden Graham, proceeding, said that as one of a committee appointed by the County Council he had laid the scheme before the Council of every municipality that took any interest in the matter. A special meeting of the County Council was held on Sept. 23rd, and on that day the representatives of the various municipalities would either endorse or reject the scheme. It would be well for the Council of Lindsay to give the question very careful consideration before that day. He knew of no way whereby the town could receive compensation for the amount paid unless through an agreement for the free use of the county roadmaking machinery. The same concession should be claimed by the incorporated villages. The County could then without infringing upon the provisions of the government act.

Ald. Touchburn—"The concession would be a very small return for what we would have to pay—nearly $10,000 in the 20 years."

Ald. Sinclair expressed his disapproval of the proposed bargain, holding that the money was badly needed for the town streets.

Warden Graham—"The cost would not be $10,000 in cash—it would really be only about $6,000."

Ald. Touchburn—"Can the County Council force us into that arrangement?"

Warden Graham—"Oh, yes."

Ald. Jackson—"If the townships favor the plan we will have no recourse."

Ald. Touchburn—"It's an outrageous thing."

Ald. Robson enquired if the offer of free use of machinery meant that the town would have to pay the men for operating the crusher, or not.

Warden Graham said he was only suggesting what might be done to square accounts—what he would ask if a member of the Town Council. He supposed the County, if the scheme went through, would have to purchase a steam roller, and perhaps other machinery as well. The town and villages could then show they had the free use of the lot up to at least the value of the sum contributed to the special rate.

In reply to Ald. Sinclair, Warden Graham said he could not predict concerning the decision likely to be arrived at relative to the scheme. If a majority of the municipalities were in favor of taking advantage of the government's offer, the County Council would endorse it, but in the event of any considerable difference of opinion no arbitrary action would be taken.

Ald. Hore—"There's one way whereby the town will benefit largely—the main roads leading to the town will be made good, which will bring more business."

Ald. Touchburn—"Yes, and we'll have less money to spend on our own streets. Why, farmers complain now that the country roads are better than ours."

Warden Graham—"I don't know as to that, but I would certainly advise the town representatives to go to the County Council prepared to ask an equivalent."

All Touchburn—"Yes, Mr. Graham, go there and beg—say it's too bad and that we want something. It's a strange law."

Warden Graham—"Well, I didn't frame it—I might have made it read differently if I had the power."

All Sinclair—"I believe you would, Mr. Graham."

Ald. O'Hilly thought the compromise suggested was a good one. The town had just paid the County nearly $300 for the crushing of the stone used this year, and if the town could get the free use of the crusher and steam roller the saving would equal what the town would have to pay, while the merchants and business men would get more trade—Lindsay would be the hub of the good roads system.

On motion of Aldermen Jackson and Sinclair, Warden Graham was thanked for his frank and lucid explanation of the application of the Good Roads act to Lindsay, and the advice given. The resolution was suitably acknowledged by the recipient, who then withdrew.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

—Householders are doing a little mental figuring as to the probable price of wood this winter.

—Dear hunters are beginning to talk up the merits of their hounds—a sure sign of cold weather.

—Andrew Carnegie, having been presented with the Freedom of the city of Glasgow, is at liberty to look about him there for any eligible library sites that remain unoccupied.

—Mr. J. M. Murdoch, carter for the Rathbun Co. for some years, has disposed of his outfit and gone with Mr. John Chambers, and will resume his old trade of tanner with Mr. Thos. Robson.

—Contractor Plinkie made a start on the Kent-st. sewer at 2 o'clock on Monday. He expects to find it difficult to secure a full force of local men, but will push the work with all the vigor possible.

—The members of the Citizens' band should prepare a program for a promenade concert in the skating rink before the weather gets too cool. It would be well patronized, as the band needs money for new instruments.

—At Hopewell, N.J., a few nights ago somebody threw a brick at the local brass band while it was playing a rag-time tune. Only a fool could have done such a dastardly deed. He might have known that a cannon at least would be necessary to make a country band give up rag-time.

—The Ontario Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, at Belleville, will re-open to-morrow, Sept. 18th. Parents of new pupils are requested to accompany their children to the institution; in other cases they should be placed in charge of the railway conductors. Pupils going via Toronto will be met at the Union station by Supt. Mathison.

—The many friends of Conductor Jas. Green of the Cobocook-Lindsay train, are pleased to see him on duty again after an absence of some nine weeks. An evening or two before July 12th, while walking home in the dark, he tripped over a wheelbarrow and fell in such a manner as to injure his right leg, and various complications followed.

PLANK VS. CONCRETE.

No More Plank Walks to be Laid in Toronto.

The following extract from the report of the last meeting of Toronto City Council may have escaped the eyes of our readers, and will certainly interest many of our citizens, as it refers to a matter regarding which some have expressed very decided opinions:

The batch of local improvements recommended by the Works Committee was approved, excepting the plank sidewalks.

"Taking into account the life of each, is a concrete or a plank sidewalk the cheaper?" Ald. Sheppard asked the Engineer.

"Concrete is the cheaper," said the Engineer.

Ald. Sheppard—"Why don't you recommend concrete in local improvements initiated by the department?"

The City Engineer said the Works Department had decided to lay concrete within a certain area, and outside of that plank walks were permissible.

The board will recommend the Works Committee to consider the advisability of laying concrete walks exclusively. A five-foot plank walk costs 83 cents per foot, and a five-foot concrete walk 45 cents. The former may last six years and the latter 20 years. A wooden walk has to be paid for in three years; a concrete cement walk in ten years.

ally pebbles. This makes a perfect road bed and tends to lengthen the life of the sleepers.

Until a few years ago the I.C.R. was seriously handicapped in consequence of having no connection with the metropolis of Canada, but the present Minister of Railways and Canals, Hon. A. G. Blair, with his usual sagacity foresaw the necessity of extending the line to Montreal, and consequently arranged for and carried into effect the purchase of the Drummond County Railway, which puts the I.C.R. on a more equal footing with its competitors.

The Intercolonial between Montreal and Quebec passes through an excellent farming country almost entirely French farmers, whose farms strike the Westerner as being very peculiar, as they are only one field wide and run from one concession line to another. The appearance of the country almost entirely French, and the appearance of a continuous village. Cacouna Beach, the far-famed watering place, is situated six miles from River du Loup. Its seaside hotels are kept well-filled by people from Montreal and Quebec, and are largely patronized by Americans. The sea bathing is said to be excellent at Cacouna. There are a great many cottages owned by the wealthy residents of Montreal and Quebec. There are many summer resorts along the St. Lawrence. Five miles from St. Pechel and 85 miles from Quebec is Kamouraska, a village beautifully situated on the river, which has many visitors. The climate is said to be very temperate and the sea water is warm owing to the sheltered position of the beach. At any point on the Lower St. Lawrence the summer climate is all that one could wish.

Shortly after passing Rimouski we entered what is known as the Metapedia Valley—the paradise of the sportsman. Moose are to be found in limited numbers, but are increasing from year to year. Caribou are numerous within a short distance of the railway track, and it only requires an indifferent hunter to secure all the law will permit him to take. The lakes and rivers abound with the finest kind of fish: salmon and speckled trout, the gamiest of fish, are in abundance. It is an ideal sporting country, as almost all parts are accessible by canoe. At the junction of the Metapedia and Restigouche is where Prince Louis captured a 40-lb salmon. There is a club situated at this point, the members of which are wealthy Americans who enjoy rare sport with tag and gun.

The Metapedia Valley possesses singular beauty of scenery, and the charm of mountain, valley and winding river appeals to artists and to the tourist. The first place of importance reached in New Brunswick is a town of 4,000 inhabitants and is the end of the railway division. It is situated on the estuary of the Restigouche emptying into the famous Bay de Chaleur, which is worth a long trip to see. The situation is beautiful. As Campbelltown lies at a point on a broad river where it enters a bay that has no rival. The fame of the Restigouche salmon and the fact that the fish are so numerous have been caught in this neighborhood that tipped the scales at more than 50 pounds.

The next objective point is Moncton, N.B., famous for its phenomenal tides, known as the "Bore." The peculiar movement is occasioned by the tide from the Atlantic being forced into the funnel-shaped Bay of Fundy and through the narrow mouth of the Restigouche river, where the water rises from 40 to 60 feet. Vessels are borne in on the waves and moored alongside the docks, and when the tide recedes they are left high and dry many feet from the water, then drags up and down the shore, and the water carries them to the wharves. At Moncton are the head office of the I.C.R., and also the main workshops. The citizens of Moncton had arranged a luncheon and drive about the city, but owing to the detention of the train, they were given a delightful drive of some fifteen miles to the Cliff house. For miles the road was close to the shore, and it is with out doubt one of the prettiest drives imaginable. The Cliff is a favorite resort for American tourists. A large summer hotel is erected near the beach and is well patronized by people from all over the continent. Mr. Sharpe, the superintendent of the Prince Edward Island Railway, accompanied the excursionists over the island and was most painstaking in his efforts to give the excursionists a favorable impression of the country and the various places they visited.

There the party were met by Mr. Brennan, editor of The Journal, to whom they were indebted for many kindnesses in looking after their welfare and comfort. Mr. Brennan has one of the best equipped offices to be found east of Halifax, and it, with his other interests, make him a very busy man. At Summerside the party were taken in hand by the Prince Edward Island R. Co. and taken to York, from whence they were given a delightful drive of some fifteen miles to the Cliff house. For miles the road was close to the shore, and it is with out doubt one of the prettiest drives imaginable. The Cliff is a favorite resort for American tourists. A large summer hotel is erected near the beach and is well patronized by people from all over the continent. Mr. Sharpe, the superintendent of the Prince Edward Island Railway, accompanied the excursionists over the island and was most painstaking in his efforts to give the excursionists a favorable impression of the country and the various places they visited.

The landscape of Prince Edward Island is particularly attractive. The farms are well fenced and the fields are kept in a state of excellent cultivation. There are to be seen some of the best kept and best farmed farms to be found in the Dominion. The dairy industry has been receiving special attention from the Islanders the past few years, and they are meeting with remarkable success. Stock-raising is being found most profitable, and they realize that it does not pay to be continually cropping the land without restoring its lost fertility with manure. Sheep and lambs from Prince Edward Island all command the highest prices in the United States market. The breeds of cattle handled are Jerseys, Alderneys and Guernseys, and there are some very fine herds on the island.

Charlottetown, the largest city and capital of the island, has a population of 11,000. It has many fine buildings, which possess a quality that is very noticeable to a Westerner. There are some very fine gardens and public squares, and no city can boast of greener lawns or better kept private gardens, which is mostly due to the moist sea air. The city is not behind in modern roadbuilding, and the citizens evidently realize that money properly laid out in roads is a good investment. Charlottetown has a magnificent harbor almost land-locked. Steamers run from Montreal, Sidney and St. John's, Nfld. Twice a week steamers arrive from Boston, and at times during the summer season the hotels are filled with American visitors. The city has an excellent waterworks system, the water being of the very best quality.

We left Charlottetown at 9 a.m. and crossed the Straits of Northumberland to Pictou, Nova Scotia, where we were tendered a hearty welcome by the Mayor and Town Council. This town has a population of 3,500 and has a first-class harbor with plenty of water to float the largest ships. The people of Pictou are looking forward to years of great prosperity, when the advantages of the town as a business centre will be properly appreciated. Here we were met by our own I.C.R. train, which had been with us continually since leaving Montreal with the exception of our stay on Prince Edward Island, and it was almost like getting home again. After we had partaken of lunch we were soon on our way east, and made stops at Westville, Antigonish and Stellarton, arriving late in the evening at Mulgrave.

Westville is one of the most important centres in Pictou County, N.S., and is the centre of the coal mining industry. One of its mines produces 500,000 tons annually. It is an up-to-date town of 4,500 population.

Antigonish is situated 180 miles from Sidney, and has a population of 2,000. It is quite a pleasant summer resort, as it is situated within a short distance from St. George's Bay. There are in this neighborhood some valuable iron deposits; coal is also found a short distance from this prosperous little town. At Mulgrave we were billed for supper, and one can appreciate the situation when we say we arrived at 9 p.m., extremely hungry, and found a small hotel capable of seating 20 people, with 100 to feed before the job would be complete. We will not dwell on the anguish of the two hours' wait, but we were all finally fed. We were informed that we had eaten them out of house and home, and although billed for breakfast, the landlord could not fulfill his contract. The dining car conductor and his staff again came to our assistance. A ham was secured, and with a reasonable quantity of food and coffee, served as the morning repast.

At Mulgrave we took the boat for a trip through the famous Bras d'Or Lakes. Cape Breton is usually spoken of as an island, but it is very similar to our Muskoka Lake region, abounding with beautiful lakes. To describe the beauties of these island lakes would be a very difficult task. It took our smart steamer from six o'clock a.m. to eight p.m. to make the trip. There is only one small creek on the waterway of 120 miles. This trip is patronized freely by both American and Canadian tourists. Mr. Mason, of The Boston Globe, was met on these waters enjoying the trip; we also passed several pleasure yachts belonging to Americans cruising in these waters.

We arrived at North Sydney in the evening, where we had supper. This town has a population of six thousand people. Close by is the settlement of Sydney Mines, with a population of 3,000; this town has enjoyed in a measure some of the prosperity that has reached Sydney. It is situated about five miles by water from Sydney and seven miles by rail. We re-embarked after tea on the fine harbor of North and South Sydney, undoubtedly one of the finest and safest harbors of the world. It is visited by ships from all parts of the world, which find it a convenient coaling station. Trump stammers, also Belt sh, United States and French men-of-war are frequently coaled here, both in winter and summer, as the harbor is never open. There is a fine steamer making regular trips from this port to Newfoundland.

Nearly everybody has heard the story of Sydney's wonderful growth during the last few years. The modern plant of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, two years ago the bay world scarcely knew of the existence of the Cape Breton town, when with a sudden bound Sydney jumped to the front rank of iron-producing centres, and commands the attention of capitalists and manufacturers of America and Europe.

Two years ago Sydney was a sleepy little town of 3,000 inhabitants. There is now a population of 12,000 or more, a new railway station to accommodate the steadily increasing traffic; there are two daily papers and five or six banks. A new city hall is in course of construction, besides a splendid brick and stone court house and other municipal buildings. Fine streets with paved sidewalks and lined by modern business premises or handsome dwellings have sprung into being. In short, in place of the stagnant Sydney of two years ago, there has arisen a new Sydney, which has already become industrially famous in the old world as well as the new. At this change, a change more sudden and more sweeping than any industrial town or city in Canada has ever before undergone, has been brought about since August, 1899, and is due solely to the installation of the $12,000,000 plant of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, which when in full operation will be turning out between 300,000 and 400,000 tons of pig iron annually, employing 3,000 to 4,000 skilled mechanics.

We were taken in hand by the Board of Trade and citizens of Sydney, and shown over the extensive plant of the Dominion Iron and Steel Company, and the minutest details of the work were carefully explained by the managers of each department of this wonderful industry. This plant is of such a magnitude that it would take columns of space to properly describe it. The company possesses wonderful natural advantages—coal is right at their doors; ore is brought 400 miles by sea from Newfoundland, and can be laid down at the smelter at a cost of 40c. per ton; limestone at the smelter costs only 15c. per ton. This has been fully demonstrated to be the lowest cost of assembling of such materials in the world. It is no quire no prospect to predict a great future for this vast industry. There are many points of interest which we might describe, but space will not permit.

Just 575,000 cubic feet of Cape Breton sent away in ships, 75,000 cubic feet in cars and 25,000 cubic feet burned at home, is the daily accomplishment of the Dominion Coal Company, Limited, of Glace Bay, Cape Breton.

This 575,000 cubic feet is all coal, and a very good coal indeed, which finds a market in the United States, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, and for which Europe now appears to be a promising market. To mine this quantity of coal and get it to the pit mouth requires one small army of men; to transport the 13,000 tons daily from the pit mouth to the consumer requires another. Coal is loaded into railway cars at the mines, transported 13 miles to International Pier, Sydney, or 35 miles to Louisburg by rail for trans-shipment to vessel. To do this it is necessary to load and move 800 railway cars per day.

THE GUEST OF CANADA

Britain's Heir Apparent Arrives at the City of Quebec.

DUKE AND DUCHESS WELCOMED

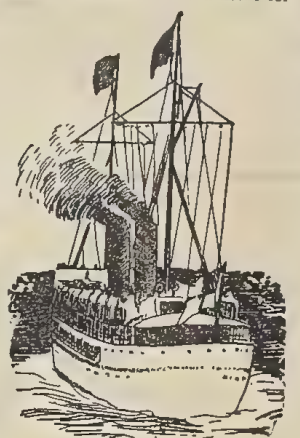

Royal Yacht Ophir, Escorted by British Warships, Lands its Royal Passengers Safely at Quebec—The Scene at the Landing—The Royal Salute—The Subsequent Functions—The People Enthusiastic.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—Just 41 years ago, in 1860, the Prince of Wales, now King Edward VII., received a loyal welcome in this ancient City of Quebec. Yesterday, his son, the Duke of Cornwall and York, landed at exactly the same spot where his father first stepped on Canadian soil, and to the son, as to the father, a patriotic people extended a warm and spontaneous welcome. It is the third visit of the Duke to Canada. This time he comes as the heir-apparent to the throne of Great Britain and Ireland, and is, moreover, accompanied by his charming and accomplished wife, and the reception tendered the royal pair was such as must have impressed them.

It was well past 9.30 before the Ophir and her escort were seen slowly turning Point Lévis. Already the Dufrin terrace was lined with people standing three or four deep along the railing or clambering on the chairs and the glacis, the grand battery and every other point of vantage were occupied by throngs of eager spectators. On the north shore a fleet of nearly a dozen tugs had put out to meet her, and they fell into line behind the squadron as it turned Point Lévis.

On each side of the Ophir and a little away astern came H.M.S. Diadem and Niobe, first-class cruisers, and behind them again H.M.S. Indefatigable and Tribune, second-class cruisers. The course steered was a wide circle well over to the Beauport shore, and as they slowly and majestically proceeded up the river, a wonderful display of strength and determination was given.

As the ships got abreast of the Custom House, the British squadron and the French cruiser ran up flags in rainbow fashion. The marines at the blue jackets forward, manned their decks, and salutes of 21 guns thundered out from them and the Citadel. The Ophir also had her decks manned and carried the Royal Standard on her mainmast, with the American ensign at half mast just below. The great rake of her funnels and spars gave her an appearance of great speed, while the four-funnelled Niobe and Diadem have a most formidable appearance.

Crescent Bank also attended. Major-General O'Grady-Haly and staff were the first to arrive, and soon the Minstrels began to arrive. They were Hon. Senator Scott, Paterson, Borden, Mills, Sutherland, Tarte, Fisher, Sir Louis Davies, Dobell, Martin, Bernier, Blair and Fielding. Sir Wilfrid Laurier arrived with Lord Minto, who was attended by Capt. Graham, A.D.C., and Capt. Bell, A.D.C., and was saluted with the National Anthem. As Vice-Admiral Redford landed from the fleet the guards again came to attention, and every man saluted as the band and bugle played the Admiral's salute.

The first of the royal party to arrive were the ladies-in-waiting and the aides.

The Cabinet ministers moved down to the landing stage, and, in a few minutes, the strains of "God Save the King," from over the water, and the striking of the Royal Standard upon the masts, proclaimed the arrival of the Royal Highnesses had left the ship. As they crossed the intervening strip of water in a steam launch, once more a salute of 21 guns boomed out from the ships and the Citadel. As they reached the wharf, the troops came to the royal salute, and everyone stood at attention as the National Anthem was played.

The Royal Highness was wearing the full uniform of an admiral in the navy, and the blue ribbon of the Garter and the stars of his other orders.

The Duchess was clad entirely in black. After the guard of honor had been inspected, and the Cabinet ministers and officers had been introduced, a move was made up the wharf to where the carriages and escort were waiting.

The regiment to which the honorarium of guarding Their Royal Highnesses has been allotted is the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars of Quebec, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Turner, V. C., D. S. O. They are well mounted, and with their smart uniforms and well-set-up men, present an appearance that would do credit to regulars.

H. R. H. THE DUKE OF CORNWALL.

At the Parliament Buildings a most striking scene was presented. In front was erected a semi-circular stand, from which 3,000 school children sang the National Anthem. The 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec formed the guard of honor at the door of the Parliament Buildings, and received the royal couple with a salute and "God Save the King."

The Governor-General and Sir Wilfrid Laurier had preceded the royal party from the wharf, escorted by the Duke of York's Hussars, and, after meeting them at the Parliament Buildings, His Excellency went on to receive them at the Citadel.

The royal procession entered the Council Chamber, headed by Black Rod (Mr. Hatt) and the Lieutenant-Governor and Mayor Parent. Then followed the royal suite, and last of all, the Duke and Duchess. Their Royal Highnesses ascended the steps of the dais, slightly bowed to the gathering, and took up their station standing before the thrones. The ladies-in-waiting took their places in the background, one on each side of the dais, and almost the only color in the whole scene was afforded by the officers in uniform, who stood in a semi-circle round the thrones.

Hon. S. N. Parent, in the black robes and carrying the quaint, three-cornered hat of the Mayor of the city, then stood forward and read the civic address in French and English. As he finished, Miss Jette, daughter of the Lieutenant-Governor, stepped forward and presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Her Royal Highness.

His Royal Highness the Duke then read his reply. He spoke in a clear, pleasant voice, which could be easily heard all over the House. His manner was easy and natural, and he gave a most pleasant impression of sincerity and straightforwardness.

With His Royal Highness's reply, the formal part of the proceedings came to a close. Sir Wilfrid Laurier presented the four bishops, Hon. R. Turner, Mayor Guay of Chicoutimi, Lady Laurier, Miss Jette and a few others to the Duke.

Addresses were also accepted from the Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Mayor of Chicoutimi and the Lorette Indians, who were not read or replied to.

The Indian address was brought by two chiefs and a squaw. The chiefs wore great plumes of feathers on their heads, blanket coats, with tumpans ornaments, and silvery armbands, and the squaw was also dressed in a blanket costume. They were all three presented to Their Royal Highnesses.

The procession was then re-formed, and made its way, amidst the cheers of the people and the singing of the choir, to the Citadel. Here lunch was served to Their Royal Highnesses, Their Excellencies and their suites.

At 4 o'clock a visit was paid to Laval University, and Their Royal Highnesses drove there under the escort of the Queen's Own Canadian Hussars.

Archbishop Bégin and the rector of the University advanced in turn and read the addresses of the clergy and of Laval respectively in French and English. The diploma of a doctor of Laval University was then handed by the rector to the Duke, who was graciously pleased to accept it, and a splendid bouquet of York roses was presented to Her Royal Highness by one of the pupils of the Seminary. His Royal Highness then read with great clearness of enunciation and much expression a suitable reply.

Rector Mathieu then presented to the Duke A. Marchand of the Three Rivers Seminary, who had won the Prince of Wales' prize for philosophy and by T. ## CANADA'S SYMPATHY WELCOMED.

Secretary of State Replies to Lord Minto's Telegram of Condolence.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—Lord Minto has received the following telegram from Secretary of State Hay:

Washington, D.C., Sept. 16. In the name of the Government and people of this country I beg to make earnest acknowledgement of your message. The sympathy shown by Canada in our great bereavement has been most gratefully welcome.

(Signed) John Hay.

The Hot Weather.

Now that it is all over, residents of Ontario will be proud to know that they have endured the hottest July since 1868. This is what the weather man announces, and he conveys the further information that the average temperature for month, 78, is exactly the same as in 1887, and 6 degrees above the average and 6 degrees above the average temperature for July since the observatory was established. The people who lived in Ontario in 1868 had to endure two degrees more, the average temperature that year being 75.

Ontario Fruit Lands.

The limit of the fruit area in Ontario has not nearly been reached, according to Prof. Macoun of the Geological Survey, who has returned from western Ontario, where he has been for the past four months examining the flora of the land along the shores of Lakes Erie and Huron. His work extended from Niagara to the northern extremity of Huron Peninsula. When the landowners of this district go in for fruit culture, Prof. Macoun says, they will raise great quantities of the finest fruits in the world, and the importance of Ontario as a fruit-growing district will greatly increase.

We give our undivided attention to the matter in hand—that is the only safe way.
We dispense drugs only of known purity, holding that when human life is hanging in the balance it is a poor time to economize by using "cheap" materials and trusting to luck for results.
This is an important matter and one worthy of serious thought.

Paddy and the Fall

Some work is being done on the roof of the Benson house, and Paddy D— is the man that manipulates the hoisting of the pails of mortar to the roof. Tuesday afternoon one of the masons undertook to lower an empty pail, when it slipped from his grasp and landed on Paddy's head—some 40 feet below. The blow knocked the old man over, but did not cripple him sufficiently to put him out of business, and he was able to vent his feelings in some tremendous howls, which attracted a crowd full of people in less than a minute. As Paddy gradually recovered his senses he voiced his opinion of the man who let the pail fall, and the man on the roof began to utter a firm, "It is I, Paddy, who have made the short work of him. Paddy had a very narrow escape from death.

TO SUBSCRIBERS IN ARREARS.

By actual count there are over 900 subscribers on our weekly list in arrears for the current year, and a considerable proportion of them for two years. This delinquent list represents the large sum of $1,500. Don't you think it is too bad, in view of the large and interesting paper we are giving, that we should be worried in our financing by this thoughtlessness of some subscribers?—For it is largely thoughtlessness. With this money in hand the publisher would be able to undertake many projects he has in his mind for the further improvement of the paper. Isn't it too bad that the majority of readers should be punished by the minority in this way?—For with so much money outstanding it is impossible for the publisher to increase the expenditure on the paper.

Dear reader, if you are one of these delinquents, look at the label on your paper, note the date to which your subscription is paid, and if in arrears, sit down and write us enclosing the amount. It will be the most welcome letter we can receive. If every subscriber in arrears were to do this, the burden of life to the publisher would be greatly relieved.

Address The Weekly Post, Lindsay, Ont., and use registered letter, postal note, P.O. order, or Express order.

Our subscribers or any of their friends are invited to give us a call at any time when in Lindsay, when we shall take pleasure in showing them through our printing office, where they may see the plant in operation.

OBITUARY

The Late John Magwood.

We regret exceedingly to have to announce the very sudden death, from apoplexy, of one of the most prominent citizens of this town—Mr. John Magwood—in his 58th year. The sad event occurred last Sunday. Mr. Magwood was born in the township of Cavan, where he spent his early years. When about 21 years of age he settled on a bush farm in the township of Eldon, and soon became a prosperous farmer. Upon the building of the Toronto & Nipissing Railway he entered into mercantile business at Victoria Road, where he carried on an extensive trade with marked success for a number of years. He was afterwards engaged for some time in manufacturing at Orillia, and then in the hardware trade in this town. About six years ago he accepted the position of managing director of the Victoria Loan & Savings Company, which he held until his death. Mr. Magwood was married to Mary J., daughter of the late Samuel Staples, of Eldon, who with four children survives him. He has had in a marked degree the respect and confidence of his friends and the public generally.

He had been for about 40 years a consistent member of the Methodist church, and for many years an office-holder. In politics Mr. Magwood was conservative. He was a Justice of the Peace for the county of Victoria, and was for many years a member of Lindsay Town Council. His widow and family have the sincere sympathy of the people of the town and county.

SHOT A BEAR.

Face to Face with a Bear—Neighbors Called in.

On Monday night last about 8.30 o'clock, Ira M. Smith, of Long Lake, Harvey township, when reading at home, was disturbed by his dog barking furiously. He and a farm hand went out and the dog excitedly led them to a wood near by. They were brought directly to what they supposed was a coon. It scrambled up a tree. Mr. Smith undertook to climb the tree and knock him out, but when he had made the climb he could see by the assistance of a lantern they carried that he was face face with a bear. He slid down the tree with alacrity, and sent the man for their neighbors, while he stood guard on the bear. Four men arrived with guns, axes and lanterns; they gathered around the trunk of the tree, waiting for the bear to come down or to stay till morning so that they could see to shoot him. About one o'clock brain took it into his head to come down, and when within 25 feet of the ground three shots rang out as one, and something came down with a thud to the ground dead. Only one ball had struck the bear, but it was fatal. He was a full-grown male.

Public Ownership Notes.

—The people of Winnipeg are delighted with the successful results of civic ownership of the Water-works and Electric Light plants. Water is obtained from artesian wells at a cost considerably less than company rates, and the civic electric light plant is giving immense satisfaction. When it was established the lowest company tender was 45 cents per arc light of 2,000-candle power per night. The Water-works Commissioner estimated that he could produce light at a cost of 28c per light per night, but he reduced the cost to 18 1/2c, including $2,000 worth of light for the civic buildings which he charged for work to reduce the cost of operating the plant to 18 1/2c per light per night. That's a good showing.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—2:27 p. m.—The pulse has left the President's extremities and he may live until midnight. Consciousness seems to have finally left. In his last lucid moment the President recently told Mrs. McKinley.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9:30 p. m.—Attorney-General Knox and Chauncey M. Depue have just been admitted to the Milburn House.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9:32 p. m.—Secretary Cortelyou has just sent a message out to the newspaper stating that he cannot now leave the house as the President is in his last moments.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9:35 p. m.—Dr. Myer, who has just left the house, says the President is slowly dying. The approach of death is already evident as the body is getting cold. Dr. Myer says, however, the President may last until 2 o'clock in the morning, although the case may come at any time. "There is no hope," he said.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—9:44 p. m.—Some of the members of the Cabinet and other distinguished gradually, and a faint idea began to form. By 10 o'clock the pulse could no longer be felt in his extremities and they grew cold.

At 10:10 a. m.—The administration of oxygen has been suspended for some time. The President before he finally lost consciousness bade his wife a tender farewell. He was then heard to murmur words of the hymn: "Nearer My God to Thee," probably his last farewell words.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—10 p. m.—The last period of consciousness spent with Mrs. McKinley at the bedside of her dying husband. She bore her affliction with superb fortitude.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The President's last words were addressed to his wife: "God's will, not ours be done."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The 65th and 74th Regiments of the National Guards have been assembled in their barracks, to be in readiness should the large crowd assembled at police headquarters make any hostile demonstration. There has been no indication of a disposition on the part of the crowd to riot and the assembling of the National Guard is simply a precautionary measure.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 10:40 Dr. Mann said the President was still alive and might linger for an hour longer.

10:45 p. m.—The crowds on Delaware avenue near the mansion grew larger, and the police and military forces have their hands full in preserving the lines.

Buffalo, Sept. 13, 10:50 p. m.—The rooms in the rear of the Milburn House, hitherto darkened, have just been brilliantly illuminated. There is much activity in that part of the mansion.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The portion of the house which has just been brilliantly illuminated is the part occupied by President McKinley.

10:55 p. m.—The awful suspense continues. The relatives and distinguished visitors are still gathered in the main drawing-room awaiting the announcement of the end.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—10:57 p. m.—The President is alone with his physicians and nurses. His extremities have long been cold and for over two hours he has been unconscious.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—11:05 p. m.—A messenger from the house announces that the President's vitality is marvelous. Conditions remain unchanged and death may come in one minute or not over an hour or more.

Might Live Several Hours.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—At 11:07 p. m. Dr. McBurney said it was possible the President might live several hours. He is scarcely breathing, the circulation has ceased in his extremities and they are cold.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—11:12 p. m.—Dr. Mann has just added: "The President is pulseless and is dying. He may live an hour."

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—The personal care attendant of the President at 11:25 announced that the President was still alive.

At 11:47 p. m. Dr. Janeway of New York, the heart specialist, arrived and was admitted to the Milburn House.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Secretary of the Navy, John D. Long, arrived at 12:00 a. m. in time to see the President alive though unconscious.

12:30 p. m.—Baer announced from Secretary Cortelyou that the President is still alive and his condition practically as it had been for an hour.

Arrival of the Coroner.

12:30 p. m.—Coroner Wilson reached the house a few minutes ago. This led to starting reports.

The arrival on the scene of Coroner Wilson is explained by the statement that he was ordered by the District Attorney to go to Milburn House.

The District Attorney ordered the coroner to proceed to Milburn House because he had heard a report that the President was dead. Coroner Wilson's arrival was followed immediately by his departure, his presence not being necessary, as the President still lived.

Only a Slight Heart Beat.

Buffalo, Sept. 14.—At 1:30 a. m. an attendant came from the house and said the President's pulse had shown practically no activity in four hours. There was only a slight heart beat. All of the doctors were still upstairs, near at hand to the patient.

A Farewell Hand Clasp.

1:42 a. m.—Secretary Long has just left Milburn House. He said: "There seems to be no particular change alive."

Dr. Janeway was hurried away in an automobile shortly before the secretary left.

Secretary Long was deeply affected as he came from the house at 1:45 o'clock. He had seen the President and had given his hand a farewell grasp. He said there was no hope, but when some of the President's watchers asked him as to a rumor that the President was dead he said decisively: "That is not true; the President is now alive."

Buffalo, Sept. 14, 2:15 a. m.—President McKinley died at 2:15 a. m.

"LET'S FIND THE ASSASSIN."

A Crowd in Buffalo Streets Whose Motives Did Not Materialize in Action—Averted by Police.

Buffalo, Sept. 14.—The city, not only in those parts near the Milburn House, but all over, and even out in the Exposition grounds, went into a state of ferment when the news of the President's death was announced. The news of the early day had been somewhat softened by the later afternoon announcement that there was a slight improvement, and the sudden announcement of this shocking dissolution came as a great surprise.

At the Pan-American grounds at Buffalo, where the President was lying in state, a large crowd gathered. The city itself the papers refrained from any anticipation, but made it understood that there was no hope.

It seemed but an instant when crowds formed at every corner, and when they found that the rumors were confirmed somebody shouted: "Let's find the assassin."

With one impulse the crowd started for the station house where Col. Goetz is confined. Telephones were seized and the police notified, and when the crowd arrived they found the police out in force.

Superintendent Bull, anticipating trouble, called out the city's force, and, in addition, asked the 4th Brigade headquarters to be in readiness to assist Col. Welch in charge answered by ordering up two companies each from the 65th and 74th Regiments to the Armouries to await immediate call. Around the station at 8 o'clock it was estimated that at least 6,000 people were gathered. They were not particularly ugly, and were quiet, and when the police proceeded to drive them off, the crowd was little more than a mob.

At 9 o'clock the crowd had been sent back two blocks on each side of the police station, and before 10 o'clock, weary with waiting for definite news, they had dispersed or gone to the newspaper bulletins.

Up about the corners near the Milburn house was a picturesque but rather ominous sight. It is remembered that the crowds gathered there were awaiting the President's death.

The hall dozen tents and the two big election booths made it look like the Midway of the Fair, but the ropes stretched from corner to corner, the solemn-looking police guard, the pacing soldiers, and above all the quietness of the assembled multitude, bore evidence of the solemnity of the occasion. At intervals a carriage would drive up, and then the newspaper men would move towards it. The Milburn house was hardly discernible among the trees, the lights in the house having been dimmed but at a few minutes intervals there would come out some person who had information to bear, and then the eager crowd would surround him.

But from the time that Secretary Cortelyou told that the President was very weak there was nothing to encourage any belief that there could be recovery.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY'S CAREER.

William McKinley, President of the United States since March 4, 1897, was born at Niles, Trumbull County, Ohio, Jan. 29, 1843. He was educated at Poland Academy College, Niles, and when the Civil War broke out enlisted as a private in the 2nd Ohio Volunteer Infantry, June 23, 1861. He was made commissary sergeant April 15, 1862, of the same year, and gradually rose to be a captain July 25, 1864. He served on the staffs of Generals R. B. Hayes, George Crook and Winfield Hancock, was breveted major in U. S. volunteers by President Lincoln for gallantry in battle March 13, 1865. He was acting assistant adjutant-general of the 1st division of the 1st Army Corps on the staff of General S. S. Carroll, was mustered out of the service July 26, 1865. He took up the study of law in Mahoning County, Ohio, and Albany Law School 1867, was made a barrister and settled at Canton, Ohio, same year. That has since been his home. He was elected prosecuting attorney of Stark County in 1869 and a member of the House of Representatives 1876, and for 14 years represented the district of which his county was a part. As chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, he reported the tariff law of 1890. In the following November he was defeated for Congress in a two-year district.

Mr. McKinley was elected Governor of Ohio in 1891 by a plurality of over 21,500, and was re-elected in 1893 by a plurality of 80,000. He was a delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention in 1884, and supported James G. Blaine for President; was a member of the Committee on Resolutions and was chosen as delegate-at-large from Ohio in supporting John Sherman in 1888 and again was chairman of the Committee on Resolutions. In 1892 he was again a delegate-at-large from Ohio, and supported the re-nomination of Benjamin Harrison. He was also chairman of that convention, and 182 votes were cast for him for President, although he had persistently refused to have his name considered. At the St. Louis convention, June 18, 1896, he was of the people. Arrangements had been made to allow the public to view the body from the time it arrived, at about 1:30 o'clock until about 5 o'clock, but when the body arrived the people were wedged into the streets for blocks as far as the eye could reach. Two lines were formed. They extended literally for miles. When 5 o'clock came 40,000 people had already passed, and the crowds waiting below in the streets seemed undiminished. It was decided to extend the time until midnight. Then for hours longer the streets were dense with people and a constant stream flowed up the steps of the broad entrance into the hall and passed the bier. When the doors were closed at midnight it was estimated that 80,000 people had viewed the remains, but thousands of disappointed ones were still in the streets.

Assembled in Silence.

At 9 o'clock long platoons of police officers, mounted and on foot, arrived on the ground and were posted in strong details along the streets approaching the Milburn house.

Even amid the stir of the assembling a solemn and awe-like silence prevailed, and the divisions of the escort came to their posts with silent bands. At 10:30 o'clock the military and naval detachment took temporary stations on West Ferry street immediately around the corner from the Milburn house.

Prominent Men.

Meantime the members of the Cabinet, officials high in the Government, and near friends of the martyred President began to fill the walks leading up to the entrance of the Milburn residence. They came separately and in groups, some walking while those in carriages were admitted within the roped enclosure up to the curb.

President Looked Grave.

It was just eight minutes before the opening of the service, when a covered barouche drove up to the house, bringing President Roosevelt and Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox, at whose home he is a guest. The President looked very grave. Word was passed up the well filled walk that the President had arrived, and those waiting to gain entrance fell back, making a narrow lane through which Mr. Roosevelt passed along to the house.

As the President passed within the house, and the services were about to begin, the long line of soldiers and sailors swung in column of fours into Delaware avenue, and formed in battalion front along the beautiful thoroughfare opposite the house and immediately facing it.

Within the house of death was unspeakable. In the drawing room to the right of the hall, as President Roosevelt entered the dead President was stretched upon his bier. His head was to the rising sun. His noble face, upturned to the creator, was written the story of the Christian's faith, with which he had met his martyrdom. "His will, not mine, be done," he had murmured when the bread messenger of death touched and summoned him. A calm and peaceful expression, that of death was on his face, and his eyes of his countenance. Only thinness of his face bore mute testimony to the fact that he had endured, in life, what he was never to endure in death. The body lay in a black casket on a black hearse rug. Over the lower half was hung the stately banner he had loved so well. The flowers were few, as befitting the simple nature of the man.

Two societies, one from the sea and one from the land, guarded the remains. They stood in the window embrasures behind the head of the casket.

The family had taken leave of their loved one before the others arrived. Mrs. McKinley, the poor, grief-stricken widow, had been led into the chamber by a physician, Dr. Brown and had laid at a white altar the late President's remains. He was dead, but his face was as if he were still alive. The crowd in the streets was still waiting for the President's death.

At 1:30 a. m. an attendant came from the house and said the President's pulse had shown practically no activity in four hours. There was only a slight heart beat. All of the doctors were still upstairs, near at hand to the patient.

History of Merrill's System Tonic

This now famous remedy is not a hap hazard mixture. On the contrary it is the result of years of careful thought and experiment, having always the definite object in view of combining alternative herbs with a definite tonic for each organ in the body. Alternatives are medicines which assist the glands of the body to throw off waste and poisonous matter and absorb the nourishment provided by the food eaten. These glands are found in the stomach, kidneys, bowels, bladder and lungs. Besides these glands, each of these important organs is composed of more or less muscular matter, and it is upon this that tonic medicines act. A different tonic is required in almost each of these sets of muscles. After much observation the alternative mixture originated and prescribed by Walter S. McDade, of Philadelphia, and highly indorsed by Edwin F. Rush, of the Bellevue Medical College, New York, and J. Marion Sims, of the Chicago University of Medicine, all medical men of the highest standing on the continent, was chosen. To this compound was added the different tonics above described. Merrill's System Tonic cannot be accomplished by any other medicine. It accomplishes four great purposes, on which ninety per cent. of disease hinges, viz., purifies the blood, builds up the glandular and muscular system, strengthens and soothes the nerves and cures constipation. It thus guarantees you a permanent cure for dyspepsia, skin disease, kidney troubles, general debility, nervousness and female troubles.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Chief Wilkie of the Secret Service last night received a despatch from United States Marshall Forkner, at Albuquerque, N. Arrests That Saved the Car.
Paris, Sept. 16.—The Patrie publishes a despatch from Marseilles asserting that the police yesterday frustrated a plot to assassinate the Car.

THE EXPORTS.
The grand total of exports was $196,487,682. In making up these figures no account was included for exports "short returned" to the United States, as in previous years. If the practice of making an estimate of "short returned" had been followed this year the estimate would be $6,108,789. It has been deemed advisable by the department to discontinue the practice this year, in view of the fact that a new system of recording export entries which will insure a complete record of all merchandise exported from the country being obtained, inasmuch as a great deal of merchandise goes by road in districts remote from custom houses, and for other reasons. Notwithstanding this, it has been considered wise to base the statistics of exports for the present year and for the future on the actual figures recorded by the entries made at the ports of exit. The exports of Canadian merchandise to Great Britain last year amounted to $92,857,525, as against $96,562,875 for the year previous, a reduction of $3,705,350. The value of foreign exports sent from this country to Great Britain was $12,471,431, as against $11,173,093. The exports of Canadian merchandise to the United States (not including estimate short) were $67,963,678, while for the year previous were $59,666,556, including "short returned," an increase of $8,317,117. The increase of exports to the United States is accounted for largely by the bullion shipped from the Yukon. The foreign merchandise sent from Canada to the United States was $2,423,168, an increase of $456,751 over the previous twelve months. The exports of Canadian merchandise to France amounted to $1,436,928. In 1900 the exports of foreign merchandise to France were $2,411; last year they reached a total of $144,703. The exports of Canadian merchandise to Germany increased by over a quarter of a million, the figures being $1,874,716, compared with $1,108,163. Of foreign merchandise Canada sent $766,886, or $159,096 more than in 1900.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE

Canada's Imports and Exports for the Past Year.

INCREASES OVER YEAR BEFORE

The Total Duty Collected for the Year Ending 30th June Last Was $20,100,079, and the Value of the Free Goods Was $11,316,510—The Exports—Different Countries Where We Buy and Sell.

Ottawa, Sept. 12.—The Department of Customs yesterday handed out a statement of the imports and exports of Canada by countries during the fiscal year ending June 31st. The total value of goods imported was $190,415,525, as against $189,022,513 in the previous year, or an increase of $703,012. The total value of goods entered for consumption was $181,237,988, an advance of $433,672, as compared with the preceding twelve months, when the figures were $180,804,316. Of the total imports $105,969,756 were dutiable and $75,268,232 were free, as against $104,346,795 dutiable and $76,457,521 free in 1900. The total duty collected amounted to $29,106,979, or $217,860 ahead of the previous fiscal year. The imports from Great Britain for consumption amounted to $43,184,297, as against $44,789,730 for the year previous, a reduction of about one million and three-quarters. The reduction, however, was in free goods, to which of course the preferential tariff does not apply. The value of tariff goods was $11,316,510, as against $13,227,974 in 1900. The dutiable goods from Great Britain show a slight increase over the figures for last year—$31,701,654, compared with $31,581,756. The value of goods imported from the United States for consumption was $110,485,008, while in the preceding year it was $109,844,578. The dutiable goods totalled $53,600,278 in value, as against $53,897,551, whilst the free goods were $56,884,000, compared with $55,946,817. The imports for consumption from France show an increase of $1,029,519, the figures being 1901, $5,398,021; 1900, $4,368,502. The increase was altogether in dutiable goods, which amounted to $4,569,060, as against $3,503,609. The free goods from France amounted to $828,961, while for the previous year they were $864,893. Canada took $7,021,405 worth of goods for consumption from Germany last year, a falling off, as compared with the year previous, when they amounted to $8,389,498. The value of dutiable goods was $6,121,190, as against $7,465,447, and that of free goods $900,215, compared with $918,051.

The grand total of exports was $196,487,682. In making up these figures no account was included for exports "short returned" to the United States, as in previous years. If the practice of making an estimate of "short returned" had been followed this year the estimate would be $6,108,789. It has been deemed advisable by the department to discontinue the practice this year, in view of the fact that a new system of recording export entries which will insure a complete record of all merchandise exported from the country being obtained, inasmuch as a great deal of merchandise goes by road in districts remote from custom houses, and for other reasons. Notwithstanding this, it has been considered wise to base the statistics of exports for the present year and for the future on the actual figures recorded by the entries made at the ports of exit. The exports of Canadian merchandise to Great Britain last year amounted to $92,857,525, as against $96,562,875 for the year previous, a reduction of $3,705,350. The value of foreign exports sent from this country to Great Britain was $12,471,431, as against $11,173,093. The exports of Canadian merchandise to the United States (not including estimate short) were $67,963,678, while for the year previous were $59,666,556, including "short returned," an increase of $8,317,117. The increase of exports to the United States is accounted for largely by the bullion shipped from the Yukon. The foreign merchandise sent from Canada to the United States was $2,423,168, an increase of $456,751 over the previous twelve months. The exports of Canadian merchandise to France amounted to $1,436,928. In 1900 the exports of foreign merchandise to France were $2,411; last year they reached a total of $144,703. The exports of Canadian merchandise to Germany increased by over a quarter of a million, the figures being $1,874,716, compared with $1,108,163. Of foreign merchandise Canada sent $766,886, or $159,096 more than in 1900.

The Canada Life Assurance Co.

A Business Proposition.

We offer you a better investment than Government Bonds.

Better for three reasons.

1st.—Canada Life 5 per cent. Gold Bonds yield a much higher rate of interest than Government Bonds.

2nd.—They are paid for by instalments—thus placed within the reach of men without capital.

3rd.—They are insured. That is, should the investor die after paying only one instalment on his bonds, all his future payments to the Company would be immediately cancelled and the benefits of his investment would be at once become available.

Add to all these advantages the very material one that the investor shares in the surplus earnings of this leading Company, and you have an opportunity for safe and profitable investment rarely equalled. A handsome booklet, giving a full explanation, will be sent on request.

A STARTLING STORY

London Police Credit Story of Plot to Kill Chamberlain.

TOLD IN THE POLICE COURT.

Michael Faugeron, Charged With Murder, Says Jung, a Noted Socialist, Tried to Bribe Him to Kill the Colonial Secretary—Prisoner Then Killed Jung in Self-Defence.

London, Sept. 12.—Martial Faugeron, a Frenchman, who was charged yesterday at Clerkenwell Police Court with the murder of Herman Jung, an old jeweller of Clerkenwell, about ten days ago, told a remarkable story of a plot to kill Joseph Chamberlain, the Colonial Secretary.

Faugeron said he had been the recipient of small loans from Jung. The day of the murder Jung summoned him to his shop, where they discussed the misery caused by the South African war, which Jung declared Mr. Chamberlain was responsible for, and told Faugeron that if he could kill Mr. Chamberlain he, Jung, through intermediaries, would guarantee him a fortune, tendering him a ten-pound note to buy good clothes. To enable him to approach his victim, Faugeron says when he refused Jung declared he should not leave his shop alive, and that the latter picked up a heavy iron, rushed on Faugeron and felled him to the ground. Faugeron thereupon drew a knife and stabbed his assailant in the neck.

The prisoner, who signed the foregoing statement

the Pan-American for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Stewart left Tuesday morning to visit the Pan-American before leaving for their future home in Duluth, Minn.

Miss L. King, of Toronto, is the guest of Mrs. L. King.

Miss M. Douglas has returned home, after spending a couple of weeks
with friends in Peterboro and Betu-nary.

Miss Minnie DeLury has returned to Chicago, after spending a month
at home.

MT. PLEASANT.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Arno, the Contortionist, who performs feats which have mystified the medical profession in Canada and the United States, will perform at the Lindsay Fair on the 26th, 27th and 28th Sept.

Flugs have been flying in our town
at half mast, out of respect to the late President McKinley. The Rev.
Wm. Kinniburgh referred to his death on Sabbath last, taking for his text: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's."

H. J. McLean with his wife and son have gone on a visit to Mrs.
N. H. Greig, at Smith's Falls. They will visit Ottawa before they return and will likely have the pleasure of seeing the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall while there.

Mrs. T. Jamieson has left for Ottawa to visit her sister Mrs. Denne.
Rev. Kinniburgh's brother is enjoying life
in town and vicinity.

We regret to hear of the sudden death of Mr. Magwood, of Lindsay, who was formerly a resident of this township of Cavan. We extend our sympathies to the bereaved family.

The storm of the 16th mat. swept the remaining few apples off the trees in the orchards here. This with the failure of the crop will make apples scarce.

The butter factory will be in operation very soon. The season for making cheese will end next month unless the season remains open longer than usual. We look for the best quality of butter being made here this winter, as Mr. Casey has had ample time to study up the new discoveries in the manufacture of butter. Farmers should avail themselves of the opportunity of having good butter and saving of labor to their wives, who are taxed sufficiently with work without the trouble of making butter.

We hear they are offering larger and better prizes for all stock at the Lindsay Fair this year. We may expect to see a very fine display in all classes.

CAMBRAY.
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Byam's sell the "Erect Form" cur-sets and other lines of Crompton's best make.—wif.

We hear that the directors of the Lindsay Central have erected an elegant and new poultry house 100 feet long, so there will be a fine display of birds at the fair on Sept. 26th, 27th and 28th.

MILLERSMITH-EMILY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
The Shadow social, though a new feature in the line of money-making entertainment, was not in reality
what many anticipated, notwithstanding its financial success. The next attempt will be of a different nature.

Rev. M. L. High, pastor of the Methodist church, is at present confined to his bed. We hope to soon see him
at his duties again.

Mr. John Kennedy has lately sold his farm, (the old homestead), to his brother, David Kennedy.

Miss Amy Kennedy is at present visiting with her sister, Mrs. G.
Thurston, of Lindsay.

We are sorry to learn that Mr.
Thos. Johns is unable to attend to his duties. We hope to soon see him in his accustomed health and strength.

Owing to the rumor that another picnic was to be held here this fall,
we might here announce that all thoughts of it have been abandoned.

WOODVILLE
(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Come away with us to the Lindsay Exhibition on the 26th, 27th and 28th Sept. Harry Rich is to be there. See Canada's foremost comedian in a series of very funny
and amusing songs and sketches.
near future.

It's our fair this week, and a grand concert in Victoria hall on Friday night. All come.

Mrs. W. J. Moore visited with relatives at Buffalo and vicinity last week.

Secretary J. C. Gilchrist reports entirely for Woodville Fair to date ahead of former years.

The much talked of Lambert vs.
Bass case, for damages resulting from a fight on the highway last June, was settled here on Monday night out of court. We understand the defendant pays $250 and each party pays their own costs. Mr. T.
Stewart, Lindsay, and Mr. Reid, Can-nington, were the legal advisers and with the assistance of arbitrators
here, a settlement was effected.

This fighting is both hard on the purses, and dangerous to the eyes.

Miss E. Browning and Miss Barnes,
of Toronto, visited with Mr. J.
Barnes here for a few days, returning to the city on Saturday.

The entertainment on Friday night in Victoria hall will be represented by some of Toronto's best talent, and should bring a full house.

A number of good horses are booked for the spelling on the new track fair, which no doubt will prove an interesting feature.

Arch Campbell, our miller, received his new 50-horse power engine
a few days ago. It and the new addition to the building, and other improvements, make a decided change.

Miss Maggie G. Campbell, of London, Ont., is visiting with friends and acquaintances here this week.

The farmers are busy harvesting clover in this section, which is a good crop generally.

Saturday morning last news came
of the death of President McKinley,
which was a great surprise to all,
and many were the expressions of regret. In the churches the ministers feelingly referred to the death of the good President.

TO SUBSCRIBERS IN ARREAR

By actual count there are over 900 subscribers to our weekly list in arrears for the current year, and a considerable proportion of them for two years. This delinquent list represents the large sum of $1,500. Don't you think it is too bad, in view of the large and interesting paper we are giving, that we should be worried in our financing by this thoughtlessness of some subscribers?

For it is largely thoughtlessness. With this money in hand the publisher would be able to undertake many projects he has in his mind for the further improvement of the paper. Isn't it too bad that the majority of readers should be punished by the minority in this way?—for with so much money outstanding it is impossible for the publisher to increase the expenditure on the paper.

Dear reader, if you are one of these delinquents, look at the label on your paper, note the date to which your subscription is paid, and in arrears, sit down and write us enclosing the amount. It will be the most welcome letter we can receive. If every subscriber in arrears were to do this, the burden of life to the publisher would be greatly relieved.

Address The Weekly Post, Lindsay, Ont., and use registered letter, postal note, P.O. order, or Express order.

Our subscribers or any of their friends are invited to give us a call at any time when in Lindsay, when we shall take pleasure in showing them through our printing office, where they may see the plant in operation.

Single Fare Tickets

To Lindsay can be purchased on Oct. 5th (the day of the Reform Convention) good to return on 7th, at any agency of the Grand Trunk Railway, where the ordinary single fare does not exceed $2.50.

POPULAR ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

What the Y.M.C.A. Intend Doing to Amuse and Instruct our People During the Coming Season

The efforts of the Y.M.C.A. to provide a good class of entertainments at a moderate rate met with such an expression of popular approval last year that they have completed arrangements for another course of five concerts.

The Padgett Woman's Orchestra, of Boston, will open the course on Nov. 5th with a brilliant concert. This orchestra, under the management of Mrs. Caroline Padgett, so captivated the audience last year that it does not need any special introduction to the music-loving people of Lindsay. The personnel of the orchestra remains practically unchanged, the players representing the finest and highest attainments on their respective instruments. The orchestra will have the assistance of a prominent soprano whose singing will add charm to the program. For variety no greater attraction could be found than the one selected, "Little Lina" Hartman, the child impersonator, to whom Eugene O'Neill wrote, "Only poems will be better for being recited by you."

The Eugene Page Concert Co. will appear Dec. 5th. Mr. Page has been for ten years identified with the best musical combinations of America, and is now conducting for the second year the company bearing his name. The company consists of a violin, cello, harp, violincello, and two mandolins, and a soprano soloist. They have received many words of commendation for their clever work of last year.

The third concert will be given on Jan. 1st, 1902, by Albert Armstrong, in his dramatic picture play, "The Little Minister." Humor, pathos and dramatic interest are so richly mingled in this charming story that when seen and heard, as presented by Mr. Armstrong, is delightfully entertaining. The general secretary of the Boston Y.M.C.A., says: "I commend the picture play heartily to our associations throughout the country." Mr. Armstrong appeared in Massey Hall, Toronto, last year.

The fourth concert will be unique in that it is to be given by a quartette of artists from the Bay of Auer, Bavarian Alps, Bavaria, in their native costume. Relhoefers' Trio, of Bavaria, has had remarkable success, not only in Europe, but also in America. Their program contains Trio, and American songs, yodeling and echo songs, quartettes and duets, to the accompaniment of Alpine instruments, new to Canadian audiences. Not only has Franz Relhoefers earned a reputation for his first series of concerts, but a performer on a variety of instruments, but also as a mimic, and during the evening will impersonate a number of well-known characters. This concert will be held March 8th.

Mr. J. Williams Macy, who closed the first series of concerts, has been engaged to do the same for the coming course, this event taking place on April 6th, 1902. Merely to state that he has appeared for 10 consecutive years in Philadelphia Y.M.C.A., and eight years in Boston Y.M.C.A. Course, is sufficient guarantee that he will be able to sustain the reputation he earned upon his first visit to Lindsay.

By combining these five events the Y.M.C.A. are able to sell subscription tickets for the five concerts for $1 per ticket, subject to an additional charge of 10c. for reserving seats. Already a large number of the subscribers' tickets have been applied for.

FIRST DAY OF THE BIG FAIR

NUMBER OF ENTRIES WILL BE ENORMOUS.

Weather indications favorable and a record-breaking crowd expected on Friday.

As we go to press to-day (Thursday) the Central Fair grounds present a scene of unexampled bustle and hurry, directors and exhibitors being in the throes of preparation for the opening Friday. The great increase in the number of entries in all departments, and the grand special attractions secured by the management, make it certain that the Fair will prove the most successful ever held. Weather indications are favorable, and there is a general conviction that the attendance will exceed all past records. A full report will appear in next week's issue.

List of Special Attractions.

Lily El tao, the Canadian Premier Cornet Player, and the youngest of her sex in Canada who plays that difficult instrument. She will give a selection of national and popular airs.

Nelle Franklin, the clever English dancer and singer, in a pretty and picturesque song and dance sketch.

Arno, the contortionist, who performs feats which have mystified the local profession in Canada and the United States.

The Bletso children, national dancers, winners of numerous prizes, and the cleverest young dancers in Canada.

Harry Ritch, Canada's foremost comedienne of very funny and amusing songs and sketches.

Franklyn and Blunt, the marvelous English lightning change impersonators, in realistic sketches of English characters, including the sea side resort, lady and gent, the race course swells, the English cooks, a London society swell.

Varia and Turcotte, the celebrated Roman act jugglers, in wonderful feats of daring and strength, handling a perfect shower of axes.

Walton and Jones, the funniest and prettiest comedy sketch ever put upon the stage, introducing a wonderful cornet player, and the prettiest dancing by a lady ever seen in Canada.

MOVEMENTS OF ROYAL TRAIN

Provisional Time-Table Prepared by Grand Trunk Authorities

Although the movements of the royal train on its return to the east have not been definitely decided, the G.T.R., which takes charge of the train at North Bay, has arranged a provisional time-table.

North Bay will be left at 6.05 a.m. on October 10th, and after a stop of perhaps an hour at Scotia Junction and of a minute or so at Grayhurst, and Allandale, the train will run through to Toronto, arriving at two p.m.

The Duke will leave Toronto at nine a.m. on October 12th, and, having stopped at various intermediate stations will reach Niagara-on-the-Lake at six p.m. The return journey to Toronto will begin at 10.30 a.m. on Oct. 14th. At Hamilton perhaps three and a half hours will be spent. Toronto will be reached at 7.07 p.m., and Belleville at 10.45 p.m. The next train will leave Belleville at 9.30 the next morning and arrive in Kingston at 11 a.m.

THERE'S ROOM IN CANADA.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal of Sept. 3rd says that "the government has decided to admit Irish emigration with impunity, if not with delight. They also regard it as a welcome excuse for reducing the Irish representation in parliament. It is truly British policy; first drive the people from the country in spite of the protest of their representatives, then reduce the number of the representation to the point where the population has diminished, but it is unnecessary to labor that point. Neither the government nor the landlords can afford openly to rejoice at the fatal tide of Irish emigration. Both the government and the landlords confess that the evil is in the land system, which induces, even compels it. All agree that the only remedy is in a general purchase and distribution scheme which will make the tenants owners of adequate holdings."

The applications of Messrs O'Connell and Ellis each contained a provision for withdrawal in case Mr. Jackson applied. Mr. Jackson gratefully acknowledged the compliment paid him by the two ex-rees, and on motion by Messrs Hawkins and Byrne Mr. Jackson was re-appointed collector for the present year.

Mr. John Robinson called the attention of the council to the culvert on the 8th con. line, lot 14, requesting that it be cleaned out and that the parties liable for the maintenance of the drain under the engineer's award be notified to attend to it. Mr. Hawkins was instructed, on motion by Messrs Sluggett and Byrne, to see that Mr. Robinson's request be complied with.

Municipal Drain No. 1.

Eleven of the patrons of drain No. 1 attended at 3 p.m. in compliance with the notice sent them, and after Mr. Robinson had read the report of the completion of the drain till next summer, when it would dry and labor be more easily procured.

The reeve was appointed on motion by Messrs Byrne and Hawkins to put the title portion on lot 19, con. 8, into better working order, to clean out a portion of the west branch and deepen the eastern part of the east branch as soon as possible.

Mr. Hawkins moved, seconded by Mr. Sluggett, that the following accounts and bills now passed be paid: Geo. Lytle, for printing, $87; John Carew, for supplies, $30.16; John Whalen, work blasting gravel pit, $3; Miss Twamley, treasurer for home to pay nurse for L. Finnegan, $31.—Carried.

A bylaw to confirm the appointment of collector and one imposing a special drainage rate on the west half of lot 4, con. 1, received the usual readings. After which the council adjourned to meet at the call of the reeve.

W. F. O'BOYLE, Clerk.

Our Fall Stock

has arrived. Now is your opportunity to buy furniture and save money. Dining-room, parlor and bedroom furniture, in oak and ash, up-to-date styles. See our stock before making a single purchase in the furniture line. M. E. Tangany, opposite the Benson house.—dwt1.

OPS COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

REGULAR MEETING HELD ON MONDAY LAST.

Communications and Other Matters Dealt with by the Representatives.

The members of Ops council met at 1 p.m., September 25th, and after the minutes of last regular meeting were disposed of the clerk read the following.

Communications.

From Mr. McNeill county clerk, inviting the council to attend a conference on the county road system at the court house at 2 p.m., 24th inst. and to take part in the proceedings thereof, that some plan of action may be adopted by which municipalities desiring a share of the provincial appropriation for roads could obtain it.

Mr. Joseph Mark applying for a loan of $100 under the life drainage act.

From Messrs McLaughlin, McElmair and Peck in reference to drainage on Elm lot 12, con. 8.

From Wm. B. Fee complaining of the way in which the pathmaster of beat 84 had expended statute labor money.

A report from Geo. Smith, township engineer, setting forth the work necessary to complete drain No. 1.

Sundry Accounts and Bills.

Mr. Wm. Rea addressed the council and said that for want of a sufficient outlet the water from the roadside at lot 6, con. 10, flooded a portion of his land. He desired to have the outlet improved and would pay a just share of the cost.

COUNTY GOOD ROADS SYSTEM

In another column will be found a synopsis of the excellent address delivered Tuesday before the County Council by Mr. A. W. Campbell, Provincial Commissioner, in explanation of the provisions and application of the Good Roads Act recently passed by the Ontario government.

The meeting was well attended by representatives from the various townships, and Mr. Campbell's clear, frank and thorough explanation of the Act made a deep impression on his hearers.

The Good Roads Committee of the Council devoted Wednesday to a careful consideration of the points brought out, and may report thereon
in a few days. Details must require further discussion, but everyone will warmly hope that the good roads system will be endorsed in the near future. We want modern methods in road building, as in everything else.
The country pathmaster has outlived
his usefulness.

THE LIBERAL CONVENTION.

The Liberals of our County are manifesting a deep interest in the convention to be held in the Academy of Music, Lindsay, on Saturday, Oct.
5th, to select a candidate to contest the West Riding at the approaching Provincial elections.

Over-confidence, born of many successes, has in the past contributed to the defeat of government candidates in West Victoria and other ridings, and these unexpected victories have been taken advantage of
by the leaders of a desponding opposition and are being held up to the view of their followers as signal proofs that the people of Ontario are growing tired of a wise, careful and progressive administration of public affairs, the object being to fan the enthusiasm of Tory officers and apostle hunters and urge them to a last desperate and possibly unscrupulous effort to oust
from power the party that has made
our province great and prosperous.

We have no fear of the result in West Victoria if our Liberal friends make a wise selection at the coming convention. But there must be unity of feeling between the various ports of the riding, honest work along every concession line, and an ever-present conviction that any feeling of over-confidence which may induce apathy and unconcern is almost certain to result in defeat.
It is very important that there should be a large attendance of delegates and workers on Saturday, 5th Oct. Let no Liberal stay away who can conveniently arrange to attend.
The convention will open at eleven o'clock. Single fare tickets will be issued by the G.T.R.

COUNTY GOOD ROADS SYSTEM

The Project was Discussed Tuesday Before the County Council.

MR. A. W. CAMPBELL, PROVINCIAL COMMISSIONER, GAVE A LUCID EXPLANATION OF THE GOVERNMENT ACT EXTENDING AID.

The Provisions are of an Elastic Nature, and Give the County and Municipalities Great Liberty of Action—A Majority of the Townships in Favor of the Plan.

Pursuant to the call of Warden Graham, a pre-arranged meeting of the various municipalities in the County of Victoria, together with the members of the County Council, met in the County Council chamber Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock to hear the address to be delivered by Mr. A.
W. Campbell, Provincial Road Commissioner, on the vital question of
the Good Roads Act.

Warden Graham had visited the various councils in the County, and presented the question of the wisdom of taking advantage of the provisions recently made by the legislature under the title of the "Good Roads Act," one million dollars having been set aside to aid in the construction of good roads throughout the Province. Objections had been raised to the proposition by some of the representatives in the municipalities and he (Warden Graham) considered it desirable that Road Commissioner Campbell should be asked to explain away the difficulties raised, the main one being that of County control. Accordingly the meeting was called, and was a very representative one.

THE GOOD ROADS ACT.

Warden Graham took the chair and called upon Mr. Campbell to address the members and representatives.
He read carefully the provisions of the Act in detail, and the consideration of that was being given to it by the government, evinced by the fact that one million dollars had been set aside for aiding in good roads at the earnest solicitation of some of the best authorities on road-making.
He addressed them as men having an actual experience of over twelve years in road-making, such experience showing him the necessity of simplifying matters and laying down
some well-defined plan of action.
Some councils have started on the most expensive kind of macadam roads, and then, having gone a little way, have abandoned the enterprise
because of limited capital at their disposal. They have undertaken huge works, and not looked into the little things which are of vast importance. The county disposes of the program planned and inferior work is permitted instead of talking matters over with the ratepayers and thus aiming to Secure a Uniform System.

This would enable pathmasters to work along a well-defined plan.
When trying to improve roads it should be done consistently with the amount of money at their disposal.
We should spend our money to the best advantage. The most important public work being carried on in the province to-day is that of road-making,
but so long as the present system continues it is impossible to change in methods with new machinery saving to the rate payers.

In the matter of culverts the present make only lasts seven or eight years, and at the end of that time
the repairs thereon during that period would amount to the cost of proper reconstruction. Some more substantial material than that now in use is necessary. Concrete pipes is a decided improvement upon timber. It is composed of Portland Cement and Gravel.

The mould for its manufacture can be made by any village blacksmith for five dollars or less, a mould is necessary for each size of pipe.
Then if you find you require greater capacity, lay your pipe side by side. Concrete arches can also be made by making the material, erecting a wall of support, place the concrete therein, and then after hardening remove the wall. Then you will have concrete there for all time.
Every year's work will reduce the number of culverts.

The speaker said when he first came to Lindsay advanced these more up-to-date methods, but the Council would not listen to what they termed extravagant suggestions.
He got into a heap of trouble, but finally he accomplished his object.
Inside of four years some miles of roads were laid down on the plan suggested, and now Lindsay is reaping the benefit of these modern methods, and is one of the most progressive and up-to-date towns in the Province. Plank costs six cents a foot, concrete six, and is indestructible. Then why follow old methods? Why extract money from the pockets of the people unjustly,
when you can produce better results with less taxation? You should have no money to waste in patching up roads, and then after hard-
work, have to start over again.
The clerk of West Melville, about concrete, seventeen years ago they built concrete pipes and left them on test for three winters. They saw that the improvement was

All it was claimed to be,
and as every culvert required repairing, it was much of a waste.
The expenditure yearly on culverts was reduced; the first year it was $1,700 and in a few years the expenditure was but paltry—almost nothing. It should be a question of probable taxation not a question of careful study economy build better roads, and save a greater amount of labor. We should make changes in accordance with changed conditions, and these changes can only be brought about by taking advantage of the new methods.
We ought to have one plan and follow it—make it as complete as possible. Make your system more comprehensive. Adopt a County road system. It is decidedly an-

Just and unfair to ask the township adjoining the town to keep roads in good repair for the use of outlying townships. But still on third are leading roads, one-third are used only by that neighborhood, and the remainder by roads. It is an expense to make the back roads as expensive to you as your leading roads. They should be classified. Certain roads pass through certain townships and for that reason it is necessary to consider as to whether they should be improved and maintained, and how. Some municipalities think they can keep the roads better than if a County system was adopted. Are not the County Councils composed of the representatives from these various townships, and are not the interests of one the interests of the other? The question is, who can keep these particular roads in the manner that

Will be Fairest to All?

This question should be considered in a business-like way. Roads must be looked after, and encouragement to municipalities is a needful thing.
The function of the government is to improve public roads at the least possible cost to the municipalities—
to remove the burden upon the ratepayers. Thus $1,000,000 was set aside to aid municipalities in keeping up good roads. Nor do the legislature care what method of plan you adopt. The money is set apart—that is what the bill provides. If you see fit to use any suggestion placed in the Act, and cause an expenditure to the government of $30,000, (which is the amount set aside for this County according to acreage), you can do so right away. But you do not have to provide expensive roads.
You can do so in a simple manner, as that particular bill. It simply says
"An Act to aid in the improvement of roads." It doesn't say whether they are to be macadam, gravel or earth.
The County Council may, with the expressed wish of the ratepayers, lay down a system of roads, as determined by said municipality. The Act does not say that it must be a leading road. You gentlemen, as the representatives of the municipality, are in a better position to designate

What the Roads Shall Be.
—the government do not care what you call leading roads. You fix them. The County Council then takes charge and can proceed with the work to the extent of $10,000,
and as the expiration of such work
you can draw on the government for one-third of that amount. The County Council appoint a man to superintend the work, or appoint a committee. As to starting the work, if the Council find a piece of road just outside Lindsay that should be ma-caded, they can make a note of it, that say $1,000 a mile. If they find a piece of road will only require grading, which will only necessitate an outlay of $50, and possibly less.
They go on until they go over all the roads, and then make an estimate of what amount will put all these roads in good condition. It does not matter to the government
if you take ten years in completing the work, nor whether you adopt a County system or not. That is your affair. If you consider it should be done by the County, then that body have all January, 1903, to take advantage of the $30,000 grant. If you consider it should be a township system, then township councils have the same privilege till January, 1904.
After that date the money is placed in the hands of the department
man. The two-thirds, outside of the one-third granted by the legislature, must be raised by other County funds are raised, so that the cost is levied over the whole County.

Upon the Assessable Property, towns and villages to pay eight per cent, fifty-one per cent, to be raised by the municipalities. The balance being the percentage paid by the government. Can you see any advantage in the County taking charge?
A township may not be able to do
it. As to the cost of superintending the work, it would be vastly better to have one man—a good experienced, competent man. There is just as much in the proper superintending of roads as there is in building them. Dry land will not require so much work to put in good condition
while the clay and swampy land will necessitate considerable expense.

Then, after you have determined to go ahead with the work, the County Council should lay down a system whereby roads can be supervised. Your leading roads should demand your chief attention, and the money you have been spending towards maintaining them can be given to the County, and instead of the County being a big piece on the map, they will be relieved of all such work. Do not use inferior gravel upon roads. If good gravel cannot be obtained, use stone. The County Council can provide a rock bank, putting it at your disposal
when the work is being performed in your municipality. The crusher and roller,

Good Heavy Machinery,
—could be supplied from the County, or, at a very small rate per cent. It is in the interest of the County, the County uses a heavy crusher and roller. The installing of proper machinery will mean a great saving in capacity. The County Council could send out notices to each mun-cipality to talk over the matter of buying the road machines, then two prices. The speaker said he knew of a crusher and roller being secured at $150 each, seven being secured
at once. This is explainable, in dealing with municipalities it requires individual trips, time is lost and expense incurred in so doing. The County could also supply
a mould or two, and have a man go out and build an arch culvert or lay pipe as an object lesson. It is not necessary to be speculating as to the building of culverts and roads

in each municipality—have a set plan and work harmoniously. The township may designate what roads
they wish improved, and forward the report to the County Council, which body will accept the report. Then the work can be performed, the report to the department, and if reasonable—if it states that the roads
have been improved—

You Get Your Money
If you only want to raise $30,000 for road-making, do so, or you can do it to the extent of $100,000. All you need to do is to go on with the work, make the best of it, and the government will contribute its share.

FRAMING OF THE ACT

Mr. Campbell, in conclusion, briefly explained the action which led up to the framing of "The Good Roads Act." A few months ago a meeting of the County Council was called for the purpose of considering ways and means to secure aid in improving the leading roads in the province. After a short conference with the members of the Legislature, the department requested the Association to draw up a bill setting forth their requirements,
promising that they would give it
their best consideration and heartfelt support. This the Association did, and the bill entitled "The Good Roads Act for Aid in Improving the Roads of the Province," was introduced and finally passed, provision being made therein for the raising of one million dollars to aid in County and Township Councils.

In improving the roads within their jurisdiction. The County of Victoria possessing a very large acreage,
over one-third of the amount granted would be placed at their disposal. Your own Warden, said Mr.
Campbell, up to date, you would, in co-operation with the Association and making suggestions, and further, to see that the bill, if framed, would not have legislative restrictions,
and to ensure its freedom from anything of a political nature. The bill has been passed, and if it is found unworkable all that need be done is that a report be presented to the Legislature and a revision will be made. The bill has been framed in the interests of good roads and the government will always be found willing to give every possible assistance to a matter of such public importance.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Warden Graham, after referring in pleasing terms to the excellent address delivered, said he was dissatisfied that every representative should not have a clearer understanding of the provisions of the bill, and would be pleased to have them ask Mr. Campbell such questions as they deemed were in the interests of the municipalities they represented.

County Councillor Geo. Johnston
asked to know if any of the money granted for road improvement could be used in the building of bridges.
Mr. Campbell—"No, there is no other act providing for the building and maintaining of bridges, but no part of the grant under "The Good Roads
Act" could be so expended."

County Councillor Shaver—"Would
that portion of the roadway leading up to those bridges be considered as part of the County work?"

Mr. Campbell—"Yes."
Mr. Scully—"Is the purchasing of machinery considered as part of the work of construction and can the money set aside be used for that purpose?"

Mr. C.—"Yes, no doubt about that.
The money expended on machinery
can be charged up as part of the work."

Inspector Knight, in the course of his remarks, said he was surprised that any objection should be raised to the scheme. As a ratepayer in the town of Lindsay he was willing to pay his share, as he was a frequent user of County roads and was very anxious that they should be improved.

Mr. Campbell said much objection had been raised by towns because they were not included in the grant
but still had to pay a percentage.
Towns using able to make use of the improved County machinery was a considerable saving.

Mayor Ingle could not see that any benefit would come from the scheme in the use of machinery. In the town they had constant use of the crusher and roller, whereas if the County had control these machines would be all over and the town would be left to watch its chance to secure them, and then getting permission for so doing from the County.

Mr. C.—"The County may trade the present machinery and get a much better and more serviceable crusher
and roller that would crush 25 or 30 cords a day. The County should be able to procure a much better roller
to crush a much heavier material.
County Councillor Shaver—"Could
a heavy roller such as you mention be brought safely over all our bridges?"

Mr. C.—"No, I judge not; many will not even consider it. It is not an easy matter of getting ground work bridges. Many times a roller must be carried in a roundabout
way in order to avoid poorly constructed bridges."

Mr. Boyd (Embury)—"Is it compulsory to have a competent engineer?" Mr. C.—"The County is not compelled to employ a competent engineer.
They should secure a man who has gained experience by being a long time in the service. The Act provides for a competent engineer, but he is deemed a competent one, and the engineer would be a man under government control and therefore it would be a great expense to keep such a man in the municipalities.
Mr. Campbell said the government left it with the County or township to make their choice of a competent man to act as engineer."

Mr. E. H. Hopkins wished to know if the County would have to maintain the by-law and throw the responsibility of maintaining them on the township.
Mr. Campbell said the Act had nothing to do with a matter of that kind, as the County was not looked upon as being in a centralization road district.

In reply to Mr. McNeill as to the matter of passing the by-law, Mr.
Campbell said that except one-third of the roads in the municipality, the County would not be able to do so.
Improving of County roads (the County Council) could go ahead and build.

Representatives Heard From.
At this juncture Warden Graham
asked for expressions from the various representatives of the County as to what the probable course their township would pursue.

Mr. Boyd, representative of Embury, said he had given the scheme a great deal of study. He could not say whether it was going on or not, and if a change was desirable. His council as a whole, he concluded, were in favor of the scheme. It was high time for the County of Victoria to do something along the line of improving its roads. Embury council had designated the roads they wish to have improved.

Mr. Hunt, representative of Graham, said that he was hearing Mr. Graham, and was inclined to favor the scheme.
Warden Graham said it would be a great advantage to have roads designed at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Walsh, representative of St. John's, said that so far as the County of that municipality was concerned, every member favored the scheme.

Mr. K. Suddaby, of the same township, was of the opinion that everything had gone into committee except the building, and that should be concentrated.

Mr. Staple, of Linton, was satisfied with the scheme. Linton was at the farthest point of the County and he was afraid the machines would be worn out before they reached his municipality.

Mr. McKnight, of Berby,—"Our municipality are all in favor of the scheme, with the exception of one man."

Mr. Naylor, Fenelon, said the councilors had not considered the scheme yet. He considered the high County rate, and the placing of an extra levy, due to County control of roads, would still further increase the rate. Personally he was somewhat in favor of keeping the roads under municipal control.

Mr. J. M. Metcalfe, representative of the next speaker. He did not believe in maintaining roads and going to such a great expense for the benefit of other townships. He was not at all in favor of the scheme. If the townships under County control had to maintain half of their roads they could make them all.
Warden Graham said it was always considered that because the leading roads of Ops are used more than those of any other township, Ops
would be entitled to consideration
that no other township would get.
They were entitled to three dollars
of a grant to every one dollar expended in other townships.

Mr. Campbell called Mr. McLean's attention to the wording of the Act.
Concerning the granting of the money according to acreage, the words "as far as practicable" were placed in the bill. The word "practicable" was one of great elasticity, and certainly it was nothing but just that Ops, having the larger end of the expense for road improvement,
should receive a larger percentage
grant than any other. More expensive roads were necessary as traffic was greater, and as a result it would be considered "practicable"
to give a larger proportion to the township of Ops. It was so situated, with Lindsay, the County town right
in its heart, that nearly all the roads leading into the town were under its control and being maintained by it.

The representative from Dalton
said the council of that township was in favor of the scheme to a large extent. It had been sent down to him further about the matter, they were far back in the world they had suspicion as to the veracity of Warden Graham's statements when he visited them. However, he had had proof of the correctness of Mr. Graham's statements and was glad to give the practical address given by Mr. Campbell.

Mr. Edwin Mark, of Mariposa,
was not in a position to say for the council of Mariposa thought of the scheme. He was in favor of good roads. At present there were one hundred pathmasters in the township and one hundred and one different ways of making roads.

Mr. Macfarlane, representative of Eldon—
"As far as I can find out, the Council of Eldon is in favor of the scheme.
Personally, I am opposed to it, but I am in favor of abolishing statisticians."

Mayor Ingle, Lindsay, said the councils hands were tied. He could not see that the County roller would be of any benefit to the town. At present the horse roller was in use every day in the week. Lindsay was an expensive town to keep up.
Woodville was represented by Mr.
Dugmore. He had not given any thought to the question. Good roads were certainly a necessity.

The baby municipality, Sturgeon Point, was represented by Rev. J.
D. Bayliff. It was unfortunate,
he said, that Lindsay was no vice in the matter, yet was compelled to pay eleven per cent, of the cost of maintaining the roads. The scheme as a whole commended itself.
The words "as far as practicable"
were words of wide latitude. Ops township must of necessity receive a much larger part of the grant
than the other townships, and the word
"practicable" meant that of such benefiting. We must look to the question from a broad standpoint.
As far as the village of Sturgeon Point was concerned, it had not very many leading roads.

Mr. McLean said the leading roads in Ops were now as good as any County system could make them.
They had in some places from ten
to twenty inches of gravel on them,
and were in good shape.

On motion of County Councillor
Calhoun, seconded by Mr. S.
Ingle, Mr. A. W. Campbell was appointed a committee of three, to draw up a report and inform the County Council. Mr. Campbell said the question of the grant should be considered in the interest of good roads.
Do not consider road-making to be a burden. Every dollar would be spent right in the municipalities,
and the government would be anyway glad to help them in any way
and at any time their services were desired.

The meeting then closed.

The Weekly Post.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, SEPT. 27th, '01

GOLDWIN SMITH ON ANARCHY.

Prof. Goldwin Smith's views on anarchy are produced in the Weekly Post. They are hits from the shoulder, and should receive the careful consideration of every thinking man. He says:

"When the masters of the world meet in council for the repression of anarchy we all approve. But, after all, what is anarchy? It is the exaggeration in the disordered mind of the spirit of violence and disdain of law with which these potentates are themselves filling the nations? What is it but anarchy when, instead of settling a dispute when they are possible by arbitration, they choose to settle it with the sword? What is it but anarchy when they vie with each other in the construction of bloated armaments, at the same time kindling everywhere the flames of international hatred and stimulating the lust of war? What is it but anarchy when one of them grasping a territory to which he has no right, lets loose his soldiery to choke the rivers with the bodies of innocent people and spit infants on their bayonets? What is it but anarchy when another of them, brazening the author of the Armenian massacres? We all abhor the act of the wretched miscreant at Buffalo and deplore the tragic fate of his victim. But had not the victim, to keep himself and party in power, made war without a cause, relating arbitration when it was tendered him, and using a manifest fiction to inflame the passions of the people? If contempt of municipal law and government is anarchy, so in this way is contempt of the law of humanity and of the moral government of the universe."

THE BEET SUGAR INDUSTRY.

(Monetary Times, Toronto.)

One of the most striking features of the Toronto Exhibition, and one manifesting the newest large development in this country in the agricultural line, was the exhibit by the Ontario government of several beds of sugar beets in all stages of growth. Few staple crops need more nicety of manipulation, more attention to detail, in a word, more scientific culture than do beets intended for the production of sugar, so that, for farmers and others who intend to become largely interested in this comparatively new product of Canadian soil, the value of the exhibit, as an object lesson, has no doubt been very great.

There is, however, another side to this question of growing beets for the manufacture of sugar in Canada. Is the business not likely to be overdone? We do not mean that there is any likelihood of the production of sugar being more than sufficient for the demand—at any rate for a long time to come, for the consumption is sufficiently enormous. We have in mind, rather, the fact that in various parts of this province alone there must be more than a dozen beet-sugar propositions being considered at the present moment. Some of these no doubt are reputable enterprises, and are backed by men not only of real worth in the financial world, but of well recognized commercial acumen, who are well aware of the truth that it takes many factors to make a real success of a business proposition that, on the face of it, looks as though it ought to be successful. Nor should it be forgotten that the industry has been attempted before, in other parts of the Dominion, and that it was a failure.

Certainly, the admission may be made that more is known now—days about both the culture of beets and their manufacture into sugar than was the case in former years, but nevertheless we think it would prove good policy on the part of people in several places just now to go ahead a little more slowly in this matter. It is very noteworthy that an Ontario beet sugar enterprise was abandoned the other day, after much money had been expended, for the reason that the farmers of the neighborhood had not kept up to their promise to cultivate the sugar beet, and therefore the factory had not the raw material to work on. Are the men who seemingly are so willing to promote these enterprises in some of our rural towns fully cognizant of all the requirements of the case? And are the farmers and others who are backing these enterprises with their dollars and their labor, prepared to make allowances beforehand for the several difficulties which are practically sure to manifest themselves as soon as their schemes leave the embryo stage? We trust they are, but fear they are not.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

An Alabama sheriff has been charged with murder for killing a member of a mob while protecting a prisoner from lynching. And yet some people marvel that Anarchy finds a foothold in America!

New York has 1,037,670 persons of voting age, of whom 547,223 are foreign born, and 261,265 of foreign born parents. Of the 823,755 native white children in New York City 556,960 are of foreign parentage.

Premier Ross is to be presented by the Ross Liberal Club, of Toronto, with a splendid oil painting of himself, by Artist W. A. Sherwood (formerly of Lindsay) on the occasion of the opening of the club for the winter months. The Mail and Empire has not yet announced that Mr. Ross bought the picture himself.

It may be a long-headed scheme for Lord Kitchener to sell the farms of the Boers who are still bearing arms, but it takes two to make a bargain, and there is not likely to be any wild rush of purchasers under present circumstances, hence the proceeds for the maintenance of the concentration camps will not be large.

The appointment of Mr. Britton, of Kingston, and Mr. Forlin, of Laval, to the Bench, will necessitate bye-elections in one Ontario and one Quebec constituency, thus giving the opposition an opportunity to test the truth of the contention that a reaction has set in, and that public opinion is against the government.

The finding of the Conference committee in the Sanderson-McMunn cases is a peculiar one, but it is probably all that could be expected as the result of such an inquiry. The committee regards the two ministers as having been indiscreet and lacking of becoming gravity. It is not satisfied as to what caused Rev. Mr. Sanderson's incapacity, and in view of the uncertainty on this point it limits its finding to suspension of that gentleman till Conference meets. The obvious lesson of the affair is that ministers should not travel incognito, and candies given them by strangers, or go slumming unprotected.

A French statistician having investigated the records of duelling in France for the last twenty years, has come to the conclusion that the practice is less dangerous to life and limb than bicycling or ordinary railway travelling. He adds with fine sarcasm that the present French duel has almost reached the Altruistic stage, since Parisian duellists have taken to the sterilizing of their swords. It is now considered as reprehensible for a duellist, as it is for a surgeon, to omit antiseptic precautions. Duels now extend over many days, sometimes weeks, and are being good enough for an amusement. The object seemingly, according to the new code, is to deliver a scratch sufficiently slight to satisfy the offended honor of the parties engaged. It looks very much as though the practice was going to wind up down to a mere bowing ceremonial which cannot but result in its being laughed out of court.

W. M. Fisher, the manager of the Canada Permanent and Western Canada Mortgage corporation, has been visiting the Edmonton district, and he has opened a branch office in that town, which he says will unhesitatingly lend money to the farmers. Speaking to a Winnipeg Free Press representative, Mr. Fisher said:

"The Galicians, against whom I was prejudiced before my visit, and of whom there are about ten thousand tributary to Edmonton, I found to be a most desirable class of settlers, being hard-working, frugal people, and in their financial dealings honest to a degree. After careful personal observation, I am glad to be able to say that the abuse which has been poured upon these people is altogether undeserved. I saw the raw material and the finished article, if I may use the terms, and it is surprising in what a short time the raw material becomes so assimilated and the customs of the country in dress and manner adopted. Sheep skins are soon discarded and dress selected similar to that of the ordinary Canadian farmer. The language of the country is also adopted, and it is remarkable how quickly it is learned. I have no hesitation in pronouncing the Galicians of the Edmonton district an asset of great value to the country."

The trial of Czolgosz for the murder of Mr. McKinley began yesterday at Buffalo. As he openly admits his crime, it is to be hoped that the world will be spared a repetition of the spectacle presented at the trial of Galtieri. For seventy days that wretched degenerate was permitted to display his consuming vanity and extraordinary cunning. During all those days the columns of the daily press in the United States were filled with the nauseating details of his sayings and doings. His ranting comments on all sorts of subjects, his clogged rhymes, his efforts to pose as an instrument in the hands of Providence, were all minutely reported. Nor was the disgusting subject allowed to drop till the final touches were given in description of the assassin's skeleton on display in the case of Czolgosz the facts are plain. Yet, though he seems to have repeatedly admitted his crime, and though it was seen of all men, the law were appointed for the defence by the court have entered a plea of not guilty on his behalf. Whatever course the defence may take, the trial should be a vindication of the law not an opportunity for glorifying the culprit with more than is necessary of that publicity to which many a fool would be willing to die.

"Crying for the Moon"

Has become a proverbial phrase to express the futility of mere desire. There are a great many people who think it is as useless to hope for health as to cry for the moon. They have tried many medicines and many doctors, but all in vain.

A great many hopeless men and women have been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery; people with obstinate coughs, bleeding lungs, night sweats and other symptoms of disease which if neglected or unsuitably treated find a fatal termination in consumption.

"Golden Medical Discovery" has a wonderful healing power. It restores the nutrition of the body, and so gives strength to throw off disease. It cleanses the blood from poisonous impurities and enriches it with the red corpuscles of health. It is not a stimulant, but a strengthening medicine. It contains no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor any other narcotic.

Sometimes the extra profit paid by inferior medicine tempts the dealer to offer a substitute as "just as good" as "Discovery." If you are convinced that "Discovery" will cure you accept nothing else. It was in poor health when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine, writes Mr. Elmer Lawler, of Volga, Jefferson Co., Indiana. "I had stomach, kidney, heart, and lung trouble. Was not able to do any work. I had a severe cough and hemorrhage of the lungs, but after using your medicine a while I commenced to gain in strength and sleep. I took only fair right away. Took about six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' then, and am feeling better. I had a severe cough, leaving me with a severe cough. I had the doctor, but he didn't seem to help me any; so I commenced your medicine again and took three or four bottles of the 'Discovery' and was able to do my work. I feel like a different person. I gladly recommend your medicine to all sufferers, for I know it cured me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation by curing its cause.

LOCAL PLAYERS VICTORIOUS

Lindsay Wins From Uxbridge

Those who witnessed the series of games played Sept. 26th at the tennis grounds, in the match between Lindsay and Uxbridge, were well repaid for their time. For the first time in the history of the Lindsay Club a victory has been secured over the Uxbridge team. It is only fair to the latter club to state that they came to town much weaker than ordinarily, as neither Vyvyan nor Sharpe were amongst them; their representatives, however, were expert tennis players, and the local men have reason to feel elated over the result of the match.

Kennedy was in splendid form; in his game with Dr. Bascom he won the first set quite handsily by the score of 6-1, and in the second set he was in the lead, the score being 3-2, when he fell and dislocated his thumb, thus being unable to proceed. All the other games were keenly contested. O'Connor and Dr. Clarke had each a set to his credit, and in the third set the Uxbridge man at one time stood 4-0, and later 5-2, but O'Connor struck a decidedly faster ball and won out by the score of 7-5. Sootheran's game with Egan was also a hard struggle. Each player won a set, and in the third set the score stood 3-3, but Sootheran's Lawford strokes then began to tell and the next three games fell his way. The game between Bayly and Willis was most interesting, and some excellent tennis was seen. Each player covered his court remarkably well and the general play was good. Any luck that was going certainly fell to the Uxbridge player, and this combined with the best of judgment and steadiness, gave him the event. Willis won the first set, nearly placed in the doubles, and he and Sootheran won their event, though only after a splendid fight.

Scores were as follows: Singles—Kennedy, (L.) played Dr. Bascom, (U.) 6-4, 3-2 (unfinished); O'Connor, (L.) beat Dr. Clarke, (U.) 6-4, 4-6, 7-5; Sootheran, (L.) beat Egan, (U.) 6-3, 3-6, 6-3; Willis, (U.) beat Bayly, (L.) 6-4, 6-0. Doubles—Sootheran and Williamson, (L.) beat Egan and Willis, (U.) 6-2, 6-3; Dr. Bascom and Dr. Clarke, (U.) beat O'Connor and Bayly, (L.) 6-3, 6-4.

Police Court Calendar.

—Milton Fee, a lad about 14 years of age, and a companion named Wellington Hall, appeared before Police Magistrate Steers on Monday morning to answer to a charge of stealing a quantity of peas from the Flavell Milling Co. last week. The boys pleaded guilty and were let off on suspended sentence, after receiving a severe lecture.

To-day's Market.

Farmers' wives and daughters were at the market early last Saturday with baskets well filled with farm produce. There was a large quantity of chickens and the demand was good. Following were the quotations: Chickens, 40c. to 50c. per pair; ducks, 55c. to 65c. per pair; eggs, 11c. to 12c. per doz.; butter, 20c. to 21c. per lb.; turkeys, 12c. a lb.; cream 10c. per quart.

Obituary.

—Mr. J. J. Irwin, of St. Catharines, formerly of Lindsay, died suddenly in Toronto last Saturday. Some years ago Mr. Irwin went to Vancouver, where he accumulated much valuable property. Of late years he has lived in St. Catharines. Mr. Irwin was a prominent Mason and a most highly respected citizen. Two brothers, Samuel and William, both of Lindsay, and two sisters, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Pogue, are still here. A wife and four children survive him. The people with whom Mr. Irwin associated felt deeply about his sudden death.

Queen-st. Methodist Church.

The harvest home services in connection with the Queen-st. Methodist church was a decided success. Rev. Geo. Brown, of Oshawa, occupied the pulpit and delivered two practical gospel addresses. The singing by the choir was bright. At the evening service Mrs. Strick and Mr. J. P. Cummings contributed a well rendered duet. The attendance at both services was encouraging, every available seat being occupied.

Says He was Robbed.

John Sampllar, of the north ward, was down town the other morning for a few hours, which he spent looking for Chief of Police Neilson. The latter was on a hunt after stray dogs and their owners, and although John caught a glimpse of the Chief every now and then, the latter's long limbs quickly carried him out of local territory. Finally, becoming tired of the game of tag, John sat down at the market and explained his business with the officer of the law. It seems that he sold a couple of hogs to a Toronto buyer on Wednesday afternoon, receiving therefor something over $27. While on his way home in the evening the old man was taken with a weak spell when near the corner of Albert and Kent-sts., and two young men were seen to go to his assistance. They accompanied him home, and left him lying on the grass in the back yard. When he recovered from his fainting spell he found that his money—contained in a canvas bag—had been taken from his pocket. The two Samaritans are under suspicion, and John will summon them before the Magistrate.

A SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

Sketch—Granger.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Skitch, 57 William-st., north, Wednesday of last week, when Miss Celia E. Granger, of Sutton-West, Ont., was united in holy bonds of wedlock to Mr. Herbert W. Skitch, of Lindsay.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. H. Harsh, rector of St. Paul's church, assisted by the Rev. Thomas Manning, of Cambridge-st. Methodist church. The bride looked beautiful in a costume of dainty and chiffon, with aqua trimmings, and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Mabel Williams, of Lindsay, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a dress of white organdie trimmed with white lace and insertions; she also carried a bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. The groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. W. F. Skitch, of Peterboro.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, amid the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Miss Mabel Williams. The home had been artistically arranged with palms, ferns and other plants, and presented a very pretty appearance.

After the ceremony a symposium wedding repast was served. Many beautiful and costly presents were received. Friends were in attendance from Gravenhurst, Sutton-West, Rochester, Millbrook, Oshawa, and Dundas. The happy couple left on the 8 o'clock express for Trenton and points east amid showers of rice, taking with them the good wishes of many friends.

BLAZE AT PORT PERRY

BLOCK OF BRICK STORES TO- TALLY DESTROYED

An Explosion Wrecked Three of the Buildings. The Sufferers and Their Losses—Several Families Homeless.
Fire broke out about 12.10 o'clock
Sept. 19th in the bakery shop of
A. J. Sproule, Port Perry, and inside of two hours a row of brick stores were a mass of ruins. At first the wind was moderate, but, rising shortly afterwards, swept the blaze along towards the lake and endangered the entire town. The stores lost are owned by C. H. Allison, druggist; J.
A. Murray, dentist; Miss Harrison, dressmaking; C. A. Powers, tailor;
E. H. Purdy, grocer; A. J. Sproule,
baker; T. C. Cawker, butcher; W.
Primmer, dwelling; G. Dawson, barber; The Standard printing office;
D. James, broker; A. Ross & Co., general merchants; W. H. Harris, barber; Miss McKnight, dressmak-
er; the Western Bank; H. B. Clemen, R. G. Baird, tenants.

During the fire a loud explosion took place, wrecking three of the stores and scattering debris for many yards around. Fortunately, it is believed that no one was hurt. C.
H. Allison and J. Campbell were slightly injured by flying glass. The inefficiency of the fire-fighting apparatus was greatly felt. The cause of the fire is unknown at present, but it started in the main part of the bakery. The fire at 2 o'clock was burning furiously, but was under control.
The blaze was a very spectacular one, the flames illuminating the whole town.
The loss is placed at $300,000, and will be largely covered by insurance.
The block burned is a total loss.
Dozens of plate glass in stores on the opposite side of the main street
on which the fire raged were cracked and ruined by the heat. Several families living over the stores have been rendered homeless by the fire.

Hay Fever Can be Prevented.

Don't seek other cures at "Hay Fever Season," don't destroy your stomach and nerves by drugs—pre-

by germs that float about in the

your throat and lungs. Medicine won't reach them, but Catarrhizone will. Catarrhizone is a sure death to germs. Start now, to use Catarrhizone.
Inhale it into the throat,

COMMUNICATIONS

Let us Think Awhile.
(To the Editor of The Post.)

Dear Sir,—No doubt it is an easy matter to find fault, but before any large amount of cash is expended
by the town on the best sugar factory, would it not be wise to get the opinion of such places as Farnham, Que., that have had experience in this line, and having "paid the piper"
they very likely have not forgotten
the tune. This knowledge can be obtained by letter without going to the expense of sending a deputation.

Farmers in this district are doing well by growing a moderate amount of grain, piny and fancy peas, also raising hogs and cattle and making butter and cheese, for which there is a profitable and a steady
local and foreign market and by feeding the coarse grain it goes back to the land, thereby enriching the soil and enhancing the value of the farms. Is not that better than going into debt, which if a good crop will impoverish the land, and the only way out of the former can prevent this is by investing the profits in artificial manures.

While the bull bludge were being constructed the town would receive some benefit, although they would most likely be erected at a season of the year when all of our local mechanics and laborers were busy and in all probability the most of the work would be done by men from outside towns, who would be paid, and take the money with them, as soon as the job was completed.

In the matter of transportation,
the farms being now worked to their full capacity, local transportation conduces to much freight in present as they would if the farmers had sugar factories, even when the crop of beets is good (which is not sure every season) will run a part of the year only, and that in the busy part, and close down when the most needed, thus adding to the number of unemployed in winter.
It seems to me that a first-class
canning and evaporating factory would be of more benefit, and would cost a great deal less, give as much (if not more) employment, and save for the town an adjacent country of millions of dollars in the shape of fruit and vegetables which for the want of an available market go to waste from year to year.

What we really need is manufactories, such as rubber, furniture, machine shops, carriage works, woolen fancy and plaining, agricultural implements, boot and shoe, flour mills,
foundries and other industries, suitable to this locality, that will run
all the year round and employ heads of families as much as possible.
Those are the things that go to build up a town. Those Lindsay must have if she is to take her rightful place with the cities of the Dominion.—Yours, etc., NEMO.

Lindsay, Sept. 19th, 1901.

WEDDING BELLS.

Growden-Timm.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 19th,
Miss P. Timm's youngest daughter, Harriet, was united in marriage to Mr. Chas. Growden. Rev. Mr. A. J.
H. Strick performed the ceremony.
The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Rosa Timm, and the groom was ably supported by his cousin, Mr.
John Walker. Only a few were present to witness the ceremony. The young couple (both of Lindsay) purpose remaining here.

Hawth-Drader

A pretty home-wedding took place
at the residence of Mr. and Mrs.
George Jobbitt, Glenelg-st., Wednesday, the 18th inst., Rev. A. J. H.
Strick officiating. The occasion was the marriage of their daughter, Miss
E. Drader, of Montreal, and Mr.
A. J. Hawkin, of King's Milling Co., Sarnia. The bride was Miss Alba Drader, of Petrolia, the bride's cousin, the groom being supported by Mr. E. Drader, brother of the bride.

The attire of the bride was white Swiss organdie, trimmed with chilons, the veil of Brussels net, and she carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid's dress was a pink silk, with white silk trimmings,
and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. Miss Florence Jackson played Mendelssohn's wedding march.
The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Chas. Drader, Victoria Road, Friends from Petrolia, Toronto, Victoria Road, Fenelon Falls and Port Hope were in attendance. The travelling gown was of blue broadcloth. The happy couple will visit Port Hope, Toronto and Buffalo, and will make their home in Sarnia on the return. The wedding presents were numerous and handsome. We unite in extending congratulations.

Warning to Bicyclists.

Mr. J. D. Flavell wishes to direct the attention of those riding bicycles
on the sidewalks under prescribed conditions to the fact that riding a wheel on the sidewalk after nightfall is entirely prohibited. Several instances of night riding have been reported, and if any person can give the names of the riders an example will be made of them, as the practice will not be tolerated.

Big Order for Chickens.

The Canadian Produce Co., of Toronto, has received a definite contract from London, Eng., for 100,000 of the Canadian chickens. This is the largest order for this kind of produce ever given to a Canadian firm. It only remains with the farmers of Ontario to raise enough chickens to supply the demand. The Canadian Produce Co. say they are prepared to buy every chicken that can be raised in the Province of Ontario.

Pains in the Joints

may be muscular or rheumatic. The joints are hard to get at, and it requires a powerful, penetrating remedy to reach the affected parts. Poi-son's Nervine exactly meets the requirements, for it is both powerful and penetrating. The pain is expelled as it is by magic, for one drop of Nervine equals in strength five drops of other remedies. You won't often call the doctor if Nervine is in the house. Price 25c.

BENUMBED LIMBS

A TROUBLE RESEMBLING PAR- ALYSIS IN ITS EFFECTS.

The Victim Loses Strength in His Limbs
and is Usually Unable to do any Work—The Story of a Former Sufferer, showing how this Numbness
May be Overcome.

From "The Whig," Kingston, Ont.

There are few men in this city of Kingston better known than Mr. H.
S. Johnson, the genial proprietor of the "Bon Ton" barber parlor, on Protestant-st. For several years he has been giving over his entire work of his limbs to his assistants. But this spring his health is so wonderfully improved that his many friends have been congratulating him on his restoration. In conversing with a reporter of the Whig recently, Mr.
Johnson had the following to say concerning his illness and cure:
"For many months I was practically paralyzed. Numbness took possession of my limbs, especially of my hands. From my hips down my body was without strength, and despite all that I could do, I was unable to keep my hands and feet from becoming icy cold. My appetite left me, and soon I had to give up work. My general health was, of course, failing, and I lost flesh. As you know, I am sixty-five years of age, and when a man loses strength at that age, it is hard to build him up again. I tried several kinds of medicines, but they all failed to benefit me. The doctors whom I consulted were also unable to help me. I was growing discouraged when some of my old customers advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. At first I refused, for I did not believe any medicine on earth could help me, but at last friendly persuasion had its effect, and I bought a supply of the pills and began taking them. I soon found that they were benefitting me,
and so continued their use until Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills have made me
a new man. I feel stronger and better day by day. I am gaining in weight, and once again I am able to attend to my old customers without the least trouble. I consider the pills my best friend, and would not be without them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the friend of the weak and ailing. They surpass all other medicines in their strengthening qualities, and make weak and despondent people bright, active and healthy. These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or can be had by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Preparing for Toronto.

The company commanders of the 45th Regiment are preparing for the trip to Toronto on the occasion of the visit of the Duke and Duchess of York. Most of the men who turned out to Battalion drill at Kingston will again assemble. Capt. Williamson, of town, is still in new recruits at Cam-
bray and Mr. Horeb, while Capt.
Henley is putting the local men and High School Cadets through their movements.

Powers of Fishery Overseers.

A decision of some interest to the general public was decided before the Petroleum Police Magistrate the other day. On Sunday, Aug. 25th, a man named Kemp was fishing in Chenoweth Lake, and was detected by the local fishery guardian, Mr.
Stabler, who fined him $5, which was paid on the spot. Later on Mr.
Kemp, having talked the matter over with his friends, returned to Stabler and demanded that the money be returned to him, on the ground that the overseer had no authority to proceed so summarily, and on meeting with a refusal he entered an action against Stabler for theft.
The magistrate dismissed the case,
but warned Stabler that in future
he must collect his fines in court.

McKinley and Roosevelt.

At St. Paul's church on Sunday morning the rector, Rev. C. E.
Marsh, made touching reference to the late William McKinley, the assassinated President of the United States, expressing horror at the murdering crime, and sympathy with the American people, who for the third time in less than forty years are made to mourn the loss of their ruler by murder. Rev. Mr. Marsh had the pleasure of meeting President McKinley at a missionary meeting in New York a few years ago,
and Governor Roosevelt, the new occupant of the presidential chair,
Mr. Marsh spoke of both gentlemen in highest terms of praise. The latter is a member of the Church of England and the former was an Episcopal Methodist.

September Strawberries.

Mr. William McKay, of Russell-st., always takes pride in having a good garden, and this season was no exception. His knowledge of flowers and fruit is much greater than that of most men, as he has ever delig-ted in the study of botany. He has many rare and choice plants. On Sunday last, while Mr. Joe Rickaby was taking a walk through Mr. Mc-Kay's garden, he found a large ripe
strawberry among some others.
The sample coming so late in the season, was divided up and proved to be of exceptionally fine flavor. It might be noted that in another garden in the south ward some raspberry trees set out in the spring recently blossomed, and are now making berries which may possibly ripen
before the snow flies.

STRETCH OUT.

Many a man is unable to stretch
his arms or legs because of rheumatism. There is no excuse for this state of affairs. Dr. Hall's Rheumatic Cure will remove the disease in short order. In the case of Henry Hasler, Clinton, Ont., two bottles made him as sound as ever. He had suffered from muscular rheumatism in his arms and legs for two months and was perfectly helpless.
This great blood purifier is put up in bottles containing ten days' treatment. Price 50 cents at all drug stores or The Dr. Hall Medicine Co., Kingston, Ont.

OUR FANCY PEA INDUSTRY

Visit to Squier & Son's Warehouses—
40 Girls and 12 Men Employed

Our citizens may feel satisfied with the slight encouragement given to Messrs. Squier & Son, pea growers, to locate in Lindsay. A representative of The Post had occasion to visit their warehouses on Tuesday, and was surprised at the volume of business being done by the firm.
The handling and storage buildings
afford a space of 12,000 square feet, every inch of which is taken up with peas grown by the farmers of this locality.

The picking room will give employment to about sixty girls when in full operation; just now about 40
are engaged in sorting out imperfect peas. A staff of twelve men is also employed in the warehouse to load and ship the stock. The peas are received from the farmers on the lower floor of the building, where each bag is tagged with the owner's name and the kind of pea it contains. The bag is then placed on a conveyor, which carries it up to the floor above, where the peas are run through a large cleaning machine, which takes out all the small peas and dirt, and if very dirty, the peas are subjected to a thorough brushing. The peas are then passed along to the picking room, where they are carefully hand-picked by girls. After being returned to the bags they are sent through a chemical process
which entirely destroys the bug,
but does not affect the taste or active. To accomplish this farmers are required to deliver as soon as possible after they have threshed.

While our representative was there a car of peas for France, and another for England, were being loaded. Although the crop was a very short one this season, Messrs.
Squier & Son are well satisfied with their first year's business and have already commenced the erection of new buildings which when completed will almost double their floor space.

Messrs. Squier and Mr. J. D. Flavelle have formed a partnership for the purpose of growing domestic and ship-boring peas for which varieties
there is a very extensive market.

The farmers of this section have found pea raising very profitable and under conditions and soil are favorable there is no reason why Lindsay's pea industry should not assume very large proportions in the near future.

The Style of Hair Worn

Is an important factor to produce a younger and refined face and a well shaped head to any lady or gentleman. Prof. Dorenward, who will be at the Benson house, Lindsay, on Saturday, Sept. 28th, can demonstrate this to anyone calling on him
at his show rooms. He has ladies'
and gentlemen's wigs, toupees, bangs,
wavy and plain hair, switched in every length and shade, that he will gladly adjust on any lady's head free of charge to prove this. Don't fail to see him. It is his only visit to Lindsay this season.

Church Notes.

last ecclesiastical year of the Baptist churches in the Whitty and Lindsay Association is just to hand, with a record of fruitful work for most of the churches. The figures show that the local Baptist church had a fairly successful year, and the giving of the church is remarkable.
At the beginning of the year there were 150 members on the roll. Thirteen were added and six removed,
leaving a present total of 157. During the year the church paid for salary and current expenses $1-324.73, and for various mis-sionary purposes contributed $2,777.44, an amount more than double what it spent upon itself. This church usually gives more for purposes abroad
than at home, but it never before exceeded so abundantly. The pastor of the church, Rev. T. S. Hughes, B. D., is now in his seventh year here.
The building has no incumbrance upon it and repairs are in progress that will renovate the exterior, with the cost already provided for. The congregation is united and hopeful of a successful winter's work.

This week's Omenes Mirror says that E. C. and Mrs. Langfield have been married on Monday, Sept. 24th.
The above notice will be received with regret by their many friends in Omenes and Emily, to whom they have endeared themselves by their sociable and amiable disposition.
Mr. Langfield is an earnest ex-pounder of the gospel, and in the capacity of rector he will be greatly missed by the congregations of Christ church, Omenes, St. John's and St. James' churches, Emily, to whom he has faithfully and earnestly preached during the past two years. The congregation of Christ church, Ashburnham, can well afford to congratulate themselves on securing Rev. E. A. Langfield, M. A., as their rector, and the citizens
of that town may also feel pleased at having such a highly esteemed

WHEN FILLING PRESCRIPTIONS

We give our undivided attention to the matter in hand—that is, the only safe way.
We dispense drugs only of known purity, holding that when human life is hanging in the balance it is a poor time to economize by using "cheap" materials and trusting to luck for results.
This is an important matter and one worthy of serious thought.

LOCAL BREVITIES

—Wanted: two more weeks of this kind of weather.

—Diamond Dyes, 24 bright colors, just received at Highgate's drug store, next to Daly house.—W.

A number of old friends drove out to Little Britain on Wednesday to attend the funeral of the late John Dix.

A couple of frog catchers are making good hauls every night in the bogs between Distillery Point and Drummond's Bay.

We pass on Colossus, but does the new President across the line pronounce it Ro-z or Ro-fel, Roosevelt or Ross-vell?

—Miss Vyvian Laidlaw, daughter of Mr. Sandford Laidlaw, fell off a ladder the other day and broke the small bone in her arm.

—Colossus refused to talk yesterday, which goes to show that he is weak on one of the fundamental principles of anarchy.

For coughs and colds the sovereign is White Pine Balsam, at Highgate's drug store.—W.

—Colonel Locks, a popular young citizen of Peterboro, died on Saturday evening of pneumonia, following an attack of typhoid fever.

A plank missing from the walk on Durham-st., at the foot of Victoria-ave., makes a dangerous hole, and should have immediate attention.

A number of our citizens attended a bridge fair Tuesday and two strong contingents left town today for Peterboro and Victoria Road fairs.

—Large assortment of mattresses bed springs, folding springs, cot, children's cots and cradles at M. E. Tanager's Upholstering and repairing a specialty.—dwf.

Two young lads were fined $2 each Wednesday by Magistrate Steers for throwing stones at the Poughkeepsie, opposite the east ward storehouses. Served 'em right.

—Mr. John Sinclair has sold $42.00 worth of potatoes from his corner lot in the south ward this season. He is a good gardener, and always secures the top price for his produce.

—The officers and directors of Victoria County Flowering Association held a meeting the other day and decided to hold the annual matches in Mariposa about Oct. 20th. The day and place will be fixed later.

—24 bright colors in Diamond Dyes just received at Highgate's drug store, next to Daly house.—W.

—Mr. Lawrence Fallon, of South Ops, intends to retire from farming, and he and his wife will become residents of Lindsay in the near future. He will dispose of his stock and implements on Oct. 5th.

—The Lindsay Woolen Mills are running on white blankets for the departmental stores. Trade blankets costing $2.25 on bargain days sell at the mills for $2 per pair. Horn Bros., 92 William-st., north.—W.

—Thomas Shaugnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific railroad, and who has just been made a knight by the Duke of York, was once a poor Irish messenger boy. It is seldom that a messenger boy makes such rapid strides.

—The annual excursion from Midland to Port Hope, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church of Midland, will be held on Saturday, Sept. 28th, tickets being good till Monday, 30th. The excursionists will be carried on the regular trains.

—The very best fresh mixed Lehigh Valley Coal, direct from mines. Stove, nut and egg at $7 per ton, delivered in town. A discount of 25c per ton will be allowed off above price for cash orders. R. Bryans & Co.—dwf.

—Provincial Road Commissioner Campbell visited the Queen-st. main road Tuesday afternoon with Alderman Jackson. He expressed himself as being well satisfied with the plan being followed, and heartily approved of the construction of a grandiose gutter on the south side as suggested by Alderman O'Reilly and Jackson.

—The Victoria County Rifle Association will hold their annual match at the ranges west of Lindsay on Thursday, Oct. 3rd inst., when upwards of $100 will be given in cash prizes. The members would like to see as many new rifle shots try their skill at the bullseye as possible. Everybody welcome to shoot with any open-sighted rifle.

—Mr. Elias Bowes has received instructions from H. L. Dance, to sell by auction at No. 42 Melbourne-st., west, on Monday, Sept. 30th, at one o'clock, furniture and household goods consisting of parlor and bedroom suite, mattresses and springs, sideboard, secretary, tables, chairs, coal, wood and oil stoves, clocks, lamps, crockery and glassware, fruit jars, kitchen utensils, blades and curtain poles, etc. All will be sold without reserve.—W.

—The anniversary sermons of the Cambridge-st. Methodist church are to be preached on Sunday Sept. 29th, by the Rev. Dr. Maggs, Principal of the Wesleyan Theological College at Montreal. Dr. Maggs is a member of the British Conference, an author of some distinction, and a preacher of great acceptance. It is especially interesting to have the Doctor in Lindsay on account of his training for parents and friends and all are cordially invited to attend.

—Sunday, Sept. 29th, is Children's Day in the Presbyterian church in Canada, when one service at least will be devoted to the interests of the little ones. A special program has been prepared by the Central Committee and will no doubt be used by every Presbyterian School in Canada on that day. In St. Andrew's church here the service will be held in the afternoon at 3 p.m. The gallery of the S.S. will be reserved for parents and friends and all are cordially invited to attend.

—Air Brake Instruction Car. Mr. Wright, of Montreal, in charge of the well-equipped Grand Trunk instruction car, left Tuesday for Midland, after spending a week in town instructing the employees of the system in the maintenance and proper handling of a train with the air brakes. During his visit much valuable information has been gathered along this important line, and his concise lectures and clear demonstrations have removed many a difficulty. All the men of the local service have passed a creditable examination. The car will make an annual trip hereafter.

—The directors of the Mariposa Fair have completed arrangements for the concert on Wednesday evening, October 2nd. Mr. Halpary, of Peterboro, takes the leading part, assisted by the members of the 15th Battalion Band and Messrs. Gombay and Armstrong, of Orono. —R. H. Hopkins, H. W. Spofford and other sports are having fun with the partridges almost daily. The birds are fairly numerous, but very wild.

—Half-a-dozen families spent Sunday here, and put in a truly delightful day rambling through the woods. The paths are now carpeted with fallen leaves, but the foliage has not yet been taken on the rich tints.

—Mr. Hugh Rose, a former resident of Lindsay, but now in the employ of the Toronto Street Railway Co. as electrician, is holidaying here with a couple of friends. They are occupying Manita Cottage, and are having a jolly time.

—Mr. M. J. Walkey left the Point the day of the phone exchange has been in Mr. Grantham's case so that should an emergency arise, Walkey can still get in touch with Lindsay, Bobcaygeon or Fenelon Falls. It's a comforting thought in case of sickness.

—The charge of theft against Geo. Sharpe and Fred Chamberlain came before Magistrate Steers Tuesday last. Mr. M. J. Kenny, who appeared for the prisoners, elected to have the case tried by a jury, and his Worship proceeded with the preliminary investigation. Under cross-examination of the complainant, John Sharpe, brandished his cane, when he was asked if he were drunk at the time he lost the money. After the constable had taken the case from the witness he asserted he was not drunk, nor ever had been. This Magistrate, however, could not see in that light, and after hearing of his condition at the time he arrived home, and that it was in broad daylight when the boys had assisted him home, finding him in the ditch, he said, saying there was no evidence on which to send the boys for trial.

This Magistrate, however, could not see in that light, and after hearing of his condition at the time he arrived home, and that it was in broad daylight when the boys had assisted him home, finding him in the ditch, he said, saying there was no evidence on which to send the boys for trial.

—The charge of theft against Geo. Sharpe and Fred Chamberlain came before Magistrate Steers Tuesday last. Mr. M. J. Kenny, who appeared for the prisoners, elected to have the case tried by a jury, and his Worship proceeded with the preliminary investigation. Under cross-examination of the complainant, John Sharpe, brandished his cane, when he was asked if he were drunk at the time he lost the money. After the constable had taken the case from the witness he asserted he was not drunk, nor ever had been. ## ROYAL MOUNT ROYAL Splendid Welcomes of Metropolis to Her Royal Guests.

DAILY DECORATED STREETS.

Countless Thousands Throng Them on the Arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall From Quebec—the Duke's Happy Reply—Presentation of Medals—The Illuminations.

Montreal, Sept. 19.—Perhaps nothing could have been more striking than the reception tendered the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York by the citizens of Montreal yesterday, or more effective than the illuminations given in their honor last night. Montreal, it is said here, has never before seen such a celebration, and anyone who has seen a display such as was given in this city last night can well credit the statement. Probably one hundred thousand spectators witnessed the royal cavalcade as it proceeded yesterday afternoon along the two most fashionable French and English residential streets, St. Denis and Sherbrooke, on to Dorchester to the residence of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, whose guests their Royal Highnesses will be during all their too-short stay in Montreal. Last night the illuminations in the city were brilliant beyond description, and such as Montreal has never seen before. It is to be remarked, too, apart from the decorations of public bodies, the private citizens of Montreal have most elaborately and lavishly decorated their residences to show their appreciation of the honor paid the City of Montreal by the visit of the future King and Queen of Great Britain. That the civic reception, which was to have been held last night, was cancelled was no doubt a disappointment to a great many people, but the citizens of Montreal are in accord with the feeling which prompted the cancellation out of respect to the memory of the late President McKinley.

The Governor-General's train reached Vigor Station at 2:39 p. m., while the special carrying the Dominion's royal guests steamed in half an hour later. The royal party alighted, and, passing through the station and over Craig street, the Duke and Duchess, escorted by Lord Strathcona, the Duke's aide-de-camp, and His Excellency, the Governor-General, were received in a magnificent-plated platform by one of the most notable assemblages of people ever gathered in Montreal. There were the Mayor, the Prime Minister of Canada, Sir Louis Davies, Hon. W. S. Fielding, the judges of the Court of Appeal and Superior Courts, the Archbishops of the Anglican and Catholic dioceses of Montreal, and the clergy of all denominations.

There were fully one hundred thousand people massed around Vigor Station when Mayor Prefontaine read a loyal address on behalf of the city.

Ladies of the Empire and other organizations also presented addresses.

Montreal, Sept. 20.—Yesterday was a greater day, as far as official functions were concerned.

The conferring of the honorary degree of LL.D. upon their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of York yesterday morning by McGill University was one of the prettiest, best ordered and most cultured functions which have taken place since the arrival of the distinguished visitors.

The address of the chancellor and principal, to which the Duke made an appropriate reply, concluded as follows:

"May you long be spared to fill the high place to which you have been called, continuing to be the mainstay and support of your august parents. And may all your future career give the fullest fruition to the hopes and expectations which have been formed of you by a grateful, and appreciative and a loyal people, in the name and by the authority of the governors, principal and fellows of McGill University."

(Signed) Strathcona, Chancellor, Wm. Peterson, Principal. Over on St. Denis street, great preparations had been made to receive the royal party at Laval, and the hundreds of French students sang, "God Save the King" as their Royal Highnesses entered the building. At the entrance to the University, which was gaily decorated and carpeted down to the street, the Archbishop, Canon Racicot, the vice-rector of Laval, Canon, Archambault, and the members of all the faculties, met their Royal Highnesses. The Archbishop escorted His Royal Highness, while Sir Wilfrid Laurier conducted the Duchess to the raised dais which had been erected at the further side of the hall of public conferences. His Grace welcomed the royal pair, and the Duke made a short impromptu speech in reply, when the forenoon program was completed, with the exception of a visit to the Provincial Synod.

The Duke then spoke as follows: "My Lord Bishop and the members of the Provincial Synod of Canada, the Duchess and I greatly appreciate the kind words of your address, and we heartily thank you for the loyal welcome to which they give expression. It will, I know, be gratifying to the King to receive from you, as representing in this part of the Dominion the national Church of England, a renewal of your assurance of devotion to the Throne, and to know that by your zealous, patient, self-sacrificing labors is maintained in Canada that great tradition which is the noble tradition of the Anglican Church."

In the afternoon they visited Ville Marie Convent, at the historic Mont-Royal, where the ladies of the congregation, and 200 pupils welcomed royalty to those halls which had already been visited by the Princess Louise and Prince Arthur years ago. The royal party will leave for Ottawa this morning.

Ottawa, Sept. 21.—When the Duke of Cornwall and York was consulted as to what entertainment he would prefer during his Canadian tour, he replied: "I want a day's duck shooting, and I want also to see a lacrosse match." For the rest it was understood His Royal Highness would conform to the conventional program provided by the officials in charge.

The lacrosse match His Royal Highness saw yesterday afternoon on Varsity oval; the duck hunt is a joy in store for him, when as the guest of Senator Kirkcaldy he visits Brandon, Manitoba. It was a clean, fast game, the Duke and his royal consort witnessed between the Capitals of Ottawa and the Cornwalls, and there was no more interested spectator of the match than the hearse apparent. It was not the first time he had witnessed a contest in Canada's national sport, for, as Prince George, he attended two matches in Montreal some years ago, and apparently he has not forgotten the fine points of the game.

When the match was over he was presented, formally, with a lacrosse stick and ball.

An amusing incident marked the event. Broaderley of the Cornwalls handed His Royal Highness the stick, J. P. Dunne of the Capitals, executive, presented a nice new lacrosse ball. "Is this the ball that was used during the match?" asked the Duke, examining the brand new sphere critically.

"Well, no, Your Royal Highness," Dunne was obliged to reply, "but we will get it."

With that there was a skirmish, and a shame-faced player in garnet and grey, Ralph by name, stepped forward and handed the Duke the real ball.

The incident showed how closely His Royal Highness had watched the game, for just as the whistle blew and the teams were leaving the field, a tussle between a Capital and a Traveller took place at centre. It was Ralph scrapping with his opponent for the possession of the ball as a souvenir. Ralph secured it, and the Duke saw the whole performance.

The match, which was for the Minto cup, resulted in a victory for the Capitals by 3 goals to 2.

The formal reception of the royal pair in the capital of the Dominion reached little from the functions in Montreal and Quebec, except, perhaps, in the precision with which the arrangements were carried out and the entire absence of confusion or crushing on Parliament Hill. Indeed, so ample was the space for sightseers on the grounds about the royal pavilion that those who had expected to reap a harvest by erecting stands on Wellington street facing the Parliament Hill and along the route of the procession were sadly disappointed.

There was no demand for the seats at all. Even at the reduced prices of 10 to 25 cents the $2 reserve benches and the best points of view were conspicuously ignored.

The royal train was late in reaching the Elgin street station, but at 11:30 an escort of troops from the Royal Canadian Dragoons founded the corner, and an instant later the booming of the 12-pounders of the Second Field Battery situated near the canal, heralded the arrival of His Excellency. Still the crowd halted. The people pressed forward and jostled one another in their efforts to secure a place of vantage.

As the Duke and Duchess alighted from the royal carriage, the multitude on the hill broke out in a prolonged cheer, the welcome of Ottawa to the hearse apparent was voiced in unmistakable heartiness.

It was a brave scene that met the gaze of royalty—for a back ground was the stately pile of the Parliament Buildings, gaily decked with festoons of flags, stretched from central tower to turret on either side. In the centre of the royal pavilion a mass of many-colored bunting flanked with graceful palms, and crowded the dignitaries of church and state, fair women and brave men, shone effulgent in the noonday sun.

The surrounding grounds were occupied by a mass of cheering humanity. In the centre, flanking the crimson-carpeted walk to the pavilion, were 3,000 school children waving their thousands of flags in welcome beyond, interspersed with helmeted officers of police, the people stood in a derby array, rank on rank, right up to the grey stone walls of the departmental buildings, which, peopled in every window and even crowded on the roof, framed in the picture on the east and west.

It was precisely 12:30 when the shout went up "They come." The note was taken up by the people on the grounds. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mayor Morris, the latter resplendent in scarlet robe and cocked hat, walked down the arch to meet the royal party. A great cheer went up, and the Duke's royal standard was hoisted on the main tower.

As their Royal Highnesses alighted from the carriage His Worship was duly presented and the procession to the pavilion started. The guard of honor gave the royal salute and 3,000 children sang the National Anthem.

Leading the royal procession was the Duchess of Cornwall and York, attired in black and sweetly smiling her acknowledgments to the multitude. On Her Royal Highness' right walked the Premier of the Dominion, on her left the Mayor of the Capital City. Next came His Royal Highness the Duke, looking frank and manly in his admiral's uniform, with Lady Laurier, Prince Alexander of Teck, Lord Roxburgh, Viscount Crichton, and the other high members of the royal entourage.

The persons who thronged the hill must have felt a new thrill of loyalty when they gazed on the sweet face of the Duchess as she stood by the side of His Royal Highness on the pavilion, tall as he, fair, gracious and stately. His Royal Highness was resplendent in uniform and cocked hat, his breast covered with decorations and stars. Lady Mary Lygon was in black voile, with jacket of tuck black taffeta, black turban and ruff. On the platform were assembled Ottawa's four hundred, all relatives of the Ministers, Miss Fielding, Miss Blair, Miss O'Grady-Hely, Mrs. Gwynne, Mrs. Rivers, Mrs. W. C. Edwards, Mrs. T. C. Bate, Mrs. Cotton, Miss Neilson, Mrs. Sedgwick, Canon Pollard, Sir James Grant and Mr. Falconio being among those nearest the front of the pavilion, where a magnificent basket of roses awaited presentation to Her Royal Highness.

On reaching the platform of the pavilion their Royal Highnesses stood for a moment in conversation with the Premier, and then Mayor Morris stepped forward and read the civic address. Nineteen other addresses, including one from the Ojibwa Indians, were also formally presented.

The Duke's Reply. His Royal Highness, in a clear, resonant voice, read his reply, in which occurred this passage: "The federation of Canada stands permanent among the political events of the century just closed, for its fruitful and beneficent results on the life of the people concerned. As in ancient times by the union of Norman and Saxon the English nation was produced, so by federation of Canada the two great nations which form its populations have been welded into a harmonious people and afforded free play and opportunity to contribute each its best service to the public well-being. Creditable as this achievement is to the practical wisdom and patriotism of the statesmen who founded the union and who have since guided its destinies, it is no less honorable to the people upon whose support they had to rely, and who have in a spirit of mutual toleration and sympathy maintained them in the great work of union."

"This spirit is no less necessary than it was in the past, and I am confident that the two races will continue, each according to its special genius and opportunity, to aid and co-operate in building up the great edifice of which the foundations have been so well and truly laid. Of the material progress that has been made since Federation was accomplished, the proofs are apparent on every side, and I rejoice to know that the unexampled prosperity of this, the first year of the century, has crowned the abundant years you have recently enjoyed."

"May we not believe that this feeling is shared by your fellow-subjects throughout the Empire, and becoming more conscious and appreciative of those ties for common sympathy and interest which bind it together, more than ever determined to hold

last and maintain the proud privileges of British citizenship."

The reply finished, Sir Wilfrid Laurier called for three cheers for their Royal Highnesses, which were heartily given. Then, after a few minutes' conversation, the Duke and Duchess took their departure from the pavilion, and later on the Variety oval saw the Minto Cup lacrosse match.

Last night the city was gay with illuminations in honor of the royal visit; chief of them being the electric lighting of the Parliament Buildings.

Winnipeggers Are Disappointed.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 21.—Lieutenant-Governor McMillan yesterday received a message from Major Maude, on behalf of the Governor-General, stating that the Duke of Cornwall and York expressed great regret at his inability to officiate at the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the provincial memorial monument to the late Queen Victoria.

Orders were at once given to the workmen to pull down the platform and canopy erected for the ceremony, together with arches leading into and out of the Parliament grounds.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Saturday the ceremony of the investiture of the several Canadian gentlemen honored in connection with the royal visit took place in the ballroom at Rideau Hall. Sir John Anderson read the King's warrant, and the several recipients were presented by Viscount O'Leigh.

The latter carried the coveted ensignia on a silk cushion, from which it was received by the Duke, who pinned it on the breast of the chosen one. The Governor-General and Countess of Minto were present. Her Royal Highness was not present.

Mr. Shaughnessy, president of the C. P. R., bowed three times before the Duke, who touched him on both shoulders with his sword. Mr. Shaughnessy arose Sir Edward Shaughnessy.

Amongst those who were honored was Mr. Oliver A. Howland, Mayor of Toronto. At 11:30 the royal party began a drive through Hull, visiting the Eddy works. After the drive the Royal Highnesses unveiled the new Victoria statue immediately west of the west block of the Parliament Buildings, and presented South African war medals to a long list of officers, non-commissioned officers and men, including Col. Otter. The coveted Victoria Cross was pinned on the breast of Lieut. E. J. Holland for gallantry in action.

In presenting the medals the procedure adopted on the Plains of Abraham was followed, those entitled to the decorations passing one by one before the Duke, who handed them their medals.

The unveiling of the statue and presentation of the war medals was witnessed by thousands of sightseers, and was the occasion for a display of enthusiasm unequalled since the Duke landed at Quebec.

The Duke lunched at the Rideau Club, and in the afternoon the royal visitors attended a garden party at Government House.

SUNDAY AT OTTAWA.

Their Royal Highnesses Attended Service at Christ Church Cathedral.

Ottawa, Sept. 23.—Yesterday was a day of welcome rest for the royal visitors. Their Royal Highnesses attended divine service in the morning at Christ Church Cathedral. The service was escorted to and from the cathedral by a detachment of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, and were cheered frequently en route. Both were plainly attired. There were no special decorations in the church, their Royal Highnesses having expressed a desire that everything should be of the plainest character, as they were attending service not as Prince and Princess, but as members of the Church of England.

As the royal pair, accompanied by Lord and Lady Minto and Prince Alexander of Teck and attended by their entourage, entered the church they were met by Church Warden Orr and Moore and escorted to a front pew, the congregation standing till their Royal Highnesses were seated. Both entered most heartily into the service, their voices being heard throughout the singing. Prince Alexander of Teck also possesses a good voice and sang in all the musical parts of the service.

The surprised choir led in the procession from the vestry, the Bishop of Ottawa, resplendent in gorgeous vestments, followed, wearing the mitre and carrying the crozier in his hand. The sermon was preached by the cathedral rector, Rev. H. Kittson, from the first verse of St. Paul's Epistle to the Galatians.

W. W. Vickers, who defended the accused, made a strong effort to limit the scope of the inquiry, but Col. Denison would not have it so.

"I think fakes of this sort ought to be exposed," said His Worship. "I have no objection to any grown up person trying it on himself, but to use such tom-foolery on a little innocent, helpless child, who has no say whatever in the matter, is an outrage."

Louis was committed for trial at the Criminal Assizes, which open on Oct. 23.

Ottawa, Sept. 20.—Hon. James Sutherland returned to the city Wednesday evening, with his hands bandaged and his body and arms bruised from the explosion which occurred on the Frontenac at Quebec. Mr. Sutherland sustained his injuries in rescuing the ladies of the party from the flames, which surrounded the wheelhouse, where the ladies were when the fireworks prematurely went off.

Mr. Tarte returned at noon yesterday from Montreal. He also received rather severe injuries. Mrs. J. N. Greenhields of Montreal was the one who was the most severely injured, but she is recovering.

A Vast Concourse of Anglo-Saxons at Winchester, Eng., on Friday Witness the Unveiling of the Monument.

Winchester, England, Sept. 21.—In the presence of a vast concourse of Anglo-Saxon delegates and officials Lord Rosebery yesterday unveiled the great statue of King Alfred. During the course of his eulogy of the Saxon King, the former Premier said:

"King Alfred wrought immortal work for us and for our sister nation over the sea, which in supreme moments of stress and sorrow is irresistibly joined to us across the centuries and across the sea."

Prof. Goldwin and Mrs. Smith Present $10,000 to the Library.

Toronto, Sept. 21.—The University of Toronto has received a substantial addition to its endowment through the generosity of Prof. Goldwin Smith and Mrs. Smith. The donation consists of $10,000 to the library of the University, and is to be applied for the purposes of such of the departments as the trustees may from time to time determine. In his letter accompanying the gift, Prof. Smith refers to the celebration of the millenary of King Alfred, which is now in progress in England, and to the fact that King Alfred is the patron hero and legendary founder of his old college in Oxford. It is the wish of the donors that the gift should serve the double purpose of paying tribute to the memory of the patron of English learning, and of manifesting their interest in the University of Toronto. The gift is a timely one in view of the straitened financial circumstances of the University, and will be all the more appreciated by friends of the University on account of the distinguished course from which it comes.

BIG CROWD IN CANTON

Pays Last Tributes of Respect to Mr. McKinley's Memory.

DAY'S MOST PATHETIC FEATURE

Mrs. McKinley Unable to Be Present at the Funeral—Wonderful Floral Tributes Impressive Decorations in the Church—Sorrowing Neighbors Gather Around the McKinley Cottage.

Canton, Sept. 20.—With majestic solemnity, surrounded by his countrymen and his townspeople, in the presence of the President of the United States, the Cabinet, the justices of the United States Supreme Court, Senators and Representatives in Congress, the heads of military and naval establishments, the Governors of States, and a great concourse of people who had known and loved him, all that is mortal of the third President to fall by an assassin's bullet, was yesterday committed to the grave. It was a spectacle of mournful grandeur.

Canton ceased to be a town and swelled to the proportions of a great city. From every town and hamlet in Ohio, from the remote corners of the State, and from the east and west the human tide flowed into the town until 100,000 people were within its gates, here to pay their last tribute to the fallen chief.

The final scenes at the First Methodist Church, where the funeral services were held, and at the beautiful West Lawn Cemetery, where the body was consigned to a vault, were simple and impressive.

The service at the church consisted of a brief oration prayers, by the ministers of three denominations, and singing by a quartette. The body was then taken to West Lawn Cemetery and placed in a receiving vault, pending the time when it will be finally laid to rest beside the dead children, who were buried years ago. The funeral procession was very imposing and included not only the representatives of the army and navy of the United States, but the entire military strength of the State of Ohio and hundreds of civic, fraternal and other organizations. It was two miles long.

One of the most pathetic features of the day was the absence of Mrs. McKinley from the funeral services at the church and from the cemetery when the body of her husband was laid to rest. Since the first shock of the shooting, then of death, then of the funeral, she had borne up bravely, but there was a limit to human endurance, and when yesterday came it found her too weak to pass through the trials of the final ceremonies. Through the open door of her room she heard the prayer of the minister as the body was borne out of the house. After that Dr. Rixey remained close by her side, and, although the full force of the calamity had come upon her, it was believed by those about her that there was a providential mercy in her tears, as they gave some relief to the anguish of the heart's night.

At 7 o'clock last night, President Roosevelt and the members of the Cabinet started back to Washington.

100,000 PEOPLE PRESENT.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 20.—The streets of the little city of Canton this morning were filled with waving plumes, prancing horses and densely packed bodies of moving men, assembling here for the procession which was to escort the remains of the late President from the church to West Lawn Cemetery during the afternoon.

The biggest crowd in the history of Canton, which was here during the campaign of 1896, estimated at over 60,000, was exceeded yesterday. At 1.20 the funeral procession started from the McKinley residence for the church. The body of the President was taken into the church at 1.40 p.m.

The collection of flowers was probably the most beautiful ever seen in the United States. The conservatories of the country had been denuded to supply them. By the direction of the monarchs of Europe, the South American rulers, the Governors of the British colonies in Australia and Canada, the Emperor of Japan—from the four quarters of the earth in fact—came directions to adorn the bier of McKinley with flowers whose fragrance might be symbolical of the sweetness and purity of the ended life. But these tributes from foreign countries were buried beneath the floral tributes of McKinley's countrymen. There were tons and tons of them, and a list of those who sent them would be almost a complete roster of those prominent in the official, commercial and social life of the United States.

Towards noon the crowds in the vicinity of the McKinley cottage had increased to tens of thousands. The vast throng was contented, however, to gaze at the curtained windows. Within the chamber of death all was intensely silent.

Just at 1 o'clock the black chargers of the Cleveland troops swept down the streets, their riders abreast in their brilliant Hussar uniform, with flags bound in crepe and every sabre hilt bearing its fluttering emblem of mourning. Their coming was the signal for the approach of President Roosevelt and the members of the Cabinet. The Presidential party moved up the walk to the entrance of the house and formed a group to the left.

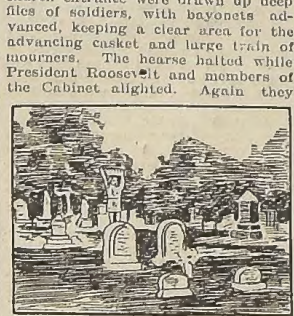

Now the pews of the church began to fill, and every steeple in Canton gave its dolorous plaint. It was 1.15 o'clock, and the time had come for taking up the body. A brief private service had been held within the darkened chamber. Dr. Manchester saying a prayer, while the relatives gathered around and Mrs. McKinley listened from the half-open door of her adjoining room.

The double file of body-bearers now stepped into the room, and, raising the flag-wrapped casket to their shoulders, bore it through the open entrance. A solemn hush fell upon the multitude, as the bearers advanced with measured tread. Tenderly the coffin was committed to the hearse, and the silence was broken as the order to march passed from officer to officer.

The great procession now took up its mournful journey, passing under the sweep of giant arches, robed in black, between two living tides of humanity, along the streets, covering housetops and filling the windows. The church bells still were tolling, mingling their dismal tones with the cadence of the funeral dirges.

At either side of the hearse marched the guard of military and naval honor, the general on the right, led by General Miles, and the adjutant on the left, led by Adjutant Farquhar. Then came the long line of carriages for the relatives and friends, and, after them, the innumerable militia and civil organizations that had assembled to pay their last honor to the fallen chief. In the line were division after division of Knights Templar, Knights of Pythias, Masons, Oddfellows and representatives of benevolent orders, Chambers of Commerce, as well as delegations of citizens of cities and towns throughout the State and country.

It was 1.50 when the procession passed the Court House and turned into Tuscarawas street to the stately stone edifice where the funeral services were to be held. At the church entrance were drawn up deep ranks of soldiers, with bayonets advanced, keeping a clear area for the advancing casket and large train of mourners. The hearse halted while President Roosevelt and members of the Cabinet alighted. Again they grouped themselves at either side of the entrance, and, with uncovered heads, awaited the passing casket.

Then the lower-covered coffin was brought from the hearse, and, as it passed within the black-draped entrance, the President and his Cabinet followed within the edifice. The mourners, too, passed inside, but the stricken widow was not among them.

She had remained behind in the old home, alone with her grief.

The scene in the church when the casket was carried in on the brawny shoulders of the soldiers and sailors was profoundly impressive. The decorations in black were very rich, but it was the floral display at the front of the church which filled the whole edifice with glory. The centre of it all was a great wreath of American beauties, framing a black border in the portrait of President McKinley. From it, extending outwards and upwards, was a perfect wealth of gorgeous blossoms. The effect was as if a great rushing wave of color had broken into flowers at the foot of the bier.

Almost directly above the support for the coffin, a subburst of lights glittered like brilliant stars in a dark sky. The light without came dimly through the stained glass windows.

The Congressional party filled up the entire east section of the pews and the rear half of the two central sections. The local clergymen occupied the seats below the organ usually occupied by the choir. All risen as the coffin was borne in. The mourning relatives occupied the tier of pews in the left of the centre aisle. Mr. and Mrs. Abram McKinley led the way, followed by the other immediate relatives.

The fourth pew from the front, that was always occupied by President McKinley, was draped in black and remained vacant. After all had been seated, the door leading into the Sabbath school was opened, and the seats arranged below it, as well as those in the balcony, were soon filled with the representatives of various organizations and the fellow townsmen of the martyred President. Conspicuous among these were the survivors of the 2nd Ohio, President McKinley's old regiment, who brought into the church the tattered battle flags the regiment had carried throughout the civil war.

It was after 2 o'clock when the quartette arose and lifted up their voices with the touching words of "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." When the sound of the last line had died away Rev. O. R. Milligan, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, in which President and Mrs. McKinley were married 30 years ago, offered a fervent prayer.

Dr. John A. Hull, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, then read from the Bible the beautiful 19th psalm, and Rev. E. P. Herbruck verses 41 and 58 of the 28th chapter of I Corinthians.

With great feeling he read the inspiring words, telling of the mystery that all would now accept, and "an" would be changed.

Dr. E. C. Manchester then delivered an address, which lasted 24 minutes, on the life of the late President, and the lessons taught by his noble character and death.

Bishop I. W. Joyce of Minneapolis, followed with a brief prayer, and the services were concluded with the singing of the hymn which President McKinley repeated on his deathbed, "Nearer My God to Thee." The entire congregation arose and joined in the last stanza. Father Vatman of Chicago, chaplain of the 29th Infantry, pronounced the benediction.

Then the notes of the organ again arose. The coffin was taken up and borne from the church. The relatives and those in official life went out in the order they had entered.

It was after 3 o'clock when the silent and anxious throng outside saw the hearse, a solemn pageant, pass through the church doors. First came the guard of military and naval honor, the generals and admirals forming in double line leading from the entrance to the waiting hearse. Again the flag-draped casket, with wealth of flowers, appeared and was committed to the hearse. The President and members of the Cabinet followed, arm in arm, and stepped into the waiting carriages, and the relatives entered carriages next. Then the column of troopers broke from their battalion front, and, wheeling into platoons, took up the march to the grave.

The line of the funeral march from the church to the cemetery was about one and a half miles in length. The route was north to carrawas street from the church to Lincoln street, west on Lincoln street to West Third street, and north on square to the gates of the cemetery.

For hours before the time set for the commencement of the funeral services at the McKinley home the streets along the entire length of the line of march were crowded with spectators.

There was not a window that commanded a view of the march that was not filled with faces, the numerous stands were crowded to their utmost capacity, and the roofs were hundreds of people. From 6 o'clock in the morning until late in the afternoon, by which time the last of the parade had passed the church on its way to the cemetery, this condition prevailed. No greater reverence has ever been shown to any man, living or dead, than was exhibited toward the dead President yesterday. As the funeral car passed through the streets the men and women sobbed convulsively.

It was exactly four minutes after four when the funeral car bore the remains of the dead President through the gateway of his last resting place. Twenty minutes after that time the brief services at the vault were over, the members of the family, and the distinguished men of the nation, who had come so far to do him honor, had passed through the gates on their homeward way. One hour and forty minutes after the hearse had entered the cemetery the place was clear, and the dead President was resting alone under the watchful care of men of the regular army.

A sentry's measured tread resounded from the cement walk before the vault, another kept vigil on the grassy slope above, and at the head and at the foot of the casket stood armed men. Before the door, which was not closed last night, was pitched at the tent of the guards, and there it will remain until the doors are closed to-day. Sentries will then guard the vault every hour of the day and night until the body has been borne to its final resting place.

Washington, Sept. 20.—Yesterday the voices of the people were uplifted in prayer for the soul of William McKinley, while his mortal remains were being committed to the grave in his Ohio home.

Everywhere there to be seen badges of mourning, and on every flagstaff, the national ensign was at half-mast. Private and public business was absolutely suspended, and every face showed signs of sadness. At exactly 2.30 o'clock (1.30 in Canton), the city ceased from labor, practically from locomotion for five minutes.

As if by common consent, men, women and children, white and black, came to a sudden halt in whatever they were engaged, and sat, or stood as still as statues wheresoever they happened to be. Men on foot and on bicycles, the drivers of carriages and draught wagons, chafeurs and trainmen stood in mute supplication for the dead.

The dead, The Metropolitan M. E. Church, where Mr. McKinley was worshipped, was the centre of interest, and here the services were more impressive than elsewhere.

In every city and town in the United States memorial services were held and during the funeral hours business was entirely suspended.

Out of respect for the memory of President McKinley all sporting events in the United States yesterday were suspended.

MOORE'S AHEAD.

Throughout Canada the day of the late President McKinley's funeral was observed as a day of mourning and fasting. All Government departments were closed and in the churches memorial services were held.

At Ekin, at Bombay, at Berlin, at Paris, and throughout Great Britain and Ireland were memorial services held. By command of King Edward, a memorial service in honor of the late President McKinley was held in Westminster Abbey, and was attended by many Americans and Englishmen of distinction.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are the quickest and surest relief for backache and kidney troubles and can show more evidence to that effect than all other advertised remedies combined. Dr. Pitcher stakes his reputation on these tablets for backache and kidney troubles, and will not allow them to be advertised as a "jack of all trades" medicine.

Mrs. Sarah Bevan, of Port Hope, says: "Fifteen years ago I fell and injured my back, and since then have known very little comfort with backache and kidney troubles. I have tried all kinds of medicines and seen many physicians, but got no help until I began the bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets that I got from R. Deyell, druggist. They have done me a world of good. I feel stronger; the dizziness and pain are gone, and I cannot tell you how pleased I am, and everyone else says the same of them. They are really a combine wonder. I hope others will use them and get well."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are put up in wooden bottles, with green wrapper, bearing the portrait and signature of Z. Pitcher, M.D. Each bottle contains 50 tablets; price 50 cents per bottle. Manufactured by The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

"GREATER ONTARIO."

Speeches at the "Soo" by Messrs. Gibson and Stratton.

WHAT THE MINISTERS SAW.

A Successful Liberal Convention During the Afternoon Followed by a Public Meeting at Night—Nomination of Mr. John Richardson, M.P., in East York—An Enthusiastic Party.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 21.—The visit of Hon. Attorney-General Gibson and Hon. J. R. Stratton to the "Soo," one of the chief points of interest in their Greater Ontario tour, has more than met any expectations formed of the great progress of development associated with the policy of the Ross Government. They found the "Soo," not long since a moribund town, a busy hive of industry, with great industrial operations in existence and industrial expansion, one might say, rampant.

General building operations are brisk, the town is installing a system of sewerage, the price of real estate is firm, one property within the last day or two having changed hands at the urban figure of $180 per foot frontage, and that properties that were not long ago in the market at $3 are now held at $50 to $70. While it is pleasant to note the existing prosperity of the "Soo," the chief interest in its present lies in the promise of the great future it affords. This future is closely associated with the tremendous development operations of the Clergue Syndicate, whose extent and importance are particularly indicated by the fact that in the various operations now going on the monthly pay roll amounts to the large figure of $250,000. This figure is made more significant by recalling the fact that it means the enormous expenditure of $3,000,000 per year, closely approximating the expenditure necessary in the administration of the affairs of this Province, with its two and a half millions of people, and when the steel works, now nearly completed, are in operation the amount of annual expenditure will be increased to four millions.

A Public Meeting.

Following the successful convention held in the afternoon was an evening public meeting, addressed by the Ministers. There was a large attendance, many ladies being present, as well as most of the convention delegates, who will carry to every part of the riding the stimulus and encouragement derived from the capital addresses given by Hon. Messrs. Gibson and Stratton, and the assurance that the Ross Government had as much at heart the interest of the development and advancement of New Ontario as they had in promoting those of Old Ontario. The chair was occupied by Mr. W. B. Harris, President of the Local Liberal Association, and on the platform were, besides the visiting Ministers, Messrs. A. E. Dymond, M. P., J. Loughran, M. P., C. McCrae, M. P., C. F. Farwell, M. P., Mr. J. McKay, the Liberal candidate, and Mr. Geo. M. Reid of London.

SHOULDER TO SHOULDER.

Confident and Enthusiastic East York Liberals Nominated Sitting Member.

Markham, Sept. 21.—One of the largest and most enthusiastic mass meetings in the history of the historic riding of East York was held here yesterday afternoon for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Legislature in the Liberal interest. Every part of the riding was well represented, and although a keen contest ensued for the coveted honor of carrying the standard of the Ross Government to victory, there was the same unanimity and harmony which has kept East York from Confederation down to the present time within the Liberal ranks. That Mr. John Richardson, M. P., received a clear majority upon the first ballot was most gratifying to him, and speaks volumes for the popularity he has so long retained among the Liberals of East York. And while the friendly struggle furnished a gratifying proof of the solidarity of the Liberal party in the constituency, which presages another addition to the long roll of victories, the incident was useful in demonstrating the splendid array of able and staunch men which the party is able to place in the front when the occasion for doing so arises. In response to loud calls from the audience, Hon. Richard Harcourt, Minister of Education, addressed the meeting, his rising being the signal for a hearty cheers, which were frequently renewed during the two hours which his address occupied.

PRINCIPAL GRANT VERY ILL.

Received a Severe Chill on His Way Up the St. Lawrence From England.

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 23.—Principal Grant of Queen's University, a passenger on the steamer Lake Megantic, arrived in Montreal on Friday night from London. On his way up the St. Lawrence he received a severe chill, and, on disembarking, found himself so seriously ill as to prevent his going to Ottawa, as previously arranged. On arrival in Kingston his condition was found to be so serious that he was removed to the hospital. During the afternoon and night grave anxiety was felt by his physician, Dr. Garrett, as to his recovery. His condition yesterday morning was slightly improved, and a still further improvement was noticed last evening, but he is still most critically ill. He has a complication of diseases.

His illness was the cause of his non-attendance at the investiture at Ottawa on Saturday.

The Very Rev. George Monro Grant, C.M.G., is 68 years of age, and, although a Nova Scotian by birth and therefore hardy, cannot be called altogether robust at his time of life.

KIDNEY DISEASE

Powley's Liquefied Ozone acts quickly to relieve kidney disease. It cleans out the delicate tracts, soothes the inflammation of the mucus linings and restores these most important organs to health. If you have kidney disorder and experienced the dreadful bearing-down pains in the back, miserable headache and all the agonies usually suffered, take Ozone and you will experience very quick relief. We present herewith a very remarkable cure. Mrs. Harvey's daughter had an extremely bad case; the mother's way of telling the story may interest you.

usually suffered, take Ozone and you will experience very quick relief. We present herewith a very remarkable cure. Mrs. Harvey's daughter had an extremely bad case; the mother's way of telling the story may interest you.

THE OZONE CO., LTD., TORONTO, ONT.

Gentlemen: For the past year my daughter has suffered from kidney disease. This sickness came by degrees, until she was bloated to a great size. She appeared to be growing very fat and every joint was full of rheumatism. We tried a good many of the patent medicines called blood purifiers, but received no benefit. We also had a good doctor, but he failed to do any good. At last we were advised by a neighbor to try "Ozone," which we did. The "Ozone" seemed to go right through the whole system and she felt worse, but we were told this was a good sign. We continued the use of it, and soon we noticed the swelling reduced in her hands and feet, and it seemed to reduce the swelling in her whole body.

My daughter also had female weakness. The organs were weak and did not work regularly. The "Ozone" repaired these organs perfectly. She now enjoys perfect health, which I entirely attribute to "Ozone."

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) Mrs. C. HARVEY, 928 Dufferin St., Toronto.

The Canada Life Assurance Co.

A Business Proposition.

We offer you a better investment than Government Bonds.

Better for three reasons.

1st.—Canada Life 5 per cent. Gold Bonds yield a much higher rate of interest than Government Bonds.

2nd.—They are paid for by instalments—thus placed within the reach of men without capital.

3rd.—They are insured. That is, should the investor die after paying only one instalment on his bonds, all his future payments to the Company would be immediately cancelled and the benefits of his investment would at once become available.

Add to all these advantages the very material one that the investor shares in the surplus earnings of this leading Company, and you have an opportunity for safe and profitable investment rarely equalled. A handsome booklet, giving a full explanation, will be sent on request.

The anniversary services in the Methodist church last Sunday were highly successful in every respect. The pastor conducted the services both morning and evening. The free-will offering of the day netted very nearly sixty dollars. The congregation seems to be so well pleased with this change of a free-will offering instead of a fowl supper and entertainment, as the custom has hitherto been, that the former laborious way of raising church funds will likely be forever a thing of the past so far as this congregation is concerned.

Anybody and everybody wishing a good time, don't fail to come to Oakwood fair next Wednesday and stay for the grand concert in the evening. Prof. Halpenoy, of Peterboro, Meares, Armstrong and Gumbay, of Orono, and the magnificent band of Lindsay, are some of the attractions. And remember the only place in Canada where you will have the chance of seeing a half-penny by paying a quarter is at Oakwood town hall, Wednesday night.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Arthur Washington, while going home from Mr. John Dames', (where he had been working with his team) when by some means the pole of the wagon got down and a general mix-up occurred. Mr. W. was thrown out, lay unconscious for some time, got up, put things together, got home, put the horses away all right, and—strange to say—does not remember the first thing. His face was somewhat out. Dr. Chambers was immediately sent for, and at last accounts Mr. W. is doing nicely.

Remember there will be special attractions at Hogg Bros. on fair day. Mr. Hogg made another purchasing trip to the markets last week.—wl.

The Bell Telephone Company have a gang of men overhauling their lines from Oakwood to Lindsay and Uxbridge.

Mr. James Rooks is erecting an addition to his house, which will give them much more room.

It would be known by the pleasant smile on Mr. Mather's face on his return from Port Perry fair that he must have struck it lucky out there, and so he did. We think, because he brought home eight red tickets and two blue one. Not so bad for clumsy Britains, after all.

We are very sorry to say that our jolly telephone men have left us, and no more we hear their witty expressions or merry laughter. We trust they will have occasion to visit here again soon.

Mr. D. Beccroft has employed a couple of painters from Oakwood to paint his house, and verandah, and I tell you, they are making a fine job of it.

One of our most esteemed friends and christian workers, Mr. J. D. Clark, passed away quite suddenly on Sunday last. Everyone is glad to welcome our new married couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. Glass, into the village.

Mr. R. S. Robertson met with the misfortune, while at Woodville fair, to have his driver kicked, but it is not as bad as was at first thought.

Mr. W. Woodbridge is able to enjoy himself once more out in the fresh air, after recovering from his severe operation, and is spending a happier life than he has for some years back.

FENELON FALLS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)
Mr. John Duggan, of Edmonton, N. W.T., is on a week's visit to his father, Mr. John Duggan, of Verulam. The West has agreed with John, as can be seen, and he is also one of the few who has been favored with a handsome reward for his diligence since leaving here ten years ago, as he has a snug competence at his command.

Thomas Shankland, of Somerville, died on Monday last after a few hours' illness.

The Presbyterian, Baptist, Methodist and Episcopal ministers joined in a memorial service to Pres. McKinley in the Presbyterian church here last Thursday night. Mr. Garbutt, of the Methodist church, preached the sermon on this occasion.

Honorable rivalry is commendable in many walks of life, but when rivalry exists between religious denominations the effect is unwholesome to the public, if not disgusting. At the time religious bodies have a stand which they should maintain and this they all can easily afford to do without being offensive to anyone. The slight difference is so trivial that a person seldom hears anyone attempt to belittle any one denomination to the advantage of another.

The good feeling existing here was well exemplified when four churches were represented on one platform and held a united service last Thursday night. But there is always exceptions to the rule, and the most notable of these is the Latter Day Saints represented by Elder Henley. This man has held services on the street here for a month or more on Saturday and at each and every service he has come little but try to heap odium on other christian denominations. This to our mind is both unchristianlike and ungentlemanly, and we believe that our opinion is shared by the general public. Denominations sometimes cease to be a virtue, and Saturday night last this was very well demonstrated when the Captain of the local Salvation Army corps told an enthusiastic crowd of spectators on the street that Elder Henley was preaching false doctrine and leading people astray. The portly Henley shrugged his shoulders as he heard the denunciations and probably clinched his teeth as he thought of what he would say when he came back, but it was not to be, as the army evidently were determined to hold the street—and hold it they did during all of their service, which was wholly conducted in the open air, and lasted until 9.30 p.m. At about 8.30 Elder Henley, after a short consultation with his companions and a couple of his followers, opened his meeting a few rods down the street from where the army were located and again we had the old realists—every church was wrong only the Saints—and the Salvation Army came in for a good share of criticism. But this occasion was to be a memorable one for brother Henley, and his smooth sailing of the past was to be turned into a tempest. His coarse remarks brought forth hisses, groans and jeers from the crowd and Colborne street presented a scene of pandemonium seldom, if ever witnessed in this usually quiet town. The Elder's attempts to be heard at last proved fruitless and he called on Felix for assistance, but Felix no doubt thought discretion the better part of valor and remained silent while the rebuked and roaring Elder withdrew, perhaps a sadder but wiser man. It is to be hoped that the curtain will now drop, that the last scene has been enacted, and that this disciple of the Latter Day Saints will figure no more on our streets in a drama which is at once as unnecessary as it is disgusting.
